ATTENTION TECUMSEH PRODUCTS CO. EMPLOYEES

Vote for the Strong Union - Vote UAW

For the first time in the history of Tecumseh Products Co., you will have the opportunity on April 6 to vote for the world's largest democratic industrial union--the UAW. Your future--and that of your family--is at stake in many ways!

The outcome of this crucial representation election will determine, for years to come, the kinds of improvements in wages, fringe benefits, grievance procedures, health care, pension and early retirement programs, cost-of-living protection, working conditions and other important contract provisions that will affect you and your family.

The April 6 election also will determine YOUR BENEFITS AS A UNION MEMBER--whether you will be supported by the strong resources of an International Union fully capable of meeting the challenge of a multi-plant, multi-million dollar national employer, or whether you may have to straggle behind with inadequate technical and financial assistance in the midst of the Computer Age.

When you vote UAW, you will be voting for establishment of a Local Union in which YOU elect your officers, elect your Bargaining Committee and elect your stewards. You will have all the autonomy of a democratic Local Union--plus the resources of an International Union which protects its members by offering wide-ranging expert and technical services, a $197 million strike fund, fulltime servicing representatives and fulltime organizers, the latter of which is today so vitally important in preventing and discouraging managements from shifting work away from established plants. Ask yourself: How many people did the independent union have working in your behalf?

When you mark your ballot for the International Union, UAW, on April 6, you will be voting for financial support and resources. For example, in the labor dispute involving the independent union and Tecumseh Products Co. in 1974, had you been a UAW member, the International Union would have provided weekly benefits totaling approximately $1,443,750, and would have continued the payments on monthly premiums for health care and life insurance coverage totaling approximately $825,000. Every UAW member has these benefits guaranteed under the democratic UAW Constitution. Yet, the independent union does not provide these benefits.

The UAW maintains a Legal Department, with attorneys to advise and assist local unions, without any additional cost to the locals or members.

The UAW Social Security Department, with its staff of actuaries and experts on pension, health care and health and safety, assists in developing negotiated health, dental, hearing, vision, prescription drug, early retirement, supplemental unemployment benefit, health and safety and other programs that benefit UAW members, their spouses and their children. For example, UAW industrial hygienists and safety engineers will survey your plant if need be to measure health and safety conditions and make corrective recommendations.

The UAW cares about people, and one of the best examples of this concern is the UAW's outstanding "track record" of negotiating many periodic increases in the pensions of past retirees, helping them keep apace of the rising cost of living.

Ask yourself whether the independent union can provide these other services, all of which are furnished by the UAW to its locals: A Time Study Engineering Department to aid local unions in disputes regarding production standards, by actually participating in studying job standards and disputes in the plant; a Workmen's Compensation Department, assisting members in obtaining compensation; an Arbitration Services Department, helping locals on grievances which may be arbitrated; a Community Action Program to assure UAW members that their gains at the bargaining table will not be lost or watered down through governmental action at the community, state or national levels; and fulltime International Representatives who help negotiate and service contracts in every community where UAW members live and work.

Companies, such as Tecumseh Products, are able to hire the best management legal advisors and labor relations personnel that it is possible to obtain. Can the independent union compete with high-priced management professionals on their terms? The UAW can--and does every day, on behalf of 1,450,000 union members just like yourself, including UAW members at five other Tecumseh Products plants in Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin and Ontario, Canada.

More than 5,000 UAW members, plus their families, already are your neighbors in Lenawee County. They enjoy the benefits of membership and affiliation in a strong union, with all the democratic rights of determining their union's policies and programs and access to their union's modern and strong resources.

UAW. It's a union that can mean so much to you and your family.

Vote UAW on April 6.

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.
He sold very good hot dogs.
He put up signs along the highway and advertised in the newspaper telling how good they were.
He stood on the side of the road and cried:
"Buy a hot dog, Mister?"
And people bought.
He increased his meat and bun orders.
He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.
He finally got his son home from college to help him out.
But then something happened.
His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio and watching TV?
There's a big depression.
The foreign situation is terrible.
The domestic situation is worse."
Whereupon the father thought.
"Well, my son's been to college, he listens to the radio and watches TV and he ought to know."
So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his signs and cancelled his newspaper ads and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs.
And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.
"You're right, son" the father said to the boy.

THS Tracksters Boast 16 Lettermen

Tecumseh's track team finds itself in the enviable position of having 16 returning lettermen from last year's edition which went undefeated and won the Huron League title.

The Indians have won 17 straight dual meets and 22 straight Huron League dual meets.

And coach Bill Croft has challenged his runners. Croft feels the orange and black could possibly earn a rating in the top 15 among state Class B schools.

Croft goes on to say, "Barring injuries, we should have a very good chance at winning the league title again. And we have an excellent chance of winning our regional."

Although the Indians lost several lettermen to graduation last year, including stand-outs Tim Mayers, Mike Eaton, Dave Bilkie, Tim Scheff, Mike Martin and Scott Hill, they have a solid crew of experienced runners returning.

Croft comments, "The leadership we have returning is a definite plus. Kim Cantrell, John Egbert and Jim McKinney plus our other seniors give us a tremendous leadership nucleus. They have never lost a league dual meet and don't intend to.

"We have good balance, no really weak areas and some outstanding individuals that we can count on for every meet. Those runners are Kim Cantrell, Jim McKinney, D.J. Biscupski, Jeff Anderson, our relay teams, Greg Borton, and Jeff Robideau."

Although Tecumseh doesn't officially begin its season until April 6 against Chelsea and Pinckney at Pinckney, they traveled to the Huron Relays last Friday.

They scored 5½ points in the meet which included 80 Class B,C,D teams.

McKinney was fourth in the high jump while Biscupski tied for eighth in the pole vault.

Croft was particularly pleased with the performance of his four relay teams, all of which finished in the top 15.

As always, Croft figures Airport will be strong in the Huron League along with Monroe Catholic Central. Croft gives New Boston Huron an outside chance.

Tecumseh runners in each event will be:

Distance-Harris, Oliver, Medvecz, Bohannon, J. Castorena, K. Norris.

Sprints-Jeff Anderson, Cantrell, Egbert, Jim Anderson, Rudd, Garvin, Bolz, Chatters.

Long Jump-McKinney, Wright and Rudd.

High Jump-McKinney, German, Scott Hans.

Pole Vault-Biscupski, and Betzoldt.

Softballers Are Young

Only one senior is on the Indian roster.

However, ten lettermen return including senior Cindy Adams, juniors Gloria Fosbender, LuAnn Harvey, Karen Bunch, Kim Adams and Jean Egbert and sophomores Rebecca Hamilton, Kathy Kruger and Kelly Kruger.

New to the team this year are sophomores Sandra Humphries, Jo Harvey, Therese Rapin, and Carol Cangley.

Tecumseh is without the services of Tori Iffland, a big loss for the Indians. Iffland was an all-league catcher for three straight years.

Last year the orange and black finished with an even 13-13 record but came on strong at the end to win the district title, their fourth straight.

They lost to Grosse Ile 9-6 in the first game of the regionals. And the Red Devils went on to win the state Class B title.

Coach Nancy Fisher is beginning her fifth year at the coaching helm and makes no secret that she's excited about the coming season. "We're still young with only one senior. But our pitching looks much better this year. And Sandy Humphries, new to the team, will be an asset to our returning pitchers LuAnn Harvey and Jean Egbert.

After last season, our kids are more mature. I can really notice the one year's experience. When you hit the ball, everybody moves.

"We are so much further ahead than last year, much more positive and confident."

Fisher is quick to add however, that the team has been unable to get outside to practice.

Consequently, she is still unsure of her starters, other than the pitching staff. Becky Hamilton will probably start as catcher.

Fisher figures Grosse Ile will again be tough, but is without the services of its top pitcher. St. Mary's will also be strong.

Tecumseh is slated to begin the season on April 7 hosting Class A Ann Arbor Pioneer but Fisher wonders if the weather will permit. The team is at Adrian April 10.

Redskin Runners Are Experienced

Clinton's track team boasts the return of 13 lettermen from last year's squad which earned a 12-2 mark, third in the LCAA.

The squad opens its season hosting Britton and Summerfield April 4 at 4 p.m.

Coach Ozzie Hashley is cautiously optmistic about this year's edition. He confides that the rest of the league should be improved and newmember Blissfield is "loaded with talent."

Clinton is particularly strong in the distance races. Hashley feels the squad has no real weaknesses although depth could be a problem in some events.

In the distance events, returning lettermen include senior Mike Risner, school record holder in both the one and two mile; Wally Pike, number two point scorer from last year; juniors Matt Peters, Mark Prichard and Devin Schindler.

Senior letterman Eric Pratt will run the hurdles, school record holder in both the high and low hurdles. Also in the hurdles will be junior letterman Lance Traves.

Pratt is recovering from a football injury but seems to be recovering rapidly.

Discus and shot put events will be handled by senior Bill Gerard and Jeff Voorhees. Gerard was LCAA champ in the discus last year.

Sprints will be led by juniors Casey Thilo and Mike Karapas and sophomore Chris Douglas. Thilo was number one point scorer on last year's team and Karapas is developing into one of the area's finest sprinters according to Hashley.

Seniors Chris Wojtowicz and Bill Willis will start in pole vaulting. Wojtowicz has cleared 12 feet.

Thilo, Pike and Karapas will also run the long jump while Pike and Karapas get the nod for the high jump.

Returning non-lettermen and promising newcomers include seniors Phil Baldwin, shot and discus; Dave D'Agostino, 880, mile; Dave Gibbard, 880, mile; Mark Haskell, discuss and Bob Santure, high jump and hurdles.

Adding to the team are sophomore Chris Marsh and freshmen Greg Brainard, Brian Dettling and Chris Mendel.

Hashley figures Blissfield, Addison and Onsted are the teams to beat. But he hopes to have the Redskins in the title chase.

The Clinton Relays will be held on Saturday, April 29.

Indians Begin Wednesday

In less than a week, April 5, Tecumseh's baseball squad is scheduled to begin its 1978 schedule.

But the Indians have been outside just three days in three weeks of practice and coach Bob Ondrovick has yet to make his final decision as to who will stay with the team and who will leave.

However there are six returning lettermen, all seniors, including Jeff Hans, Butch Harvey, John Brooks, Dave Perry, Greg Corley and Dale Allen.

Tecumseh lost five seniors to graduation last year including all-leaguer Dave Bohannon. Jeff Ives, Eric Travis, Randy Arnett and George Lynch also graduated.

Ondrovick is uncertain as to who will start next Wednesday in the outfield. All the infielders are returning from last year with Harvey at third base, Hans at shortstop, John Brooks at second, Corley at first and Perry catching.

Ondrovick confesses that the orange and black will be "inexperienced in the outfield." And Jeff Hans is the only experienced pitcher the Indians have.

However Ondrovick is impressed with a group of younger players, including newcomer to baseball Brian Banda. Ondrovick hopes that two junior pitchers, Ron Calzada and Craig Esterline may be able to help out. Perry and Allen will also be considered for pitching duties.

Ondrovick confides that the freshman and junior varsity teams have talent. "We've got some really good young kids. If any can help, we may use them."

Coaching the junior varsity squad is Pat Connors Jr. while Glenn Scattergood is handling the freshman duties.

Ondrovick figures Jefferson, Monroe Catholic Central and Flat Rock to be strong in the Huron League.

Tories Hope to Improve

Weather conditions continue to plague area high school track teams with outside practice often impossible.

The problem is compounded for Britton's tracksters since the Tories must also contend with the absence of their own track.

Coach Al Lenz is still hopeful that the Tories can improve on their disappointing 2-7 Tri-County League record last season.

Out of 23 trackmen out for the squad, there are eight returning lettermen.

Juniors are Jeff Osterhout-sprints, long jump, 100, 220, 880 relay; Duane Perry-sprints, 100, 220 relays.

Sophomore lettermen are Dave Bruce-shot put and discus, pole vault; Brad Rowe-long jump, sprints.

The Tories are without the services of 10 lettermen from last year this season.

Coach Lenz figures his Tories to be improved in the long jump although he confides the team is weak in the 440 and 880.

"I'm looking to Dave Bruce to help out a lot in the shot and discus. Chris Barth, a sophomore, is throwing the discus well. Osterhout and Bearinger have to be the backbone of the sprinters while Phil Loesch will have to do well in the 330 hurdles. We're counting on Bob Sanders in the high hurdles."

Britton begins its track season April 4, traveling to Clinton. On April 6, they travel to Whiteford.

7 Lettermen Return

Britton's Tory softball squad boasts the return of seven lettermen to compensate for the four starters they've lost.

Britton begins its softball season on April 11 traveling to Deerfield and then hosting Summerfield, April 13.

Coach Diane Matuszak figures Summerfield and Whitmore Lake to be the teams to beat in the Tri-County League while Deerfield may be a contender as well.

Last season, Britton finished with a 10-7 league mark.

Matuszak says, "We have many new people. Pitching and hitting look good with Lisa Campbell, Genene Bruce and freshman Jodi Smith leading the way in hitting.

"We'll be hurting most in in-game experience with things like base running. Most of my players don't have that much playing experience."

Parents, School Work Together

Concerned parents, Zapata Center representatives and Tecumseh school administration met at the junior high school Tuesday afternoon to discuss and work on problem areas raised by a group of concerned parents, April 3 at a meeting at the Zapata Center, Adrian.

According to a release from school Superintendent Robert Duhan, "As a result of this meeting, representatives of concerned parents and administration will continue to work cooperatively to resolve areas of concern."

Duhan told that the administration's first meeting with the parents was Tuesday afternoon. Meeting was arranged by representatives from the Zapata Center, school administration and concerned parents.

Two representatives from each of the three groups met Tuesday afternoon with a representative of the state Department of Education.

Duhan said that the concerns of parents and students reported to The Herald last week by the Zapata Center had not been brought to his attention before by the concerned parents.

A group of parents that identified itself as "Concerned Parents of Tecumseh Junior High School Students" first organized in a Tecumseh home last week following an incident at the junior high school in which a teacher struck a student.

Superintendent Duhan stated "A disciplinary action was taken with the teacher. I won't go into it because it was a personnel matter."

Last week the Herald reported several concerns of these parents as they were first voiced to representatives of the Zapata Center of Adrian, a community liaison for Hispano and other minorities.

Parents felt that verbal and physical abuse from teachers was based on racial and economic status of students.

Concerns the parents discussed with the Zapata Center at March 27 and April 3 meetings included cold classrooms, discourtesies to parents, some teachers who are inaccessible to parents to talk about students' problems, teachers swearing in classrooms and some disciplinary techniques of certain teachers.

The Tecumseh Players announced it will produce another children's theater musical this summer to benefit the Tecumseh Theater Fund.

Thirty various parts for all ages, singing and non-singing roles are available as well as some dancing character parts.

Frosty Boy Proposed

Two Lenawee County businessmen have proposed a Frosty Boy for the southeast corner of N. Evans St. and Herrick Park Dr. where the old Top Hat restaurant building still stands.

Jim Hannan, owner of a dairy bar on Devil's Lake and Phillip Hubbard of Onsted will be the new owners if city council approves a zoning change from office service to permit the proposed new business.

City council referred the matter to the Tecumseh Planning Commission for study. Next planning commission meeting is April 11 at 7:30 p.m. at city hall.

Hubbard said that the men plan to use the existing building, construct a circular drive and build picnic tables around the two large trees on the property.

Circulate Petitions

Two incumbent Tecumseh Public School Board members have decided to enter the spring election and a newcomer is still circulating a petition, announced Superintendent Robert Duhan.

Voters in the school district will elect two board members for four year terms on June 12 annual school election.

The two incumbents are: William A. Macbeth, presently serving as school board vice-president, appointed to the board in 1969 and Dr. Donald L. Phelan, presently board president, appointed to the School board in 1965. Both were elected and served continuously to the present, said Duhan.

James R. Bone, 2660 Cadillac Ct. is still circulating a petition.

Deadline for petitions is April 10 at 4 p.m.

Investigate 7 Accidents

Police investigated seven accidents this week, including one accident where the driver fell asleep at the wheel on E. Chicago.

Last Wednesday, Jonathon F. Diller, 21, of Adrian told police he was westbound on E. Chicago when he fell asleep. The next thing Diller knew, he woke with his auto stopped up against the building at 145 E. Chicago.

March 31 - Luke W. Somerlot, 16, of 1005 Shady Lane, was cited for failing to yield after he collided with Deborah K. Brock, 19, of 106 Shawnee in the Ottawa-Logan intersection.

Also on Friday, Katherine A. Redman, 47, of Tipton backed out of a parking space at the Herrick Park Branch Bank and collided with Joann Sisson, 45, of 302 Herrick park.

April 1 - Inom So, 24, of Tipton backed into an auto driven by William L. Clute, 41, of Monroe in the A&P parking lot.

April 2 - Police cited Robert L. Keller, 16, of 5402 Noland for careless driving after he proceeded through Bishop Reed Drive where the street darts left. Keller came to rest in a ditch.

April 4 - According to police reports, Nezra Ritchie II, 42, of Onsted was making a left from W. Chicago onto S. Union when he collided with an eastbound Chicago auto. Donald E. Horton, 17, of Britton could not avoid the accident.

Plan New Masonic Building

Plans for a new Masonic Temple for Tecumseh Masonic Lodge No. 69 F & AM were made public Monday night at Tecumseh City Council's meeting. The lodge and Tecumseh Products Co. requested a zoning change from residential to office service of approximately three acres of land, north and east of Bishop Reed Dr.

The lodge reportedly received an anonymous gift of up to $500,000 to build the proposed 120x86, one story building.

It will feature a dining room accommodating 300, a lounge and lodge room and utility basement. Lodge plans to make it available to the public for rentals.

Tecumseh city council referred the matter to the planning commission which will meet April 11 at 7:30 p.m.

If the zoning is approved, the new temple will be the first new home for the local lodge in almost 80 years.

Wilmer Kiser, secretary of the Blue Lodge and Temple Association in Tecumseh said that Kreighoff of Adrian is the building contractor, Marr and Marr of Detroit will consult on exterior architecture design. It will be compatible with the United Methodist Church, also on Bishop Reed Dr.

"We're ready to go," said Kiser, "just as soon as we get the okay for rezoning."

The Tecumseh lodge, which was founded in 1854, is now meeting in the Masonic Temple in the James Building, atop the D&C store at N. Evans and E. Chicago Blvd. It was built in 1894 and completed in 1899. The first floor and half of the second were constructed by James and second and third floor were finished by the Masonic Lodge.

Kiser commented that the second story meeting place is not readily accessible to senior citizens. The new building will provide easier access for older persons and the handicapped. When not in use by the lodge, it would be available for rent to civic organizations or individuals for dinners or receptions.

Refugee Family Seeks Home

By Kathy Brown

The Long Hoang family may not yet have a home to call its own, but at least it has a country.

After three weeks, the family is now settling into temporary housing at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church convent until a permanent home can be found.

Their arrival in Tecumseh marked the end of a six-month odyssey in Malaysian waters where they sought political asylum after their escape from South Vietnam.

As a last resort they sank their boat in Singapore waters and were rescued. The United States Embassy accepted them.

The nine-member extended family is being sponsored by the Nguyen family, the first Vietnamese refugees to settle in Tecumseh in August 1975. They are related to Mr. Nguyen. The Nguyen family has now bought a home in town and is self-sufficient. St. Elizabeth was the Nguyen family's sponsor.

The family includes Long Hoang, 30, his wife, Hsoa Thi Nguyen, 25, their two children, a daughter, Hue Hoang, 5 and a son, Hung Hoang, 2. The couple is expecting a baby in June.

Also with them are Mrs. Hsoa's sister, Nam Nguyen, 13 and her brother, Ba Nguyen, 16. They started at Tecumseh Junior High School April 3. They speak no English.

Three young men who also escaped are Thuan Nguyen, 30, Nhiez Nguyen, 20 and Phan Nguyen, 18.

The family lived almost three years under the communist government after the fall of South Vietnam in 1975. They tried to escape three times from their home to Vung Tau, 60 miles south of Saigon, but abandoned their plans each time because the communists interrogated the neighborhood. Finally they escaped to Malaysia and lived as "boat people."

When they arrived in Singapore, they read in a Vietnamese newspaper about Vietnamese families that escaped to America two and three years ago. They contacted the Nguyen family and asked them to be their sponsor to the United States.

Before the communist takeover of his country, Mr. Long served in the South Vietnamese army but was injured. He then became a

Should I consider anything less than a full-service funeral?

Generally, the full-service funeral best meets the needs of the bereaved, as well as providing for the deceased. It is a declaration of death, as well as a testimonial to a life.

The full-service funeral is also a ritual of deeply profound psychological significance in our civilized society.

It was Gladstone, the famous English statesman, who wisely said: "Show me the manner in which a nation or community cares for its dead and I will measure with mathematical exactness the tender sympathies of its people, their respect for the law of the land, and their loyalty to high ideals."

We are living in an age of great change and progress. While many customers are influenced by the times, the full-service funeral has not been much altered. Progress has refined techniques and procedures, but the high ideals to which Gladstone refers have not been minimized or compromised. Man still buries his dead with ceremony and dignity.

Your choice of a full-service funeral demonstrates the tender sympathy and respect for the high ideals of which Gladstone would greatly approve.

Call or stop by for our literature concerning our full-service capabilities and counseling.

truck driver for a farmer.

When machine parts were no longer available under the communist rule, he was forced to find another job. This time, he became a fisherman. Someone in South Vietnam helped him borrow money to buy a boat and later, he and his family planned to escape.

Pauline Pizana, one of the church volunteers trying to assist the family with its household needs said the family is "Very friendly. Not as scared as our first family. They are eager to learn English." Ly He of Tecumseh serves as their interpretor.

Readers wishing to help may contact the church if they wish to donate any of the following: a baby crib, vacuum cleaner, pots and pans, dishes, silverware, pillows, bedding and towels.

Resolution Is Adopted

Tecumseh city council Monday night unanimously adopted a resolution that will enable development of the remaining 133 lots in the Westhave No. 2 subdivision.

Citizens Mortgage Co., the owner of all the remaining unsold lots in the subdivision, proposed series of escrows to insure that funds for completion of street grading and paving, curb and gutter work and related improvements would be available as needed. It also asked city to issue building permits.

The Goedert Realty Co. of Adrian and Tecumseh is purchasing a number of the finished lots to build on.

Guardian Homes, original construction company, went bankrupt about three years ago after only one third of the homes were built. Citizens Mortgage took possession and Goedert which is buying finished lots now plans to start construction again in one month.

Garbage Mentioned

Irregularity of Monday and Tuesday garbage collection in the city was mentioned at city council meeting Monday night.

Lenawee Disposal recently took over the city garbage collection when it absorbed the M.H. Weaver system employed by Tecumseh. Routes were not supposed to have changed, but residents have complained about irregular service.

Civic Study

The Tecumseh Civic Facility Study Committee has adopted the third Wednesday of each month as its regular meeting night at the First United Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh.

It has reviewed the FACT report made in 1960. That report was a forerunner of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation and it determined 18 years ago the community's desire for an auditorium. It also recommended steps to be taken to get the project off the ground.

A subcommittee of the present Tecumseh Civic Facility Study Committee is revising the FACT recommendations. With the mandate of the 1976 Town Meeting resolution regarding the desirability of a community civic facility, the new study committee will continue.

Town Meeting 1976 was attended by over 200 Tecumseh area residents for the purpose of setting goals for the community and discussing common concerns.

Band Members To Sell Herald

The Tecumseh band students, grades seven through 12, will sell subscriptions to the Tecumseh Herald April 12 through 29. Proceeds from the sale will be used by the Band Boosters for band projects not allowed by the school budget.

In the past few years, the Band Boosters have tried to sponsor fund raising activities that are a public service to the community. The newspaper subscription drive is the only current project that will involve door-to-door sales.

The band boosters will earn $2.50 for each new subscription sold, $1.50 for each new subscription sold for college or military personnel; $2 for each new subscription for senior citizens, aged 65 and older, and 75 cents on all renewals.

Any subscriber that has not received the paper in the last six months qualifies as a new subscriber.

Subscribers are asked to have correct change, as the students do not carry change. All subscriptions must be paid on order. All subscribers will receive a receipt. Make checks payable to The Tecumseh Herald.

Wilma Silberhorn is project chairman again this year. Readers may call her at 423-4843 if they wish to subscribe and have not been contacted by a band student.

Salvage Rights Are Studied

Before the city gives salvage rights to the Tecumseh Area Historical Society, it will investigate if anyone else is interested in bidding on salvage from the former Maurice Tuckey property, 117 N. Ottawa.

City decided to purchase the Tuckey property last year to extend its parking lot behind that northeast business block of Chicago Blvd.

Monday night Council learned the historical society was interested in salvage from the building, but council decided to determine the society's intentions before rights are granted.

Legal Opinion Expected

A second legal opinion about the legality of the city's sale of the Bidwell Building will be forthcoming from the Michigan Municipal League, city attorney Greg Forsthoefel told the Tecumseh Herald reporter Monday night.

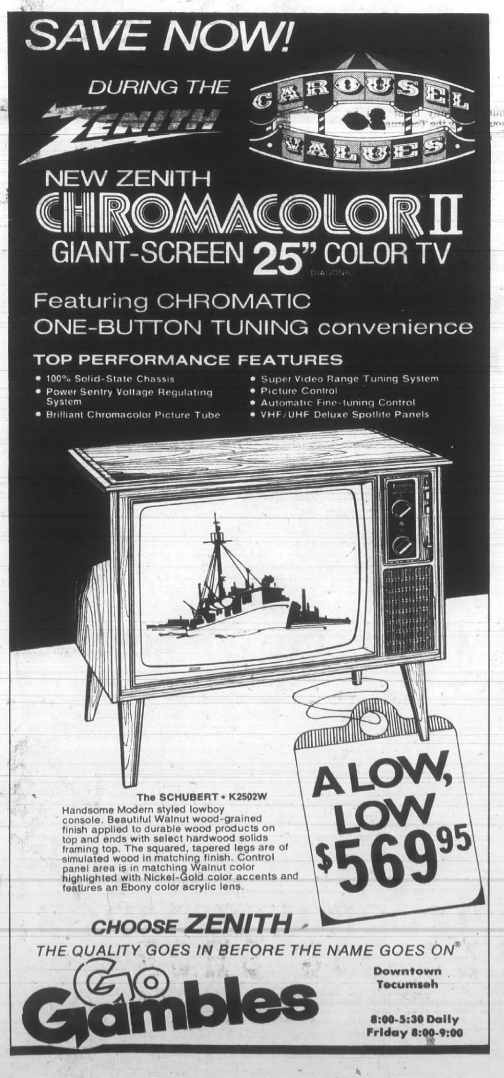
The Herald has argued that the city's sale of the building to a Manchester restorationist is illegal on the basis of the Michigan Open Meetings Act of 1976 and the city charter.

Council met Feb. 22 during executive session to discuss a police suit against the city and then later discussed a purchase agreement on the Bidwell Building.

The Michigan Open Meetings acts states that a public body must announce the purpose or purposes for meeting and take a roll call vote to be passed by a two-thirds majority. Council did not do this according to meeting minutes.

City charter also states that all purchases and sales in excess of $500 shall be executed by bids. The city did not advertise the sale of the Bidwell Building or take bids. City attorney Greg Forsthoefel said that the charter did not apply to sale of public real estate.

The 126-year-old Bidwell Building at the corner of S. Evans and W. Chicago Blvd. was a gift of Gladys Robideau to the city in 1977. She abandoned hopes of restoring the building herself after architects estimated cost to convert it into a mini-mall for commercial shops could exceed $270,000. She paid $40,000 for the building which the city council agreed to sell to D.E. Limpert of Manchester for $10,000.



Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

This is one of those times, fortunately it does not happen often, when a subject for today's article is simply not presenting itself. Blame it on my time schedule, the season, and the weather. Because of the seven to 14 days time lag between dictating and appearing in print it is often difficult to be up to date.

Spring is especially bad in this respect. Things can happen so quickly, it is often not a matter of days but merely hours — well, it is impossible to keep up to the minute and be timely. But if the truth is to be known, I truly believe that my main problem today is the weather. I am still under the influence of the weekend ice storm. And whoever heard of an ice storm on Easter!

The robins were not happy with the ice storm either. A goodly number of them had appeared earlier in the week when conditions were much more favorable. They looked so good, big and fat, and as always the males were sporting such pretty red breasts.

Then came the weekend. It will be a long time and it will take a great deal of warm weather to erase from my mind Mom's description of her Easter morning robin.

The ramp railing was thickly encrusted with ice and from the underside of it hung a row of little icicles. Crouched on the slippery railing and almost hanging on for dear life was a big fat robin.

Mom said he was all fluffed up, his head was pulled in and his shoulders hunched up. He was the most miserable and dejected looking bird imaginable.

While the robins miscalculated, the redpolls knew we were still in for some winter weather. These marvelous little birds who caused so much excitement and afforded so much pleasure all winter are still around.

At least, as of this dictating, they are still mobbing the near-my-window feeders. Soon they will trek north to their nesting area and my, how they will be missed.

It is interesting that just lately I have received several calls from people talking about hoary redpolls. They are most unusual and uncommon in this area. BIRDS OF AMERICA calls them rare in the border states, it also says that identification is risky. Peterson in his field guide, does not even show a picture of a hoary but in the text says that this bird is smaller than the regular redpoll and is a "frostier-looking bird." It has a white rump patch with no streaking. Pretty.

To counteract my foul weather-caused mood I resorted to the bookshelves. Edwin Way Teale's NORTH WITH SPRING is an old book but always a good one. It is an account of a trip he and his wife enjoyed, they started in the far southern tip of Florida and literally journeyed north with spring.

If my will power holds I shall read a chapter at a time, travel with them and try to make the book last until the end of spring. The Teales encountered huge flocks of migrating robins right away.

Theoretically these harbingers of spring advance as the temperature increases. A daily average of 35 degrees seems to be the magic temperature. Well, we might have reached that when they first arrived but there was certainly a 'relapse into winter' during the ice storm.

Next on my reading table came the April issue of NATIONAL WILDLIFE. On page 16 Jean Craighead George has a super article about monarch butterflies. I really can't bring myself to talk about tagging butterflies today; however, it was quite refreshing to read that there are still so many unknowns about something as commonplace as a monarch.

These are migrating butterflies but, just as with birds, no one yet knows what their road-signs and route-markings are. In fact, for years no one knew exactly the terminus of their southern flight. In 1974 they were found wintering in the mountains of Mexico but the exact location is not being bandied about.

Finally, in this same magazine, in an article about solar energy, it was mentioned that May 3 is Sun Day. The object, of course, is to promote and popularize solar energy. Sun Day — it just sounds nice. On the other hand, if Easter weekend brought an ice storm —

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

MACON — A few days last week gave people spring fever but it quickly disappeared when we were greeted early this week with cold, snow and some sleet, and it was not an April fool joke! While spring was in the air, yards were cleaned up a bit, a few windows were washed and just being outside for a change was enjoyed.

The Rev. Albert Ralloff welcomed local Camp Fire girls and Blue Birds who attended the Macon Methodist Church last Sunday which as Camp Fire Sunday. Vicki Hover and Tonya Mohr, both Camp Fire girls, served as acolytes at the service.

The Macon Historical Society met last Saturday night at the Pennington Rd. home of Larry and Mary Ann Bush. It was decided that starting in May the meetings will be at the Mills School at 6 p.m. and will be workbees. The May 6 meeting will be to work on the floor. Refreshments will be served at Bob and Myra Bush's later in the evening. Work on the Macon village signs is coming right along and the group hopes to have the one at the Tecumseh-Macon Rd. village entrance up this spring. The others will not be put up until road work in the area nears completion.

Last August Jackie Swanston entered a poem in a contest sponsored by American Girl magazine. In the April 1978 issue of the magazine her poem entitled "Thoughts" was published.

Richard and Sharon Mohr, Tonya and Tammie spent Easter weekend in Louisa, Ky. visiting friends.

Easter Sunday the John Swanston family, the Ken Plank family and Linda Shaw, the Paul Schafer family, Tom Swanston and Evelyn Hofmeister enjoyed going out for dinner. Seventeen in all enjoyed the afternoon.

Eight Macon Camp Fire girls with their leaders, Lois Hover and Nadyne Beeson, were guests on Tecumseh Spotlight last Wednesday. Next they enjoyed lunch at McDonald's before going on a tour of some of the historic sites in Tecumseh.

The rest of the afternoon was spent at Hidden Lake Gardens where they went on a tour led by naturalist, Jack Wilde. The girls learned how to identify trees from their leaves and bark and even tracked a deer. They spent time in the arid, tropical and temperate rooms of the Gardens' Conservatory.

Thomas Swanston's 80th birthday was celebrated last Sunday afternoon at a dinner at the Paul Schafers'. Those who gathered for the occasion were the John Swanston family, the Jerry Miller family, Evelyn Hoffmeister, Ronald Marsh, Jerry Abersold, Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Wise.

Paul and Rose Kollar returned to Macon last Saturday after being in California since mid-December. They stayed with their son and his family, Ernie and Helga Kollar and their children Susie and Robert in Los Angeles, Calif. They also spent time in the Rialto with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zagon, and in Ventura with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bankics.

Some of the side trips they took included Sacramento, San Francisco, Calif. where they visited China Town, and Monterey, Calif. They are well aware of the winter they missed here as they were often in contact with their Macon family, while they were gone. The Kollars are happy to be back home just in time for spring.

Band, Choir Receives Honors

Band and choir director Jimmie Rice at Tecumseh High School recently announced accomplishments of the music department students in festivals held in March and April.

Tecumseh will be represented by 24 members in the all-county honors band that will perform April 8 in the Lenawee County Honor Band Concert at Hudson High School gym 8 p.m.

Admission is $3 per family and will be used for Lenawee County High School Band Music Scholarships.

The entire varsity band of Tecumseh High School with 75 members will perform that evening together with six other county bands that rotate at the festival each year.

April 1, three student entries received first honors at the State Solo and Ensemble Festival at Jackson Northwest High School.

All 15 entries that received "one" ratings at the district festival won "two" ratings. First ratings were received by Janet Rundell, flute solo; Pete Vavrinek, piano solo and a woodwind quintet composed of Janet Rundell, Scott Brooks, Lynne Smith, Karen Bunch and Dave Roberts.

On March 21, 50 students from the Tecumseh High School Mixed Chorus traveled to Onsted High School to participate in the All-County Choir Festival. Rehearsals were held in the afternoon and in the evening, eight choirs performed in a mass choir, four Tecumseh students performed in the honors choir and each school, including the Tecumseh chorus, gave a brief concert of two numbers.

On March 18, Tecumseh High School varsity and junior varsity bands participated in the District 8 Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association competition. Junior varsity received a "respectable" three rating at Hudson School and the varsity received an "admirable" two rating at Jackson High School, told director Jimmie Rice. Performances were rated similarly last year. Rice said that other teachers gave the bands encouraging comments.

ECOL Discusses Spring Projects

Items discussed at the March 27 ECOL meeting included funding for the Bicentennial park, floodplains in Adrian, nature trail development in Medina Park.

Other items discussed included the proposed re-routing of Route 127 south of Jackson, the park development west of Riverside Park in Adrian, a proposed beach fill at Cambridge Lake and the County Road Commission's annual highway trash pickup. Persons interested in cooperating with the pickup may call the Road Commission for details.

ECOL is trying to bring its funding drive for Bicentennial Park to a conclusion. Presently about $6,300 of the $8,000 goal has been raised. Tax-exempt donations for ECOL are accepted by the Jipson-Carter State Bank, Blissfield.

ECOL, in cooperation with the Lenawee County Parks and Recreation Commission, and the Midstate Division of the National Campers and Hikes Association will work on the Medina Park nature trails April 28-30.

About $100 worth of seedlings have been purchased through the Lenawee Soil Conservation District by ECOL. Groups interested in planting these trees during Arpil should contact Joyce Drake in Onsted. Several varieties of seedlings are still available from the Soil Conservation office.

ECOL's semi-annual council meeting will be April 24 at 8 p.m. All interested persons are welcome. Tom Thrall of the Soil Conservation Service will speak.

ECOL board member Don Hostetler showed slides of Africa and Saudi Arabia. He visited in 1977 before visitors were banned except for business travel.

What could be more welcome on these cloudy, cold days than strawberry shortcake? I tried this recently and it was delicious.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCUT CAKE

1 cup minature marshmallows
2 cups (two 10 ounce packages) frozen sliced strawberries in syrup, thawed
1 package (3 ounce) strawberry flavored gelatin
2¼ cups all-purpose flour
1½ cup sugar

Retirement System Studied

At the March 20 meeting, city council was presented with three proposals to consider to upgrade the retirement benefits of the City of Tecumseh Employees Retirement System.

City manager Cal Zorn also demonstrated to council via graphs that the present system's finances are sound.

Under the current retirement program, employees receive benefits equal to final average salary multiplied by ¾ percent times years serviced prior to July 1, 1962 plus one and two-thirds percent multiplied by the number of years served after June 20, 1962.

Presently, employees contribute five percent to the system and city contributes 6.9 percent. System is only 15 years old. It was started in 1962.

Under one of the new proposals, total service would be multiplied by one and two-thirds percent of final average salary, or an employee with 30 years service would receive half pay at age 60.

Under another of the proposals, total service would be multiplied by two percent of final average salary, or an employee with 25 years service would receive half pay at age 60.

Difference is that an employee could be eligible to receive the same benefits with five fewer years of service.

A third proposal is a compromise between the two mentioned above. Employees would receive one and two-thirds percent for prior service and two percent for present service.

And under the three proposals, employees would receive social security when eligible.

There are currently 42 employees active in the system, 16 in the police department and 26 in general. Eleven persons are retired from the system.

Actuarial tables showing increases in employee and employer contributions were prepared by Gabriel, Roeder, Smith and Co. of Detroit.

The present system was funded in 1977. It usually requires 30 years. Zorn pointed out that one major reason for complete funding is the amount of interest earned on assets. Average income earned on investments is six percent. City's system earns eight percent interest on investments and has exceeded eight percent for several years. Investments are approved by the five member city employees retirement board composed of city employees and council representatives.

Zorn also demonstrated to Council with graphs that the present system is far below three selected "danger points" used to compare solvency of systems.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

From Teachers to Taxes, Readers Speak Out

Dear Sir:

Through your publication I wish to publicly address the Tecumseh Board of Education.

My concern is the physical assault of a 14-year-old student in the Tecumseh Junior High School by a teacher. I understand that this is not an isolated episode and therefore, I feel, merits considerable more attention than if it were to be such.

The mere fact that the youth was hit in the mouth so hard that the teacher went to hospital for medical attention for his injured fist, to me, is cause enough to warrant inquiry on your part.

As stated though, this is not an isolated incident. I am told of other instances of physical, verbal and emotional abuse by teachers in the Tecumseh school system. I am also told some parents were reticent in the past for fear of more abuse being directed toward their children. This is a sad situation.

I do not pretend to know all the particulars of the March 20 incident which is my immediate concern. However, it seems the youth involved admittedly "mouthed off" to the teacher.

Question: Had accepted guidelines for disciplinary action been followed, could we expect the same harsh punishment for the insubordination displayed by the youth?

It would be just to seek the ruination of a person's career for one moment of indiscretion. So too, justice is the right of our youth whatever their social status. I am willing to attest to the long-standing detrimental affect such a singular episode can have on an individual's self-esteem and his future ability to react positively in an academic environment.

Finally, I feel the Board of Education has a duty to the students, parents, taxpayers, and teachers to address this issue in an open meeting unhindered by other agenda. Therefore, I call on the board to schedule a special meeting to hear the particulars of this and other episodes of abuse in the schools.

Sincerely yours,
Carl David Schmidt

To the Editor:

After reading the Herald of March 30, 1978, I feel I must protest another piece of irresponsible reporting on a school situation splashed on the front page.

As a mother of three wonderful children educated in the Tecumseh schools, if a teacher didn't appreciate how wonderful they were I chalked it up as the teacher's loss. As a teacher who had nearly 200 wonderful students in my classes per day, I prayed each night for strength to cope fairly with all those in my care. I always felt that the parents of the 200 students were with me in my efforts to do my best.

In these times, where or why has the backing of the teachers and our schools disappeared? Why are they condemned in the paper before all the facts - from the teachers, principal and board - brought to light? I cannot believe that a conference with the parents, teachers and the principal and with the absence of the child could not have resulted in an understanding. Where is the parent who says, quote "If you are punished for misbehavior in school, it will be repeated at home. I expect good behavior from you at home and away from home." End of quote.

As to the comment on a "gay" teacher, that is unjustified! Unless one is an avowed homosexual, how dare a group of parents and an editor label a person as "gay" unless they have concrete evidence and who are they to make statements concerning a person's private or sex life?

One of the fringe benefits of teaching is the friends you acquire among your pupils and to put an ugly connotation on that is inexcusable! What harm you have done to the teacher cannot be fathomed!

We need to stand together to maintain human dignity and discipline in our community - in our school and our churches - for without respect for human dignity our civilization will crumble.

I hope an apology will be issued in a future paper for not being certain of facts before a featured blast. Why do teachers teach? Could it be possible that they like working with children and young people? Would you change places with them?

I will now take a tranquilizer and say a prayer for more understanding of people before I sleep.

Yours in disgust,
Helen M. Sisson

(Editor's Note: The Herald does not make the news, it reports it as fairly and accurately as possible.)

To the Editor:

Last Friday afternoon I was in Tecumseh and stopped at the Big Boy restaurant. I was shocked to see a police car parked right in front - in a parking space reserved for handicapped.

Even if the parking lot had been full and no other place available to park, I don't feel this is an excuse for disobeying the sign and parking there.

I was in the restaurant at least half an hour, and the car sat there during this time. When the officer left he did not appear to be handicapped - does he merit special privileges?

Maybe this is not against the law to park in a space reserved for handicapped, but it certainly is setting a bad example for the public.

Sometimes I can understand why respect can be lost for the law and officers who are to enforce it.

Very truly your,
(Mrs.) Rosemary Zeluff

Adrian

To the Editor:

I attended the March school board meeting in Tecumseh and feel some important things should be brought up for discussion.

Omitted from the agenda was your "pleasure."

There were about 30 people at the meeting and I feel the board moved to executive session too soon without giving sufficient time for the public to express their views.

A lengthy letter was read as to reasons why there should not be a citizen's committee to review the text books used in Tecumseh Public Schools.

I believe there should be only good books in our schools, teaching patriotism, morality and productivity and all the things that made our country great.

The books should teach basic academic skills, motivate students, encourage pride in worthy accomplishments and honestly portray our country's heritage of freedom.

There should be a citizen's committee to review the text books in our school.

Recent legislation passed in Lansing will permit the teaching of birth control education.

The state board of education will set guidelines.

The school board members will make the decision as to adopt this program or reject it.

If you do not want your child to attend these sex education classes, you will have to write a note saying so.

We sure as hell don't want these things taught in our schools.

Thank you,
Louis Tepfenhart
Tipton

To the Editor:

Another misdelegation of punishment has occurred at Tecumseh High School.

The event took place at Onsted High School. The all-county choir was performing for the people of Lenawee County. A break was given to the participants. Some of the Tecumseh students went outside to get some fresh air. Three of the students lit up a cigarette and choral director Jimmie Rice went outside and observed this action. Upon return to school he (Jimmie Rice) reported the group to the administration.

On Thursday, March 23, all Tecumseh students involved were suspended for one day. Two of the suspended were just talking to the others when Jimmie Rice approached. These two were handed the same punishment as the smokers.

Does this seem fair? This action will be put on the students record and gives them a bad name.

In my opinion, Jimmie Rice had no right to turn the students in. The performance was not a school activity. It involved school kids but was a show of talent for the kids. They did not do anything to scar Tecumseh or its school.

Many people smoke, should all students be suspended for talking to a smoker. Are you ashamed to see your children walk down the street with a friend who smokes? These kids were all of age and I don't see the kind of punishment handed out.

This is the second such activity in the last two months. (the THS basketball suspensions). How long is such stupidity going to take place. It's time for the administration to act human to its students. Thank you for your attention.

Name Withheld on Request

(Editor's note: This letter prompted a page one story last week that explained the suspension of five Tecumseh High School students last week. Choir director Jimmie Rice, the supervising teacher, commented that students that participated in the all-county choir festival were informed before the event of the Tecumseh school policy regarding no smoking. Onsted's policy of no smoking on grounds or in the building was also announced, said Rice. Not all the students were 18 years old. And according to board policy, students registered as Tecumseh High School students must abide by the behavior code whether the student is 18 or not.

To the Editor:

An open letter to Michigan senators, representatives, and governors.

Regarding: property tax reform.

The slow pace of legislative action in reforming the abuses of the property tax leaves Michigan property owners unprotected and subject to discrimination.

You, as a Senator or Representative, can help by voting to maintain State Equalized Valuations at the 1977 level for a three year period or until property tax reform has been approved. During this time, growth in total valuation would be provided by adding new construction at the 1977 basis.

Under the present system, the state budget is balanced by increasing local property valuations for property which is not being sold based on sales studies on the small percentage of property which has been sold.

You as elected officials have the power to protect the property owners without an amendment to the constitution. Also, legislation can be changed where needed, while a constitutional amendment could lock in something which could prove to be highly undesirable. A case in point is the Single Business Tax—what a mess if this had been put in the constitution.

Michigan Citizens for Reasonable Taxation urges you as elected officials to act on this proposal for a freeze on the state equalized valuation of property at the 1977 level as the only practical plan that could be accomplished now to give relief from the planned valuation increases in 1978.

A three-year freeze gives time beyond an election year to work on the problem and solve it. The freeze takes nothing away from present levies. In fact, growth in the total State Equalized Valuation would take place with new construction being added on the basis of 1977 assessment levels.

The freeze would be the first step in property tax reform.

During the freeze, the legislature and governor must come up in as short a time as possible — the quicker, the better — with tax legislation that is fair and reasonable to all.

If, within the three years, you, as elected officials, do not come up with acceptable tax reform, we, the people, will do the legislating by constitutional amendment.

Your cooperation in securing legislative action to maintain 1977 valuations will be appreciated by Michigan Citizens for Reasonable Taxation and all of Michigan's property owners.

Sincerely,
Carlton Kissner, president

Reasonable Taxation

Parking in a place designated for handicapped drivers is a criminal act according to new Michigan law which provides special parking privileges for handicapped persons.

According to State Attorney General Frank Kelley, violators of the new law are guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable upon conviction by a maximum $100 fine or 90 days in jail or both.

Under the law, the handicapped must have a special license plate or a sticker issued by the state on their vehicles, to park in the spaces.

The sticker is available from the secretary of state's office where the special license plates designating the handicapped driver are also available. Both are honored throughout the state.

LOVE LOOKS UP

For Karl and Karen this month marks their second wedding anniversary. It brings bright memories that glow as the candles glowed that Saturday evening they were married.

But "looking back" is not the character of love. Love looks up! It finds its soul in the presence of God. It finds its body in the devotion of a man and a woman to each other, devotion enriched by faith and expressed in unselfish affection.

Love looks forward, too! It faces confidently the years ahead, expressing its spiritual vitality in hope and purpose and concern for others.

For Karl and Karen, as for other Christian couples, the smile in looking forward is born in looking up.

Adults Assist Play

CLINTON — The cast and crew of "Bye Bye Birdie" are well underway preparing for this year's spring musical, to be staged April 13, 14, 15 at Clinton High School.

Technical director Rex Geiger appreciated the help and advice provided by Kim Swift.

As he has for the past several years, Kim, a Clinton graduate and member of the Tecumseh players, is helping with set construction.

Sandy Swift is again helping with costumes. This is the third musical Sandy has helped, not only by advising the students, but also by designing and constructing some of the costumes.

Her design and construction of silver lame concert costume for Conrad Birdie will be most noticeable in this show.

Peg Geiger, director, thanked all those adults who are helping this year and those who have helped in this past.

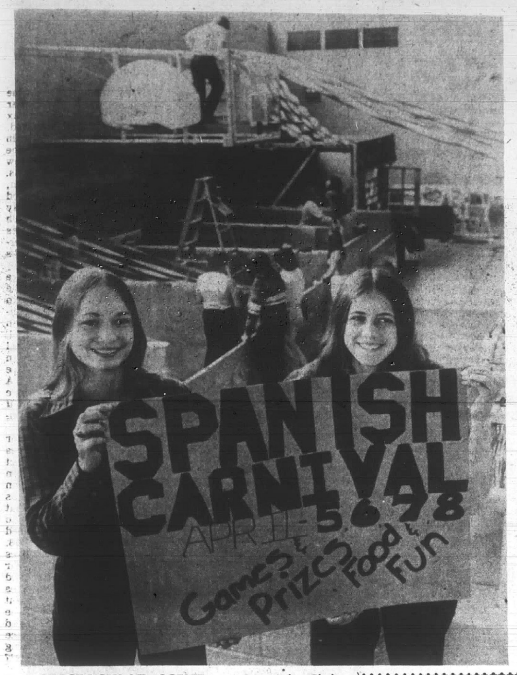
Jackie Kinney, a 1977 graduate, and Patti Evans of Adrian, are working with some of the students on dances.

In the past many teachers and other friends of the theatre department have helped by sewing, loaning costumes and properties and by attending performances.

Assisting with help in musical direction and piano accompaniment is Ed Aluk of Saline.

Adding their talents to make the show even better will be Dale Marzewski, band director, on percussion and Debbie Armbruster, a senior at EMU, on flute.

Clinton Products were thanked for providing a method to move the large MacAfee house easily on and off stage.



SPECTACULAR SCENE — Spanish Club students from Clinton Schools are shown decorating Clinton Middle School gym for the annual Spanish carnival which begins April 5. Mexican food, games, novelties and prizes are available from 6-10 p.m. nightly and from 1-10 p.m. Saturday. Proceeds help senior Spanish club students go to Mexico in June. (PHOTO BY FRANK WEIR)

UMW Are Entertained

Increase Budget

CLINTON — Clinton Township Board adopted a budget of $120,651 for 1978-79 at the meeting Monday night. This is an increase over last year's budget, which was $104,600.38.

Increase in income will come from additional anticipated sales taxes, single business taxes and property taxes.

Expenditures in the budget include an increased amount totaling $59,768 for road work, the largest item in the budget.

Second hearing was given to plan for use of revenue sharing funds, estimated at $11,887 for 1978-79, which will go to road improvements, as approved by the board.

Federal anti-recession funds, estimated at $2,535, will be used toward cost of assessors contract.

Board voted to meet on the first Monday of each month, unless a holiday falls on that day, then the meeting will be on the next day (Tuesday).

Historical Society of Clinton was granted permission to place one storage cabinet in the township meeting room.

WE WANT LISTINGS

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.
He sold very good hot dogs.
He put up signs along the highway and advertised in the newspaper telling how good they were.
He stood on the side of the road and cried:
"Buy a hot dog, Mister?"
And people bought.
He increased his meat and bun orders.
He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.
He finally got his son home from college to help him out.
But then something happened.
His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio and watching TV?
There's a big depression.
The foreign situation is terrible.
The domestic situation is worse."
Whereupon the father thought.
"Well, my son's been to college, he listens to the radio and watches TV and he ought to know."
So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his signs and cancelled his newspaper ads and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs.
And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.
"You're right, son" the father said to the boy.

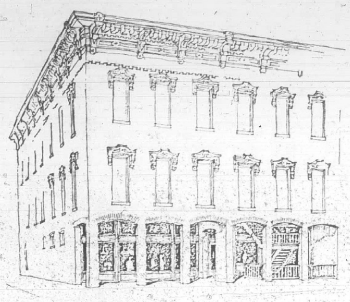
BIDWELL IN PLAT BOOK

Chicago Street, Looking West, Tecumseh, Mich.

...1920's POSTCARD



...AND ARCHITECT'S CONCEPT 1977.

Bidwell Building Played Major Role

Bidwell Building, involved in controversary the past few weeks by some who questioned Council's method of selling it, is a historical building. At 126 years old it is believed to be the second oldest commercial building in the downtown business district. The Union Building, next door, is 128 years old.

The Herald has not questioned the Bidwell Building's historical value, its place in the downtown commercial district nor its future usage. We would hope that the building is properly restored and returned to commercial usage.

Birdsley J. Bidwell, one of the town's earliest and most successful merchants, built the three-story structure 126 years ago. Some historians say it was built in 1851, others in 1852.

Regardless, the Bidwell Building was the scene of much commercial activity, including the wholesaling of farm produce and shipments to markets in the east, sale of clothing and shoes, and other retail business of the era.

In the past 25 years, a furniture store conducted business there and it was followed by the Watkins Shop, which is still operated by Goldie Watkins at 115 E. Chicago Blvd., and most recently by Ken-Ray Drugs, now located on N. Evans St. For the past few years, it has been vacant.

The Masonic Lodge, organized here in 1854, used the Bidwell Building as its temple for 40 years. A scene of social affairs, including a benefit dance in 1861 for the Civil War, it was also the site where the community mourned, wrote and adopted resolutions upon learning of the assassination of President Lincoln in 1865.

Salmon Crane and Sons are credited with constructing the building, and brick and stone in the building are said to be superior to related construction materials today. Architects have judged the building as sound, including load bearing masonry walls.

Some of the original wallpaper on the third floor still glitters. Decorative plaster molding and a brass chandelier in the room used by the Masons, also remain, as does a wheel used for lifting celery seed.

Costs of restoration, plus a new facade at the street level, are almost atronomical. In 1977, it was estimated to cost $277,000.

Such work would provide a multi-story retail and business arcade for five to seven retail outlets and for an equal number of offices. According to the architect's study the rental return would not warrant such an investment.

The report, however, indicates a profit might be realized over a number of years if rental rates increased considerably, and by rapid depreciation. It could be used as a tax shelter for other incomes of the investors.

CHS Trackmen Crush 2

Clinton's track squad has its machine rolling for another season crushing both Britton and Summerfield in a double-dual meet on Tuesday of this week.

The Redskins beat Britton 133-24 and Summerfield 111-47.

Clinton won 13 events altogether and set two school records. Eric Pratt set a school record in the low hurdles with a time of :41.8 while Bill Gerard set it in the discus with a throw of 130'2".

The Redskins host Addison next Tuesday.

Individual winners for Clinton: Discus-Gerard, 130'2"; Shot Put-Gerard, 43'10½"; High Jump-Porterfield, 5'8"; Pole Vault-Wojtowicz, 12'; Two Mile-Peters, 10:28; Low Hurdles-Pratt, :41.8; 880-Risner, 2:07.2; 100 Dash-Thilo, :10.4; High Hurdles-Pratt, :15.8; One Mile-Risner, 4:48; 440 Relay-Porterfield, Thilo, Karapas, Douglas, :48.1; Mile Relay-Travee, Pike Witherow, Risner, 3:48.65; 880 Relay-won on disqualification of Britton and Summerfield.

Janelle Schultz Named All-State

Janelle Schultz, a senior at Britton-Macon High School, has been chosen to the Class D all-state volleyball team by the Michigan Coaches of Women's Athletics Association.

Janelle was voted Most Valuable Player both as a sophomore and as a senior. As a sophomore, she was voted to the first team all-league and to the second team as a senior.

Coach Peg Raeburn said of the player, "She's probably the most all-around player I have. Janelle can handle any assignment. And she's probably the most consistent player I've ever had. She's also the best skilled in technique and form."

Janelle will be honored at a special banquet at Michigan State University this Saturday night. She is the first woman all-state athlete from Britton.

She is planning to be a physical education teacher and coach.

Britton Tracksters Defeated

Britton's track squad had its work cut out for it when it ran against Class C Clinton on Tuesday of this week.

Clinton always fields a strong track squad and the Tories found that out quickly. Britton lost the match-up 133-24.

Although the Tories didn't win any of the events, Jon Hintz tied the Britton school record and captured second place in the pole vault with an 11'6" effort. And Britton's 880 relay team won but was disqualified.

Britton travels to Whiteford Thursday and to Whitmore Lake next Tuesday.

Individual results for Britton: Discus-4, Barth; Long Jump-2, Loesch, 18'1½"; 4, Osterhout; Shot Put-2, Barth; Pole Vault-2, Hintz, 11'6"; Two Mile-Lutz; 100 Dash-2, Osterhout, :10.6 4, Rowe; High Hurdles-3, Bob Sanders; 440-Weifaert; 4, Mike Sanders; 220-Osterhout, :24.4; 4, Loesch.

Their team won the league title with eight wins, two ties, and four losses. They also won the Hockey night tournament.

Team record was 25 wins, 3 losses, and no ties. Steve's team was sponsored by McDonald's of Ann Arbor.

In the Bantam B Travel League, Tim Eardley led his team, Gatsby's Rib, to league champs with 18 goals and 14 assists and two hat tricks.

He was elected team captain by his fellow players. His team, coached by Ward Eardley, had 18 wins, two ties and seven losses.

Both Travel B Pee Wee and Bantam teams played about 30 games including league and exhibition games in Ohio and Michigan.

These six youths participated for many years with Tecumseh Tomahawks sponsored by the Tecumseh Recreation Department. They will all be returning to hockey next season.

Summer Sports Registration

The Tecumseh Recreation Department will begin accepting registration for boy's baseball and girl's softball on April 10 and will continue through April 29.

Registration will be at the community center and must be completed prior to being placed on a team. Parent or guardian must register a child but the child does not have to be present.

Hours for registration are as follows: Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. April 10-April 28 and 9 a.m. - 3 p.m. on Saturday, April 29.

Softballers to Begin

Clinton's softball squad opens its season next Monday with a new coach and a decidedly young look to the team.

Just four lettermen return including seniors Marcia Camfield, Gigi Roberts, Rhonda Douglas and junior Eunice Ball.

Mike Howe has taken over the coaching duties from Charlene Peck and is hopeful his team will have a winning season this year.

Howe plans to rely on Steindurff, Richter, and Camfield on the mound while breaking in the younger girls during the season.

Karen Busch will catch for the Redskins while Cathy Gibson will be at short, Steindurff at third, Camfield at second and Richter at first when not pitching.

In the outfield, it looks like Douglas will be in right field, Pratt in center and one of the freshmen in leftfield.

Howe freely admits that his squad is young but is hopeful the team's speed will be an asset. He's counting on Richter, Gibson and Pratt, all previous track members, to help the team.

CHS Girls Fall to Grass Lake

The Redskins won five events outright including the discus, shot put, 880 run, 220 dash and mile relay.

Dave Arnold is handling the coaching duties this year and was pleased with the team's performance, particularly the effort from younger runners.

Kelly MacRae set a school record in the two mile with a 13:56 effort while Judy Zimmerman tied the school record in the 440 dash with a 1:08 clocking.

Individual winners for Clinton include: Discus-2, Cark, 106'3"; 3, Grossman, 85'5"; Shot Put-1, Cark, 32'4¼"; 3, Grossman, 27'3"; 4, Coward, 25'4¼"; High Jump-3, Cark, 4'6"; Long Jump-Fuller, 14'7"; Two Mile-2, MacRae, 13:56, Lindh, 15:44; 880 Run-1, Zimmerman, 2:44, 2, Horton, 3:00; 100 Dash-4, Arquette, :14.1; 110 Hurdles-2, Santy, 18.6, 4, Wolf, 19.9; 440 Dahs-2, Zimmerman, 1:08, 4, Marion, 1:13; One Mile-2, Masters, 6:36, 3, Coward, 7:12, 4, Leinonen, 7:27; 220 Dash-1, Fuller, :29.3, 4, Platt, :31.4; Mile Relay-Masters, MacRae, Marion, Zimmerman, 4:55.

UPW Win Election

United Products Workers Union is expected to be certified as the exclusive collective bargaining representative of eligible wokers at the Tecumseh Division of the Tecumseh Products Co.

UPW won the election last Thursday with a majority of votes, 955 or 54 percent of the vote. UAW received 743 votes or 42 percent.

Eighty-two votes were cast for no union, five votes were voided and two votes were challenged for eligibility. A total of 1,782 voted of approximately 1,900 eligible voters.

The UAW had five working days from the election to appeal the election. An appeal was not expected.

Another election to determine representation can not be held for one year from the date of the last election, stated Chet Byerly, field examiner for the National Labor Relation Board, Detroit, in charge of the secret ballot election.

Ballots were opened and counted in the presence of the four NLRB agents who conducted the election, observers and international representatives of the UPW, UAW and Tecumseh Products Co.

The UPW contract with the company expired on Feb. 26. Since that time, company continued wages and benefits under the previous contract.

UPW and company are expected to begin negotiations soon after the certificate of representative is issued.

CITY CHARTER CRITICIZED

City's Sale of Bidwell Building Supported in Second Opinion

City officials learned earlier this week that Michigan Municipal League attorney, Louis C. Andrews, Jr., supports the city's position in its sale of the Bidwell Building.

Portion of Andrews' letter reads, "it is my opinion that it is not mandatory that the city advertise or obtain sealed bids for the sale of real estate or the purchase thereof."

In reference to Chapter 12 of the City Charter, he states a section of it is "ambiguous and undoubtedly should be rewritten."

Andrews also says that the drafters of the City Charter intended this section surely to apply only to the purchase and sale of materials, supplies and public improvements.

However, Charles Mensing, member of the Charter Commission and the city's first mayor, says this was not the case and that Commission members debated whether the value figure of $500 for "all sales and purchases" should not be larger.

Interpretations now offered would let Council pick its buyer of public property, such as the Bidwell Building, and possibly at a non-competitive price, but at one suggested by the prospective buyer.

Andrews' letter here is printed in its entirety:

I have your letter of March 29, 1978, regarding the sale of real estate owned by the city under the provisions of the Tecumseh City Charter.

While Section 12.1 is quite ambiguous and undoubtedly should be rewritten, it is my opinion that it is not mandatory that the city advertise or obtain sealed bids for the sale of real estate or the purchase thereof.

It seems to me that the provisions of the third paragraph in Section 12.1 are not applicable to sale and purchases of real estate because that paragraph requires that the sale or purchase be approved by the council which is not enough in the case of the purchase or sale of real estate as indicated both in a subsequent paragraph of Section 12.1 and in Section 7.6(b).

It is unfortunate that the language of the second paragraph of Section 12.1 does not expressly restrict the applicability to the purchase and sale of materials, supplies and public improvements as is the case in the second paragraph. I feel sure that the drafters of the charter intended that this apply only to the purchase and sale of materials, supplies and public improvements. This does make the matter somewhat ambiguous but I feel reasonably sure that a court would rule this since special voting requirements are applicable in the case of the sale and purchase of real estate that is fairly obvious that it was not intended that paragraph 3 of Section 12.1 apply to the purchase or sale of real estate.

This conclusion is strengthened by the fact that 12.1(3) deals with the purchase as well as the sale of real estate. Since each parcel of real estate is generally unique, the purchasing city would be in a position where it would have to draw specifications which would be met by only one parcel, thereby making the bidding procedure meaningless. Interpretations which leads to an absurd conclusion is avoided by the courts, of course.

I trust that this will be helpful to you in connection with your solution to this problem and if we can be of any further service please let us know.

Drops Plans, Will Let Voters Decide

The Herald, very reluctantly Wednesday morning, decided not to file a lawsuit against the City of Tecumseh in its sale of the Bidwell Building. The opinion from the Michigan Municipal League, which provides many services to cities and villages, had little to do with the decision.

We also had opinions to the contrary, ones supporting The Herald's position that Council should not have the power to peddle public property at its own discretion. And, that's actually what is happening.

If we were sitting on Council or serving our community in another capacity as a public servant, we would not be proud of such a transaction, one that started with an illegal closed session on Feb. 21.

Officials are abusing their position, and The Herald will take a long, hard look at Council candidates in the future. We deserve better judgment at the local government level and hope voters will do something about it.

It would not benefit the community now to drag the issue into a court. We'll leave the decision to the electorate.

Former TP Officer Dies

Services will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. in Proctor Funeral Home for Richard J. Meyers, 57, of Okemos.

He was found dead at his home Monday, apparently of natural causes. Mr. Meyers was born March 18, 1921 in Toledo.

He was director of arbitration for the State of Michigan and was formerly employed from 1961-71 in labor relations for Tecumseh Products Co.

While in Tecumseh he was a member of First Baptist Chruch, Tecumseh Country Club, Masonic Lodge, and the Tecumseh Club.

Survivors include three sons, David of Tecumseh; Richard of Cherry Hill, N.J.; Thomas, Portland, Ore.; and a brother, two sisters and seven grandchildren.

Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p.m. Thursday.

Ocamb Moving to N. Carolina

Dr. Harold Ocamb, Tecumseh resident who moved his medical practice to Adrian several years ago, has announced that he is quitting his practice here and moving to Williamston, North Carolina.

The surgeon says his office will be closed after May 15.

The family will move at the end of the school year.

JHS Teacher Enters Plea of Innocent

Gordon M. Crocker, local school teacher who was arrested last week by Tecumseh police on an assault and battery charge, has pleaded innocent before Judge Yale Kerby in District Court.

Charge stemmed from a March 20th incident at Tecumseh Junior High School where Crocker reportedly struck a student.

Pretrial date is May 16.

George Underwood Was Prominent Auto Dealer

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at United Methodist Church for George V. Underwood, Jr., well known Clinton auto dealer who died last Thursday afternoon at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The personable, 53-year-old dealer had suffered from multiple myeloma for over two years. He remained undaunted, however, especially in recent months and weeks when he was in and out of the hospital.

He kept in touch with his dealership until the very end, probably selling his last vehicle on Monday, just three days before he died. And, about three weeks ago he toured his agency and inspected the extensive remodeling program that he had planned and which is now underway there.

Mr. Underwood, a lifelong resident of Tecumseh and Clinton, lived at 4980 E. Monroe Rd., at the edge of Tecumseh.

He was born Jan. 21, 1925, in Tecumseh to George V. and Helen (Westcott) Underwood. He graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1943.

He served in the Navy from 1941 to 1944, attained the rank of First Class Petty Officer while in the European Theater aboard the U.S.S. Oklahoma and was awarded a Bronze Combat Medal.

After World War II, he began selling used cars and in 1951 he obtained a Packard Motor Car Company franchise in Clinton.

Two years later he became the Lincoln-Mercury dealer for the area. In 1960 he purchased the Lancaster Ford agency, giving him one of the few dealerships at that time for all Ford company vehicles.

His agency was generally known as George Underwood Fordland, although officially it was Underwood Motor Company. He was considered one of the most successful dealers in southeastern Michigan.

Mr. Underwood served on the board of directors of the Michigan Automobile Association and was also a member of the National Automobile Dealers Association. He was also a director of the Ford Dealers Advertising Council.

He and his agency were consistent winners of Ford Motor Company awards for sales and leadership achievements.

He was a member of United Methodist Church, Adrian VFW, Underwood-Orr Post No. 34 of the American Legion in Tecumseh, Adrian Elks Club, Tecumseh Country Club, and the Washtenaw County 100 Club.

Mr. Underwood married the former Laura K. Manor of Monroe. She survives as do his parents.

Other survivors include a son, George V. Underwood III, and five daughters, Kim, Kathleen, Kris, Rhonda and Sheila, all at home; two brothers, John W. of Tecumseh and Gary B. of Brighton; one sister, Mrs. Gloria Fetkenhier of Jackson, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Grace Underwood of Britton.

Two infant daughters and one infant son preceded him in death.

Louis Underwood, a brother who was associated with him at the Clinton agency, died in 1973.

The Methodist Church was filled to capacity for his services. The Rev. Allan Gray and the Rev. Floyd Vaughn officiated, and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Proctor Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

GEORGE V. UNDERWOOD JR.

Hadden to Run

Jim Hadden, chairman of the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the 40th District, Michigan State Representatives, seat.

Present holder of the office, John S. Mowat, has announced that he is running for the Michigan State Senate.

Hadden, 48, is employed by the Automobile Club of Michigan and formerly owned and operated Hadden Tire Company. He is serving his third term as county commissioner and is a resident of Adrian.

He has served as president of the Adrian Jaycees, chairman of the Lenawee County Republican Committee, and vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Hadden is a former board member of the Lenawee County United Fund and a Korean War Army veteran. He is a member of the First United Methodist Church of Adrian, Region II Planning Commission, Lenawee County Airport Commission, and the Adrian High School Dads and Fans Club.

In 1961, he received the Adrian Jaycee Distinguished Service Award.

JIM HADDEN

Next Tuesday night, the first meeting of "Hadden's Hundreds," a county-wide volunteer group, will be held at the Lenawee Vo-Tech.

"Volunteers are an essential part of this campaign," stated Hadden, "as it is very important to acquaint as many citizens as possible with the issues in Lansing."

Citing some examples, he said, "with my experience in small business, I fully sympathize with the problems employers are having in the workers compensation area. Also, my casualty insurance experience is valuable in helping correct the problems caused by Michigan's 'no-fault' law."

"I do feel my six years as a county commissioner has given me insights into the workings of legislative process, including the importance of committee work, the consideration of the public view, and achieving progress through cooperation. I share the frustration of all local government in Michigan in enforcing state-mandated programs that do not provide adequate state financing."

Hearing Set

City will continue with its pre-application for funds for senior citizen housing from Farmers' Home Administration. It will be ready for council's inspection at the next meeting, told assistant city manager Paul Preston.

April 3 city council was advised that Tecumseh Planning Commission recommended the zoning change of eight acres designated for senior housing west of Adrian St. to accommodate a four story 122 unit senior citizen housing center.

A public hearing date was set for May 15 at 8 p.m. by council to hear opinions on the proposed zoning change.

Talking It Out

LESTER D. PROCTOR

When should I pre-plan my funeral?

A sage of old once said: "A man cannot say to the Angel of Death: 'I wish to arrange my affairs before I go with you.'" Since we cannot know the exact time of our own death, we are well-advised to prepare for it - spiritually, ethically, practically. So it is that arranging one's affairs - including the preparations for one's funeral in advance of need - provides the satisfaction and peace of mind in having done it. In so doing, we've spared our family some measure of grief and distress.

Your own choices

We have arranged services for many people around here and have several plans for your consideration. You may provide for a funeral service costing neither less nor more than you wish it to be. Your decisions will be calm and rational, without stress or strain. Can you imagine your family faced with all the burdens of arranging a funeral when their grief and emotions are at their peak?

It is wise and practical to have professional counseling on this pre-planning with plenty of time for deliberation and discussion. You may call us for an appointment to get all the details and discussion you need.

Also on Sunday, Lois P. Krout, 36, of 1161 Monroe backed from a parking space and hit a second auto driving through the Kroger lot. Steven M. Hale, 24, of 701 Russel Sq. was driving the second auto.

Compressor Is Purchased

Tecumseh City Council voted unanimously April 3 to purchase an eight-year-old air compressor with hose and hammer from Everette Carlson, 2933 Russell Road.

In 1976-77 fiscal year, city spent $1,205 for rental of equipment and almost as much the first nine months this year. A new compressor would cost $5,000.

Carlson is going out of an asphalt maintenance service.

No One Appears at Public Hearing

No one appeared April 3 for the public hearing on the city's proposed spending of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds for the 1978-79 fiscal year.

Total anticipated revenue from these funds is $90,120. Major appropriations were about 80 percent for solid waste disposal, 2.5 percent for senior citizen programs, five percent for Region II Community Action Agency and about 5 percent for equipment fund.

Richard Platt CANDIDATE FOR MICHIGAN
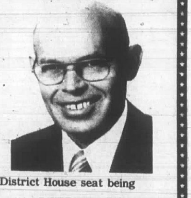
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES



Dear Friends,

I recently announced my candidacy for the 40th District House seat being vacated by Jack Mowat.

The increase in property tax is critical. I specifically pledge to vote against and work against legislation that would increase property taxes and to vote for and work for measures to reduce property tax.

My experience includes twenty-five years of service in local government both Township and County. I believe in local government and I will work to protect and strengthen it.

If you share my desire to protect local control and reduce property taxes your help and support is welcome and needed. I look forward to your assistance and hope to meet personally with many of you in the weeks ahead.

Thank you for your interest.

Sincerely yours,
Dick

Last Week's Letters Draw Response

The Herald requests that all letters to the editor be signed with name and address in the writer's own hand.

Anonymous letters are not printed. Name of writer will be withheld on request if the editor deems the reason valid.

Limit letters to 300-350 words. We reserve the right to edit for length.

To the Editor:

I write this letter with great reluctance fearing it may be interpreted as one more voice clamoring for the headlines, but I feel the time has come for The Herald to re-evaluate its responsibilities to the community.

While my concerns have been festering over a long period of time and a wide range of issues, I wish to address myself specifically to two areas of concern.

First, in a recent issue Helen M. Sisson wrote a letter which expressed dismay at the sensational and shoddy journalism growing ever more prevalent on the front pages of The Herald.

Agreeing completely with her viewpoint, I only wish to add that I was disappointed in your indifferent reply: "The Herald does not make the news, it reports it as fairly and accurately as possible".

I think you missed her point. If your self-serving logic is carried to its extreme, apparently you would feel justified publishing every unsubstantiated snippet of gossip that floats Around town. Let's show some sensitivity and leave the scandal sheets for Hollywood.

Secondly, I think its time to re-evaluate your policy on publishing letters to the editor. While an editor may feel justified in publishing any and all drivel that crosses his desk, responsible publications limit their selections to reasoned and varied viewpoints on broad issues of community, state or national concern.

I find it appalling that the Herald publishes letters (usually anonymous) that can only be described as personal grudges against private individuals.

Any unsuspecting citizen of the community can suddenly be the subject of public humilation while the author cowers under the by-line: Name Withheld on Request.

In the future I would hope The Herald would choose not to be an accomplice in what can best be described as the moral equivalent of an obscene phone call.

Sincerely,
Mark Lewis

To the Editor:

I am writing in regard to the letter submitted by Louis Tepfenhart in the April 6, 1978 Herald. I do not intend this to be aimed only at Mr. Tephenhart, but also to those who share such opinions.

While making a point about the necessity of a citizens' committee to review books used in Tecumseh Public Schools, he states, "I believe there should be only good books in our schools, teaching patriotism, morality and productivity and all the things that made our country great."

I don't wish to disagree with teaching these things but to say that such subjects are contained in "only good books" is very narrow-minded.

This country is far from perfect, Mr. Tepfenhart, and to teach children only "good" things is "teaching" them ignorance. Ignorance of prejudices, ignorance of discrimination, ignorance of truths that are overlooked by too many people already.

Also, regarding the teaching of birth control education, and Mr. Tepfenhart's obvious disapproval of such "things," I would like to ask "why?"

Why should these things be taught in schools? Obviously they are not taught properly (if at all) in homes or there wouldn't be the overwhelming amount of teenage pregnancies that there are. Is there any sensible reason why kids shouldn't know the facts?

Honestly, these kids will find these things out sooner or later on their own...why not teach them in schools where they can be presented factually and objectively, instead of by "hearing" about them.

One more thing, Mr. Tephenhart—in regard to your closing statement: "We sure as hell don't want these things taught in our schools." Where would you like them to be taught? From one child to another? In the streets? In some homes? Think about it.

To the Editor:

I was reading your last edition of your paper when I came across the article about the police car parked in a parking space reserved for handicapped. I, too, truly agree with this person that the officer is setting a bad example for the public.

The reason I'm writing you is my wife, Judy, and I had such an experience too. We were going to the United Savings Bank on the four main corners in Tecumseh when I spotted the empty parking space reserved for handicapped right in front of the bank. I, too, am placing myself in the class of people too lazy to take a few extra steps.

Just as I was going to park here, I spotted a police car behind us, and I thought I better not 'cause the officer might give me a ticket.

Well, I drove ahead a couple of spaces and parked. When we started to go in the bank, I noticed the same police car that was behind us was now parked in the space for the handicapped.

I told my wife it's not right, if I'd parked there I'd probably be ticketed by now.

To make matters worse, when we got done with our business in the bank, I noticed the police officer in there just having a good conversation with another person.

I couldn't resist anymore. I told my wife I was going to get this off my mind and she said no, the police will be watching for you and really get you when they catch you for something. But I told her I didn't care, it just isn't right.

I told the officer about the problem and he just stayed 'till he finished his conversation.

I try to teach my kids to obey and respect the law and police officers. But how can I expect this of my kids when situations like this happen and I lose my respect for such officers.

I'm for law and justice, but sometimms I wonder if such things still exceed.

Thank you,
Gregory Aranda Jr.

Tips for Writing Letters to The Editor

Here are some tips on writing letters to the editor or a public official, excerpted from the Washington-Exclusive, a service of the U.S. Press Association:

Angry about something in your community or country? Don't pick up a bat—pick up a pen. Add it to paper. Then sit down and take out your frustration constructively, in a letter to your mayor or congressman—or a letter to the editor.

Democracy is not a spectator sport. Yet too many Americans for various reasons tune out when they ought to tune in: on election day, when the city council meets, or when an important issue affecting their lives is being debated by the powers that be.

You may be intimidated by the thought of writing for public consumption. But you needn't be if you follow some simple suggestions for writing letters that can have an impact. One prolific writer, who has had over 1,500 letters published in American newspapers and magazines, offers these tips:

1. "Be timely: React at once, hot on the heels of the news. Then let your letter simmer at least three hours before mailing. (Your subconscious may feed second thoughts.)
2. "Be brief: If you can't sell 'em in 3 paragraphs, you won't in 20.
3. "Limit yourself: One subject per letter.
4. "Organize: State your points in logical sequence Communicate!
5. "Be factual: Avoid vague generalizations and label-hanging.
6. "Be simple: Most readers don't dig fancy talk. Keep sentences and paragraphs short. Use punchy verbs.
7. "Be constructive: If you condemn, suggest a better way.
8. "Mechanics: Type doublespaced on one side of plain white paper. Leave wide margins. Mail first class.
9. "Sign your name: All publications must know your name and address."

These rules apply equally well whether you're writing a letter to an editor or to a public official. One caution regarding the latter: elected officials—especially those in Washington—get loads of mail daily.

Most of it falls into two categories: (1) form letters which obviously have been stimulated by a third party; and (2) personally motivated and written correspondence. The form letters have relatively little impact.

It is the personally motivated letters—those truly reflecting the writer's own opinion—that makes a public official sit up and take notice.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

Well, the record remains intact. I had foolishly hoped that perhaps this year it could be broken. There was so much snow and it stayed on the ground so long that I thought possibly the crocuses could bloom without being snowed upon. Silly me.

The poor things struggled up through snow and ice, took advantage of every ray of sunshine and bravely burst into glorious bloom. Then not only did they get faces full of snow but several times they were heavily coated with ice and even endured the indignity of sleet storms. They have now about given up, can't really say I blame them either.

Gradually — so gradual that most of the time I am tempted to describe it as painfully slow — the weather is catching up with the calendar.

Officially, of course, spring arrived weeks ago. As usual someone forgot to tell the weatherman. But we are making progress.

Today, for example, instead of being under travel advisory with severe blizzard predicted, the radio speaks about Lenawee County being included in flash flood warnings.

It is raining. A hard driving rain with now and then an accompanying flash of lightning and rumble of thunder. The robins are enjoying it. And really, they have had such a rough spring that I should not begrudge them their fun.

One of the legacies left by our record shattering winter is a nightmare of chuckholes in the roads. Our Logan St. is no exception. There are two dandy craters just to the west of the drive and today they are brimming over.

The robins are having a fine time bathing. It is always fun to watch these birds enjoy mud puddles. They give themselves over so completely to the joys of ducking and splashing.

The height of the spring migration is still to come but it is nice to note that the early birds are showing up about on schedule. Geese have been heard honking their way northward, the blue herons are busy establishing stalking routes and yesterday I saw a pair of wood ducks fly up the creek.

Unfortunately they did not stay long enough for me to alert anyone — in fact, it was such a quick fly through that there was not even time to enjoy the drake's outstanding handsome colors.

Oh, by the way, the latest report from my friends who have been hosting the screech owl is that they fear he has been displaced.

It is almost a week now since they last saw him. The hole has a new occupant, a female wood duck, but they almost hope she won't — the front door is much to small for her they say and she has quite a struggle wiggling, straining and squeezing her way through. While she is working so hard her gorgeous husband sits nearby and watches. (Let's hope he makes no wise quacks.)

Our wintering flocks of redpolls are still in residence although each day we wonder whether it will be the last. Will they gradually disappear or just up and leave in one grand departure?

Whichever, we shall miss them sorely as they have been great little guys. The tree sparrows and juncos are still very much in evidence too.

All in all though it is almost the ears more than the eyes that catch early spring. The bird chorus gets better every day and the other afternoon I really knew that spring was happening.

It was right after lunch but my drapes were pulled tight and I was napping, trying to get the upper hand in a skirmish with some flu bugs, when through the cobwebs of that half-awake half-asleep drowsiness, came an unmistakable sound.

Maniacal laughter from across the creek, a flicker proclaiming his territory and advertising for a girlfriend. Few things bespeak spring better.

For The Record

In a letter to the editor last week from Carl Schmidt, 4260 Occidental, Adrian, the word "not" was deleted from the following sentence due to typographical error.

The sentence should have read: "It would not be just to seek the ruination of a person's career for one moment of indiscretion."

In his letter, Schmidt asked for an inquiry by the school board into the incident in which a teacher struck a student at Tecumseh Junior High School.

Dance Club

Tecumseh High School Dance Club will present "Friday Night Fever" April 14, 7:30 p.m. at the high school gymnasium.

It is the seventh annual spring program featuring modern and disco music and dances set in these styles.

Gerry Bach will direct the Tecumseh High School Stage Band. Several high school gymnasts, coached by Mary Wood, will give a tumbling exhibition.

JoAnn Cooley directs the dance club. Public is invited to the popular program. Tickets are available at the door.

A LOOK INSIDE Herrick Hospital

BY KATHY BAILEY, R.N.
RICHARD SIES, BUSINESS MANAGER

Have you wondered who puts together all the new furniture and equipment that our hospital uses? Who keeps the walls painted, the woodwork varnished, and the sidewalks in good repair?

Who tests all the medical equipment so that you're assured and those who use it know it is safe for use? Who keeps the water softened, hot when you want hot, and cold when you want cold? Who changes light bulbs?

Do we take for granted that we will have air conditioning in the summer and heating in the winter? Who's responsible for clean, filtered and humidified air throughout the hospital?

Who are they? The men in our maintenance department. They are George Coulson, Jim Hickok, Ed Shrider, Willard Smith and Charles Robison, the director of maintenance and safety.

It may not be obvious to our patients how the maintenance department contributes to their care, and yet these men feel a strong sense of personal responsibility to patients at both Herrick Hospital and Herrick Nursing Home.

They outline three primary responsibilities for the maintenance department.

(1) To provide for patient enviromental comfort and safety;

(2) To maintain and preserve the hospital structure, facilities, and grounds in the same condition the general contractor entrusted it to them;

(3) To maintain and implement changes to meet the mandates of regulatory bodies, i.e. Joint Commission for Accreditation of Hospitals, as well as the state fire marshall's office, Michigan Department of Public Health and insurance carriers to meet health and safety regulations and codes.

Under Robison's supervision, the men respond to approximately 300 requests for maintenance services per month. These requests come from every department in the hospital and vary in complexity.

For the purposes of this article, we'd like to deal with those functions that are not obvious, and yet contribute so greatly to patient care and well-being.

One primary concern is that of patient comfort and safety. Because the technological advances of recent years have influenced the health field, much of patient care today relies upon the use of electronic and electro-mechanical equipment.

Heart monitors, defibrillators, heating pads, oxygen equipment, fetal monitors, thermotic-thoracic suction machines, electro-surgical apparatuses, and sterilizers to prepare instruments for surgery are just a few which involve the safe use of electricity.

Our maintenance men carry out periodic checks on all medical patient care. They perform operational check-outs, calibrate, and test for safe currents and voltages to eliminate the possibility of electrical shock hazards to patients and medical personnel.

This is actually preventative maintenance, because they are intent upon detecting and preventing problems before they occur.

Hospital water system is another interesting area where much takes place before the water reaches the patient or the nurse. Herrick Hospital uses approximately 90,000 gallons of water every week and the maintenance department is responsible for providing soft water.

They follow a schedule that includes water softener regeneration and periodic checks for bacteria.

Such tasks not only require many hours of time, but also a thorough understanding of the equipment, mathematics chemistry, physics, blueprint reading, electrical wiring, plumbing pnuematics, electronics and refrigeration.

In addition, they must be familiar with the state and federal requirements for meeting safety, fire, and health codes. When a health inspector comes for a visit, much of the burden for compliance rests with these five men.

We'd like to ask that the next time you visit our facilities you think about the equipment you use, the clean air you breathe, the fresh water you use the interior decor and realizé the challenging service that these men perform.

Seek Donations for Mellon Roof

CLINTON — At a meeting of the Clinton Area Chamber of Commerce, Monday, members agreed to sponsor a fund-raising project to benefit Mable Mellon.

Chamber hopes to obtain $1,500 in donations from area citizens, to replace the roof on Mrs. Mellon's house at 217 W. Brown St.

Mrs. Mellon, 93, a lifelong Clinton resident, was the victim of a thief who apparently entered her home while she was sleeping on a couch in the living room.

A short time later, Mrs. Mellon went outside to rake her yard, and the unknown woman, described as "well dressed" came out of the house, spoke briefly to Mrs. Mellon some words she couldn't understand and left.

Later Mrs. Mellon discovered a sum of $2,000 in cash had been taken from her closet where she had hidden it for a long time as she tried to save enough to have her house roof replaced.

Her only income is social security.

Mrs. Mellon, who was employed in the Clinton Woolen Mill for many years has lived at her present home for most of her life.

The incident occurred two weeks ago and village police are continuing their investigation, but have no real clues to the thief's identity at this time.

Anyone wishing to donate to the fund for Mrs. Mellon may do so at the State Savings Bank of Clinton.

Wrestling Program Is Popular

A four-year-old wrestling program, tailored for Tecumseh elementary and junior high students, skyrocketed in popularity this spring.

The program was started by Tecumseh High School varsity wrestling coach Pat Connors and meets on Tuesday nights. Elementary School aged children start at 6:30 while junior high students meet at 8 p.m. at the high school cafeteria.

Connors and his assistants were amazed to see around 135 turn out for the program when this year's edition started a month ago. It concludes the last of April with a special tournament for those involved.

Last year around 80 children were involved.

Students were divided into seven separate groups by age. Each Tuesday, they are first given basic instruction and then are allowed to put into practice what they've learned.

Perhaps surprisingly, the purpose of the program is not to develop wrestlers according to Connors. "We want to give the kids a chance to let off some of that nervous energy. Yes, we teach basic fundamentals, but the primary purpose of the program is just to give the kids a chance to have a good time.

"They take to wrestling naturally at that age. Young kids love to grab each other and wrestle. Its a super activity for kids."

And its difficult to tell who has more fun...the kids, Connors and his assistants or all the parents who come to watch. Instructors were amazed at the number of parents who have taken the time to bring their children and watch.

Adults helping out have included junior varsity coach Ron Frenzen, along with Mike McAran, Dan Tilton, Tom Tilton and Kevin Eggleston.

Connors has been very pleased with the response from the volunteers. "It seems you always hear about kids when they get in trouble But these kids have given a lot of their time and have shown a lot of patience. I'm very grateful for their help. Its good for them as individuals to help the younger kids and helps them as wrestlers when they teach others. And it gives everyone a chance to have a good time."

Connors plans to continue the program again next year.

Local Look to GVSC

Grand Valley State's backfield may have a Lenawee County look next fall.

Coach Jim Harkema of GVSC announced that two outstanding running backs, Mark Duncan of Hudson High School and Jeff Anderson of Tecumseh, have signed letters of intent to play football at Grand Valley next fall.

Anderson will follow in the footsteps of Dennis Dermyer, Dan Gunder and Dave Biscupski, former Tecumseh athletes who went on to Grand Valley and had outstanding football careers.

The 6'2", 190-pound Anderson is a tailback, and led the Huron League in scoring in 1976 and 1977. He won two letters in football and participated in track after transfering to Tecumseh from Kettering, Ohio, in his junior year.

He is the son of James and Emily Anderson, 9493 Newburg Road, Tecumseh.

Girl Tracksters Open Season

Fielding a young but experienced team, Tecumseh's girls track squad began its season Saturday by attending the Spartan Relays in Lansing.

On Monday, the Indians hosted Blissfield and completed half of the meet before the Royals decided the rain was too much.

Although the orange and black didn't have anyone place in the Spartan Relays, there were some good performances according to new coach Ed Oxley.

Janelle Mumme finished in the top 15 with a 12:42 clocking in the two mile. Karen Wisner made it into the Top 10 with a 4'10" effort in the high jump.

Against Blissfield Monday, Wisner set a school record in the high jump with a 5'2¾" finish. She won first place in the event.

Another highlight of the Blissfield meet was the winning effort by Tecumseh's 880 relay team. Blissfield's 880 relay team was third in the state among Class C schools last year and its personnel is pretty much the same this season, Oxley said.

Mumme was first in the two mile Monday with a 13:00 clocking.

Oxley admits the team is young with the majority of the team consisting of freshman and sophomores.

Oxley is looking toward several returning lettermen to form a winning nucleus. Lettermen include Lana Stein in the sprints and hurdles; Kris MacDonald in sprints and long jump; Theresa Duhan, who was seventh in the state last year in the quarter-mile; Karen Wisner, who qualified for the state in the high jump last season; Robin Isom also in the high jump; Janelle Mumme in the two mile; Debbie Steadley in the hurdles and Donna Bohannon in the half-mile.

In addition, Oxley expects several freshmen to make a major contribution to the team this season. Those freshmen are, Bonnie Birchfield, Janice Bishop, Barb Marcotte, Ann Smoke and Linda Sprague.

Oxley figures one reason he has a talented group of youngsters is a junior high track program that he and junior high gym teacher Diane Nelson have worked on for three years.

He figures that Airport and St. Mary's will be strong in the Huron League.

Tri-Captains for the Indians are Debbie Steadley, Janelle Mumme and Dee Wilson.

Tecumseh traveled to Carlson on Wednesday. On Friday they head for Jackson County Western and to Adrian next Monday.

THS Trackmen Crush Jackson

Although the weather was certainly no help, Tecumseh's boys track squad easily crushed Jackson Lumen Christi on Tuesday of this week 93½-64½.

Jim McKinney and Jeff Anderson were both double winners, McKinney in the high jump and long jump and Anderson in the 100 yard dash and shot put.

The Indians won a triangular against Pinckney and Chelsea last Friday.

The meet was held at Pinckney and the Indians rolled up 76 points. Pinckney had 64½ while Chelsea could manage just 30½.

Individual winners for Tecumseh against Lumen Christi: 330 Low Hurdles-Robideau, :41.8; Long Jump-McKinney, 19'11"; High Jump-McKinney, 5'10"; 100 Dash-Anderson, :10.7; 440-Cantrell :55.1; Shot Put-Anderson, 43'1"; 440 Relay-Wright, Egbert, Rudd, Robideau, :48.8; 220-Rudd, :25.9; Mile Relay-DesErmia, Medvecz, Oliver, Cantrell, 3:44.6; Pole Vault-Biscupski, 13'.

Individual winners for Tecumseh against Pinckney and Chelsea included: Long Jump-DesErmia, 21'1½"; High Jump-McKinney, 5'10"; Two Mile-Castorena, 10:43; Low Hurdles-McKinney, :41.2; 880 Run- Oliver, 2:10.5; High Hurdles-McKinney, :15.8; 440 Dash-Cantrell, :54.3; Mile Relay-Tecumseh, 3:44.2.

Baseballers Fall to Blissfield Royals

Tecumseh's baseball squad found itself in the unenviable position of having to begin its season playing a doubleheader against a state championship team Saturday.

The Indians' bout with Adrian was scheduled for last Wednesday but was cancelled. Consequently, Tecumseh doubleheader against a state championship team Saturday, opened the 1978 season against Blissfield, defending Class C state champs, on Saturday, 4, and 8-3.

Tecumseh picked up two runs in the second inning and two more in the seventh. Randy Halvin belted a homerun for the Indian cause in the second inning.

Dale Allen took the loss on the mound giving up six walks and 12 hits. He struck out three.

John Brooks, Dave Perry, Butch Harvey and Jeff Rendel each had one hit.

Jeff Hans assumed the pitching duties in the second game and held the Royals for all innings except one. He gave up six runs in the third inning and two in the first.

Tecumseh came up with seven hits including two singles from Allen.

Hans struck out 10 Royals batters, walking five and allowing just four hits.

Coach Bob Ondrovick said of the second game, "If we could have just erased the one bad inning, we would have been in the ballgame."

The Indians attempted to make up the Adrian game on Monday of this week, but that was rained out also.

They hosted Carlson on Wednesday of this week. On Thursday, they host Jackson Northwest traveling to Monroe Jefferson for a doubleheader on Saturday.

"If you shop around for travel insurance, you can get $50,000 worth for just $3.75."

"Travel insurance is one of the few things that's gone down in price instead of up. So be careful how much you spend.

"You can now get, for instance, $50,000 worth of accident protection for as little as $3.75 a day.

"And you can buy it for more than one day and up to six months at even lower daily rates.

"This kind of comprehensive coverage at a low premium rate is why we recommend Auto-Owners travel accident insurance."

Woman Injured in Chase

Betty Jo Butcher, 47, of 7975 E. Monroe Rd. of Tecumseh, escaped injury April 3 when a man trying to evade police struck her car in an accident that ended a high speed chase by Lenawee and Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies.

Terry R. Reed, 37, of Monroe, drove at speeds near 90 miles an hour. He was headed eastbound on M-50.

Mrs. Butcher, driving westbound on M-50 about 150 ft. east of Palmer Hwy., moved her car to the north side of M-50 to avoid Reed.

When she saw him heading toward her on the berm, she attempted to move back onto the highway, but was struck by Reed's car.

His vehicle went out of control eastbound on M-50 for approximately 500 feet before it landed in a ditch.

Reed was arrested by a Washtenaw County detective and Lenawee Sheriff's department deputy. Both departments are seeking warrants against Reed, including one for possession of a stolen vehicle and traffic violation.

OFFICE 263-2200

TO MY PATIENTS:

I am closing my practice and will no longer be available after the 15th of May. My office girls will be in until June 5th.

After 16 years in the area, this is a hard letter to write; but, many of you know how much my family and I have enjoyed our visits to coastal Carolina.

So much so, we are going to make our home in Williamston, North Carolina after school is out.

Sincerely,
Harold D. Ocamb, M.D.

There was a man who lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.

He sold very good hot dogs.

He put up signs along the highway and advertised in the newspaper telling how good they were.

He stood on the side of the road and cried:

"Buy a hot dog, Mister?"

And people bought.

He increased his meat and bun orders.

He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.

He finally got his son home from college to help him out.

But then something happened.

His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio and watching TV?

There's a big depression.

The foreign situation is terrible.

The domestic situation is worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to college, he listens to the radio and watches TV and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his signs and cancelled his newspaper ads and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell his hot dogs.

And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.

"You're right, son" the father said to the boy.

Historic Home Sold

By Sharon Connors

MACON — John and Lucille Banks have sold their historic Macon home and will soon move to Gaylord. The former Banks home, listed on the National Historic Register, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. John Frazier of Dearborn.

In 1829 John Pennington took up 160 acres of land, cleared it with the help of his sons and erected a brush roofed shanty on the plot of land the Banks home stands on today.

A log cabin soon replaced the original shanty and sometime between 1835 and 1845 the log structure was replaced by the Greek Revival style home that now stands on the site.

Five generations of Penningtons lived in the house before it was bought by Henry Ford in 1931. It then became Ford's country home in Macon which was his farm capital.

In 1949 the property was bought by Mr. and Mrs. Art Lopshire and in January of 1971 they sold it to Mr. and Mrs. John Banks.

When John and Lucille Banks found their Macon home in 1970, they saw an ideal place for their family and a setting for their collection of 18th century country furnishings which were a mixture of country, primitive and Shaker.

The only structural changes involved in the remodeling was a back porch and door. Other work included work on floors and woodwork, lots of painting and wallpapering as they attempted to decorate the home in the style of the Pennington days, leaving the Ford inovations.

When the home was ready, it was indeed a step into the past, right down to the homespun curtains from Massachusetts.

The center of the home housed the couple and five of their seven children.

The kitchen was unique with its scrubbed oak floor, a brick chimney with a modern oven built into it and the stove, a reproduction of an old wood burning stove with electricity.

The rest of the rooms were furnished with the collection of furniture, not for show but for everyday living. "That is the beautiful part of this type of furniture," said Lucille Banks "it is so well built and durable."

Most of their collection was purchased on trips east and to Albany, New York. Their Shaker furnishings tell an interesting story of a religious people who made everything with a purpose.

Mrs. Banks tells "a sewing chair, for instance, was made using measurements of the person who would be using it, so they could do their best possible work."

The Shakers were remarkable people who left much to America. Their furniture was the only true American furniture. The clothespin was a Shaker contribution and another example of everything having a purpose.

The Banks rebuilt a summer kitchen behind the house which had burned to the ground. Before starting construction, research was done with several local people who had been involved in the original building.

This building was attached to the main house by an underground tunnel.

The new summer kitchen became a family room.

John and Lucille decided some time ago to sell most of their antiques as many of the things have gotten so scarce, some even being sought by museums.

Their new home in Gaylord will be a simple two story home built to enhance a collection of Shaker reproductions, with a few original accent pieces. The couple will be busy with its new business, a book and Bible store called "The Word" located in downtown Gaylord.

In wishing the Banks' the best of luck in their future, one would be remiss in not saying "thanks for your work in the preservation of a beautiful piece of Macon history."

"The Bankses' Collection" will be auctioned the first week in July by Schmidt's Antiques, U.S. 12 near I-94.

Water Rate Increase of 30% Lets City Keep Millage at 13

A tentative budget of $1,951,315 for the 1978-79 fiscal year has been presented to Council, which will hold a special meeting on May 8th for adoption.

The budget is based on 13 mills, same as in recent years, but millage that was not changed because of anticipated 30 percent increase in water rates.

City manager Cal Zorn said it was either raising the millage or the water rates, which are the lowest and will continue to be the lowest in the area, except for Hillsdale.

The city has subsidized the water department for years through local taxes. Last year, $75,000 was contributed through taxes, but during the next fiscal year, only $15,000 will be allocated.

Council gave the ordinance its first reading Monday night with Harold Easton the only dissenting councilman. He argued that the city has an increase in assessment, which will provide approximately $36,000 more in local taxes, and the largest tax payers will not only be paying more tax monies, but also more for water.

Robert Hamden, city assessor, reported an increase in city evaluation from $39,755,000 to $42,500,000 with total tax collections locally amounting to $552,500, over a fourth of the budget.

Biggest jump in Zorn's budget is the general fund, which has been increased from $629,836 to $831,155. About $100,000 of the $200,000 increase results from construction of water and sewer lines for the industrial park.

Significant drop occurred in the parks and recreation fund of approximately $90,000. This drop attributed to the construction of four tennis courts at the Community Center. Work started last year and is expected to be completed this spring.

While the proposed budget is larger than a year ago, it is below the $2 million plus budget for 1976-77.

SCHEDULE HEARINGS MAY 15

Proposed Masonic Temple, Frosty Boy Are Opposed

Of four proposed zoning changes that came before Council Monday evening, two apparently will face opposition and possibly rejection. First readings for all four were held and public hearings were scheduled for all four on May 15th.

Two proposals facing trouble include a zoning change for a new Masonic Temple, north and east of the United Methodist Church off Bishop Reed Rd., and a new Frosty Boy at the intersection of N. Evans St. and Herrick Park Dr.

Although Council approved all first readings, Dr. Carlton Cook and Leonard DeMoss voted againt the first reading for the Masonic Temple, and Cook and Mayor Aden Mead voted against the Frosty Boy.

Ordinances given unanimous approval by Council for zoning changes included senior housing complex off Adrian St. and a change from single family to two-family development of 12 lots adjacent to the city's industrial park and Mill St.

Relative to the change of zoning for Frosty Boy, an ice cream type of business, Cook said he "would not vote for the zoning change because it could open the area up for other things."

Frosty Boy would be located on the site now occupied by the old Top Hat Restaurant, which closed in the early 1960s. Although it was admitted that the former restaurant is in a rundown condition and not desirable, Cook said the city could have something else there even less desirable.

James Freckleton, former councilman and Brown St. resident as are Cook and Mead, also spoke against the Frosty Boy.

Over 10 years ago, Donald Purkey, owner of Lenawee Fuels, attempted to buy the corner and erect a service station. His request for a zoning change was denied and the building has continued to be unoccupied and not used for any business.

At its April 11 meeting, Planning Commission recommended a zoning change favorable to Frosty Boy. At the same meeting, the commission voted to deny a zoning change for the Masons.

Commission's rejection of the Masonic Temple cited four reasons: increase of traffic density in an existing residential area, after hours misuse of vacant parking places, use would not conform with current Land Use Plan, and Region II recommendations.

Also, Council received a petition with 41 signatures against the temple with signers living mainly on Brown St., some on N. Union St.

Rumors have circulated that the Masons would be serving liquor, a rumor that was quickly denied by Masons present at the meeting.

Wilmer Kiser told officials that the Masons were prohibited from serving liquor.

Arguments against the Masons included large parking area, using the facility in the evenings, fact that the temple could host some 300 for meals, it could be located some where else, and others.

Kiser, secretary of the Masonic Lodge, said the building would be similar in looks to the Methodist Church. He said the land had been donated, and this was a big factor in locating just off Bishop Reed Dr.

Besides receiving the land, the Masons also were given $500,000 for the temple's construction.

Although the Masons are one of the oldest, finest organizations in the world and is religious in nature, the lodge does not have zoning acceptance here as do the churches in regards to building in residential areas.

According to Tecumseh's zoning regulations, churches may locate and build in any area.

Developers in the past have viewed the west bank of River Raisin, just north of the church, for development. High water level tables in the area have discouraged development, would necessitate a couple lift stations for sewage, and in most cases prevent construction with basements.

At one time, the late Ray Herrick considered building a new high school there. Site sketches and other drawings were reviewed for months before the plan was finally dropped.

City Pickups Start May 1st

Annual spring clean up for the city will run from May 1 to May 15, Cal Zorn, city manager, announces.

The clean-up, which includes curb side pickups from the city, is for items larger than the city's trash bags and for leaves and garden clippings, which must be in containers.

Special Assessment District for Sewer, Water Installation

A hearing for installation of sewer and water lines in the W. Chicago Blvd. and N. Occidental Rd. area was scheduled for May 1 by Council Monday night.

Hearing's purpose is for the establishment of a special assessment district for five property owners in the area — Richard and Shirley Whelan, Howard Truesdale, Paul's Trailer Sales, James and Richard Erb, and Karl R. Schneider of Tecumseh Finance.

Total cost of the project could be $34,050.78, the low bid submitted last week by Brady Sand & Gravel of Tecumseh. Other bids ranged upwards to $55,000.

Purpose of the installations is to handle a new building planned by Mr. Whelan, owner of Hoyt Whelan Implement, now located on W. Logan St. The Whelans own property off W. Chicago Blvd. and N. Occidental Rd.

The utilities would pass the finance company, Erb Chevrolet-Buick, August Co. property owned by Paul's Trailer Sales, and a portion of Truesdale's property on the west side of N. Occidental.

Breakdown of the costs would be, Whelans, $15,303.39; Erb brothers, $7,000; Truesdale, $5,730.65; Paul's Trailer Sales, $4,816.74; and Mr. Schneider, $1,200.

Hearing for the special assessment district is scheduled for 8 p.m. The district is to be set up over a five-year period.

Club's Sale Starts Today

Final pickups and preparations are being made for the 10th annual Kiwanis Club Used Merchandise Sale set for this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Bidwell Building on the main four corners in Tecumseh. Co-chairmen are Dr. Ronald Curtis and David Fontaine.

Anyone having any last minute items for pickup may call 423-3413 or 423-4255 after 6 p.m. or bring the item to the sale site.

Hours are Thursday and Friday, 9 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and Saturday, 9 a.m. to noon.

Annual sale is the primary fund raising activity for the Kiwanis Club of Tecumseh. Net proceeds are returned to the community through various youth and service projects.

Used merchandise not sold will be donated to Goodwill-ARC.

3 Reappointed to Commission

Harrison Gonser, Harry Stanifer and Robert Tayler were reappointed to the Planning Commission Monday night by Council.

Their terms expired in May.

Two School Vets Retiring

Two veteran employees of the school district submitted resignations at Monday night's School Board meeting.

Rose Crawford, a junior high English and French teacher and who is chairman of the junior high English program, is retiring after 24 years as a full time teacher with the district.

She started in Tecumseh in Sept. os 1954.

In addition, bus supervisor Harold Mike Anderson is also retiring after 21 years with the district.

Lynne Erb, second grade teacher at Patterson Elementary School, resigned after three-and-one-half years with the district.

The board approved the three resignations and also two maternity leaves.

Paula Bowman, a high school English teacher, and Emily Myers, first grade teacher at Tipton Elementary, will be on maternity leaves for the entire 1978-79 school year.

Open Plant in Blissfield

Midwest Industries, Inc., of Tecumseh, will open a small manufacturing plant in Blissfield for the production of aluminum canoes.

Alan Beatty, president of the company, told Blissfield officials that the plant would employ 24 or 25, both women and men, and operate one shift. Equipment for the plant will be brought in from a Pennsylvania plant, starting May 1.

Space had been sought in Tecumseh, but no building was available, and the company reportedly did not want to wait until the city had developed its industrial park.

OK Society to Salvage

Tecumseh Historic Society was given permission Monday night by Council to salvage any remaining items of historical values from the Maurice Tuckey residence on N. Ottawa St.

The house, purchased last year by the city, is being razed to expand the city's northeast, downtown parking lot.

Cal Zorn, city manager, informed Council that most of the valuable items, mouldings, wavy glass and related items, already had been removed.

Betty Kline, said the society would take less than a day to claim the balance of the items and would then schedule a public sale or auction. Proceeds would be utilized to benefit the community.

Two Awarded Bids by City

Low bids were accepted by Council Monday night for repairs to the mausoleum roof at Brookside Cemetery and for an incubator in the wastewater plant.

Watson Bros. was awarded a contract to repair the roof at the mausoleum for $2,100. Local company guaranteed its work for five years. Other bidder was Great Lakes Systems for $2,880.

Curtin Matheson Scientific, Inc., was low bidder for the incubator at $840. Two other bids were $989.39 and $1,003.

Band Trips Are Approved

Tecumseh High School competition marching band was given approval Monday night by the School Board for overnight trips in order to compete in marching competitions.

Previously, the Board had declined to give permission.

Band director Jimmie Rice told the officials that students are directly supervised 98 percent of the time. Students will not be allowed to "go just anywhere."

The band will be participating in marching competition in Bad Axe on June 24; Vasser, June 25; in Tecumseh, June 29; Essex, Ont., June 30; in the Freedom Festival in Windsor, Ont., on July 1 and in Amherstburg on July 2 in Ontario.

Rice indicated that band members would probably stay overnight in Bad Axe and for the weekend in Ontario between contests there.

Students will stay in host schools with chaperones posted all night, Rice said.

Transportation costs are paid for by the schools.

Expenditures by Schools

Tecumseh's Board of Education accepted bids on three items at the regular monthly meeting Monday.

The low bid of $3,500 was accepted from Hoyt Whelan Implement Co., for a John Deere lawn mower and tractor replacement.

The unit can also be used to remove snow and is covered with a cab.

The bid of $7,126 from Agate Manufacturing of Adrian was accepted for an "air handling system" for the high school wood shop complex.

The equipment was recommended by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) after an inspection.

Purpose of the equipment is to filter out dust in the air.

In addition, the low bid of $6,685 from Indoor Comfort Co. of Ypsilanti was accepted for a fuel oil burner replacement for the high school auxiliary boiler.

Present burner is 30 years old.

Shows Plans for Bidwell Renovation

Plans for the Bidwell Building were revealed to Council Monday night by Don Limpert, Manchester contractor and real estate agent, who purchased the building last month in a controversial transaction.

Limpert's plans call for seven rental spaces on the first floor and six offices on the second floor. There are no plans for the third floor at this time.

Exterior remodeling and construction work includes:

- Removal of glass panel front, expose original iron front.
- Necessary modifications for missing transoms and entrances.
- Paint exterior cornice, window frames and sash.
- Interior work on the first floor will include construction of non-load bearing preservation of walls, metal ceiling, installation of suspended ceilings, re-open door to Evans St., repair plaster or expose certain areas to brick, recondition all wood sash, install floor covering as required, build barrier-free toilet, recondition or replace heating system and extend or relocate lighting and electrical outlets.

On the second floor, similar work will be planned plus installation of carpet in all office areas, and new heating and air conditioning system.

Limpert said costs would be less than half of an architect's estimates that were based on more extensive reconstruction program, which included the third floor. Architect had estimated costs at approximately $277,000.

Council took no action on his plans.

Schools Expanding Driver Ed Program

Tecumseh's driver education program will be expanded this summer in order to accommodate more eligible students.

The action is the result of a complaint by Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Hunt whose son turned 16 last December but was unable to take driver education until the summer session.

The State Department of Education recommended that students be allowed to take driver education within a time period spanning three months before or after a student's 16th birthday.

Tecumseh school officials maintain that a similar statement by the state attorney general's office is an opinion, not a ruling.

At any rate, the School Board approved an expansion of the summer program to allow the district to catch up.

Last summer, 288 students went through the driver education program. This summer, 352 will be accommodated.

The district will hire one additional instructor, and the program will consist of two five-week sessions.

Cost increases will total $3,840. The district is reimbursed $30 per student by the state, but actual costs are about twice that, school board president Donald Phelan said.

Asst. Supt. Gene Cooley said after the meeting that the expansion will allow the district to catch up.

The regular program during the school year consists of 32 students and it will remain at its current level.

Cooley stated that officials would have to wait and see if it would be necessary to continue the expanded summer program next year.

School May Use Sewer

Asst. Supt. Gene Cooley and Supt. Robert Duhan informed the School Board Monday night that Ridgeway, Britton and the corridor between the two will be "involved extensively" in a sewer project starting in the early summer.

Ridgeway Elementary School is eligible to be hooked up to the new system. Presently, the school uses a septic tank system and there would probably be a special assessment to pay for the hook up, Duhan said.

Duhan went on to say, "I don't think we'll have any choice whether to join the system or not, therefore we should be involved with the planning. It's a safe way to go."

17th Annual Ball Is Set by Policemen

Tecumseh's 17th annual Policeman's Ball is set for next Saturday, April 29, at the Product's Union Hall.

Dance is scheduled to begin at 9 p.m. and run until 1:30 a.m., with music by the Weekenders.

Present members of the area force, Sgt. E.E. Skinner and office Donald Rodehaver were two of the officers that originated the ball 17 years ago.

The officers chose the dance as the best way to raise some money for the needy children and families in town. That first dance turned out to be a big success and the policemen have had one ever since.

Local merchants now donate money and door prizes to keep the ball going. With the help of citizens and factories also, the group is able to help some 20 groups.

Some of those groups include March of Dimes, Muscular Dystrophy, American Cancer Society, Wayne Nix Fund, youth baseball and hockey, Lenawee Institute and fire victims, to name just a few.

The police officers nor the department actually receive any of the seven dollar charge per couple.

HOW TO REDUCE RUST
YOU MAY BE WASHING THE WRONG SIDE OF YOUR CAR.

Spring is a perfect time to do something about rust.

Rusting is a year-round problem, and corrosive conditions have become a lot worse in the last five years.

If you live where salt is used to melt ice on the roads, that is speeding up corrosion on your car. If you live in the country, it's the calcium chloride that's spread on dirt roads to hold down dust. And corrosive chemicals in the air are causing rust in every part of America.

We're doing something to help prevent rust on the new cars we're building. Meanwhile, you can do something about reducing rust on your car.

It's important to wash your car often. Use a mild soap and lukewarm or cold water.

Please don't neglect the underside of your car. The worst rusting happens from the inside out. That's because salt, slush, and even mud tend to collect in the crevices underneath the car, in the door creases, and inside the fenders. Moisture gets trapped in those places and causes rust. So try to wash the underside of your car, too. In winter, if you can, and at the first opportunity in spring. Even if it's only a few times a year, that would help some.

If your car gets dented, scratched, or chipped, try to get it repaired as soon as possible. Even a "small" scratch is bad. Because once a car starts to rust, the damage spreads fast. The paint around a dent or scratch can look okay, but rust is spreading underneath. In the long run, it's cheaper to fix the car right away.

A lot of people think that parking a car in a heated garage during the winter will help prevent rust. But it's just the opposite. Cold slows down the rusting process, as it does most chemical reactions.

We're doing more now to protect GM cars from rust. For one thing, we're using more rust-resistant materials, including different types of zinc-coated steel, in places where rust usually occurs. Also, our new paint primers and the way we apply them are designed to provide a thorough finish, even on some parts of the car you can't see.

Our goal is to protect your car so that it lasts longer and gives you the most value. And fighting rust helps.

This advertisement is part of our continuing effort to give customers useful information about their cars and trucks and the company that builds them.

Bird Watching Discussed

Tecumseh Monday Club annual spring luncheon April 10 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church featured "bird watching," the program by Mrs. Murray Day.

She explained that trees, meadows, hedges, evergreens, fruit trees, flowering bushes and flowers of all kinds are necessary to attract birds of great diversity.

Garden sprays and chemicals must be checked carefully and be safe for use to protect wildlife. A plentiful water supply is also important.

Sixty members and guests dined at the turkey luncheon. Mrs. Carlton Cushing gave devotions, "A Tribute to Spring," by Mrs. Hunter, president of the State Federation. Everyone recited Psalm 100, in praise of all things.

Cecile Smith paid tribute to deceased members of the past year. Dorothy Brock, Fern Brandt, Lena LaBounty, Ersala Murphy, Lulu Waldron, Dorothy Ruthruff, Veva Conner and Evalyn Halberstadt. She read the Prayer of St. Francis with Vera Driscoll, pianist.

Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger installed new officers. Cecile Smith presented retiring president Ruth Kuder with a past president's pin.

Tecumseh Monday Club was organized in 1894, state federated in 1896 and county federated in 1904. County federation met at St. Peter's Church, April 12.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

For too long it looked as though today's article would be black. Grackles, starlings and cowbirds seemed to be everywhere. Finally, however, I was granted a last minute reprieve. Rescue came in the strange form of a 13 inch long bird with a big oversized head and a shaggy mane of a top-knot. The Everett Dirkson of the bird world, a kingfisher!

As usual, we heard the kingfisher before we saw him. There are certain sounds that are just never forgotten or equaled.

A pair of loons screaming and laughing at each other on an out-of-the-way bay at the north end of Lake Huron; flickers maniacally laughing across the creek and drumming on a hollow tree; mockingbirds serenading all night long on a bright spring night in Florida.

To this nice list must be added the kingfisher. His voice is a loud raucous rattle with several inflections. As he flies up the creek his scream can almost tell the state of the fishing.

If he has made a good catch he sounds one way, if he has come up empty-billed he sounds quarrelsome and irritable.

Late last fall, in fact it was probably early in the winter, the fisherman of the creek had us all worried. Why did he stay so late? The kingfisher's diet is almost exclusively made up of little fish he dives into the water for — how in the world did this fellow eat well when the creek was frozen?

For several days he was around when there were not even any open holes. It seems terribly risky for these birds to dive into these open areas but they occasionally do and apparently get away with it.

When the creek is frozen from bank to bank it is more than dangerous living, it is living with no food supply available. That is instant hunger — or frightful headaches from diving and banging the head on ice.

No, seriously, the bird did stay much too late last year but he must have found some open fishing somewhere.

Now, of course, we are wondering if the current bird is last year's slow poke. No way of telling for sure. Male and female kingfisher are garbed alike with one exception. They are pretty, but funny looking characters. They seem top heavy, their short blunt tail in no way balances the large shaggy crested head with its long and heavy bill.

The birds wear slate blue on their back and white underparts are banded by the same blue. Females sport a distinctive and noticeable rusty breastband too. Both wear snowy white collars.

Seldom have I had a better look at a kingfisher — they are not overly friendly birds and prefer quiet stretches of creek or lakes. Our section of the creek may not be quiet but when the foliage is out the water is quite hidden.

This particular day, as hungry as my eyes were for a look at new green leaves, it was nice that the trees were still bare. Bird perched on a limb over the creek, he was just outside the window. Mom was in the kitchen making coffee and the General's Lady hardly asked about moving my bed when I said lets go.

There he was, big and beautiful and handsome. Mom came in just as he moved up the creek.

These are solitary birds, usually sharing a fishing site only during mating season. Their nest is at the end of a long burrow which they excavate in a creek bank or lake cliff.

Usually the entrance hole is high enough to avoid any danger of high water but, as an extra precaution, the next itself is slightly higher than the tunnel.

Female lays six to eight eggs, both parents incubate, and when first hatched kingfisher kids are blind and naked. They cling together for warmth, their parents are far too short legged to stand over them and afford protection.

In about four weeks the family is ready to leave home and there is just one last lesson to learn. How to catch fish.

How is that taught? Often one of the adults will catch a fish, either kill or stun it, float it on the water, and let the kids practice. What a sight that would be.

Mysterious "Room" Found Under Office Supply's Sidewalk

By Kathy Brown

An archaeological discovery of a kind was found April 3 under a 15 ft. long, seven foot wide, slab of city sidewalk on the west side of the Tecumseh Office Supply building, 202 E. Chicago Blvd. at S. Ottawa St.

No one could explain what it was and no one will probably ever see it again. Dangerous six foot deep excavation was filled with sand and gravel and entombed with new cement by Tuesday afternoon, April 4.

No one is known to have any pictures of it. The Herald editor was contacted but did not mention it to staff before his vacation. Tecumseh Camera Shop, next door, did not know about the discovery.

It was not an April fool joke, although it began April 1. All the employees of the Tecumseh Office Supply, several city workers and uncounted passersby saw the excavation.

Upon first report, local historians and city officials were surprised and stymied for an answer. What was it?

"I haven't the faintest idea," said city manager Cal Zorn. He personally inspected the excavation.

"That's weird," said Clara Waldron, authoress and historian.

"What a missed opportunity," said Dr. Charles Lindquist, curator of the Lenawee County Historical Museum.

What was it?

Your guess is as good as anyone's.

The physical evidence revealed a six foot deep, by 15 ft. long by 7 ft. wide hole. Underneath the sidewalk perimeter was a six ft. high cobblestone wall. Toward the middle of the excavation was an 18 ft. long, six foot high, red brick wall between the present foundation and stone wall east of the street.

City manager Cal Zorn said the brick wall continued in a northeasterly direction under the E. Chicago Blvd. sidewalk. A city worker easily drove a pick ax into the front sidewalk where wall was believed to continue. A gas pipe led into the pit from a southwest to northeast angle.

Except for an antique wood, double size bedstead, stored at the south end against the stone wall, the excavation was hollow. When a crew tried to remove the bed, it crumbled from dry rot.

Brick wall looked brand new, stated Bryce Roekle, business owner. His father, Paul Roekle, building owner said, "I've never seen anything like it."

And no one is known to have any pictures.

April 1, the Roekles noticed the rain was washing under the sidewalk. City filled the hole.

April 3, enough ground had washed away so that a city employee could peer into the cavity. Sidewalk was removed and the underground walls were discovered. Stone wall had deteriorated. The ground washed under sidewalk.

Apparently old sidewalk was laid over boards and steel grid, perhaps before reinforced concrete was used, theorized Paul Roekle. Sidewalk's age was not known.

Originally sidewalks were plankboard. First test concrete sidewalk was constructed on the corner of E. Chicago Blvd. and S. Ottawa St. in 1895.

Why the cavity was not filled earlier remains a mystery.

There is no known abstract for the property, making it more difficult to find out what was built there.

Though evidence is inconclusive, it is believed that the walls were foundations.

Through old histories and directors, the story of the business corner began to emerge.

Was it the cellar or foundation of the town's first store?

Earliest building on that corner was the town's first real store, a frame structure built in 1825 by Daniel Pittman, storekeeper, first county clerk and local military figure. His home, the first house on "Main Street" was built in 1824 just east of the corner store. Stone wall could be a remainder.

Was it a foundation from the Patterson home?.

Probably not. A 1868 map reveals no building on that corner. However, Tecumseh's pioneer doctor, M.A. Patterson built a brick home on the center of the lot in 1855. It stood along for 20 years, was defaced into a three-story hotel that was unsuccessful, and torn down in 1966. It is the Kitchen and Fabric Center site.

Was it a hiding place on the underground railroad?

"That's ridiculous," said Clara Waldron. "The underground railroad was just a name for getting the slaves through town. Hiding places were in houses, not in the ground."

Dr. Charles Lindquist said that the fact it was a secretive place where someone might have hid and a bedstead was there could lead one to speculate that it was an underground hiding place.

"Tecumseh was a stronghold for the underground railroad movement and that makes the possible probable," he stated. "Arguing against that is the (downtown) location."

Brick wall discovered was most likely built after the 1840's when the first area brick yards were started. For example, Comfort Brick and Tile, Raisin Township was started in 1843.

Was it the foundation from the John J. Freeman cigar factory?

1895 directory pictures that business corner and labels the two-story building with corner entrance as the John J. Freeman cigar manufactory since 1876. Freeman was proprietor there until about 1916.

1900 directory indicates George H. Tansley, furniture dealer and funeral director as the building owner. 1915 directory states E. Service and Son operated a furniture store and funeral room on Chicago Blvd. (no address).

By 1930, next available directory, Lenawee County Light and Power Co. occupied 202 E. Chicago Blvd. Consumers Power Co. (acquired title) in Dec. 24, 1938 from Citizen Light and Power. It was once owned by the George U. Smith family of Tecumseh.

Three pictures, dated 1912, 1925 and 1950's, in the Tecumseh Library collection, shows the "cigar factory".

It is theorized that when the factory was torn down for the building of the Consumers Power Co. building, now Tecumseh Office Supply.

"I'm really fascinated. I hope it (the front sidewalk) deteriorates fast," said Bryce Roekle.

John F. Freeman cigar factory ca. 1876, S. Ottawa at E. Chicago Blvd.

"If you shop around for travel insurance, you can get $50,000 worth for just $3.75."

"Travel insurance is one of the few things that's gone down in price instead of up. So be careful how much you spend.

"You can now get, for instance, $50,000 worth of accident protection for as little as $3.75 a day.

"And you can buy it for more than one day and up to six months at even lower daily rates.

"This kind of comprehensive coverage at a low premium rate is why we recommend Auto-Owners travel accident insurance."

Auto-Owners Insurance is for travel insurance, too.

New Books At Tecumseh Public Library

Unpopular senior biologist Dr. Lorrimer is found murdered in a forensic science laboratory, where he was examining a mallet used in another murder. Lorrimer's colleagues didn't know of his affair with the director's daughter, or that his cousin was the director's secretary and heir to a fortune. But they did know that his assistant was bullied to the point of a nervous breakdown, and an argument between the two had brought them to blows. P.D. James, a senior civil servant in the criminal department of the British Home Office, wrote DEATH OF AN EXPERT WITNESS.

THE MESMERIST is based on the actual account of the trial for murder of a hypnotist in a small mid-western town in 1900. Little did people realize when Frederick Dinsmore set up his "Anti-Septic and Painless Dentistry" office in the squalid South End of Center City, Neb., that it would conceal his true, sinister art. His diamond-blue stare captivated even the town's richest man, who soon committed suicide. Coincidence? The man's wife was too beautiful, too ripe, and too wealthy to long remain a widow. One man takes a stand, determined to bring the Mesmerist to trial. This is Felice Picano's third psychological suspense novel.

Lady Guest's donations to the secondhand clothes shop were always almost brand new. Included in today's gift, Clare found the beautiful pink dress Lady Guest had worn at last night's masquerade ball, an Edwardian gown worth a small fortune. How could she just give it away? Suddenly, Clare saw a dark stain with an unmistakable bullet hole at its center. The dress is the clue in E.X. Ferrars' PRETTY PINK SHROUD.

Sister Karen Higby, 35, smart, goodlooking, youngest Mother Superior her order has ever had, wants to leave the convent. Her recurring dream of a handsome, young man and her worldy interests upset her. Mysteriously, two nuns die - accident, suicide, homicide? Karen is drawn to Lieutenant Di Vencenzo who singles her out for lunch and private meetings during his investigation. In Thomas Cullinana's THE EIGHTH SACREMENT, Karen learns about love, betrayal, and the eighth sacrament, which is death.

A FRIEND IN DEED, by Robert Jagoda, is "a merry tale of crime and passion." John Storch decides to murder his second wife, Laverne, worth over $14 million. With their poodle Friend, he designs a mechanism to shoot her in her own bed while he is miles away. Returning after the murder, he finds a woman he doesn't know dead in the bed. Now, murderer-turned-sleuth Storch investigates his misfired crime, tracking zany clues with his poodle.

Horror, vengeance, and madness reign in BONE GRINDER, by John Lutz. Brutally mutilated body of a child found on a lakeside reverses the legend of "Bonegrinder", an Ozark Lake monster. Following week, a farmer is discovered cut to bits. Curiosity seekers, newsmen and townspeople hurriedly pack as bounty hunters move in. Sheriff Wintone must sort out the evidence, while staying one step ahead of the blood bath that's sure to occur.

When Marina Skinner asked Dr. Sanders if she had lost her baby in the accident, he told her she had never been pregnant. Head injuries like hers often caused delusions. Now he said her husband was coming to take her home, but the man who appeared wasn't her Victor. Rather than give the doctor an excuse for keeping her if she couldn't recognize her husband, Marina plays along. As soon as they leave, the imposter disappears. In Helen McCloy's THE IMPOSTER, Marina discovers a murder and circumstances that make it impossible for her to go to the police.

Eight more new novels for people who enjoy fantasy, suspense, inspiration and human development. Tecumseh Public Library invites you to browse through the fiction shelves. All books may be checked out for free.

But Kincaid doesn't realize the greatest danger, an heiress. Nicolas Meyer and Barry Kaplan based BLACK ORCHID on actual events and places.

Sir Jonathan Sekloong, illegitimate son of Chinese-Irish background, founds a powerful trade empire which lasts three generations. Struggle to overcome cultural differences is mirrored in the careers of his sons: one follows the nationalists, another the communists, and the third becomes a distinguished Cardinal. The clash between heritages and Eastern and Western values is always present in Robert Elegant's DYNASTY.

Divorced and dissatisfied with her life, Gail returns to her birthplace in Texas, hoping to regain childhood peace. Her 20-year-old son wants to farm his grandmother's land, but he doesn't understand family relationships in Walnut Grove yet. First, he will have to know about an old love affair so scandalous and shameful that it is never mentioned, even though it is still going on. THE RAINCROW is by Jane G. Rushing.

Alice Gilman of UNLESS YOU DIE YOUNG looks with interest at her family. Usually separated by many miles, this is the first time her family has been together. TO MY PATIENTS:

I am closing my practice and will no longer be available after the 15th of May. My office girls will be in until June 5th.

So much so, we are going to make our home in Williamston, North Carolina after school is out.

Sincerely,
Harold D. Ocamb, M.D.

Tecumseh opened its softball season by clubbing Gibralter Carlson 16-6 last Wednesday, failing to Monroe Jefferson 12-7 on Friday and coming back to destroy Adrian 22-11 on Monday.

The Indians had an impressive 19 hits led by Gloria Fosbender, three of six; Karen Bunch three of six including a triple; Cindy Adams, three of six.

Kelly Kruger had two of five including a home run.

Adrian committed six errors to three for the orange and black.

The Indians got off to a quick start against Jefferson when Becky Hamilton hit a grand slam home run to begin the first inning.

However, Jefferson came back in the bottom half of that same inning to score seven runs off Indian pitcher LuAnn Harvey.

Jean Egbert replaced Harvey in the second inning who went the rest of the distance.

The orange and black came up with a total of 10 hits for the game. Karen Bunch had three hits while Kelly Kruger had two.

Tecumseh had 11 hits against Carlson last Wednesday. Gloria Fosbender had four singles and Bunch two.

The girls hosted New Boston Huron Wednesday. On Friday they travel to Flat Rock.

Tories Lose Opener, 9-4

Britton's baseball squad opened its season with a 9-4 loss to Sand Creek on Wednesday of last week.

Dundee came up with five to pull ahead for good.

Randy Smith had two RBI's for the Tory cause against Dundee.

Indians Bow to Adrian

Tecumseh's boys tracksters suffered their first loss of the season falling to Adrian 88-70 in a very close match-up last Thursday.

In fact, the Indians led for most of the meet but fell behind after two relays and some of the short distance events.

Jim McKinney won four events for the Indians including the high jump, long jump, the low and high hurdles.

A meet with Carlson scheduled for Tuesday of this week will be run on April 25 instead, due to weather.

Although the orange and black lost to Pioneer, they came up with 13 hits to 10 for Pioneer. Ann Rinne went three of three including one double and two singles for the Tecumseh cause. Darlene Williams was two of four and also took the loss on the mound.

Karen Keller was four of five against Jefferson last Friday while Kathy Perry was three of four. Perry picked up the win on the mound.

THS Faces Stiff Opposition

Tecumseh's baseball squad is having a little trouble getting its season underway posting just one win against five losses overall.

Last Wednesday, the Indians were blanked by defending Class B state champs, Gibralter Carlson 10-0.

The Indians came back to beat Jackson Northwest 3-1 on Thursday to post their first win of the season.

But last Saturday, the orange and black lost a doubleheader to Monroe Jefferson 5-2, 6-2.

Tecumseh had seven hits in the two games against Jefferson and Randy Halvin was responsible for three of those, two doubles and a single.

Dave Perry scored all four runs during the afternoon and, coincidentally one each in the first and seventh innings of each game.

Dale Allen started on the mound in the first game but gave up four runs in the first inning. Jeff Hans took the loss in the second game with Dorman Frederick relieving both pitchers.

The orange and black could manage just four hits against Carlson, two from Randy Halvin and one each from Brian Banda and Dale Allen.

Woman's Club Holds Meeting

BRITTON — Mrs. Clay Croll hosted the April 11 Britton Woman's Club meeting with a 1:30 p.m. luncehon for the 17 members present.

Mrs. Jennings Frayer, club president, told members about the new county atlas that is being printed for the years 1874, 1893 and 1916. These historic books will be reprinted in their entirety and bound in one conveniently-sized volume. Only books ordered will be available at a prepublication price of $18.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Grover Willis from a book of poems, one for each day of the month. One was "Nothing Fails When God's In."

Roll call was answered by each one telling about their treasured heirlooms.

A silent prayer was given for a sick relative of one of the members. Mrs. Percy Cadmus had charge of the birthday for the month and read two appropriate stories to Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt, who had the only birthday of the month.

Mrs. Willis gave the blessing prior to the luncheon.

A benefit card party was held at the home of Mrs. Percy Cadmus April 18.

CUB SCOUTS VISIT LOCAL TRAIN HOBBYIST

Visit Hobbyist

BRITTON — Cub Scout Den 2 traveled to Ridgeway April 13 to the Julian Strong home where they saw the workings of a model locomotive and rail cars, all built from scratch by Mr. Strong, a retired high school biology teacher.

The controls - - throttle, brake, reverse and whistle cord - are all similiar to those found in a real steam locomotive.

Beside the track, he has an arm rest resembling an engineer's window, which he leans on as he operates the levers to run his model train.

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

MACON — Something nice happened in Macon—last Saturday. Residents who were outside or looking out their window saw a pickup truck of boys picking up trash along the roadside. Checking around a bit it was discovered some young men from Boysville, the O'Meara group, did the spring cleanup.

The Kenneth Bortel home on Ridge Rd. was a busy place this past weekend. Their daughter, Melinda, and Brad Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Williams, were married at the Grace United Methodist Church, Britton, Saturday evening.

Every wedding is special and this one surely was with four generations present. Melinda's great-grandparents, Clarence and Margaret Hall of Macon attended the wedding and reception. Sunday afternoon found many of the guests, some from Ohio and Illinois at the Bortels' for dinner.

Over the past few months Melinda was honored at several bridal showers. Rosemary and Mary Schroeder had a miscellaneous shower as did Pat and Linda Wagenschutz and Dana and Kim Bruce. Becky Rowe, Brenda Reau and Mary Schroeder, three of the attendants, also hosted a shower, and Judy Bailey and Janet Wagner had a kitchen shower. The newlyweds are off to the Pocono Mountains, Tenn. for their honeymoon.

Don and Clara Davis welcomed their first granddaughter this past week. Amanda Lynn 4 lbs 13 ozs. was born at Herrick Hospital, April 13. Parents are Ralph and Nancy Fraley of Macon.

They also welcomed a new daughter-in-law and grandson when their son, Wayne, married Sharon Lewis in Las Vegas, Nev., April 14. Sharon's son, Anthony is five. Besides Sharon's parents, Jack and Ruth Escott of Clinton-Macon Rd. went to Las Vegas, Nev., with the couple.

Randy and Brad Escott enjoyed two days with their aunt, Judy Crittenden, and with grandpa and grandma Davis while their mom and dad were gone.

John and Marilyn Swanston hosted a birthday dinner last Sunday afternoon. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ken Plank and daughters, Donald J. Ries, Rev. and Mrs. Albert Raloff, Brian Kaufman, Kareen Swidan and of course Heather, Mindy, and Jackie. Two birthdays were celebrated, Jackie Swanston's April 18 and Sylvia Plank's April 11.

Dewey Ries, Marilyn Swanston's grandfather, died April 11 and was buried Thursday. He lived in Blissfield.

Jennie Robison of Pennington Rd. returned home after spending the winter in Lower Rio Grande Valley, Alamo, Texas.

Jennie left home last October in her motorhome. She is a member of L.O.W. (Loners on Wheels), a camping group. She met many of the members along the way and traveled in some caravans with them also.

L.O.W. is a national organization and Jennie attended their national rally last January in Harlingen, Texas.

In February she flew to California accompanied by Genevieve (Collins) McAndrew of Houston, Texas. They visited Clifford and Leona (Spence) Mansfield in Indio, Calif. and Bruce and Erma (Spence) Goulder at West Salten Sea on a date and citrus fruit ranch.

This was quite a reunion of these girls as they are all former Maconites and belonged to the Macon Methodist Church and attended Mills school.

On the way back Lionel and Ethel (Bishop) Vickers were visited in Phoenix and Nelma Beerman in Sun City. On her return trip to Michigan, Jennie enjoyed all the different stages of spring in evidence along the way. In a few weeks she plans to attend the first Michigan state campout of L.O.W.

The Macon Blue Bird group led by Sharon Mohr and Donna Oliver toured the Atlas Feed Mill last Monday afternoon after its meeting. New member, Lena Fletcher, was welcomed.

The Macon Methodist Church youth group reminds people in the area that its paper drive is coming up in May. Anyone having papers they would like to get rid of before then, can call Swanston's, 423-3675 and they will be picked up.

Inform Group on Solar Energy

CLINTON — At a special open meeting of Clinton Woman's Club last Wednesday evening, Vernon Fry gave an informative talk on solar energy.

Fry is president of Mechanical Inc., Adrian, which specializes in design and installation of commercial and industrial mechanical systems.

Speaking of the atomic reactions of the sun, Fry explained that 19 percent is used for warm air and moisture; 34 percent is reflected and the other 47 percent reaches the earth surface.

Of that last amount, 23 percent is diffused in clouds and particles so that actually only 24 percent reaches the earth's surface directly.

So far, we are able to collect energy needs from the sun for heating homes and hot water at a tremendous expense at this time.

He illustrated, by displaying a collector panel, one of 1,000 ways to collect solar heat.

Perhaps in three years, there may be breakthrough in solar energy use, which would reduce its cost.

At the meeting conducted by Mrs. James Chellman, the recipient of the annual high school scholarship award was chosen and will be announced at graduation time.

A sum of $10 was voted for the Mable Mellon benefit fund.

Mrs. Harlin Fraumann announced the spring luncheon will be held May 24 at Michigan Union, Ann Arbor.

Club's annual thrift shop sale will be held in the yard at the home of Mrs. Roy Bower, W. Franklin St.

Mrs. Alwin Wahl's committee of Mrs. Roy Richard and Mrs. Russell Cooper served refreshments.

Next meeting is May 1 at 1 p.m. in Smith-Kimball Community Center.

Band Calendars May Be Ordered

Band students will take orders. Solicitors will be at the State Savings Bank, April 21, 28 and May 5 to take prepaid orders.

Delivery of the calendars will be in late August or early September.

Calendar project funds will be used for the purchase and maintenance of band uniforms, for band camp in August, and for music scholarships.

At the May 18 Band Boosters potluck dinner there will be a concert by all the school bands. Dinner will be at 6:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Those attending are to bring a dish to pass and table service.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

This first recipe is great for spring and summer entertaining. Something low caloried is sometimes preferred to rich desserts, especially when everyone is working to get into shape for summer.

VEGETABLE DIP

1 cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 tablespoon chopped chives
⅛ teaspoon curry powder (optional)
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup sour cream

Mix all ingredients together, folding in sour cream last. Serve with a variety of fresh vegetables such as celery sticks, carrot sticks, cauliflower, etc.

Oatmeal cake is one of our favorites and one I think you will enjoy.

OATMEAL CAKE

1½ cup boiling water
1 cup quick oats
1 stick butter or margarine
1½ cup flour
1 cup white sugar
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs

TOPPING

1 cup brown sugar
½ cup butter
¼ cup milk
1 cup coconut
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine quick oats and boiling water in bowl and let stand for 20 minutes. Cream butter and sugars together. Add eggs and mix well. Add flour, soda cinnamon and salt. Add oatmeal mixture last. Pour into greased 9 x 13 inch pan and bake 35-40 minutes at 350 degrees.

Melt butter for topping in pan over low heat. Add brown sugar, coconut, milk and vanilla. Stir well. Pour over hot baked cake and place under broiler until it begins to bubble. Delicious!!

Land Loss Is Topic

The United States' annual loss of five million acres of rural land to non-agricultural use is a special concern during this year's celebration of Soil Stewardship Week April 30-May 7, Melvin Thompson, chairman of the Lenawee Soil Conservation District announced.

This year's Soil Stewardship Week theme "Compelling Ventures," also stresses the importance of controlling water pollution caused by run-off from unprotected farms, eroding ditch banks, roadsides, and construction sites.

Soil Stewardship Week is a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's responsibility to protect and conserve soil, water, and other natural resources. Traditionally, churches and local citizen's groups participate.

For more information about Soil Stewardship Week call Kit Kuschell, district office, 265-5887.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

On the 27th day of March, 1978, a meeting was held at the Zapata Center to discuss various problems existing at Tecumseh Junior High School.

At this meeting, there were distributed minutes which contained the allegation that a certain teacher was gay. This allegation was totally untrue and was an unforgiveable error involving an innocent person.

While the Zapata Center has in the past and will continue to vigorously represent the rights of it's clients, this does not justify the remarks made about the teacher and we at the Zapata Center deeply regret them.

We at the Zapata Center are aware of the serious hurt, anguish, and emotional stress suffered by this teacher, and we offer our sincere apologies and regrets for the unfortunate incident.

Sincerely,
Tom Flores

Re: Your column in the issue of April 13, page 14, "Historic Home Sold" and this below the picture of this Greek Revival style house. (Beautiful!)

Very well done — a fine descriptive story of this show place for 130 years or more in Lenawee County.

Would there possibly be a floor plan in the possession of the John Banks? If so, could it be duplicated in a copy machine so that we could purchase an authentic copy — A floor plan creates still another dimension to add to our learning of beautiful things.

More of these houses, that have what is called, "Formal Balance" should have been built in the past and there are resources, too, to refer it to: The Michigan upright and two wings.

The second wing overlaps both the upright and the first wing. This is poor roof line and this creates valleys in the roof line that have been notorious for the roof leaks every year of its existence.

In the Banks house the only flashing is where the two wings join the upright, which is more easy to control as it is not a valley.

Now who am I? Yes, I know Lenawee County quite well as I was Lenawee County Agricultural Agent and director from April 6, 1936 to June 30, 1960, 24 years, with offices then in the courthouse, Adrian.

In that period of time, Henry Ford I ruled probably 9,000 acres in the northeast corner of the county and no one could approach that home for an inspection. So I never saw the interior and its beauty, or even a walk around the place.

Mr. Mills Swick of Macon Township, Tecumseh RFD No.2, is the man who has sent me The Tecumseh Herald every week since we returned to the "old house" area of Van Buren Co. for us both — Decatur and Paw Paw were our hometowns. He can tell you about us.

Thank you for a fine column and picture of this much admired house and we are,

Sincerely,

To the Editor:

After two weeks of pondering this issue I still feel so strongly about it I must make my feelings known to see if others have similar thoughts.

I think it would be great to have a senior citizens complex in our city. It has been talked about for a long time. But isn't there some land available on the north side that would be more accommodating and convenient for our senior citizens?

At one time it was mentioned erecting it in the 100 block of Herrick Park Drive where the empty Top Hat building stands. The reasons given were: easy access to a doctor, bank, grocery store, churches (3 within walking distance), and beauty shop. There is also a large laundry mat, if facilities are not included in the senior citizens building.

Two buildings in that immediate area stand idle, one of which could possibly make a drug store branch. There is more commercial land for any other needed facilities. The Memorial Park and High School are within a reasonable distance.

The area seems so ideal why would the Planning Commission consider property off of Adrian Street! There are many businesses in the west end of town, but with no sidewalks and very heavy traffic (and no traffic lights), walking would be very hazardous, if not suicidal.

The only thing near by would be the Tecumseh Park, which does have a few picnic tables, but is certainly more orientated for the younger people of the area.

Now it is announced that a new Masonic Temple is to be built. The main reason given is so it can "provide easier access for older persons—". But it is to be erected on the north side of town!

Has any one taken a poll of the senior citizens to voice their feelings and suggestions of where they would like to live and what services they use the most?

FACT Report Updated for Council's Review

By Kathy Brown

To serve as a working outline, the Tecumseh Civic Center Study Committee released last week an update of the 1960 report of the Foundation Advisory Committee of Tecumseh (FACT).

Report will be submitted to Tecumseh Council at its next meeting, Monday, May 1 at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

The FACT committee was appointed by the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, Inc. in Feb. 1960 to poll the community on desirable civic projects that the Foundation might undertake.

As a result of extensive public opinion survey, FACT committee compiled a list of seven projects: a community auditorium, library, swimming facilities, recreation program, teen club, park facilities and ice rink.

Taking its mandate from the 1976 Town Meeting goal, the present 14-members Civic Facility Study Committee was formed with William Frownfelder as chairman.

Committee met periodically since January 1978 and at its March 30 meeting realized that its activities paralleled those of the FACT committee.

Thus the FACT report was updated to serve as a working outline for the Civic Facility Study Committee.

A new civic center and new indoor swimming pool will be the study goal of the new committee.

To this end, the committee visited Sturgis' civic center, visited and studied 18 years ago by the FACT committee.

New committee believes civic center would contain a theater to seat 700 persons, a teen center, lounge, a dining room with limited kitchen facilities and practice rooms.

Frownfelder said that a feasibility study will be conducted. As part of the fund raising effort for study costs, proceeds from the 1978 Al Meyers Airport Dawn Patrol, July 2 will be shared by the Tecumseh Civic Facility Study Committee (TCFSC).

In its update, TCFSC stated a library, recreation program, swimming facilities, teen club and community center were established. However, according to the update, it appears that with the exception of the library and recreation program, the other community facilities could still be improved.

Here is a summary of the updated FACT report:

Community Center-Auditorium — Present community center, 701 E. Chicago Blvd., was donated to city in 1961. Meeting room is used regularly by senior citizens and others. Community has outgrown the small theater. Teen club is located there.

Library — Built at N. Ottawa and Shawnee Sts. in 1962, it was financed by the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, contains 34,000 volumes, operates under the Tecumseh School district.

Swimming Facilities — Tecumseh Park Pit was purchased in 1965 by Community Fund Foundation and city with Bureau of Recreation and state recreation bonds as recommended by FACT.

Recreation Program — City established a Parks and Recreation Board, has a full-time director with a program for all ages. Plan to year 2000 was recently approved.

City has 257.6 acres of recreational land, including 80 acres in Franklin Township, six tennis courts, water for boating and fishing.

Park appropriations have increased almost 40 percent in the past several years and average over $100,000 annually.

Five-year, short range plan shows $83,600 for development of Satterthwaite Park, notably tennis courts in 1977; $625,000 for swimming pool maintenance in 1978 and 1979; $10,000 for 1980 development of Shady Lane Park and $30,000 for further development of Satterthwaite Park in 1981.

Teen Club — No new place for teen activities has been provided except for the 1977 summer dances at the high school and Community Center teen club. Summer dances were sponsored by A Place For Teens Committee, a subcommittee of Tecumseh Area Town Meeting Organization, with funds granted by the Community Fund Foundation.

Updated report did not mention the Joyce Andrews Memorial Pool, located at the high school athletic field area, built in the early 1950's before the FACT report.

However some city officials have talked about need to improve that facility. 1978-79 budget does not include improvements for it beyond normal maintenance, stated City manager Cal Zorn.

Two Bands in Concert Friday Night

Tecumseh High School annual spring concert will be at the high school gym Friday, April 28 at 8 p.m.

The junior varsity and varsity bands will be conducted by Jimmie Rice. Donations will be accepted.

One of the junior varsity band selections will be "Theme from Exodus." Varsity Band will perform "Star Wars."

Tecumseh Herald subscriptions will be sold at the concert.

10th Sale Nets Club $1,500 Profit

Tecumseh Kiwanis Club reported net profits of $1,500 on its 10th annual Used Merchandise Sale held last weekend at the Bidwell building.

Proceeds will be used for community projects by Kiwanis. Spokesman Ed Walters said the entire community is thanked for its support. Last two years were most successful, he said. Despite bad weather, contributions of merchandise were still good as were sales.

Residential Clean-up Starts May 1

Annual spring clean-up starts next Monday for Tecumseh residents.

Leaves, garden clippings and items too large for trash bags must be placed next to the curb for city trucks. Clippings and similar debris must be in containers.

City trucks will collect the refuse from May 1 to May 15, city manager Cal Zorn reports.

Free Clinics Are Planned at Hospital

Three free clinics are being planned for National Hospital Week, May 7-13, at Tecumseh's Herrick Memorial Hospital in conjunction with hospital staff and members of the hospital auxiliary.

Dates are May 10, 1-4:30 p.m. and May 11, 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Herrick Hospital nurses will run three free clinics simultaneously for blood pressure check, Cardiac Pulmonary Resuscitation demonstrations and a breast examination film.

Auxiliary will conduct hall tours of hospital and serve refreshments in the main entrance.

Auxiliary co-chairpersons are Melva Schleicher and Dorothy Young.

"Theme for this year's National Hospital Week is "We Wish You Well" and a "Wishing Well" suggestion box will be available to receive any viable suggestions from the public or employees which the hospital might implement.

Mayor Aden Mead proclaimed May 7-13 as Hospital Week in Tecumseh.

2 Meetings for Sewer Financing

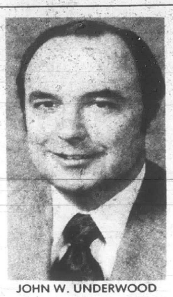
BRITTON — A public information and discussion meeting will be held in the Ridgeway Township fire station, village of Britton on Monday, May 8 at 7:30 p.m. concerning the planned sewer system financing alternatives.

County drain commissioner, Donald E. Mitchell, consulting engineers, financial consultant and village officials will explain the project and financing proposals to interested citizens of Britton at the time.

A similar public information and discussion meeting will be held at the same location the following day, May 9 at 7:30 p.m. concerning the same project as it affects interested citizens of Ridgeway Township.

Reason for the separate meetings is to avoid confusion among affected people of Britton and Ridgeway Township because the customer charge methods will be somewhat different for each municipality.

This is not a statuatory public hearing required by law. That will be held later, announced drain commissioner Mitchell.



JOHN W. UNDERWOOD

Underwood Announces Candidacy

Well-known Lenawee County businessman John W. Underwood, 47, of Tecumseh, announced today that he will seek the Democratic nomination for the 40th District, State House of Representatives.

Underwood said that he believes people want to elect a person who has a solid record of achievement, one who knows how to run a business, and one who doesn't have to compromise himself to be elected. He said that he will run an aggressive, positive campaign, talking honestly about what can be accomplished rather than making wild promises which nobody could keep.

"I will address problems in school finance, the business climate, jobs, taxes, government regulation, and welfare reform during the next six months. I will listen to people and develop constructive, workable ideas for changes and improvements rather than fancy one-man schemes which might sound good but which are neither realistic nor responsible."

He said that no matter how good or decent a candidate the Official Says Rate Increase Best Method

By Paul Preston
Assistant City Manager

Tecumseh City Council has been presented an ordinance which would increase the existing water and sewer rates approximately 30%. We feel it is important that the citizens of Tecumseh be advised of the reasons behind the recommended increase.

In order to understand the reason for and recommended amount of the increase, it is important to look at the income and expenses of the water and sewer department over the period 1973 to the present.

A few definitions are in order: Income is money derived from sale of water and other miscellaneous charges; operating expenses cover such things as salaries, supplies and utility charges; bond payment covers the cost of capital expenditures that must be paid over a period of time.

1973-74	260,244	218,058	37,361	255,419	4,824
1974-75	246,513	230,696	37,741	268,437	(21,294)
1975-76	226,087	235,965	34,782	270,747	(44,660)
1977-78 (est)	309,100 (75,000 of other funds)	281,927	27,200	309,127	(27)

When looking at the last two years 1977 and 1978, the figures are somewhat misleading. For example, in 1977 it appears that the water department lost only $19,000, when in reality it lost closer to $73,000, because we had to use other funds in the budget to cover the deficit. This is also true for 1978, in fact, the subsidy figure had to be increased to $75,000. It is estimated that the deficit for 78-79 would approach nearly $100,000.00.

One of the major reasons for the large increase in operating expenses is the sharp increase in utility charges for the operating of the wells and sewage treatment plant.

City government is no different than private business, income must be sufficient to cover expenses. The question then in this case is what is the best way to raise the income necessary to cover the expenses.

There are essentially three methods:

1). Raise the water & sewer rates.
2). Increase the millage.
3). Transfer money from some other item in the budget to the water and sewer department.

The second method, increasing the millage unfortunately has no direct relation to the amount of water used by a family or business, so those paying high property taxes with low water usage pay a disproportionate share for water. The third method is in a sense robbing Peter to pay Paul. We are reducing some other service, a service that does not produce it's own revenue to cover expenses for a service that could and should be paying it's own way.

The first method appears to be the best and the most equitable way of increasing revenue. Everyone pays for exactly what they use, those with high water usage pay a higher water bill and those who use very little water pay a smaller bill.

When trying to determine the amount of the increase we first looked at the amount of the deficit. We also did a comparison study of water rates in surrounding communities. A number of different increases were computed, in order to balance income with expense a fifty percent increase would have been required. We felt this was too high so a 30% increase was recommended.

This increase will not cover all of the deficit but will go a long way in achieving parity between income and expenses. We will still need to subsidize the department to the tune of nearly $15,000 in 1978-79.

What does a 30% increase mean to the average homeowner? Based on a average quarterly usage of 20,000 gallons, the present bill would be $17.00. Under the new rate the bill would be $22.20 or 7.40 per month.

It is important to note that even with the proposed increase, our water rates are lower than a majority of the communities in the surrounding

GOING, GOING, GONE — City's street department slowly but surely demolished the former Maurice Tuckey home on N. Ottawa St. this week. Clearance will enable the city to enlarge its northeast downtown parking lot this summer. Herald photographer, Cortland Hunt, caught this chimney in action before it crumbled away. Officials hope to have the site cleaned up by this weekend.

John Underwood Seeks State Post

Republicans nominate this year, it will take a Democrat to go to Lansing to work with the large Democratic majority in the House of Representatives in order to begin accomplishing things for this district.

Mr. Underwood, the son of George V. and Helen Underwood of Clinton, is a 1949 graduate of Tecumseh High School and served in the United States Air Force during the Korean era. He returned to Lenawee County in 1957, when he was appointed to the Chevrolet franchise in Clinton, which he still maintains as owner and president.

That franchise, Underwood Chevrolet-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Inc., has grown to be the largest volume dealership in Lenawee County.

He is also the president and treasurer of Cheever Pontiac, Cadillac, GMC, Inc., in Hillsdale, Michigan.

Mr. Underwood is a member of the National Automobile Dealers Association, Michigan Automobile Dealers Association, Underwood-Orr American Legion Post, Hall-Slater VFW Post, and the Lenawee County Democratic Committee.

He is married to the former Gloria J. Noe of Adrian. They have two children, Mary Beth, 18, and Louis, 16, and attend St. Elizabeth's Church in Tecumseh.

Robert J. Baker, of Adrian, will serve as campaign chairperson, and Patricia Tressler, of Tecumseh, will be treasurer.

Water Rates

area. A comparison of different cities follows:

CITY	AMOUNT
Saline	$33.00
Clinton	22.00
Hudson	35.23
Adrian	33.99
Hillsdale	19.15
Tecumseh (old rate)	17.00
Tecumseh (new rate)	22.20

(Based on average consumption of 20,000 gallons quarterly for single family residential. Figures include both sewer and water.)

In addition to the increased water rates certain other charges are also being increased. At the present time if someone does not pay their bill within a specified time period, the water service is cut off. If they want it back on they must pay the full bill plus a $4.00 turn on fee. We have found that it costs considerably more than that in staff time to turn a service off and on so we are recommending an increase to $15.00 during normal working hours and $25.00 for after normal work hours, and on weekends.

For example, on Thursday, we turn off a service for non-payment of bill, the user then comes in late Friday afternoon to pay the bill. If the turn-on requires overtime work after hours or on the weekend the turn-on fee would be $25.00.

Water deposits will also be increased from $15.00 to $25.00 within the city limits and from $25.00 to $50.00 outside the city limits. The other charge we are recommending is a service fee of $10.00 to be charged for all non-emergency work that is not a city responsibility.

The water department presently is getting a number of calls, especially after hours and on weekends, for items that are not the city's responsibility.

No one likes to raise rates, however, it is important that we do so that we can continue to provide a high level of service to the citizens of Tecumseh.

What documents will my family need at the time of my death?

One of the most frustrating responsibilities of a spouse or family, at the time of death, can be that of locating important papers and documents. A current and updated listing of these papers can, indeed, be a benefit to survivors.

This is a difficult activity for anyone to do because no one really wants to anticipate death or even prepare for it. On the other hand, you would be doing a real service to your family if you follow through on this. Make a list of your documents, indicating where each is.

The type of such papers and documents, along with location, might include: 1) your will, 2) Social Security papers, veteran's records, 3) cemetery deed, 4) insurance policies, 5) such certificates as birth, marriage, organization and/or union membership, educational, military, 6) bank accounts and safety deposit boxes, 7) financial papers such as montgages, contracts, promissory notes, negotiable papers, stocks, bonds, trust funds, 8) all recent tax returns or W2 forms.

Sometimes this information turns up information about assets either forgotten about or not known of by the survivors.

Hyde - Spalding Nuptial Vows

Debra Ann Hyde and Phillip Paul Spalding were married April 8, 6:30 p.m. at the Church of Jesus Christ Latter-Day Saints, Adrian.

President Dwain Chapman officiated the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hyde, 506 Center Dr. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spalding, 3636 Westgate Place.

Cheryl Houghtby was organist and Elizabeth Rose, the bride's sister, was soloist.

Candles lined the aisle and a unity candle was lit after the couple's vows. Bouquets of snapdragons and yellow carnations decorated the altar.

The bride sewed her white satinique and organdy gown with puff sleeves, fitted bodice, A-line skirt and chapel train. It was trimmed with Venice lace. Her fingertip veil was edged with matching lace.

She wore a diamond necklace and earrings, a gift from the groom and carried yellow roses, white carnations and baby's breath.

Robin Hyde of Woodbridge, Va. was her sister's maid of honor wearing a pale yellow polyester gown with peach flowers. She wore a halo of baby's breath in her hair and carried peach roses, white carnations, peach mums and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Judith and Beverly Hyde, the bride's sisters of Tecumseh and Petra Spalding, the groom's niece of Chelsea.

Donald H. Parsons of Beaver, Penn. was the best man.

Guy Spalding, the groom's brother, of Chelsea, Steven A. Young of Ida, and Brian E. Dodd of Adrian were ushers.

Stacey Dodd of Adrian was the flower girl and Bobby Hyde, the bride's brother, was ring bearer.

Reception was held at the church for 250 guests.

Bride's aunt, Carol Saunders of Adrian, made the cake. She and another aunt, Elaine Kemner cut the cake. Joan Walz, the bride's aunt, served ice cream. Laurie Kemner, the bride's cousin, passed the guest book.

The new Mrs. Spalding is a 1973 Tecumseh graduate and employed as a salesclerk at JC Penney. Mr. Spalding is an Adrian College graduate and is employed as a department manager at Sears.

The couple resides at 514 Seminole.

His parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at Rock Inn, Adrian.

Expect Higher Bills

Consumers Power Company officials have issued an alert to electric customers to expect higher bills in May and June as a result of the nationwide coal strike earlier this year.

The company recently requested that the Michigan Public Service Commission allow it to recover the full increase in fuel and purchased power costs rather than only 90 percent as a result of the coal strike. If that is approved by the Commission, it would cost the residential customer another 10 cents in May. The effect of this on June bills has not yet been determined.

The coal contract that union miners finally approved will result in slight increases in the fuel cost factor on customers' bills starting this summer as Consumers Power begins to pass on the increased cost of union-mined coal.

The engagement of Lauri Ann Righter to Stephen Spencer Moore is announced by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Righter, 5998 Rogers Hwy. She is a 1975 Tecumseh graduate, attended Central Michigan University and is employed as a receptionist/switchboard operator for Ford Motor Co., Milan. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Moore, 5914 Rogers Hwy., a 1972 Tecumseh graduate, has a bachelor of science in biology from Albion College and is employed at Pallox, Inc., Clinton. He will begin graduate studies in toxicology at the University of Michigan. An Oct. 14 wedding at the First Baptist Church is planned.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Pamela Marie Jones to Donald Edward Belcher is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Jones of Searcy, Ark. She is a 1976 Harding College graduate, Searcy, Ark. and currently teaches school in Corpus Christi, Texas. His parents are Mrs. Audrey Snyr and Curtis Belcher, both of Tecumseh. Temple Should Have Unanimous Support

Many of us were taken back a bit last week when some opposition against a new Masonic Temple was revealed at city hall. Two councilmen and some residents made known their positions.

We disagree with their positions, and the action taken by the Planning Commission in recommending that the zoning not be changed for the temple.

This writer is a Mason, although not active here, and is a member of the Lodge and Chapter. One could accuse him of prejudice in defending the Masons and their plans for a new temple.

The Masons here have been given $500,000 and a plot of ground just east and north of the United Methodist Church, just off Bishop Reed Drive. Both contributions are commendable and generous, to say the least.

Masonic Lodge is one of the oldest and finest organizations any where. Presidents and statesmen, past and present, have been members. It is not a club, in one sense, nor is it a group interested in dance halls, roller skating rinks, and other noisy situations.

Masons are religious oriented and their meetings certainly would not be detrimental to the neighborhood. We doubt that other functions, which could be held there, would be distractful to residents.

We have heard no complaints from the Methodist Church, and doubt that we will. Not all Brown St. residents object to the proposed temple, and most of the arguments against its construction are questionable or negligible.

The Masonic Temple could be community asset, such as our churches. It is almost beyond comprehension that any opposition exists, and it is our hope that Council will unanimously back the temple's construction and change the zoning accordingly.

If the area were economically adaptable for fine residential development, we might have second thoughts. Past tests and records show that such development would be costly.

We favor building the temple and changing the zoning for compliance. We would also favor a suggestion that some thought be given to a senior housing complex in the area, a development that could be developed possibly without such high costs that would be necessary for residences.

Monday night, Council will hold its second reading to change the zoning for the temple. On May 15th, same city officials will conduct a public hearing and the third and final reading.

One hundred percent support is warranted.

Two Vehicles Stolen

Tecumseh police investigated two stolen vehicle complaints this week. One of the autos was recovered the same day.

Last Wednesday, Bonnie Carlisle of Clinton reported her auto missing around 3 p.m. The auto was parked behind the Cake Shoppe. Police recovered the auto at 7 p.m. the same day.

Edward Schwartz of 500 Seminole also reported a stolen auto this week. The Schwartz vehicle was parked at the north side of Trickey's Tuesday when taken. The Oldsmobile was not recovered at press time.

A resume of other complaints is:

April 21 - Eric Aebersold of Dania, Florida was arrested for having open intoxicants after police initially stopped him on Chicago for having one headlight out.

April 22 - Lester Randolph, 301 Adrian St., reported window damage to his home. A BB gun and lead ball were used to break two windows.

April 23 - Cindy Wilson of Britton was arrested by police on open intoxicant charges. Police stopped her after following her around the business district and school, traveling five to 10 m.p.h.

Also on Sunday, Roland W. Hartsel of Toledo, Ohio reported window damage while driving on M-50. An eastbound auto apparently threw a stone into the Hartsel windshield.

Police arrested Donaldson L. Lambert of Toledo, Ohio Sunday on DUIL charges (driving under the influence). Police arrested Lambert when they found him driving without headlights.

April 24 - Joseph E. Hendershot of 111 N. Pearl was arrested on DUIL charges after police saw him exit the city's southwest alley and stop in the middle of S. Evans. Hendershot reportedly then stopped in the middle of the Pearl and Pottawatamie intersection before police pulled him over.

Also on Monday, Clarence D. Champanois, 403 Outer Dr., reported his CB stolen from his car while parked at the Airport Bowl. Estimated loss was set at $160.

April 26 - Hector R. Sanchez of 217 Herrick Park was arrested by police on charges of having open intoxicants and driving with a suspended license. Police stopped him in the city's southwest parking lot.

Daniel D. Barron of Britton was arrested by police Wednesday on a bench warrant. The city of Monroe wanted Barron for failing to appear.

Accidents Increase, but None Serious

The number of traffic accidents in Tecumseh increased to nine this week. None of them were serious. A resume follows:

April 21 — Earl J. Burrow, 23, of 406 Adrian St., stopped to turn right from Chicago onto Evans when a second auto struck his in the rear. Brenda L. Warner, 33, of Toledo, Ohio was driving the second auto.

Also on Friday, Roy H. Blaser, 39, of 603 Russell turned into a private drive on Chicago when Clarence C. Kohler, 85, of Onsted backed from along the curb and the two collided.

April 22 — Doris V. Morse, 51, of 134 Brown and Anthony R. Rebottaro, 17, of 5337 Centennial collided in the intersection of Union and Chicago Sts. Both drivers claimed they had the green light.

Ruth E. Swaney, 55, of 202 N. Wyandotte told police she slowed to make a right turn from W. Chicago when a second auto struck hers in the rear. William T. Every, 40, of Tipton could not stop in time to avoid the incident.

According to police reports, Harold Eberle, 3520 Gady Rd., and Mary K. Shiels, 18, of 515 E. Pottawatamie, collided at the stop sign on Logan. Eberle backed into the Shiels auto at Evans St. intersection.

April 24 — William R. Temple, 19, of Adrian was cited for improper lane usage when he started to make a U-turn on W. Chicago and struck a passing auto. Judy A. Williams, 21, of 409 Adrian St. was driving the second auto.

Edward G. Long, 32, of 307 Adrian St., told police he was answering a fire call when he passed Joseph E. Hendershot, 54, of 111 N. Pearl. Hendershot pulled ahead as the light changed and the two collided.

Police cited Thomas W. Shelton, 19, of Tipton for improper passing on the shoulder when he collided with Thomas C. Desmet, 29, of Ann Arbor. Desmet was making a right turn when they hit.

Salvage Sale Set

A sale of the salvaged period woodwork and glass from the former Tuckey property, 117 N. Ottawa will be held April 29, 9 a.m. to noon at the city garage behind the hospital.

Special tag sale will offer reasonable prices. Profits will be used by the Tecumseh Area Historical Society for a community project. Salvage materials will be sold to restorationists in need of these items.

For the past week the pounding of hammers and squeals of old nails resisting efforts to pry them out could be heard emanating from the Tuckey property.

Over a period of several cold, rainy days, historical society members Michele Worley, Don Smith, Pat Lamb, Francis Moros, Larry Beardslee and Betty Kline removed the intricate moldings, arched and rectangular windows with wavy glass and paneled—vestiges of a time when ornamentation and attention to detail rather than sleekness and simplicity were vogue.

Society Hosts 'Will' Talk

St. Elizabeth's Altar Society invites all interested women to a talk on wills by Natalia Koselka, lawyer from Adrian, at 8 p.m. on May 10 in the school gym.

Regular business meeting of the society will follow the talk and refreshments.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

May 7-13 is National Hospital Week. That might not be a holiday you ordinarily celebrate — unless you happen to work in a hospital. But maybe it's a holiday you should think about observing this year.

Like most designated "weeks" or "days", NHW reminds of something we often take for granted; in this case, the presence of our local hospital. But National Hospital Week can serve as a different kind of reminder, too.

It can remind us that our health isn't something to be taken for granted. Our bodies can't be expected to survive whatever we choose to do to them. Smoking, overeating, exercising too little, ignoring key warning symptoms, and not following our doctor's advice will all catch up with us eventually.

Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary raises money to assist our hospital through Memorial Funds (Heart, General Equipment, Nursing Home and Landscaping), television rental to patients, hospital gift shop, notion cart sales, card tournament, March salad luncheon and December holiday ball. Our volunteers will be recognized at our annual luncheon meeting this May 9.

Total annual hours reported by Auxiliary members average 11,000 hours. Many volunteers are remiss in reporting hours, therefore, the total is even higher.

The Auxiliary has arranged special activities on Wednesday afternoon, May 10, from 1 to 4:30 p.m. Thursday evening, May 11, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Herrick Memorial Hospital nurses will continually run three free clinics for blood pressure check, Cardiac Pulmonary Resuscitation demonstration and a breast examination film.

Also, Auxiliary hostesses will conduct hall tours for the hospital and tea will be served in the main entrance waiting room.

Theme for this year's National Hospital Week is "We Wish You Well" and a "Wishing Well" suggestion box will be available to receive any viable suggestions from the public or employees which the hospital might implement.

Auxiliary members Melva Schleicher and Dorothy Young are co-chairpersons for the events and they hope people from the Tecumseh area will participate in the activities.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Betty L. Thompson
President - Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary

To the Editor:

It has been over twenty years since we have lived in Tecumseh but we still enjoy reading the Herald every week, especially Through My Window by Marda Gene Duncan.

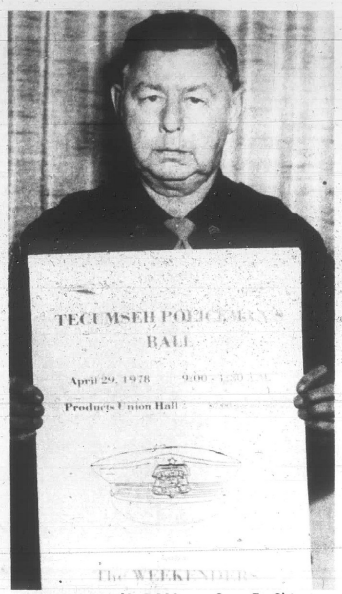
Our family has enjoyed the results of several recipes from Shirley Weekley's column but I have one suggestion.

If "You are what you eat" is a true statement, and I believe it is, I would like to see more recipes featured using a lot less sugar and more natural foods.

Recipes in many of the columns use 1½ to 2 cups of sugar. American people would be a great deal better off substituting honey for sugar in lots of recipes and using unbleached or whole wheat flour and wheat germ instead of bleached flour.

I hope that Shirley will print the two recipes I've enclosed sometime and that your readers will try them.

Sincerely,
Faith Hayden
No. Caldwell, N.J.



POLICEMAN'S BALL — Sgt. E. Skinner holds the poster that can be seen throughout the area advertising the 17th Annual Ball set for this Saturday. Tickets for the dance, to begin at 9 p.m. at the Union Hall, are available at the door or from officers. Proceeds go to area recreation and needy organizations.

Deaf Program Improving

Educational efforts for the county's hearing impaired youngsters has taken a step forward with the completion of a classroom reserved for the deaf at Tecumseh High School and the establishment of a parent's group.

Work on the classroom addition began last June. Hearing impaired instructor Diann McLaurin moved into the room on Feb. 24. She is in her second year as instructor.

For several years, deaf students shared a classroom with orthopedic students and it became obvious that deaf pupils needed a room of their own.

Another improvement in the County's program for the hearing impaired is the establishment by teaching and administrative staff of a parent's group which has met twice this year.

McLaurin states that the purpose of the group is three-fold. It is hoped that the group will build a team feeling between parents and teachers to complement each other's work with the deaf youngster. Also, speakers and presentations are made to benefit the deaf and their parents. Finally, the group allows parents to support each other.

For example, at the group's last meeting, held two weeks ago, parents listened to Charles Cosper, a teacher-consultant for the hearing impaired at the junior high level in Berrien Springs County. The county program there is similar to Lenawee's.

Cosper is, himself, deaf, and related to the parents his experiences growing up in a world he could not hear.

The emphasis is on personalized education in the hearing impaired program with McLaurin working with three students this year. The three participate with other students in non-academic areas such as physical education, shop or home economics. They also attend Lenawee Vo-Tech.

McLaurin stresses that the main focus of the program is on language. "When I'm teaching social studies or math I'm really teaching language. The deaf suffer from a lot of language gaps."

And its difficult for those with normal hearing to understand the challenges faced by the deaf. McLaurin states that the hearing impaired have particular trouble with idiomatic expressions such as "Why don't you stick around," or "You're a big man around here."

A deaf person takes such sayings literally and consequently can make no sense out of them in the context in which they are used. "The average person who hears takes language for granted because it always been functional for him."

And one of the main goals of Tecumseh's program for hearing impaired is to give youngsters functional language.

Tories Crush Dundee 13-3 with Just 3 Hits

It didn't take a lot of Britton hits to beat Madison 13-3 Monday in softball action.

Madison seemed determined to defeat itself committing six very costly errors and walking 11 runners. The game was called after five innings due to the ten-run rule.

The Tories only had three hits in the game but committed only one error. Madison actually out-hit Britton coming up with four hits but committing those six errors.

Lisa Campbell took the win on the mound for Britton striking out two and walking five. Genene Bruce relieved her at the start of the fourth inning.

Pam Dusseau, Pat Armstrong and Karen Wielfaert each had a single for Britton.

The Tories are now 3-1 overall, 2-1 in the Tri-County League. They traveled to Deerfield Wednesday. On Thursday, they travel to Dundee and to Summerfield next Tuesday.

Indians Wallop Chiefs

Indian pitching overwhelmed a hapless New Boston Huron team Monday. Tecumseh walloped the Chiefs 13-2 with Jean Egbert and LuAnn Harvey allowing only one Huron hit.

A contest with Flat Rock, scheduled for last Friday, was postponed until May 8.

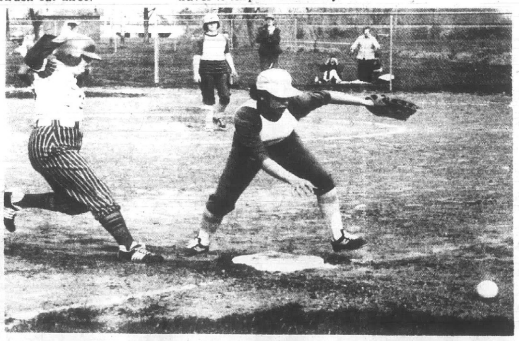
Egbert started things out pitching the first four innings for Tecumseh. She gave up the only hit, walked eight and struck out three.

Harvey preserved the win relieving Egbert for the last three innings allowing no hits or runs. She walked one and struck out two.

Kelly and Kathy Kruger each had two hits for the Indian cause.

The orange and black are now 3-1 overall, 2-1 in the Huron League.

The squad traveled to St. Mary's on Wednesday. They travel to Airport this Friday.



Bowling League Planned

There are still openings for a mixed doubles bowling league being planned for this summer.

The league would play at Airport Bowl on Thursdays at 7 p.m. starting May 4 and running 10 weeks until July 6.

For more information call 456-7769.

Sports Skeds Confused

It goes without saying that the weather has played havoc with area sports schedules.

Tecumseh's varsity baseball squad, in fact, was unable to get a game in this week.

A match with New Boston Huron scheduled for last Wednesday, then changed to Monday will now be played May 4 at Huron.

On Friday, the Indians were due to go to Flat Rock but that was postponed until May 8 as was Tecumseh's softball game with Flat Rock. The girls will host the Rams.

A Tecumseh girls and boys track meet at Monroe Jefferson was postponed to May 1 as was a Clinton baseball game against Blissfield.

Clinton's baseball game with Britton will be made up May 24 while Clinton's softballers will travel to Britton on May 25.

Hudson Beats Skins

Clinton's girls softball team gave Hudson more of a battle Monday afternoon than the 16-5 final tally would indicate.

Hudson out-hit the Redskins by just one, 11-10 and committed just one less error, 4-5.

But Clinton coach Mike Howe said, "We got people on the bases but couldn't go anywhere."

Hitting leaders for the Skins were Karen Busch, two of four and Dawn Stinedurf, two of three.

Sue Richter took the loss on the mound, striking out seven and walking five. Nine Clinton players were left stranded on base however. Cathy Gibson relieved Richter in the fifth inning.

The Redskins are now 1-2 overall, 1-1 in the LCAA. They traveled to Onsted on Wednesday hosting Manchester this Friday.

Win 2 Meets

Clinton's girl track squad picked up two victories beating conference foe Morenci 70-66 last Thursday and non-league opponent Whiteford 74-62 on Tuesday of this week.

Against Whiteford, Lisa Cark was a triple winner for the Redskins winning the discus and shot put and tying for the top spot in the high jump.

The Skins are now 2-0 in the league, 3-2 overaal. They travel to Blissfield, also undefeated in the league. On Saturday, they will participate in the Grass Lake Invitational hosting Summerfield next Monday.

Tecumseh won the distance relay event with a time of 14:10. The team was Donna Bohannon, Bonnie Birchfield, Karen Egli and Janelle Mumme.

Finishing in the second spot were the mile relay team of Birchfield, Smoke, Tomecek and Duhan with a 4:22.53 clocking. The 880 relay team of Bishop, Sprague, McDonald and Duhan was also second at 1:58.7.

The Indian shuttle hurdle relay team finished fifth at 1:13. That squad consisted of Isom, Comfort, Steadley and Hamilton.

In addition, Dee Wilson was fourth in the discus with a 92'6" effort while Janice Bishop was fourth in the long jump with a 15'8" mark.

Kerry Hamilton was sixth in the mile with a 6:09.8 clocking.

The team hosted New Boston Huron on Wednesday of this week traveling to the Bedford Invitational this Saturday.

Tories Drop Track Meet

Britton's track squad fell to Class C Ida 99½-58½ on Tuesday of this week.

Despite the loss, the Tories had one triple winner and one double winner. Phil Loesch notched three wins including the long jump, 330 low hurdles and 440 dash.

Jon Hintz was first in the pole vault and mile run. It was the first time he ran the mile.

The Tories are now 1-3 overall, 1-1 in the Tri-County League.

Individual Britton winners: Long Jump-Loesch, 16'6-¼; 330 Low Hurdles-Loesch, :45.7; 440 Dash-Loesch, :59.6; Pole Vault-Hintz, 10'0"; Mile Run-Hintz, 5:24.1; 440 Relay-Bearinger, Perry, Crittenden, Howe, :50.6.

Trojans Sneak Past Britton

Although Madison and Sand Creek are both undefeated and tied for the first place in the Tri-County League, Britton gave Madison something to think about Monday night.

The Tories got things rolling in a hurry scoring five runs in the first inning. Four came on a double by Terry Benedict and the other on a bad Madison throw.

The Trojans slowly battled back tying it up in the sixth inning. A sacrifice fly in the seventh scored the winning Madison run.

Randy Smith took the loss on the mound for Britton. Greg Fanslau came up with two of Britton's five safeties.

Britton is now 0-3 in the league. The Tories hosted Whiteford on Wednesday. Next Monday they travel to Summerfield.

Tigers Lick Clinton

Clinton has yet to taste victory in the LCAA losing number three on Monday of this week to Hudson.

Final tally stood at 10-7.

Hudson was in control after four innings with a 7-1 margin.

But the Redskins tied it up with two runs in the fifth and four more in the top of the sixth.

Randy Weirich singled three times and doubled to star in the Clinton rally.

However, four Hudson singles in the bottom of the sixth propelled the Tigers back into the lead for good.

Ticket Sales Open to More Groups

CLINTON — A new car-ticket sales plan was announced at the Fall Festival-'78 kickoff meeting Thursday at Clinton High School.

Fall Festival will be Oct. 6, 7, 8 this year.

Festival chairman Howard Oesterling introduced car-ticket chairman Gary Couture and co-chairman Joe O'Donnell.

Couture explained this year's ticket sales will benefit three local churches, St. Dominic's, St. John's Episcopal and United Church of Christ and Clinton's new park project and the Festival. United Methodist Church did not choose to participate this year.

Also ticket sales will be opened up to all non-profit organizations who wish to participate — NOT limited to Clinton groups.

Ticket sales incentive is 50-50 on the $1 ticket sales.

There will be no final distribution, except to the Fall Festival.

Prizes to be awarded are: choice of a Ford window van; Plymouth Horizon sedan; or a Chevrolet pickup, from Clinton's three auto dealers, George Underwood Ford, Driscoll Bros. Motor Sales, and John Underwood Chevrolet-Olds-Pontiac.

Seller of the winning ticket on the car will win a trip for two to Las Vegas. Other prizes are a color TV, stereo unit and CB radio.

Tickets are to be available in mid-May and prize vehicles will be displayed by then.

Organizations wishing to sell tickets may call Gary Couture evenings, 456-4386 or daytimes, 456-4164.

Autos may be taken to area events, including the Lenawee County Fair, Saline and Manchester Fairs, only by representatives of the churches, park project or Fall Festival committee, due to insurance restrictions.

To raise funds for pre-Festival expenses and advertising, several benefit events are planned.

The first is a public salad luncheon, April 27 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Clinton United Church of Christ.

There will be another salad luncheon on the last day of school, and a chicken barbecue is being planned for June.

Committee chairmen that are still needed are: publicity and advertising; miscellaneous; and a chairman to direct the Park Project ticket sales effort.

Committee chairmen already named are: booths, Mrs. Fred (Gae) Miller; parade, Charlie Steffens and Jim Pittman; lost arts, Mary Ann Chellman and Jackie Gibbard; lighting, Nick Holt; stage show, Peg Geiger; and official photographer Gary McArthur and Chamber of Commerce auction chairman, Bob Camburn.

This year's Festival will be held a week later than previously, to permit coordination with Clinton High School Homecoming game with Blissfield, Oct. 6.

Another meeting will be scheduled for members of the Festival committee to discuss budget matters.

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

MACON — "Our road is either like powdered sugar or chocolate pudding," one Clinton-Macon Rd. resident stated. Another said her car always looks so bad when she goes somewhere she hurries away from the car so people don't connect her with it.

Still another said it is pretty good when your friends ask you not to park in their driveway when you come to visit because of all the mud you leave behind.

The Lewnawee County Road Commission decided on April 14 that the Clinton-Macon Rd. would not be paved this year. It looks like residents do indeed still have some "rough" times ahead.

The Macon Women's Club met April 13 at the home of Hazel Bush. There were 15 members and one guest at the potluck luncheon. For the proggram, Mrs. Bush played the piano and Rose Kollar told some highlights of her winter trip. May meeting will be with Betty Ross. Plans were made for the June meeting, a picnic at Mrs. Kollar's when the group will entertain the Britton Woman's Club.

Charles and Luella Bigelow enjoyed the family at home for dinner last Sunday. Bob and his family from Grosse Point Woods, Mrs. Lipski and Miss Wilkinson of Detroit were there along with Becky of Detroit and Beth from Olivet College.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Edwards and Mrs. Herbert Morden drove to Columbus, Ohio last Sunday to visit Mrs. Melvin Travis. Bessie is a patient at Riverside Methodist Hospital, Columbus, Ohio. Group took many good wishes and prayers from Macon to Bessie and enjoyed the time with her.

Agatha Camburn is a medical patient at Herrick Memorial Hospital, room 219.

Bill Hatchett celebrated a birthday last week. Sunday the family enjoyed having his parents Mr. and Mrs. George Short of Ann Arbor join them.

Another birthday was celebrated last weekend at the Dean Jones' home. Marc was 10 years old Sunday. A mini-party was held Saturday with some of his friends. Sunday his grandma, Mrs. Joseph Fojtik and aunts, Mrs. Norman Groeschow and Mrs. Laine Holden, joined the rest of the family for cake and ice cream.

Susie Hamilton had a "kids" birthday party for her husband, Dean, Saturday evening. Eight couples enjoyed games like guessing cartoon characters, and drop the clothespin in the bottle. Prizes were things like bubble gum and Totsie rolls.

For some reason the Hamiltons decided this was the year to "start over" with parties like those in early years.

General United Methodist Women met April 18. Jim Beardsley, Tecumseh attorney, presented a program on wills. Program was well attended.

Manuel will be the only one in a wheelchair and he will add up miles traveling around the school's parking lot in his wheelchair. Four times around the lot makes a mile.

In other business the 17 members discussed the needs for the church parsonage.

Next meeting will be May 17, 6:30 p.m. with potluck supper at the home of Roger and Phyllis Gillespie.

Members are invited.

Town Meeting Planned

Another Tecumseh Area Town Meeting will be planned for a 1978 fall date instead of the spring date suggested earlier by members of the Tecumseh Area Town Meeting organization.

The reason, explained chairman Bill Frownfelder, is that "Most of the proposals of Town Meeting I are being undertaken. It would be more beneficial to plan a town meeting for fall 1978 when projects now underway are nearer completion and new avenues of concern might surface.

"A look at the projects undertaken justify the belief that Town meeting does work," added Frownfelder. "When citizens make their desires known and are willing to work for them, they will come into being."

"A great stride toward economic development and employment opportunities has been made through the city's industrial park project. An Arts Council was formed. A Place for Teens (APT) has proven successful. A Civic Facility Study Committee has been started and are proceeding with their task. All these were proposals of the 1976 town meeting," Frownfelder stated.

He urged readers to watch for future announcements and attend future planning.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan

Now the whole book has to be rewritten. For many years, in fact for as long as any of us have been bird watching, yellow-bellied sapsuckers have been ill kept, mussed-up birds. Their feathers were ragged, color differentiation not clear, and, in other words, they looked like a loose bunch of feathers carelessly thrown together. But they were fun and we were always thrilled to be able to list a sapsucker sighting.

As of 10 days ago our thinking about sapsuckers has undergone a complete change. We must redo our whole vocabulary; instead of ill kept, we must now think dapper and neat as a pin, tidy instead of untidy, and beautifully marked in place of sloppy colored. The revolution is thanks to a pair of sapsuckers who spent several days on the trees in my west-facing-window picture.

Gertie T. saw them first then Mom and I. Handsome and breathtakingly beautiful are apt descriptions. Always one of the chuckle provoking things about sapsuckers is the red hats.

They are quite large and the birds wear them pushed forward until almost resting on the base of the bill. It makes them look cross and scowling.

These were sunny days so the colors showed to their best advantage. Bright sunshine turned these hats into a brilliant plush, brighter-than-brick red. And suddenly we were noticing more differences between our old sapsuckers and these new ones.

Red hats were bordered by a wide shiny black band which in turn was outlined by a white stripe. More black, more white, and then a black stripe down the neck and around the throat bib. (More about this later.)

Birds' backs were black and white, sharply defined patterns. Black wings were highlighted by large vertical white areas. No questions as to why these birds are called yellow-bellied — their fronts were most definitely yellowish with a fine sprinkling of black freckles on the sides. Never, never, never have the three of us seen such a pronounced yellow on a sapsucker.

Birds had been here some time before we realized that they were both males. The under-the-chin patch was the giveaway. They both wore red bibs wereas had one been a female, this bib would have been white. Our boys were much more interested in eating than setting up territories and thinking about family rearing.

Sap was flowing in the maple trees along the creek bank and it was here that the birds kept busy. They banged away at the trees, using their strong conical shaped bills to excavate not too tiny holes. As these filled with sap their long brush tipped tongue came into play, they slurped it up.

Or perhaps after chiseling into the tree they ate some of the soft cambium layer. Anyway they were busy birds and we thoroughly enjoyed watching them climb up and down with frequent stops for eating or drinking.

One thing we didn't see but I have good friends who have and perhaps some day we shall too. Often sapsuckers drill wells into tree trunks and as the sap collects it attracts other birds as well as many insects. When this happens the sapsucker is apt to expand his dietary preferences' and eat bugs as well as drink sap.

Betty and Don watched one afternoon as hummingbirds visited a sapsucker's tree. Too cold for them now but what a thrill it must be to see hummers hungrily sipping at a sapsucker's luncheon dinner.

We had never thought about it before but, considering the number of birds clamoring up and down tree trunks, the trees are remarkably unstained. Our dapper gentlemen showed us the reason why.

While one of the sapsuckers was busy on the nearby maple he daintily lifted his tail slightly, cocked it to the side a little, and ejected a stream. It was at about a 45 degree angle, well away from the tree trunk.

Gertie and I could not help but laugh, it was done with such class. In summing up, sapsuckers take far better care of their trees than pigeons do their statues.

Posters Are Wanted

The 1978 Al Meyers Airport Dawn Patrol committee has invited fourth, fifth and sixth graders in Tecumseh schools to design posters for the dawn patrol to be July 2, 1978 at the airport.

All posters will be displayed in public places. Special recognition, such as a free airplane ride, breakfast or lunch at the dawn patrol, will be given to a few of the best designers.

Teachers or school principal's office may be contacted for more details.

The invitation enables young students to become aware of Tecumseh's aviation heritage and the dawn patrol which climaxes Heritage Days, June 29-July 2 - sponsored by the Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce.

Some guidelines are: Size should be approximately 20x16 inch posterboard of any color. Pictures that develop the aviation-Indian-pioneering themes are welcome. Message should include who, what, when, where and why.

Deadline is May 17, 1978. Name, grade and school should be written on back of the posters. They may be returned to teacher when completed.

Dawn Patrol will be held from sunrise to sunset. A full schedule of aviation activities is planned. Breakfast and lunch will be served. Proceeds will be for the Tecumseh Civic Facility Study Committee and the airport maintenance fund.

"If you shop around for travel insurance, you can get $50,000 worth for just $3.75."
"Travel insurance is one of the few things that's gone down in price instead of up. So be careful how much you spend.
"You can now get, for instance, $50,000 worth of accident protection for as little as $3.75 a day.
"And you can buy it for more than one day and up to six months at even lower daily rates.
"This kind of comprehensive coverage at a low premium rate is why we recommend Auto-Owners travel accident insurance."
Auto-Owners Insurance is for travel insurance, too.

TO MY PATIENTS:
I am closing my practice and will no longer be available after the 15th of May. My office girls will be in until June 5th.
After 16 years in the area, this is a hard letter to write; but, many of you know how much my family and I have enjoyed our visits to coastal Carolina.
So much so, we are going to make our home in Williamston, North Carolina after school is out.
Sincerely,
Harold D. Ocamb, M.D.

Call in advance so you won't get hung up on a hookup.
I know that when your new house is finally ready, you don't want to be kept waiting.
There are a number of steps we must follow to provide new service. And that can take time, as much as 30 days or more. So please let us know as far ahead as you can. You see, I want to be ready when you are, because I know how you feel.

You Told Us

By Kathy Brown

This week, the column is devoted in praise of two older women who according to their families and friends, have given constant measures of love and friendship over many years.

Louise Bauman, 212 N. Wyandotte, celebrates her 95th birthday on May 4 and Hettie Murphy, 108 N. Maiden Lane celebrates her 90th birthday on May 8.

Mrs. Bauman settled in Tecumseh 20 years ago after retiring at age 75 from ownership of the Somerset Hotel, formerly a stagecoach stop in Somerset, Mich. Her grandson, Larry Bauman, and his family reside at 408 W. Chicago Blvd. She has several nieces and nephews in the area.

Mrs. Murphy has lived in Tecumseh approximately 12 years, having moved here from the family homestead formerly in Clinton Township on Allen Rd. Local relatives are a son, Wenton of Tecumseh, and son, Elwood of Brooklyn; granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Welch of Tecumseh and grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. David Murphy and family of Chelsea.

Rushia and Larry Coscarelli, 501 W. Chicago Blvd. recently returned from a four-day award trip to Puerto Rico. The all-expense paid Puerto Rican vacation was won from Beeline Fashions, Inc.

Highlights of their San Juan tour included Ponce de Leon Museum, Fort San Jeronimo, San Cristobal, San Juan Gate, La Fortaleza, Casa Blanca and El Morro. They also visited St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

William C. Hayden and daughter, Nancy of North Caldwell, N.J. were overnight guests of Mrs. Perry Hayden April 16. Also overnight guests were Mrs. Hayden's son, John and family of Lansing. Sunday visitors were daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woodward of Lansing.

Mary Bowers and Barbara Young attended the 1978 Womens' Bank Conference at Boyne Highlands, Harbor Springs. Over 300 women attended from across the state.

A.B. Thomas, vice-president of Faraday, Inc., Tecumseh was elected vice chairman of the Audible and Visual Signaling Appliances Group, part of National Electrical Manufacturers Association; Signaling, Protection and Communications Section.

NEMA, with headquarters in Washington, D.C. is one of the nation's largest trade organizations. Its over 550 member companies manufacture products used in the generation, transmission, distribution and use of electric energy.

Lynn Cook, past chairwoman of the Tecumseh historic district study committee, reported that Ann Arbor approved its historic district two weeks ago. It includes 800 homes.

Youngsters Participate

A total of 36 Tecumseh area youngsters will participate in the Tecumseh Players' presentation of the childrens' musical "Snow White", to be staged June 16, 17, and 18.

Based on the plot of the classic fairy tale, this version by Theodosia Paynter and G.A. Grant-Schaefer features more characters, with action by the forest animals and the flowers, trees, and sunbeams, plus a few other different portrayals.

Three major roles in this fantasy are played by Clinton High School students. Carol Clark, in the title role of Snow White, was in the Players' "Calamity Jane" and the Clinton school play "Bye Bye Birdie".

Her brother, Blake Clark, was in "Tom Sawyer" last year. This time he is seen as Snow White's father, the Royal King. Alison Bailey, also in Clinton's "Birdie", plays the good Queen Wistaria, Snow White's mother.

Appearing as the wicked Queen Tiger Lily, Snow White's step-mother is Tecumseh junior Laura Mead, recently seen in the class play as Zee Zee Cordova. Prince will be Ed Schmidt and the woodsman is Tom Thompson.

Principal character parts are Nibbles, a bunny, and Nutty, a squirrel, played by Jeannie McLeod and Lynn Boyd, respectively, both of Tecumseh.

Other featured characterizations include Frosty Fate (death), played by Jackie Johnstone, the Magic Mirror, played by Cheryl Peck, and Aurora - Goddess of Dawn, played by Jeannie Johnstone. David Holt is the Court Doctor.

Dwarfs, although seven in number, are not portrayed in the usual roles, but are characterized by particular mannerism, rather than given names.

Dwarfs are played by Traci Perry, Kim Speller, Steve McLeod, Chris Stubbs, Steve Osterhout, Darrin Champanois and Robb Bartenslager.

Remaining cast members appear as various characters throughout the story such as trees, sunbeams, animals, courtiers, townfolk, etc. They are Kim Thompson, Annette Zick, Carol Fisk, Sandy Adams, Lynn Shroup, Julie Gage, Susan Bless, Anne Forsthoefel, Diane Holt, Darci Mowery, and Lisa Perry.

Also included are Juli Forsthoefel, Susie Palmer, Sue VanOrsdol, Mari Ruhl, Vanessa Forsthoefel and John Shaw.

Classified technically as an operatta, this three-act play features many songs, dances and colorful costumes. Director is Carol McLeod and assistant director is Ricki Speller. Helping technically will be Kim and Sandy Swift, involved with set and costumes.

As this production is staged as a benefit for the theatre fund, it is not financed in the regular budget. Therefore expenses must be covered through the participation of sponsors.

Any business or individual willing to be a sponsor for "Snow White" may phone 423-5255 for additional information.

Players placed $500 in the theater fund last year from the "Tom Sawyer" show, due to the aid from sponsors in financing production costs.

Grain Program

Michigan farmers will now have additional time to enroll in the 1978 Wheat and Feed Grain Set-Aside Program. The sign-up period has been extended from May 1 through May 15, 1978.

ARTIST'S SKETCH OF PROPOSED NEW $500,000 MASONIC TEMPLE FOR TECUMSEH

New Masonic Temple Nears City Approval

Unless there are developments and more opposition before a May 15th public hearing date, a new Masonic Temple for Tecumseh is almost assured.

Monday night, officials gave the ordinance that would change the zoning and permit construction of a new temple its second reading. Only two councilmen, Dr. Carlton Cook and Len DeMoss, opposed the reading. They opposed it at the April 17 meeting.

In his reasoning, DeMoss pointed out that both the Planning Commission and Region II rejected a zoning change.

Dr. Cook remarked that he was not against the Masons but objected to building another large parking lot and that he was against spot zoning. He indicated that any "more asphalt" and Tecumseh would look just like any other city.

Wilmer Kiser, secretary here of the Masonic Lodge, said the Masons would be happy to cooperate with residents in the neighborhood and indicated that the entire parking lot might be built north of the temple and screened from view by plantings.

In referring to a petition of 41 signatures against the temple, Kiser said that it would be easy to obtain a similar number of signatures from Masons and members of the Order of Eastern Stars from Brown St. residents alone. The other petition included some signatures from N. Union St.

While the Masons now appear headed towards a building program — they've been given the property plus $500,000 for construction — a new Frosty Boy on the corner of N. Evans and Herrick Park Dr. may have problems.

A change in zoning for the Frosty Boy is necessary, and the change recommended would let practically any type of business to locate there if Frosty Boy in the future decided to sell or close.

Attorney Greg Forsthoefel was asked to investigate the possibility of a zoning change that would be more prohibitive in allowing future, undesireable builders or tenants of the commercial property, now occupied by what was the Top Hat restaurant.

It closed approximately 12 years ago and the building has been vacant since.

A vote for second reading for Frosty Boy was passed six to one, with Dr. Cook voting no.

TAIDA Ready To Build but Asks City To Waive Taxes

FRANK BOCK

A snag may have developed in construction of a 20,000-square-foot shell of a building in Tecumseh's new industrial park.

Discussions between the city and Tecumseh Area Industrial Development Association (TAIDA), a non-profit organization of local businessmen who were responsible for building the Faraday plant in the early 1960s, have been held for approximately six months relative to building in the park.

A meeting held in January at the Cedar Shack included discussion of waiving taxes.

When the building was discussed at Council's meeting Monday night, Preston told officials that taxes were discussed last week. Although officials briefly discussed taxing the building and property, possibly assessing it as a partially constructed building and therefore it lowered taxes, waiving taxes was not mentioned until Delbert King, a member of TAIDA who was in the audience, told Council that it was TAIDA's understanding that taxes would be waived.

Waiving of taxes or other arrangements will be up to Council, according to Preston, who said that a number of avenues for initial tax relief for TAIDA was being investigated.

Cal Zorn, city manager, and other city officials indicate that the tax problem can and will be worked out. Preston and Zorn both stressed the importance of building in the new industrial park and their willingness to work with all concerned parties in a discussion Tuesday afternoon.

TAIDA intended to erect the shell building earlier this year, but when Council became "entangled" in the sale of the Bidwell Building, discussions and plans were tabled, apparently by the city.

According to Preston in a report to Council, TAIDA would construct and own the building after the city deeded one parcel of approximately two and a half acres to TAIDA.

The city would install sewer and water lines, and have other costs, at an investment of $14,000. Upon the sale of the building, which would be the city's responsibility, the city would receive its funds at time of closing.

TAIDA intended to obtain a loan from United Savings Bank for construction, obtain bids for the building and supervise its construction. The city would not be involved in the loan nor any financial obligations.

TAIDA officials have indicated that they will not build unless taxes are waived. After building the Faraday plant, the city urged the local businessmen to purchase industrial property across Maumee St., and TAIDA did.

After the purchase, the city raised taxes on TAIDA's new property, TAIDA officials explained.

Frank Bock TP Director, V-President

Frank H. Bock, Red Mill Dr., was appointed vice-president and member of the board of directors of the Tecumseh Products Company at the April 26 board of directors meeting.

In addition to his new responsibilities, Bock will continue his duties as secretary of the corporation and secretary of the board of directors.

Bock joined Tecumseh Products in 1965, moving to Tecumseh from Monroe. His wife, Annabelle, is a teacher in Tecumseh schools.

At the same meeting, the board of directors appointed Willis F. Day III to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of board member E. Paul Casey.

Day, a Toledo, Ohio resident, is president and chief executive officer of Willis Day Storage Co., Toledo, Ohio. Firm is engaged in moving, real estate development and warehousing.

He is also president of Willis Day Industrial Park, 889 acres of business and industrial community located in Perrysburg Township, minutes from Toledo. His affiliations include membership in the Economic Development Committee, Toledo Area Chamber of Commerce.

Bidwell Sale Completed by Council

Council completed its sale of the Bidwell Building Monday night when officials approved restoration plans for the building by new owner, Don Limpert of Manchester.

Exterior work is expected to start within a two to four-week period.

Councilman Jay Tressler questioned Limpert as to his speculative intentions. The new owner said there is no speculation at this time and will not be any until at least after the renovation and the building occupied.

He said his plans are the same as presented at the April 17th meeting. He explained that interior work would largely depend on the needs of the tenant or tenants.

First floor of the building is planned for retail outlets and the second floor for offices.

Wage Hike for Workers in Budget

A special meeting of Council will be held Monday for adoption of the 1978-79 fiscal year budget.

Included in the $1.9 million budget is an increase in salaries for all city employees.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says new salaries, effective July 1, will be increased approximately 7.5 percent for most but some hourly employees will have hikes of about 10 percent.

Although the city is continuing its negotiations with the police and has yet to settle, projected increases for the officers are included in the city's expenditures for wages of about $50,000 more in the next fiscal year.

Lovett Now GOP Head in County

Gary Lovett, Tecumseh school teacher, has been selected as chairman of the Lenawee County Republican party, succeeding Richard Platt, who resigned last week.

Platt, of Tipton, is seeking the party's nomination for State Representative, 40th District, in the August primary.

Helen Sharpe, Tecumseh Township treasurer, is the Republican's new vice chairman.

Approve District for Water, Sewer

A special assessment district for the installation of sewer and water at the W. Chicago Blvd. and N. Occidental Rd. area was approved after a public hearing by Council Monday night.

Don Maves, owner of the August Co. property, told officials that he felt that the city should pick up part of the cost involved in running the sewer under W. Chicago Blvd. This cost is approximately $9,000.

He said this cost is being shared by just five property owners now, but the benefit of the sewer could be realized by others at a future date and at no cost to them in having the sewer installed under the highway.

Maves said the situation was similar to when Council built a lift station on N. Union St. and the city paid part of the cost.

Dick Whelan, who is planning a new building on N. Occidental, said that he felt the same way as Maves. However, Council refused to share in the cost.

Brady Sand and Gravel was low bidder for the project that will cost over $34,000.

RUSS SPALDING

Spalding Commissioner Candidate

BRITTON — Russ Spalding, of 4902 Palmer Hwy., Britton, has announced his candidacy for Lenawee County Commissioner of the 4th District.

He is currently Ridgeway Township Superviser, a position filled through appointment for an expired term, since Jan. 1. He served as the township's treasurer since 1974.

Mr. Spalding is a former vocational agriculture teacher and superintendent of the Britton-Macon Area Schools. He is active in the Lenawee Retired School Personnel Association.

He is also active and a life member of the Lenawee Chapter No. 20, Disabled American Veterans, and a member of the American Legion in Britton.

He has served Lenawee County as an executive member and commissioner of the Region II Planning Commission since 1974.

Aid Sought for Seniors

Wallace Whiting, former councilman and now a member of the Senior Citizens advisory council, asked Council Monday night for more financial assistance to the organization at the Community Center.

City manager Cal Zorn was asked to investigate and report back.

City Money Not Needed

Although Council approved giving the Tecumseh Historical Society $150 for historical reference books at the library Monday night, the society learned Tuesday that its profit from the sale of salvage from the Tuckey property netted $146.

Betty Kline, society president, said this money will be used rather than the city's. Originally, Council was asked to match the society's contribution of $150 to buy $300 of reference books.

Officials were split 5-2 in its vote to match the society's contribution.

Councilman Harold Easton said that he did not feel the city should spend its tax dollars for a tax supported operation — the Tecumseh Public Library.

Kindergarten Registration

Parents of children, who will be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1978, and reside in the Tecumseh Public School District, are urged to enroll their children for kindergarten during the week of May 8-12.

There will be an evening meeting and program at the Patterson Elementary School on Wednesday, May 10, at 7 p.m. All parents are invited to come and to enroll their kindergarten children. A special invitation is extended to those parents who have not had a kindergarten pupil attend the Tecumseh Public Schools.

For the convenience of those parents who do not wish to enroll their children at the night meeting, the elementary school offices will be open during the week of May 8-12 from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. to receive kindergarten registrations.

Child's birth certificate must be presented for registration.

Parents are urged to enroll their children during the registration period so that adequate facilities may be provided and sufficient teachers hired.

Lots for $7,500

Establishment of 12 two-family residential lots east of the Industrial Park and facing Mill St. neared reality Monday night when Council gave the ordinance its second reading and fixed sale prices for the lots.

Each lot will be offered for sale at $7,500. Such lots will be available after a public hearing on May 15 and after approval and final reading of the ordinance.

Council also is placing restrictions relative to the sale of lots to prevent speculation.

CUT SWATH — Workers have cleared much land and many trees away for extending Russell Rd. to Rogers Highway. Construction, still months away from completion, will include a new bridge over River Raisin. Other work in the same general area in the south section of Tecumseh includes installation of utilities in the city's new industrial park.

Need a Car? Take Ed's!

Ed Schwartz, 500 Seminole Dr., has the dubious distinction of having the same automobile stolen twice within a week's period.

Tuesday of last week, his car was stolen twice while parked behind Trickey's. It was later recovered parked in the Russell Square apartment parking but not the ignition keys. Keys had been left in the vehicle.

Saturday afternoon while the vehicle was parked at his residence, it was stolen again. A couple neighbors witnessed the theft.

Police recovered the car Sunday morning, parked behind Dick's Body Shop on Russell Rd. Police believe the keys from the first theft were used in taking the car the second time.

Gloria Jahner of 5200 E. Monroe Rd. is not quite so fortunate. Her car was stolen while parked on E. Chicago Blvd. in downtown Tecumseh Monday, and it has yet to be recovered.

Mrs. Jahner was in Cal's Tog Shop at the time of the auto theft.

Talking It Out

LESTER D. PROCTOR

Where can a Widow Get Advice on Financial Matters?

If your deceased husband had not assigned a trust company or an attorney to handle his affairs, legal advice is a wise move.

The financial decisions which must be made immediately following a husband's death should be accomplished with the competent advice of an experienced professional, such as an attorney or banker. The "brother-in-law" route is fraught with problems and high risk.

Certain aspects of the estate, whether there is a will or not, will be decided for you by law. The will -- and you definitely should have one for husband and wife -- will be of utmost importance when pondering these first decisions.

We suggest you prepare yourself by some library work and by reading certain books which have been written with the widow in mind. I suggest:

The Money Book by Syvia Porter

Sooner or Later by Jane Moore Howe

How to Manage Your Money, A Woman's Guide to Investing by Elizabeth Fowler.

We may be able to provide you additional sources of help and information. Your problems are our concern, so please feel free to call on us.

Pilgrim's Progress Film To Be Shown

PILGRIM'S PROGRESS, a feature motion picture based on the famous book, will be shown Sunday, May 7, 7 p.m. at Grace Bible Church, M-50 at Carson Hwy.

Second only to the Bible itself in volume of sales, PILGRIM'S PROGRESS was written three centuries ago by John Bunyan. A common man by trade and lifestyle, Bunyan none-the-less became an astute student of the Bible. As a result of his studies, he voiced sharp disagreement against many of the religious practices of his day. Although never brought to trial, he spent 12 years in prison. It was while he was in prison that he wrote the book.

Uniquely, PILGRIM'S PROGRESS was filmed just outside of Belfast, Northern Ireland, where terrain and facilities for production requirements were found to be ideal.

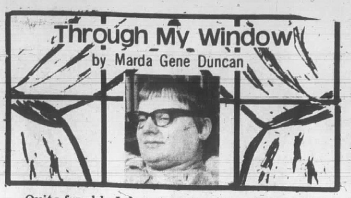
When you care enough to send the very best

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan



Quite frankly I do not remember for sure what all has been said about goldfinches in this column this year. I assume in January a few precocious males started showing hints of yellow — it happens every January, I am always thrilled and excited and hope it foretells an early spring which, of course, it never does. Then the color change abruptly stopped and we all worried. Eventually it started again and I chortled about spring progressing on schedule. A grievious error. All at once our goldfinch flock contained no yellow at all. Did we have nothing but females or just what was going on? It was all very confusing.

Well, as of this dictating, all is right with the world once again and our goldfinches are turning into wild canaries. The flock in residence is not as large as the winter gang but it is nicely divided and we have about half male and half female. The males are doing a beautiful job of donning their bright yellow spring suits; in fact, when seen at a distance many of them look fully turned.

When they come to the near-my-window feeders we can see that most of them need quite a few final touches yet. A black cap on one isn't quite perfect, another is still showing pale yellow on both his front and back, and many have still to complete the change-of-bill color.

And one poor little fellow is having more trouble than either Mom or I have ever seen. The feathers on his rump are almost standing straight up, it looks as though he were trying to imitate a banty rooster or something.

Actually this 'slump' of feathers must be about half-molted. They must be on the very verge of coming out and yet lack that final push. It is the kind of thing that makes one want to reach out and help. I wonder if they tickle? It looks as though they should although the bird shows no sign of discomfort. They probably bother us more than they do him.

It has always seemed strange, and I do not understand why, but most bird books pay little attention to the color change of the male goldfinches. This is an important aspect and yet it is usually passed over with a mere line or two. Saying that a male in the winter looks much like the female the year around is hardly sufficient. More than once we have received calls from people who did not realize, and in fact could hardly believe, that the little wild canaries of warm weather were the same olive drab birds visiting their winter feeding stations.

Just lately as the goldfinches have visited the near-my-window feeders, we have noticed subtle seasonal changes. The males going from olive to yellow is almost impossible to overlook but it takes close-up viewing to note the change in the color of the bill.

In winter the birds have rather nondescript dull darkish bills, but come this time of the year the males suddenly acquire bright reddish orange bills. The females apparently do not have this abrupt color change. And here is where the books are no help — some color plates show the male's bill as being all one color but others show it to be black tipped.

I puzzled all weekend but the little guys were not cooperative. They were so busy eating sunflower seeds from the near-my-window feeders that I could not tell where the bill left off and seed began. And they must have been hungry for never could I see one that was not eating.

If we can judge from past years we shall probably keep the thistle feeder active until the first good bloom of dandelions. Then the goldfinches will suddenly ignore our offerings in favor of Mother Nature's bill-of-fare. 'Til then they are well content to mob the thistle feeder. These are obliging birds who willingly act out their many nicknames. Thistle bird is obvious just as is wild canary.

Thomas Jefferson called them lettuce birds which had me puzzled until one book explained that the birds often nipped the tiny little lettuce leaves when, in the early morning, they visited them to sip the dew. The same is true of beet tops which explains the name of beet bird. Well, we can't offer such exotic food but, for as long as they are interested, there will be ample supplies of sunflower seeds, scratch seeds, and thistle seeds.

Sales Manager Named at Meyers

Announcement that Donald Hays would serve as sales manager for Meyers Industries, Sportspal line of ultra lightweight aluminum canoes has been made by Alan E. Beatty, President of Meyers Industries, Inc.

Hays was vice president of Sportspal, which was headquartered in Johnstown, Pa., prior to its acquisition by Meyers. Earlier he was general manager for the popular lightweight canoes, which are distributed nationwide.

Hays, a member of the Outdoor Writers Association, is an enthusiastic outdoorsman who lists canoeing as his favorite hobby. He is a graduate of California State University, California, Pennsylvania.

He assumed his new ditues with Meyers, which is manufacturing Sportspal canoes in a newly-acquired plant in Blissfield, on April 1.

Sportspal, distributed nationwide, is knwon by canoe enthusiasts for its exceptionally light weight and its quality construction.

Acquisition of Sportspal compliments the Meyers line of aluminum fishing and recreation boats, according to Beatty. "We have long felt the need for a canoe to carry the Meyers name and we have it in Sportspal. These canoes live up to the quality and performance standards which have made Meyers boats recognized as the best of their type anywhere," Beatty commented in announcing the Sportspal acquisition.

Sportspal aluminum canoes are made by the same unique stretch-forming process used in the manufacture of other Meyer boats. Stretch-forming makes it possible to design the optimum shape into every hull, an especially important consideration with canoes. The process also greatly strengthens the aluminum, making aluminum hulls manufactured by this method virtually leakproof.

Other features of Sportspal canoes include distinctive ethafoam sponson design to minimize the danger of capsize and wide beam for stability.

Host Families Are Sought

CLINTON — Would your family be willing to welcome an international high school student into your home during the coming school year?

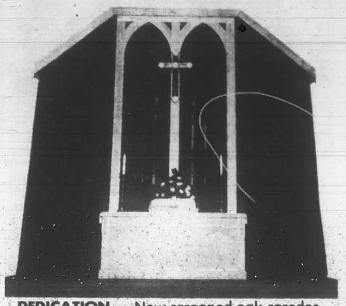
By sharing their daily life with a student from another country, a host family will have the unique opportunity to learn about a different culture through another person's eyes, while deepening their appreciation of their own country by introducing America to someone new.

The only requirement for becoming a host family is a willingness to accept a young person from another country into the everyday life of your family, so the student and family members can share an enriching experience. The host family provides only meals and shelter, as well as companionship and love.

YOUTH FOR UNDERSTANDING, a non-profit international student exchange organization, is now seeking U.S. host families for incoming students from 24 countries. Annually, host families throughout the United States open their homes and hearts to 3,500 international students, aged 14 through 18, who will be spending six months or one year as "ambassadors of friendship" between diverse nations and cultures.

YOUTH FOR UNDERSTANDING receives funds from the U.S. State Department in support of its efforts to promote world citizenship and understanding through teenage student exchange opportunities. English-speaking international students seek to live the "ordinary" life of an American high school student; American students can also spend a scholastic year in a different country, living with a host family there.

For further information on becoming a host family, contact: Jacque Rolland 456-7691 or Nancy Shumaker 456-7674.



DEDICATION — New screened oak raredos permits enhanced sound from recently renovated 1927 pipe organ in United Church of Christ, Clinton. Raredos and organ will be dedicated May 7 during the morning worship service. (PHOTO BY FRANK WEIR)

Organ Dedicated

CLINTON — There will be a service of rededication of the pipe organ in the United Church of Christ at the 10 a.m. worship hour, Sunday, May 7.

It was Sunday morning Sept. 18, 1927, when the present pipe organ was first dedicated. This organ was built by M.P. Moeller, Inc. of Hagerstown, Md., at a cost of $4,550. It included a set of Deagen chimes.

The Rev. B.A. Warren was minister at that time.

The first organ recital was given on Sept. 27, 1927 by James C. Winton, a great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Wells who were charter members of the church.

Rededication marks the reconditioning of the organ at a cost of $10,000, completed last fall.

In July 1977 the pipe organ was completely dismantled by Philip A. Robertson of Whitmore Lake, a representative for M.P. Moeller, Inc. He completely cleaned, tuned and made adjustments. He installed a new 183 pipe mixture in its own chest. These additions have increased the brilliancy of the organ.

An organ recital is being planned for the fall.

Parts of the original dedication service will be used for the rededication.

There will also be a dedication of the new raredos, which was built to allow the pipe organ music to come forth with greater clarity from the organ chamber behind the raredos.

The gothic styled frame of the raredos matches the style of the stained glass windows, and was built of white oak by Olin Swaney, of Tecumseh, a member of the congregation. Wire screening is stretched inside the frame.

Chancel choir will have special music for this service.

Films Shown to UMW

CLINTON — The Rev. Thomas Kruchkow presented films about the Chelsea Retirement Home and the Boulevard Retirement Home in Detroit for members of the United Methodist Women, Monday evening.

The group voted to sell stationery with a picture of the church on it.

Mother-daughter potluck supper will be held May 13. Mrs. Howard Oesterling will be mistress of ceremonies and the Gospel Lanterns quartet will sing. The men will serve the dinner.

Recognition for graduating seniors will be held June 4.

Michigan Week Heritage Sunday will be observed by the church May 21 by honoring women. Linda Waltz is in charge of arrangements.

Fourth annual cooperative chicken pie dinner will be held after the worship service.

Sharon Scott reported on a recent trip with her church school class to Children's Village Methodist Home in Detroit. She suggested the home is collecting labels from Campbell soups, Franco American products, Chunky Soups and Campbell bean products, to buy extra things for the home.

The UMW will begin collecting these labels for them.

Dorcas Circle will meet May 17 with Leota Schrader and the Faith Circle May 18 with Lila Chapman.

The UMW will sponsor a rummage sale in the church during the Fall Festival.

Need Loan

CLINTON — Clinton Township Board voted to borrow $25,000 from the State Savings Bank for the fire truck to be delivered late this summer.

The loan will be repaid from one-half mill tax levied for two years. This tax was voted by property owners in August 1976.

Board voted to apply two applications of chloride on all township roads except Meads Rd.

Township will blacktop Pennington Rd. from Meads to Billmeyer Rd., two miles at a cost of $50,900. Not included will be 800 ft. where Norcross Lake drain crosses Pennington Rd.

Lenawee County Road Commission test show a 25 ft. deep area of muck under that 800 ft. of road, which would cost $20,000 more, and the township does not have funds for that this year.

Building permits totalling $154,000 were reported by Charles Wilson and approved by the board.

Meeting of Riverside Cemetery Board will be held May 18.

ENGINE BLOCK — Clinton's sidewalk superintendents may want to watch this week as the engine block, weighing 123,000 lbs. is moved by crane and low boy from rail siding near Clinton Grain Co., to site of addition on village electrical plant at the south end of River St. Used alternator, which also came from Lancaster, Pa., is undergoing repairs in Riverview, Mich. and when it is installed and operating will generate 2,000 kilowatts, doubling the plant's present capacity. Plant addition involved some $49,000 and the engine and generator, when installed will cost some $250,000. (PHOTO BY FRANK WEIR)

Engine Arrives

CLINTON — Clinton "light plant" as it is commonly known will be 86 years old on August 23, 1978.

The village ordinance book shows that on August 23, 1892, the village of Clinton passed an ordinance creating the Clinton Electric Light Department, which was to purchase an engine and generator to furnish electricity to users in the village and surrounding area. In the book this ordinance was signed by Edward Rose, President, and John P. McAdam, clerk.

The records of the Council from this time until 1914 are stored away in the depths of the village archives and are not, at this time, available, but those who remember state that soon after its beginning, a generator powered by a steam engine was put into service, and furnished electricity for street lights and lights in stores and homes, and not too long afterwards for the woolen mill.

The engine and generator were housed in a building erected for that purpose in the hollow southwest of the corner of Franklin and Railroad streets.

The next ordinance in the book was passed July 28, 1898, and gave Jewett Williams, Jr., and Ira Waterman of Adrian, a 30-year franchise to build and operate a telephone system in Clinton.

Until 1930 the "light plant" supplied the needs of the village at a rate comparable to other areas and enabled the village to build up, from the profits, a very respectable bank balance in the Light Plant Fund.

In 1930, however, more capacity was needed by the plant and so in that year two diesel engines were purchased by a committee consisting of H.P. Hoyt; Norman Haas, Harold Gasner and Dr. Foreman, and a new building was erected on the present site, and the new engines and generator were installed. This sufficed until 1960, when three rebuilt diesels and generators were added to the plant.

During these years of successful operation, Clinton's tax rate, because of the profits from this plant's operation, was reduced, and finally reached the vanishing point, and for several years Clinton was known as the "tacless town".

Taxes since then have hovered around the seven mill level, compared to the fifteen mill rate permitted by state law.

Some of the profits from the plant now go to provide fringe benefits such as the cleaning of the streets almost immediately following a snowstorm, even one of blizzard proportions, free garbage and rubbish pickup, and other activities that keep Clinton the attractive place that it is.

There were, at one time, many more municipal light plants in Michigan than now and they range in size from the one in Lansing to the one in Stephenson, with its 800 inhabitants.

As industrial demands increased, it has been found necessary to have a "stand by" agreement with Detroit Edison to handle the peak loads when a large demand is made at once. This agreement involves a certain amount of electricity be made available which must be paid for even if it is not needed so that lately Edison provides the electricty for weekends and some evenings, while the local generators provide for the peak loads during the average day.

The increased capacity provided by the new diesel, however, will make it possible for the local plant to be self supporting, if necessary.

The cost of the plant addition will be paid for out of the plant revenues. It is to be in operation late this summer.

MACON— One seldom sees anything like Greyhound busses of the Clinton-Macon Rd. and seeing two last Wednesday morning this reporter decided to investigate.

The busses carried 90 senior citizens from the Knights of Columbus, De La Salle Council, Detroit to Boysville.

They toured the facilities and listened to Brother Gregoire CSC describe the program and role of the Holy Cross Brothers.

The group enjoyed lunch in the dining hall served by the boys from Sorin Hall who also conducted their tour.

The senior citizen group was very impressed with the young men who gave the tour and after they took up a collection for the Sorin Hall group.

Proceeds went for their group project of raising funds to help pay the heating bill of one of the boy's moms.

Thanks a million for your help on the pictures for our yearbook. They were exactly what we needed, and I'm sure the students will enjoy seeing how their teachers looked when they were kids. The enlargements were a big help too, and we appreciate the fact that you did all this for us on short notice.

If you're interested we'll be happy to send you a copy of the book when it comes in.

To the Editor:

As a matter of clarification regarding Historical Society's request to city council for matching funds for a list of 30 publications totaling approximately $300. The comprehensive list of architectural and historical references and restoration-renovation guides would be placed in the library for use by all patrons.

This request was submitted at the same time as the request for salvage rights to the Tuckey house. Because of the full agenda (April 17) and time needed to reproduce the extensive list of books, the request was not presented until two weeks after request to salvage the to be demolished architectural items.

Our reasons for the book expenditure request were threefold: 1) Although we have an excellent library, there is very little reference material pertaining to architectural styles or renovation-restoration of historic buildings. Because we are fortunate to have a great number of historically and aesthetically significant buildings in our town and a historic ordinance commission for the purpose of advising and guiding their owners to preserve them, we felt it was of the utmost necessity that all concerned have access to materials for reference in their work.

2) At the time of our request, we had no idea whether or not we would obtain salvage rights (at the April 17 meeting) to the Tuckey house, or that if we did get them that we would indeed find a market for the items. Therefore, we could not count on these funds with any assurance. Also, we had a number of proposals for expenditure for presentation to the historical society membership, at least one of which would involve even more funds than we had on hand (and as all other proposals, would benefit the entire community).

3) We felt that references would be of benefit to all members of the community. But would be especially invaluable to members of the city-formed commission (which for the commission to do its job, reference materials are a necessity). After finding no funds had been provided toward this, the Historical Society asked the library staff if they would compile a list of publications for this purpose. The excellent list was presented at our last meeting and we voted to fund the purchase of these books with the hope that the city would recognize their importance and necessity and split the cost with us as per our request.

We truly appreciate and applaud the council's recognition of the worthiness of this project by voting to allow approximately $150 to be spent for the books.

TROPHY FOR MOST MONEY ($464) IN PLEDGES was awarded Manuel Davila, Jr. Sunday upon completion of the bike-a-thon to benefit Cystic Fibrosis Foundation at the Milton Porter Education Center on Sutton Rd.

Wheels for CF Nets Over $450

BRITTON — Manuel Davila, Jr., did not disappoint his 70 sponsors as he manually wheeled his wheelchair around the Milton Porter Education Center's parking lot Sunday, until he ran up 20 miles and $464 in pledges, to benefit Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Manuel, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Davila, received his trophy from the Raisin Valley CB club, sponsors of the bike-a-thon.

He was given the "ok" to use his wheelchair for the worthy benefit because of his great desire to do his bit for other children who need help.

To complete 20 miles, he put will power and muscle power together and proved that anything is possible if you just try. Four times around the lot equaled one mile.

Other winners received trophies for riding their bicycles the most miles. All riders participating received a ribbon and those bringing in $25 or more in pledges received a T-shirt.

Baseballers Are Winless in League

With the weather improved, the high school baseball season is in full swing and the Indians are having their problems.

Tecumseh has yet to taste victory in the Huron League posting a 0-4 mark, 1-8 overall.

They fell to Monroe Catholic Central 5-1 last Wednesday, to Adrian 14-0 on Thursday and to Airport 8-7 on Friday.

The orange and black had 11 hits against Airport last Friday. Greg Corley, Dale Allen, Dave Perry, and Randy Halvin each had two hits.

Allen and Corley each had three RBI's.

Tecumseh tied the game up in the bottom of the seventh inning only to lose it.

Jeff Hans, Dale Allen and Dorman Fredrick all saw pitching action with Fredrick assigned the loss.

Against Adrian last Thursday, the Maples came up with 14 hits while the Indians managed just one, a single from Brian Banda.

Dale Allen went the distance on the mound against Catholic Central last Wednesday. Corley and Halvin were the only Indians to get a hit in the contest, each getting a single.

Allen allowed just three hits and two walks, striking out seven.

The Indians hosted Grosse Ile on Wednesday, traveling to New Boston Huron on Thursday, and to Carlson on Friday. Next Monday they head for Flat Rock.

Tecumseh's baseballers took an early lead against Airport Friday but eventually lost the contest. Above, John Brooks dives for second base just ahead of the ball. On the right, right-fielder John Lacny fields the ball while Butch Harvey watches the batter advance. Brooks is just behind Lacny. Below, Harvey tags a Jet runner at third. The ump called the runner out, then changed his mind an instant later claiming that Harvey "dropped the ball." The controversy was quickly settled when Indian pitcher Jeff Hans got the third out leaving the runner stranded.

Skins Post 4-4 Mark

Clinton's baseballers had a busy schedule playing five games since last Wednesday.

The Redskins shut out Onsted 8-0 last Wednesday, slipped by Manchester 6-5 Friday. On Saturday, they split a pair with Dundee losing the opener 12-5 but coming back to win 16-5.

On Monday of this week, the Skins defeated non-league foe Whiteford 9-4.

The Redskins came up with four runs in the first inning against Whiteford.

Barry Yocum had three of Clinton's 12 hits in the contest including a double. Terry Carlton, Bill Zimmerman and Dave Porter all had two singles. Carlton smashed a double in the first inning to bring in two runs.

Clinton committed seven errors in its first game with Dundee which led to defeat. But in the second game, Dave Porter spurred the Clinton attack with two triples, a double and single in five times at bat. Russ struck out eight batters to post his first win of the year.

Crush Bulldogs, 12-9

Britton knotched two wins and took one loss in softball action.

The Tories pounded Deerfield 18-8 on Wednesday of last week but couldn't get past Dundee 12-5 on Friday. On Monday of this week, Britton defeated Summerfield 12-9.

Britton and Summerfield each had seven hits and 10 errors.

The Tories pulled ahead solidly in the fourth inning scoring six runs. Summerfield rallied in the seventh inning however coming up with five runs. It wasn't quite enough, though.

Pam Dusseau had two singles and two RBI's while Jill Smith also contributed two singles. Missy Newland, Shannon Skelton and Janelle Schultz each added one hit.

Jodi Smith took the win on the mound walking just one and striking out two.

Dundee took an early lead last Thursday scoring six times in the first frame adding four more in the fourth inning.

The Tories collected eight hits in the loss with Janelle Schultz contributing two. Skelton had a triple.

The Tories are now 5-2 overall, 4-1 in the Tri-County League. They host Deerfield this Thursday and Sand Creek next Monday.

TJHS Tracksters Victorious

Tecumseh junior high track teams, both boys and girls, are having an impressive season.

The boys have won all four of their meets thus far while the girls are 3-1.

Softballers Crush Airport Jets, 22-4

It hurts to lose 19-5 as the Indian softball team did to St. Mary last Wednesday.

But the pain was eased on Friday, when the orange and black traveled to Airport and pasted the Jets 22-4.

Tecumseh came up with 15 hits against Airport. Kim Adams had four, Gloria Fosbender three, Debbie Hamilton, Becky Hamilton and Karen Bunch each with two hits.

Sandy Humphries was credited with the win on the mound giving up just one hit striking out seven, but walking six.

Clinton Softballers Split Pair

Clinton's softballers came out on top of Onsted 17-10 last Wednesday but found themselves in trouble against the Manchester Dutchmen on Friday losing 14-0.

The Manchester contest was called after five innings due to the 10-run rule.

Marcia Camfield starred in the Onsted win but took the loss for the Skins against the Dutchmen.

She gave up 10 hits. Kris Pratt and Rhonda Douglas each came up with a single.

Camfield was the winning pitcher against Onsted and also led in hits coming up with two singles and a double.

Douglas added a double and triple and Gigi Roberts, two singles.

Baseballers Beat Deerfield

Britton's baseballers knocked off Whiteford 3-0 on Wednesday of last week but fell to Summerfield 5-4 on Monday of this week. Last Friday, the Tories beat Deerfield 3-0.

The contest with Summerfield went nine innings. Britton scored a run in the top of the ninth when Richie Bruce singled and then scored on an errant Summerfield pitch.

But the Bulldogs came up with a double to tie the score. A Summerfield single drove home the winning run.

Greg Fanslau started on the mound but was relieved by Randy Smith after five innings. Together, they gave up six hits and three walks striking out four.

Bruce had two of Britton's six hits.

Dennis Kimerer had a home run in the Whiteford game.

Smith allowed just three hits against Deerfield last Friday striking out 11 with no walks. Troy Bailey had two hits for Britton.

BHS Trackmen Fall to Dundee

Although a couple of Britton's runners narrowly missed setting school records, Britton's track squad couldn't get past Dundee last Thursday.

Final tally in the meet was 97-61.

Jeff Osterhout just missed tying the school record in the 440 while Phil Loesch just missed in the 330 low hurdles.

The Tories take on Deerfield this Thursday and Sand Creek next Tuesday. Both meets are at Adrian College.

Overall, Tory tracksters are 1-4 but are still 1-1 in the Tri-County League.

3 To Meet over Taxes, Construction

Three officials will meet Thursday morning relative to Tecumseh Area Industrial Association building a 20,000-square-foot plant in the city's new Industrial Park.

Meeting is expected to include discussions regard TAIDA request to have taxes waived until the building is sold and placed on the tax rolls.

Cal Zorn, city manager and his assistant, Paul Preston, indicated last week that the tax problem could and would be worked out.

Those meeting Thursday included Preston, TAIDA president William Powell, and Merlyn Downing, president of United Savings Bank.

Poppy Days Are Friday, Saturday

Hall-Slater VFW Post 4187 and Auxiliary will sponsor Poppy Days May 12 and 13.

All funds will go toward veterans relief.

Ron Hall and Adelaine McKenzie are co-chairpersons for the fund drive.

4 Public Hearings a First?

Council could well establish a first in the history of the city, and probably even when the community was a village, next Monday night when four public hearings are scheduled, all for rezoning.

It is an exception when more than two hearings are held the same night, and there's no record of a third hearing - let alone a fourth - at a single Council session.

Hearings for zoning changes at the May 15 meeting are:

8 P.M. - senior citizen housing to be located south of W. Pottawatamie and between Adrian and Park Sts.

8:15 P.M. - change from one family residential lots to two-family lots, adjacent to Industrial Park and along Mill St.

8:45 P.M. - change of zoning from office to general business for Frosty Boy.

9:15 P.M. - re-zoning for construction of a new Masonic Temple off Bishop Reed Dr.

Another item on the agenda that Council will have to cope with will be the third reading of the ordinance involving new water rates. Monday night's meeting could be a lengthy one!

Bank Plans Building New Branch on Russell Rd.

Application and permission for a fifth branch office of the United Savings Bank has been made with the Financial Institutions Bureau in Lansing, Merlyn Downing, bank president, announces.

The new office will be located at 209 E. Russell Rd. and will be directly across the street from Tecumseh's new Industrial Park.

New branch will emphasize drive-up facilities and may be developed in conjunction with the bank's plans and construction of a new main office on the old Vescio property on E. Chicago Blvd.

Architectural and construction plans for the new main office and new branch have yet to be completed. Although bank officials originally planned drive-up facilities at the new main office, such plans have now been changed with a pending fifth branch in the south section of town.

Permission from the Bureau is expected by mid-summer.

Injured Driver Cited

Police investigated three accidents this week, including a Seneca-Union St. accident that totaled a sports car and sent the other driver to Herrick for treatment of a factured nose.

On Tuesday, Louis E. Underwood, 16, of 903 Red Mill told police he was southbound on Union in his sports car when Patricia M. Dixon, 52, of 404 Seneca turned left onto Seneca in front of him.

Underwood could not avoid the incident, while Dixon was cited for failing to yield. She was released from Herrick Hospital after treatment.

May 4, William K. Pine, 24, of Adrian told police he was southbound on Adrian St. when an unknown vehicle on Shady Ln. pulled in front of him. Pine was forced to turn onto Shady Ln. and lost control of his vehicle, skidding into the stop sign.

May 6, two drivers collided in mid street on Russell after they pulled into the road from across the street from each other. Glenn M. Posky of Fayetteville, N.C., and was backing from a drive at 305 Russell and Jeffrey G. Ives, 18, of 1106 Ives was pulling from the baseball field drive.

NEW SHOP — Bob Luper, Tecumseh plumber for the past eight years, has opened a new shop for displaying fixtures on S. Pearl Street. A master plumber, he's seen here with his secretary, Carol Racine.

10 Sites on Historic Tour

May 20 and 21 from 1-6 p.m. both days will be Tecumseh's annual Promenade the Past tour. This year it will include 10 historic buildings along the Chicago Blvd. District.

Festival kicks off Michigan Week in Tecumseh. Sponsors are the Tecumseh Area Historical Society and Presbyterian Women's Association.

Hosts and hostesses are still needed to guide visitors through the buildings. This year they will wear special ribbons to denote their presence.

As many as 250 are needed and chairwoman Pat Lamb said due to last minute cancellations, the number of volunteers is short of the goal. Call her to volunteer at 423-5757 or Betty Kline, 423-4226.

Last year 1,000 were expected. Two thousand visitors from northern Ohio and southeastern Michigan visited Tecumseh last year. Judging from the area media's enthusiasm, this year's tour could exceed that record.

Refreshments are also needed. If anyone would like to donate cookies or money toward purchase of beverages or cookies, contact Mrs. Lamb or Mrs. Kline.

Tickets for the tour are available at United Savings Bank, First Federal Savings and Loan and Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce. Advance tickets offer a 50 cents saving. Admission is $1 for senior citizens and students.

New Courts about Ready

City officials are hopeful that the four new tennis courts at the Community Center will be completed by early June.

Paul Preston, assistant city manager, said asphalt must be poured, finish coat put on and the courts lined before they're ready. Lights will enable players to play at night.

When the four courts are finished, the city will have a total of eight — four at the Center, two at Tecumseh Park, and two behind Moore Lumber Co.

He was arrested Dec. 14 at an apartment building on W. Beecher St., Adrian and charged with open murder of Charles Mercer, 23, a soldier stationed at Fort Benning, Ga. Mercer was the late husband of former Tecumsehite Kathy Laslo Mercer.

Woman Is Convicted in October Murder

Mary Nemore, 56, of Homer, was convicted Saturday of first degree murder in connection with the shooting death of Janet M. Skinner, 48, of 312 S. Union St. in Eaton Rapids last October.

Sentencing has been scheduled for May 18.

An Eaton County Circuit Court jury returned the conviction after less than three hours of deliberation at the end of the trial. It began May 1.

Nemore was also convicted of assault with intent to commit murder for wounding James Johnson, 41, of Eaton Rapids during the same incident.

Forty-eight witnesses were called by the prosecution during the trial to describe the incident which occurred outside an Eaton Rapids tavern. Defense witnesses included the defendant.

According to the Eaton County prosecutor's office, the shooting resulted from a fight inside the tavern between Nemore and another woman. Nemore left the tavern, then returned with a weapon.

Mrs. Skinner was an innocent bystander and was struck by Nemore's shot. Testimony revealed Nemore did not even know Skinner.

Johnson, wounded during the incident, was not involved with the fight that led to the shooting either.

CHARLES WOODWARD

Mayor Heads Coldwater Delegation

Charles Woodward, mayor, will lead the delegation of Coldwater officials to Tecumseh for Mayor's Exchange Day during Michigan Week on Tuesday, May 23.

Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce is planning the festivities.

Roger Proctor, Michigan Week Chairman, highlighted the mayor's itinerary. A tea and tour of the historic district will begin at their home of Wesley and Theresa Powers, N. Union. Their home is on the Promenade the Past tour.

Industries will be toured in the afternoon. The Shawnee Marchers of Tecumseh schools will give a concert at 3:45 p.m. at Adams Park, next to city hall, in lieu of a parade.

That evening at seven o'clock, the public is invited to a Michigan Week banquet at the First Baptist Church. Tickets are available at First Federal Savings and Loan and branch offices of the United Savings Bank, Chamber of Commerce office located at Glover Real Estate, and city hall.

Tecumseh High School Stage Band, directed by Gerald Bach, and its mixed chorus, directed by Jimmie Rice, will entertain. Mary Daume will be guest speaker.

Mayor Woodward has served as Coldwater's mayor since 1975. He served the city as councilman since 1967.

A life-long resident of Coldwater, Woodward, a bachelor, is an avid sportsman and flyer. He graduated from Renselear Polytechnic Institute with a degree in civil engineering in 1942.

He served with the Army Air Corps from 1944 to 1946 in India and attained the rank of captain. In 1946, he joined his father in the family business of retail lumber, contracting, transit mix concrete, sand and gravel until 1969, when he became part owner and manager of a new industry, Lake Erie Door Company. He retired recently.

He has also served on the Coldwater School Board, Coldwater Planning Commission and was president of the Coldwater Rotary Club.

MASONS GAIN SUPPORT

Chamber Backs Construction of New Temple

Construction of a new Masonic Temple off Bishop Reed Dr. has gained additional support.

Last Thursday morning the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce board voted in support of building the temple, which will necessitate a zoning change.

Al Beatty, president of Meyers Industries and Chamber director, also told those present that trustees here of the United Methodist Church had favorably discussed supporting the Masons.

Chamber will have a resolution read at next Monday night's Council meeting, when city officials will decide on the temple after a public hearing.

Two councilmen and some residents of Brown St. have opposed locating the temple near the Methodist Church and on the banks of River Raisin. Main objections appear to be traffic, large parking lot, possibility of noise and spot zoning.

The Masonic Lodge has been given the property and $500,000 towards a new temple. For the past 80 years, Masons have met above the D&C Store in downtown Tecumseh. Because of stairs and difficulty for some older Masons to negotiate the stairs, Masons have sought a different temple for a number of years.

Council will have three other public hearings Monday night, although one is expected to attract little attention. A zoning change to permit two-family residences on Mill St. is expected to be approved without any opposition.

A zoning change for a senior citizen complex off Adrian St., however, may be criticized by Adrian and Park St. residents. The city is planning a four-story housing development on property donated by Jens Touborg.

Access to the development would be off Adrian St.

If the city approves the zoning change, another obstacle to be hurdled is approval from the government for a four-story building. The government reportedly has not approved four-story buildings in the past for senior citizens.

A three-story complex was planned originally but when a survey showed more housing was needed, an additional floor was added in the plans.

Officials will also act on a zoning change for a Frosty Boy at the corner of N. Evans St. and Herrick Park Dr. Some Brown St. residents have objected to changing the zoning.

The politician replied: "Who do you think created the chaos?"

Talking It Out

ROGER PROCTOR

Why Visitations?

A funeral Chapel visitation (or a wake) is not a religious requirement that we know of, but a traditional one. And our traditions are woven into the fabric of society. Aside from tradition, there are meaningfully significant reasons why it is advisable to hold and attend visitations at a funeral chapel or home.

Value to the bereaved

The family of the deceased must have an outlet for their grief; an outpouring, according to Dr. Elisabeth Kubler-Ross and others, is necessary. Sorrow shared is sorrow diminished, and the gathering of friends and relatives at visitations provides an opportunity for this outpouring of grief.

Visitations will also add to the many statements of the very fact of death and will aid in the family's realization of this fact. Furthermore, those attending the wake or visitation are given the chance to console the bereaved personally and offer their assistance to the family.

Other direct and indirect benefits derived from the visitation are numerous. For more information, you may wish to stop by or write to me. I will be pleased to counsel with you.

MACON— Sow a thought and reap an act.

Sow an act and reap a habit

Sow a habit and reap a character

Sow a character and reap a destiny.

Taken from a booklet reviewing progress made by children of eight rural Henry Ford schools, some years ago, who were involved in a planting project.

Members of the Macon Historical Society met at the Mills school last Saturday night and worked on the floor. Dusty and dirty the group held the meeting and refreshments at Bob and Myra Bush's home.

Appropriately, a book about Mills school was given to the society by Charles Bigelow. School was erected in 1860, close to the site of a school built about 1836, thought to be the first frame school in Lenawee county. June 3 meeting will be a family potluck barbecue at Mills school, followed by a workbee.

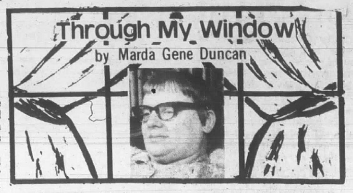
Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan



It would almost seem a sure bet that I made the last-of-the-season mention in this series of evening grosbeaks many weeks ago. May 1 was a good day both weather-wise and birdwatching-wise and guess who the surprise visitors were? Evening grosbeaks. We could hardly believe our eyes - - or ears either, they were a noisy gang.

Right from the beginning it was an extra special day. Just to tear April off the calendar and have such bright, beautiful sunshine foretold good things.

It wasn't all bad either when we had goldfinches for breakfast. Ooops, that does not sound quite right — while Mom and I were enjoying our toast and cheese the goldfinches were enjoying their scratch-feed and sunflower seeds. A nice way to start the day.

Every day finds our goldfinch gang changing. The males are becoming brighter and the females are not as drab and dull. They are taking on a slightly chestnut brown cast across their shoulders.

Both are displaying satiny black wings with snowy white markings. Their tails are rather comical — short, deeply forked, and the same black and white as the wings.

The goldfinches seemed infected by the heady sunshine. They would eat a bite or two and then troup off to the thistle-feeder for a different course then, before we knew it, some would be back in the nearby maple tree. There was a constant coming and going.

Maples were just starting to blossom and, as usual, we were amazed at the closeness between the yellow-green of the trees' blossoms and the yellow of the birds. Finer breakfast entertainment would be hard to come by.

By bath time we thought the action had died down a little. The sheer curtains were pulled and we really were not paying too close attention to what was happening outside. Suddenly Mom gasped, stood stark still and said, "Evening grosbeaks".

Two females had landed on the near-my-window feeders and were busy chomping sunflower seeds. After the goldfinches, who are small and dainty, the grosbeaks looked huge. So pretty though.

Whereas there is no seasonal color change it was quite apparent that these gals were all spiffed up in their new spring feathers. The yellow wash on their backs was quite bright.

Before long other females joined the party and finally a male. He was the most handsome thing imaginable.

As taken as we were by the birds' plumage — the yellow, white and black feathers were just dazzling — it was their bills that fascinated us.

Grosbeaks are well named, of course, their bills are large, broad and heavy. In the winter they are dull bony white, nothing spectacular; however, on May 1 we were looking at two feeders full of evening grosbeaks, a male and his harem maybe, and they were all sporting the most improbably looking bills in the world. They were bright chartreuse.

Another noticeable aspect of this grosbeak visit was the noise. Whether on the feeders eating or in the trees deciding whether or not to come down for another snack, the birds talked to each other. There was a constant chatter and it was loud. For once a bird made noise according to his size.

All this time the sheers had been closed. The birds seemed bothered by the window. Whether it was the curtains or a reflection we have no way of knowing. But they kept flying up to the glass hovering as if trying to see inside. Other times they actually tapped the window with their bills. Fighting or knocking?

These trips to the windows gave us a different view — it was only two wing-beats from the feeders, there was no time to retract their landing gears. So we watched evening grosbeaks fluttering and hanging in mid-air, and believe me, they have quite a wingspan, with their legs dangling down but their feet balled into little fists.

Sun Day was also Grosbeak Day. The composition of the flock was different, two males and two females visited. A special treatment for a special day.

Wit, Wisdom Club Meets, Topic, Stars

Catherine Weikart, amateur astronomer, led the Wit and Wisdom Club through charts, myths and legends of the stars, constellations and planets at the annual Wit and Wisdom banquet May 1 at the Baptist Church.

Dennis Keitzman brought the group back to earth with his autobiographical sketch and his work as a Christian counselor at the Living Waters Coffee House, Adrian. He is also a county jail counselor.

He described his goal as being one of practical Christianity, trying to change criminal behaviour but also trying to keep the individual in the "system."

Forty-two members and guests were served a swiss steak supper by the church women. Tables were decorated with candles, flowers and gold-dip figurines provided by Esther Greene, co-hostess for the evening.

Elizabeth Wilson was co-hostess and leader.

"The children are cooking for Mother's Day"

There likely should be more than one day a year set aside to honor mothers, for their love and devotion in raising their families during these difficult times. Mother's task will be more cheerful if we assist her and show appreciation and love whenever possible.

Parents Fail to Vote

CLINTON — Clinton School board and administration are concerned that voters are not turning out in sufficient numbers at school elections to give a representative view of their wishes.

With 1,287 children enrolled in Clinton Community Schools and only 345 persons voting in last June's school election, board undertook an analysis of the vote.

Facts revealed are: Only 146 who have children in school voted; 199 with no children voted; those over 65, 74 voted; under 30 years, only 41 voted.

Apparently those who would be most directly affected by school vote, are not going to the polls. More than 600 families have children in Clinton Schools.

In an effort to encourage all residents of the Clinton School District to vote reminder is made that May 15 is the deadline to register.

To qualify to vote, a resident in the Clinton School District must register with the Township clerk where one lives, and vote IN Clinton Middle School on June 12.

Although for all other elections one votes in the township of residence, for school elections one must vote in the school district polling place.

Few persons are voting from such borderline areas as Dillingham Acres and Loveless area subdivision, which are in Tecumseh Township, but Clinton School District.

To the Editor:

We would like to bring to the attention of the community a situation which is disturbing too many high school students and faculty members. The topic which concerns us is the termination of the job of audio-visual technician, Harry Sabourin.

Mr. Sabourin has proved an extremely helpful addition this year to the AV department at THS. Devoting his time in coordinating all teaching aids and audio-visual materials.

He has made it possible for the smooth and efficient use of class time. Through his technical know-how, he has saved the school district countless dollars which otherwise would have had to be spent for equipment repairs.

Because of his willing attitude, he has become popular with the students and teachers. We see no reason for his release of duty, and feel angry for the lack of gratitude given this man.

Mr. Sabourin has unselfishly given of his time with several extra-curricular activities such as, the talent show, tape recording of speeches, and the Friday night music show.

We realize that the budget does not always make possible some expenses, but we do believe that when an expense proves its usefulness and is of major importance, that ways can be made to adjust the budget.

Perhaps this job could be extended to work with all the Tecumseh schools to more adequately fill their needs. Hopefully, the board of education will reconsider retaining Harry Sabourin, as audio-visual technician.

Sincerely,
Gregory S. Lewis
Dale Allen

(Editor's Note: According to Supt. Robert Duhan, Mr. Sabourin was a good technician and is not being fired, but laid off. Reason is returning to the program of a year ago. The technician has been employed here for the past year.)

Dear Mr. Lincoln,

In reading The Herald today, I noticed again the fine coverage you provide 4-H youth programs in your area. That is really a service to our volunteers, staff and the youth with whom we work.

Thank you for helping us and for recognizing all those youth (and adults) involved in positive activity!

Sincerely yours,
Dyle Henning
4-H Youth Agent

Displays Jewelry at Siena

Audrey L. Schroeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Schroeder, 7080 Billmyer, Tecumseh, is one of 12 senior art students exhibiting work at Studio Angelico, Siena Heights College, Adrian. Exhibit continues through May 12.

Her exhibit, which opened May 7 with a gallery reception, includes hand-made jewelry produced during college study for the bachelor of fine arts degree.

Audrey often sets silver and gold inlays in her jewelry work which includes rings, bracelets, and necklaces. Her jewelry techniques combine both metal casting and metal construction in creation of individual pieces.

She said that the jewelry she makes should fit the personality of the person who wears the piece. Audrey feels that her work at Siena Heights has gradually refined in style and technique.

She cites her study in Europe in spring, 1977, as a significant inspiration in her artistic development. She hopes to return to Europe for study and travel.

After graduation in May, Audrey has job prospects in a number of area jewelry shops. Eventually, Audrey hopes to own a small jewelry shop where she will be able to design and create custom jewelry.

For the Record

Mrs. Harry Day, who will celebrate her 91st birthday on May 13 became a mother three times last week due to an error in a story about her birthday celebration. Apparently the source, in the excitement of getting the good lady's name in the paper, mistakenly listed her three granddaughters as her daughters. They are: Nancy Abner of Tipton, Susan of Kalamazoo and Betty in New York. Doris Day of Tecumseh is their mother and Mrs. Day's daughter-in-law.

$100 Fine for Minors with Liquor

Virginia Stites, chief clerk of the District Court, announced that effective May 15, 1978, a $100 fine for minors found in possession of alcoholic liquor will be assessed by the court magistrates.

The district judges, Hon. Yale L. Kerby and the Hon. John C. Timms pointed out that in certain cases the fine and costs could be greater and a jail sentence up to 90 days could be meted out according to statute.

The judges also stated that recently the state legislature created additional penalties and that if alcohol is found in a vehicle under the control of a minor, that vehicle could be impounded up to 30 days upon request of a police officer.

Celebrate Mother's Day

Fifteen members of the Daughters of St. Peter's Church met at the home of Mrs. John Thoss for a potluck luncheon May 2.

Freida Sisson, chairman of the day, designed favors resembling mothers with hats for the Mother's Day theme.

During the business meeting, the women discussed making afghans for patients. Plans were discussed for appropriate celebration for the guild's 58th anniversary in October.

Mrs. Thoss read about mothers from a Readers' Digest article. Cecile Smith read "Stubborn Grandfolks" by Edgar Guest and an original poem to her granddaughter.

Next meeting will be May 16 at 1:30 p.m. at St. Peter's parish hall. Cecile Smith will be chairwoman of the work meeting.

Attend Music Convention

MY PRAYER

"Dear God, he is so small and innocent. I hold him close to me, filled with my love for him, and, because this love is so great, I am terribly afraid.

"I want him to grow big, strong—yet I cannot bear the thought of all that means. I cannot bear the thought of the dangers, disappointments, anguish, even the agony, that inevitably will be part of his life.

"How powerless I am! If only I could feel his pain for him! If only I could shoulder his disappointments, face his perils, solve his dilemmas! I can't—so I ask You the question thousands of mothers before me have asked: What can I do for him, dear God? In Your love and wonderful mercy, show me the right way, please, through Yourself and Your Church."

Holloway Happenings

By Helen Smoll

HOLLOWAY — The Raisin-Palmyra Friendly Neighbors Farm Bureau had their group meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Engel.

Lawrence Smoll gave the minuteman report, which posed the question: Is it right of our nation, to allow a cost of production raise, to every business, except the people who are furnishing the food for the nation, the farmer?

Louis Machan gave the package report. In recent years, the farmers of the United States have supplied grain, cotton, livestock and vegetable production.

Mrs. Hester Wooster led in the discussion topic "Farm Safety." Each farmer is or should be a safety promoter. Farmers will have accidents, regardless of all safety precautions or rules to help prevent them. They are a phenomenon of human failure, because of the dangerous nature of the work.

A recent National Safety Council survey found nearly 40 percent of all farm accidents, was due largely to the dangerous occupation. Head, hands or feet, arms or legs should be protected at all times.

Members made a donation to the cancer fund. Lenawee County Farm Bureau reached 98 percent of the membership goal.

Gladys Anderson thanked the group for all it did for her, while she was a surgical patient at Bixby Hospital.

Richard Wiess celebrated his birthday. Cake was served.

Mothers Discuss Advantages of Breastfeeding

By Kathy Brown

In the 1950s formula was being perfected, anesthesia was saving mothers the pain of childbirth, bottles made it easy for anyone to care for baby and schedules from birth were preventing babies from ruling parents' lives.

About 20 years ago when technology was busy trying to liberate women from the chores of motherhood, a small group of women formed an international movement to bring mother and baby together again.

The LaLeche League of Lenawee County—"LaLeche" is Spanish for milk—is one of almost 4,000 groups in 43 countries that strives to encourage and offer practical advice to mothers who want to breastfeed their children. The group's motto is "God Mothering Through Breastfeeding."

However, the group said it does not set standards for what a good mother is. "Everyone takes what they get from that. Nine times out of 10, it means following your instinct and what makes people happy," said Sue Lewis, of Adrian, a hopeful new leader.

We are pro-breastfeeding," explained leader Molly Phillips of Clinton.

"There are many good mothers that bottle feed," explained Mrs. Lewis. "We feel breastfeeding gives you more time, helps you be closer to the baby. Mothers who don't breastfeed don't know what they're missing."

LaLeche members feel that breastfeeding is a natural "next step" for a woman after pregnancy. For many league members, it was an extension of the natural childbirth experience.

"I attended LaMaze natural childbirth classes with my husband when we lived in Ypsilanti. I had just had the baby and wanted support as a new mother," told Mary Ann Camron of Tecumseh.

League members believe that breastfeeding is more healthful for mother and child. Testimonials by mothers in national newsletter indicate that many times, breast milk helps children with allergies.

Son Is Born

A son, Joshua Boss, was born Jan. 26 in St. Joseph Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Boss, 1861 Shirley Lane, Ann Arbor. This was during the blizzard of '78, and the news was not sent to the newspaper at that time.

Local grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M.D. Boss of Tecumseh.

Breastfeeding, according to literature, helps children acquire natural immunities.

"It doesn't solve all problems, but it helps," explained leader Joyce Jubenville.

Convenience is another reason the mothers choose to nurse. Mary Dunham, of Tecumseh, stated "You don't need the feeding paraphernalia. It's nice to be able to say "Let's go" and not have to worry about packing the bottles and formula. During the blizzard, none of us worried about a guy coming on a snowmobile to bring formula. You can be a modern mother, a career woman and still nurse," she said.

The women want to help other mothers and dispel the myths about breastfeeding. Basically they believe that anyone who wants to nurse can. It depends on the determination of the mothers.

To help give information on breastfeeding the group holds a series of discussions.

Four topics are: 1) Advantages of breastfeeding to mother and baby; 2) Art of breastfeeding and overcoming difficulties; 3) Baby arrives; the family and the breastfed baby; 4) Nutrition and weaning.

First in the continuing series for the Lenawee County group was May 10, 8 p.m. at home of Sue Lewis, 120 Budlong, Adrian.

The fellowship encourages a new mother's confidence. "It has been fantastic for me and encouraging to know that it's alright to want to stay home and take care of your baby. I can't think of anything that's helped me more."

The fellowship also pleased Mrs. Phillips. "I was so thirsty to be around another nursing mother. I wanted to help other mothers. It is something that you feel," she described.

The League does not give medical advice, although it has a medical advisory board to consult on the information it gives. The League encourages women to cooperate with their doctors, and to do what is comfortable for the mother and child.

"Society tries to tell people what to do in almost everything," remarked Mrs. Dunham. "People are uncomfortable when they see a mother breastfeeding. Society gives it a sexual connotation. Still they will give an older child a bottle to pacify it."

Other services the League provides is telephone counseling and a free loan library. Meetings are the second Wednesday of each month in member's homes.

What a difference a Bilco Door makes!
Here's the way to add new beauty to your home. Replace that wooden hatchway with a modern, all steel Bilco Door. It's ruggedly built, weather-tight, and so easy for everyone in the family to use! What's more, it will make your basement more secure against intrusion. And it will pay for itself many times over by saving repair and replacement costs.
If your home was built without the convenience of a direct basement entrance, ask us for Bilco's new handbook "How to Add Valuable Living Space to Your Home."
Stop in and see our display. We'll give you free literature on how to do it. Or, we can suggest a man to install it for you.

MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my sweet mother, Mary P. Jones, who passed away 19 years ago May 12, 1959. My heart still aches with sadness, And secret tears still flow, What it meant to lose you, No one will ever know. When I am sad and lonely, And everything goes wrong, I seem to hear you whisper, "Cheer up and carry on." Each time I see your picture, You seem to smile and say, "Don't cry, I'm only sleeping" We'll meet again someday. Forever loved and still so greatly missed by her loving daughter, Lee Horton and family. 5-11c

Police Investigate Numerous Complaints

Tecumseh police investigated a breaking and entering this week when district sales manager Pat A. Wesolowski reported the incident at Frito-Lay's warehouse, 409 E. Russell.

According to police reports, a pry bar was used to remove the hask from the west door and then the door was kicked in. A radio was reported missing.

A resume of other complaints this week includes two separate thefts at Whelan's Implement on the W. Chicago lot.

Last Thursday, police investigated and found a three point hitch was taken from the lot. It was valued at $80. Police returned on Monday to find a plow bar taken, valued at $143. A cultivator tooth was also stolen at that time.

May 5 - Raymond R. Olivarez, 24, of Adrian was arrested on DUIL (driving under the influence) charges after police saw him stop at a red light on Chicago, at the Evans intersection. When the light turned green, Olivarez reportedly put his car in reverse and backed into the car behind him.

May 6 - Jim Records of 110 N. Union reported malicious destruction to his car while parked in front of his home. Records found his taillights broken out.

May 7 - Police arrested Ben F. Brewer, Jr., of Ypsilanti on DUIL charges after they found him traveling left of center several times on W. Chicago.

Also on Sunday, police stopped Mark D. Sackett of Adrian and charged him with possessing open intoxicants. Police stopped him for traveling left of his proper lane on W. Chicago.

Dan Betzoldt, 507 W. Brown, reported his windshield broken out when he returned home. The car was parked in his drive.

Jack E. Mackey, 301 Miami Ct., also reported the larceny of his car battery Sunday while he was in the Cedar Shack.

May 8 - Police arrested Gary S. Pyzik, 25, of 1009 Red Mill, on DUIL charges after they stopped him on W. Chicago. Pyzik reportedly drove left of center and did not have complete control of his vehicle.

'78 Promenade Will Include 10 Buildings

By Kathy Brown

This year's Promenade the Past, a tour of 10 historic buildings, May 20 and 21 from 1-6 p.m., leads Michigan Week activities in Tecumseh.

Tour is intended to celebrate Tecumseh's heritage and show how buildings can be restored to conserve architectural resources which reflect Tecumseh's history in different styles.

Two of the structures, the First United Presbyterian Church, 211 W. Chicago Blvd., and the first Catholic Church in Tecumseh, 302 E. Chicago Blvd., are repeats from last year's tour.

Spire of the Gothic revival Presbyterian Church has been a landmark on the boulevard since 1865. It was copper covered in a complete restoration last spring. A Presbyterian minister was the first to preach in Tecumseh.

Richard Marks, top designer, restored the windows in the Presbyterian church. He opened a stained glass studio in the old cobblestone church in 1976.

Fr. Edwin "One Horse" Fisher built it in 1913. Congregation used it until St. Elizabeth parish was built in 1947 on N. Union. Charles and Mary Deery bought the property for the mission as the village would not sell a lot to Detroit diocese. Local history records first firey cross in Michigan burned in front of the cobblestone church.

Brooklyn's identical cobblestone mission is a library today.

Only home not in Chicago Blvd. historic district tour is Holloway Depot, 2501 Rogers Hwy., approximately four miles southwest of Tecumseh from M-50.

Built in 1902, it was a collection point for grain and a thriving center for passenger and freight traffic until 1955. The late J.D. Jacqua, historian and former station agent, moved it to its present location, one mile down the track.

Legendary Wabash Cannonball traveled by it on its diagonal northeast to southwest run through Lenawee County.

Mr. and Mrs. John Doerfler purchased it in 1969 and converted the shell into their home. A 1915 postcard served as model for exterior decor.

C.B. Thomas house was built ca. 1866, 301 N. Union. He was principal of Union School from 1863-1867. Diplomas were first issued in 1866.

Theresa and Wesley Powers bought the Federal home after attending a rummage sale by then owner, Geneva Satterthwaite. Her Victorian furniture will be displayed in the parlor. It was her family's home since 1908.

Italianate A. Anderson House, 515 W. Chicago Blvd., is the professional offices of Drs. Robert Murray, Jerry M. Wolf and Ronald W. Curtis. Adaptive use began in 1949 when Drs. Murray and Robert Laidlaw opened practice in first floor. Formerly apartments, the upstairs is now lab and X-ray rooms. Business office and 12 operatories are on first floor.

An enclosed porch and shed create the Heritage Room, Dr. Wolf's operatory, which features a dental engine, ca. 1900, and barber dental chair, ca. 1853-1878, that contrast modern equipment.

Third repeat on tour is Italianate C.A. Stacy house, a 27-room, four-story mansion started in 1848, and completed in 1856. Stacy was fourth probate judge of Lenawee County and Underground railroad activist. Family owned the Tecumseh Herald newspaper for over 40 years.

GOP Meeting To Organize

Royal Welch, titular head of Tecumseh's sixth district of Lenawee County Republicans, called for a Republican caucus May 25 at 7:30 p.m. at Tecumseh City Hall to reorganize the district.

Other business will be to select a candidate for the county commission seat, campaign financing, support of Mary Bowers as candidate for state representative, 40th district.

Sixth district in Lenawee County consists of precincts one, three and four in the city of Tecumseh.

All interested Republicans are invited.

Raisin Firemen Hold Open House

Raisin Township Fire Department will have an open house May 21, 1-5 p.m. at station number two, Occidental Hwy.

Public is invited to become acquainted with firemen and equipment. Carl Wagner is the chief. Event is sponsored by the Raisin Township Fireman's Association.

OK Zoning for Temple

By Kathy Brown

After a 45 minute public hearing, the last of four scheduled for Monday night, Tecumseh Council approved the rezoning of three acres on Bishop Reed Dr. off Brown St. for residential to office service to accommodate the building of a new Masonic temple.

The vote was 4 to 2. Councilmember Jay Tressler was absent.

Councilmen Carlton Cook and Len DeMoss cast the dissenting votes.

Cook, a Brown St. resident, objected to increased traffic and spot zoning. DeMoss cited the recommendations of the Tecumseh Planning Commission and Region II planners against rezoning.

Pro and con speakers were evenly divided. About 80 people were present, many representing the Masonic Lodge, according to one lodge member.

At least twice during the hearing, supporters argued that the Masons' reputation was challenged in the zoning question. Opponents of the rezoning argued the issue was zoning only. Some praised the Masons. Others were indifferent to them.

James Daley, local attorney, read a resolution from the Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce supporting the zoning change.

He later gave his opinion: "I support the rezoning. But the issue here is a question of zoning. It should be based on the benefit to the community against the detriment to the community. It is not a question of whether or not anybody wants the Masons (as neighbors). To allow an organization to influence a community would be a poor reason to base a decision," he told council.

Other public support of the zoning change came from the United Methodist Church Board. Trustee Al Beatty read the church resolution.

Wilmer Kiser, lodge secretary, presented a petition with 60 signatures of residents in the area stating support of the rezoning. He said that some signers of the first petition opposing the Masonic Temple construction said that they would not have signed the first petition, if it had been explained to them. They would not, however, sign a second petition.

Question Board about Lay-off

By Frank Weir

Several high school students and one teacher attended Tecumseh's Board of Education meeting Monday night to express concern over the lay-off of Tecumseh High School audio-visual technician Harry Sabourin.

A student, Greg Lewis, told the Board that having the technician is like having "a Vo-Tec in our own school."

He went on to say that a full-time technician precludes the necessity of sending audio-visual equipment out for repair. He also said that 40 faculty members and 104 students are behind the idea of a full-time technician and had signed a petition.

In addition, Diana Wakeford, high school teacher of French and English, told the Board at length of improvements in the audio-visual department at the high school since the hiring of Sabourin last fall.

She said, "I teach French and English at the high school and use audio-visual equipment. I have never had a year where things went as smoothly as this past year."

Wakeford went on to say that a full-time person is helpful in case of emergency and that materials have been delivered on time and efficiently. She stated that "In the past, it was almost impossible to get something, no one knew where it was." Also, "It's nice to go to a school program and not listen to a screaming microphone."

Sabourin has also provided teaching aides for teachers such as the taping of class programs and making transparencies.

Supt. Robert Duhan stated that Sabourin was "doing an excellent job." He went on to say, "In settling a labor contract dispute, an agreement was reached last fall that the audio-visual program would go back to the previous program."

Duhan also mentioned budgetary concerns and said Lenawee Vo-Tech is available for the repair of equipment.

Board members agreed to review the matter.

High school teacher Pat Connors will again be in charge of the audio-visual department on a part-time basis, as he was before the hiring of Sabourin.

Supports Housing

Tecumseh city council voted 4 to 2 Monday to approve rezoning of 200 Park St. for a four-story senior citizen housing.

Council members Carlton Cook and Mary Bowers cast dissenting votes after a public hearing at which only two residents voiced their opinions. Council member Jay Tressler was absent.

Speaking on behalf of the Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce, Earl Mason read a resolution supporting the rezoning change.

Dave Faling, 322 Park, 20-year resident in area, said he would rather have the Masonic Temple as his neighbor than a four-story senior citizen complex. A couple of voices in the audience said, "Amen."

Faling added the problem involved spot zoning, "which two of the council members are familiar with." Council did not comment on his statement.

"I'm not satisfied that it is a perfect location," said Council member Mary Bowers. She said she was thankful for the city's gift, but that it was too far away from convenience stores.

"I think it should be closer to downtown. More effort should be put into finding another location," added Council member Carlton Cook.

Assistant city manager Paul Preston said, "We've attempted to resolve these problems. I've gotten commitments for smaller grocery stores, drug stores and library. They said they would provide services if the complex were built, and the county Human Services department has an experimental transportation system.

"That's fine Paul, but I'm concerned with them being able to be independent and do things for themselves. Maybe I'm more sensitive about this because my mother lives in the Adrian highrise," stated Bowers.

TAIDA Position Is Made Clear

Tecumseh Area Industrial Association made it clear Tuesday afternoon that city officials, including Council, must bend and compromise if TAIDA is to erect a 20,000-square-foot building in the city's new Industrial Park.

At the meeting held in the director's room of United Savings Bank, TAIDA voted unanimously to build if taxes are waived.

TAIDA further stipulated that besides "no taxes," the land and all development and improvements must be made available to TAIDA at city costs.

In turn, at the sale or lease of the building, which will be partially finished by TAIDA, the city will be reimbursed for its cost of the land, improvements and developments and taxes incurred, if any.

It was clear that city costs only were to be involved, not government funds which have contributed considerably to the park and improvements already completed. Obvious reason is to offer the building to a potential purchaser at the lowest possible cost.

Paul Preston, assistant city manager, was asked to present TAIDA's proposal at the June 5 Council meeting. All present agreed that construction of a building in the new park was vital.

Representing TAIDA at the meeting were Bill Powell, president, Jack Osburn, Roy Welch, Karl Schneider, Del King and DJ Martin.

Bank officials in attendance were Kenneth C. McElroy, bank board chairman, and Merlyn Downing, bank president.

TAIDA, a non-profit organization, has been successful in the past by building the present Faraday building and contributing to the industrial development on the east side of S. Maumee St.

1978 Promenade Set

Owners Mr. and Mrs. Lee Worley have combined Victorian reproductions with original Stacy family furnishings in decor. A cherry cantilevered staircase spirals to a fourth story cupola with Chicago Blvd. view.

A wrong turn led Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson of Milan to the Eccles House, 217 N. Evans. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Griffin and family now rent it.

Johnsons completed in 1971 a systematic interior and exterior renovation on the Greek Revival building. House was built between 1840-1857. Eccles family lived there during late 1800's. It was empty several years before they purchased it from Austin Pickford in 1969.

Specially milled columns and fascia, woodwork, slate entry, solid cherry cupboards from single log, small solarium off living room, full attic and bedroom are features.

Tecumseh's charm and interest in a larger home brought Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Williams to the Presbyterian Manse, 305 W. Logan St.

The Queen Anne ca. 1890 was first occupied in Nov. 1897 by the Rev. W.F. Jones, Presbyterian pastor, and served as the manse until 1970.

Restoring old homes is not a new idea. Mrs. Louis S. Schneider, 115 S. Union, said that there were not many new homes being built in 1922 and she wanted to live in an older home. Pleased with the Schneiders' idea, the bank gave the couple an interest free loan to restore the classical house, built ca. 1830.

Mrs. Schneider's family roots go back to early 1800's. First home in Ridgeway was built by Coonrad Lamberson, her great-grandfather in 1825. She is active in DAR and Lenawee County Historical Society.

Dr. Increase S. Hamilton house, 402 W. Chicago Blvd., is now owned by the James Vanzos. Modified Greek Revivial with Victorian porch accent was built by Elijah Anderson, a local carpenter ca 1840. Front hall and entry was designed and built to line up with the current Beardsley residence, across the boulevard, also built by Elijah and this twin, Elisha.

Dr. Hamilton joined Dr. M.A. Patterson in 1844 to battle "fever and ague".

Car Sent Back to Manufacturer

Tecumseh city council decided Monday night to send back a newly received police car to the manufacturer. It did not meet the city's specifications.

City thought it could purchase a better equipped car for less money if it placed its police department cars through the state purchasing department. One was ordered in December and two others before the March 15 deadline.

However, due to what Chief Merlin Mowery called a "human error," wrong car was delivered to the city. Delivery of the other two are expected within next few weeks.

Third car will be bid locally. Meanwhile, city is short one administrative car until other arrive.

City's problem is not unique. County sheriff's department ordered seven and received 11. More departments are ordering through state purchasing department which in itself may be cause for delays and mixups.

Talking It Out

When should funerals be planned in advance?

The most direct answer I can give would be "as soon as you're ready and able to do so", but of course this "readiness" and "ableness' is primarily a matter of one's state of mind, not just physical being.

The following poem (Author unknown), makes a worthy statement.

Tarry not, make haste
to put your life
in order.
Set aright, make amends
before you cross
life's border.

Since no one can say with certainty when the time of death is to come, the knowledge of being prepared is comforting.

With your comfort and peace of mind, and that of your loved ones uppermost in our planning, we suggest preparedness in pre-planning your funeral, sparing your family this task. By doing so, you are assured that your wishes will be made known and followed; that the services will be no less and the costs no more than you want them to be.

REV. BROWNE

Ordained

The Rev. Philip Godfroy Browne was ordained by the Rt. Rev. Robert Bruce Hall, bishop of Virginia, in the Episcopal priesthood, May 13, at St. George's Episcopal Church, Pine Grove, Va.

He graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1967 and is a graduate of Michigan State University. He was in the last graduating class at Philadelphia Divinity School, May 17, 1974.

Now he is the curate in Page County, Va. ministry to St. George's Parish, Pine Grove, St. Paul's, Ingham, and Christ Church at Luray, Va., serving under the Rev. Jennings W. Hobson Jr., vicar.

The Rev. Browne is the son of Ruth Browne of 207 W. Brown St., Tecumseh and the late William H. Browne, Sr.

Attending from Tecumseh were the Rev. David Fox, who preached the ordination service; the Rev. Russell Cooper of Clinton, the deacon; and his brother, William H. Browne Jr. and daughter, Terrie and his mother, and Irene Merx.

Also from Tecumseh were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mensing, and former Tecumseh residents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Andrews, now of Florida.

OK Temple Zoning after Hearing

Among the opponents was Betty Kline, 511 W. Chicago Blvd. She stated, "Just because someone donates land and money (to build the temple) doesn't justify a zoning change. The church is not the people who will live with the traffic. We owe it to citizens to protect neighborhood zoning."

Kathi Johnstone, 1205 Willow, pointed out that the Methodist church is now used for different activities each day of the week, creating traffic.

Furthermore, schools and churches are allowed to be built anywhere, according to Tecumseh's zoning regulations.

"No one objects to traffic from the school pancake suppers and fun fairs. The Methodist church could expand on that property with a social hall and parking lot and rent it. What difference would it make?

"It really appears to be a prejudicial issue," Johnstone summarized.

Mary Allen, identified as a resident building a home in the neighborhood of the proposed Masonic Temple, summarized the concerns of her Brown St. neighbors:

"I'd rather have people as a neighbor than a rental hall and parking lot. Masons themselves are great people. Too many others like the parking lot to play at all hours. We buy property because it is residential. Then a parking lot comes along and spoils our dream."

"We pretty well checked out all the other possible sites. This one had no houses close by, and we thought there'd be no problem, said Wilson Miller, lodge worshipful master.

Another Mason, Dean Moore, said that alcoholic beverages are not allowed to be served in the temple or the group would lose its charter.

"The rental would be to community activities. Any activity you're afraid of, we'll judge unsuitable and they will go elsewhere. Building will be fully insulated, air-conditioned and built 800 feet from any other building," said Kiser.

"I doubt very much that anybody will be able to hear it. Only activity that might be a problem is traffic to the house on Bishop Reed Dr.," Kiser concluded.

"I only hope that we can go home as friends," said Mayor Aden Mead after the Council's decision. "I just hope that we never have a decision like Governor Milliken does with PBB."

A quiet laughter rippled through the audience

Expansion Is Discussed

Tecumseh School Board members discussed three different schemes Monday night that would allow expansion of Ridgeway Elementary School.

The expansion, which would give the school increased office and library space, is in the planning stage.

Most popular of the three building schemes would provide for the construction of a new library area on the south side of the present building. In addition, the central office area would be altered. The changes would provide 941.5 square feet of new space and 1,300 sq. ft. of altered space in the office area.

Board members also discussed using the new library room as a classroom and then use a present fourth grade class room as the library.

Tentative construction figures would be $40 per square foot for a total of $38,960, not including miscellaneous charges.

Asst. Supt. Gene Cooley emphasized that these figures are tentative.

Board also discussed hooking the Ridgeway Elementary School to a proposed sewer project to be built in Ridgeway Township. Construction may begin this summer on the Township project.

Board has yet to formally acknowledge participation, but the building and grounds committee feels it would be in the best interests of the district to join the system.

Presently the school uses a septic tank system. Costs to the district are now tentative, although a rough estimate of $14,820 was mentioned.

Resignation Is Accepted

Tecumseh's School Board accepted the resignation of Harold Glanz at Monday night's board meeting. The resignation will be effective at the end of the current school year.

Glanz is currently a junior high industrial arts teacher and has been teaching for 12 years in the district.

Glanz is going into business as a builder.

In other action, the board approved a one year contract for Walter Behan.

A maternity leave for Kathryn Tarkiewicz, elementary teacher, was approved for the coming school year.

U of M Study Planned

A University of Michigan study will begin this summer to investigate "family configuration and intellectual development."

The research project will involve former Tecumseh students and will be conducted this summer.

It will also be connected with the Tecumseh Community Health Study, Supt. Robert Duhan reported.

Duhan told the board that individual rights will be protected and no names will be used.

In addition, the school district will be reimbursed for secretarial help required by the study.

The Board agreed to cooperate with the study.

Collect $532

Tecumseh Band Boosters collected $532 in donations for Tag Days last weekend.

Ester McLain was chairwoman and Mrs. William Germain was co-chairwoman. They thanked all the volunteers and donors.

CLUB BUILDERS — Past presidents of the Tecumseh Kiwanis on hand to celebrate club's 20th anniversary May 9 were (l-r): Dr. George Burkhard, 1964; Harlan Dicks, 1965; Russell Scott 1968 and 1969, Edwin Walters, 1972-73; Dr. Jerry Wolf, 1975-76 and the Rev. Allan Gray, 1976-77. Actively involved with youth in community, club motto is "We Build."

Kiwanis Celebrate 20th

Tecumseh's Kiwanis Club marked its 20th anniversary with cake, courtesy of Doby's Donuts, and group singing at Harry's Cafe May 9. Charter date was Tuesday, May 9, 1958.

Past presidents chronicled the history of the club. Carl Lamb, president during 1959, profiled the first years from 1956-1962. Russell Scott, president during 1968 and 1969 profiled the years 1963 to 1969. Ed Walters, president during 1972-73 adminstrative year, profiled the 1970's.

Russell Scott was also recognized as having served as division lieutenant governor 1970-71 and as divisional representative for the Forney W. Clement Foundation from 1971 to 1976.

Honored as distinguished club presidents in the Kiwanis program were Edwin Walters, 1972-73; Dr. Jerry Wolf, 1975-76 and the Rev. Allan Gray, 1976-77.

During its 20 years in Tecumseh, the club has become an integral part of the community working particularly with youth. The club initiated development and continued maintenance of the Memorial Park at N. Maumee and Herrick Park Drive.

It has sponsored Troop 102 at Milton Porter Education Center for the past 14 years. Troop was one of the first for mentally and physically handicapped in Michigan.

Kiwanis also sponsors annual Christmas party at the special education center.

Academic and general youth scholarships have been maintained over the years. Kiwanis of Tecumseh also assisted with the special olympics with funds and program assistance.

Kids Day fund raising activity in the fall benefits the Tecumseh Recreation Department summer recreation program for children. Kiwanis also sponsors a little league team.

Annual used merchandise sale, which netted $1,500 this year, is the prime fund raising activity. Michigan International Speedway project is another fund raiser.

Frosty Boy Ok'd

No one from the audience commented at Council's public hearing Monday, on the rezoning of the old Top Hat restaurant at Evans and Herrick Park from rezoning to highway business.

Council member Carlton Cook was the only member to oppose the rezoning. Council member Jay Tressler was absent.

"In defense of my position, I'm not opposed to the Frosty Boy. I am opposed to zoning which would permit gas stations, used car lots and many others," stated Cook.

"Unfortunately, the only rezoning choice was B-3, highway business, which allows a great deal of activity. I had hoped there would be an alternative. What I'm afraid of, is what will happen when the Frosty Boy is sold and we have no way to rezone (the property)."

"I'm also concerned about that," said Council member Harold Easton, "But I think the property should be used."

He asked city attorney Greg Forsthoefel if city could have the property rezoned back to office service use in near future and allow dairy bar to continue as a noncomforming use. Forsthoefel said that would require further research.

Only One Opposed Rezoning

Only one citizen, Mrs. John Lee, Mill Hwy., objected at Monday night's public hearing to rezoning property on Mill Hwy. near the Industrial Park to accommodate duplex housing.

Council approved the zoning change unanimously. Council member Jay Tressler was absent.

"Mill Hwy. is Mud Hwy. since the sewer was put in. I don't think it is a proper place for more residences with different types of industries nearby. River is in no way guarded. If the highway itself will be disrupted for building these (duplexes) as it has been from January until now, I'd oppose even a lean-to on the property."

"We'll try to make the road more passable," said Mayor Aden Mead.

"All you can do is try," responded Mrs. Lee.

Foreign Classes Open House

Students of the foreign languages classes of designer open house at the encouraged their fellow students to enrich their lives with foreign language during the annual foreign languages week recently April 14-20.

Some of the activities planned were foreign movies, skits, posters, displays, and an international foods potluck dinner for the French and Spanish day classes and the night German class.

April 14, the third and fourth year French students of Jan Harrison participated in the sixth annual foreign languages day at Central Michigan University.

Their skit received a certificate of excellence and their display on French cities took the first-place award trophy.

Some 3,500 Michigan students participated in song, dance, skit and display competitions in French, Spanish, German and Russian. Students observed classes, viewed slides and movies and talked with foreign students and language professors.

Spanish students of Luz Maria Coba performed original skits on Monday, displayed original Spanish posters extolling the enrichment benefits of foreign languages on Tuesday, learned about the legend of Don Quixote on Wednesday. Thursday, souvenirs and items of foreign countries will be displayed in one of the classrooms and Friday, Mrs. Coba will show slides of her trip to Spain and Portugal.

Together the French and Spanish classes saw the French movie "The Umbrellas of Cherbourg" with subtitles.

3rd Annual Academic Awards Set

Third annual academic awards program will be May 22, 7:30 p.m. at Tecumseh High School gymnasium.

Program will honor those students who have excelled in various academic areas during the school year.

Parents are urged to attend.

Refreshments will be served afterward in the cafeteria.

This is the time of year when most of the birds turn their attention to family rearing. They abandon the individual lives or gradually leave the flock with which they have wintered and seek mates. This, of course, means that we are having pairs of birds at the feeders. Most we are pleased with but a few we could do very nicely without.

Getting the bad news first, it is the cowbirds we do not like to see. They are not unattractive birds; in fact, the males are quite good looking. Their bodies are shiny black and their heads look like coffee with just a dash of cream. In bright sunshine they are almost but not quite iridescent. The females are neat and trim but rather a nondescript tannish-gray. They are about nine inches long and nicely proportioned birds.

It is their irresponsible morals to which we object. Most birds work hard at building nests and raising families. Not the cowbirds. She sneaks around and lays her eggs in other birds' nests. The foster parents raise the cowbird kids usually to the detriment of their own family. Not a nice thing to think about when a pair of cowbirds come to the near-my-window feeders.

Just lately a pair of cardinals have been visiting once or twice a day and, needless to say, we are overjoyed. They are lovely. For a while we worried about our cardinals — there were three or four males flitting around most of the time but no females. The situation has straightened out now and all is as it should be in the cardinal world. The extra males are gone and Papa is very devoted to Mama.

We do not know where the nest is but it can't be too far away. On the cold blustery days we do not see much of the female but, when the sun is bright and the air warm, she apparently feels free to leave her precious eggs for longer periods of time. On these occasions it is fun to see the male falling all over himself being devoted. All winter he would not let the female come near the feeder if he were dining. But oh how the tables turn at this time of the year. Now he cannot be courtly enough. Like a perfect gentleman he tenderly feeds her the choicest sunflower seeds and when she leaves the near-my-window feeders he acts the gallant escort.

There is always a slight question about mourning doves. Do they migrate or not? We have mourning doves the year around but, to a certain extent, the summer gang and the winter bunch are different. At least late summer and early in the fall we had a mourning dove with a passion for thistle seeds. At first it was worth a chuckle or two to see the big bird tuck himself onto the small tray beneath the thistle-feeder and twist and turn to get at the seeds. When he started monopolizing the feeder it was not so funny. Not only did he eat the expensive goldfinch feed but he kept the goldfinches away too. Mom finally resorted to rushing out the front door and driving the bird away. Suddenly one day he was gone and all winter the thistle-feeder was the exclusive property of goldfinches, purple finches, juncos and pine siskins. Some weeks ago however thistle-seed eating mourning dove returned.

In honor of the rough time he gives her it just seemed natural to call this mourning dove 'Mom's friend', quickly shortened to Friend. Well, as befits the season, Friend has a friend. And yes, the two of them are apt to squeeze themselves on the thistle-feeder tray. It is more ridiculous than ever. The only good thing is that they are not always together and the goldfinches and siskins are getting smart. When just one dove is on the tray the little birds will use the open portholes and eat. It must take a great deal of courage though.

Kerby Up for Re-election

Harvey Jackson of Adrian, speaking for the newly formed committee to re-elect Judge Yale L. Kerby, announced that there will be several committees to encourage the re-election of Judge Kerby.

He also said that those now serving with him on the committee include: Lewis Glaser of Adrian, Ellis Berndt of Manitou Beach, Thomas (Tim) Neill of Tecumseh, and Charles Chase of Adrian.

"The purpose of the committee," Mr. Jackson stated, "is to emphasize the experience of Judge Kerby and his dedication and service as a Lenawee County District Judge."

The committee says "Judge Kerby, after 17 years of general practice and 10 years as a judge, should be returned to office for another term. At all times, he has given fair and equal justice to all and extended extra effort to rehabilitate people by co-founding new successful drug, alcohol and traffic programs. This, along with his community leadership, does merit public support for Judge Yale Leland Kerby. Our committee is pledged to reach that objective."

BUSY CHAIRWOMAN

Loves Old Home

By Kathy Brown

By now, Pat Lamb is probably no stranger to people active in the community. As general chairwoman of Promenade the Past 1978, she has sought the cooperation of several to make the home tour a success.

Pat worked on the two previous Promenade committees. Last year she was co-chairman, and in 1976, she was a member of the bucket brigade that got down to the nitty-gritty of stripping, painting and papering the designer house.

This year since March, Pat has spent an average of 15 hours a week planning, organizing, coordinating activities for Peomenade 1978.

Pat developed her project management skills while working for the city of Trenton recreation department. She was event organizer for the first "Christmas Land" at the Trenton Cultural Center, formerly the estate of Emily Bridge Frank.

Pat was responsible to recruit volunteers and coordinate elementary school students, Girl Scouts, garden clubs, senior citizens and crafts people to decorate the farm homestead. Each room displayed Christmas traditions of a foreign country, representing the ethnic heritage of the city. Over 1,000 persons attended.

Pat was also secretary of Trenton's ladies' 18 hole golf league. Golf remains one of her interests.

This year, Pat was also president of the Welcome Wagon Club for newcomers. She is also an active member of the Tecumseh Area Historical Society.

Pat and her husband, Gordon, reside at 5764 Milwaukee Rd., the Issac Adams house, built circa 1846. In between making media contacts, answering the telephone morning to night and lining up hosts and hostesses for May 20 and 21, Pat and Gordon work on complete restoration of their home.

Only those who have taken time to love an older house and restore it to its original beauty can appreciate the time and labor that goes into stripping floors and walls, varnishing, platering, papering, carpentry and matching materials, sometimes painstakingly salvaged from homes before they are razed.

Pat was one of the crews working for the historical society to salvage materials from the Tuckey property.

"I was born a 100 years too late," remarked Pat. Her enthusiasm for antiques and restoring her house borders on pioneer spirit. It has led her to learning a great deal about home maintenance and attempt projects others would not.

When she's not working at home, Pat searches historical collections for information to reconstruct the history of their home.

Pat and Gordon have traveled extensively across the country. He is an engineer, now a manager for Townsend and Bottum Inc., Ann Arbor.

1978 Promenade Chairwoman Pat Lamb savors a rare quiet moment at home.

13 Complaints Reported

Tecumseh police investigated 13 complaints this week, ranging from malicious destruction to five spearate stolen bicycle reports. A resume follows.

May 10 — Tim Deming of 605 Russell reported his bicycle stolen while he was watching a baseball game at the high school. The bike was found the next day.

Also last Wednesday, Walter Wonderly of 710 S. Union reported nine windows broken out at the Tecumseh Grange Hall on Milwaukee.

May 11 - Police arrested John C. Rodlund of Adrian on two open warrants out of the Jackson Co. Sheriff's office.

The Robert Collins family of 303 Cairns also reported a stolen bicycle this week. The Collins bike was taken from in front of their home last Thursday.

May 12 - Garry L. Humphries of 5089 Green Hwy., and Ernest L. Wright of Clinton, were arrested on open intoxicant charges after police stopped their vehicle on eastbound Chicago.

May 13 - Hector R. Sanchez of 217 Herrick Pk., was arrested for driving on a suspended license after police stopped him at the intersection of Logan and Union Sts.

Also on Saturday, Neil Yonts of 211 N. Van Buren, David Brock of 415 W. Logan, and Mrs. Max Gilpin of 423 N. Evans reported stolen bicycles. The Yonts bike was taken from the library, the Brock bike from their garage, and the Gilpin bicycle was locked up on their front porch.

James Kingon of 1002 W. Pottawatamie also reported a stolen motorcycle Saturday. The Kingon motorcycle was stolen sometime during the night.

Police discovered the Nelson Field sign damaged Saturday while on routine patrol. Someone had apparently driven over the ball diamond on Union St. and then hit the sign and left.

May 15 - Alice Mackey of 212 W. Logan reported malicious destruction to her auto. Vandals had put a knife through one front tire during the night and another in the morning.

May 16 - Linda McMillen reported malicious destruction to her home at 310 E. Kilbuck this last week. Six windows and the mailbox had been damaged or busted.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Now that the question of a Masonic Temple being built on Bishop Reed Drive has been settled in a democratic manner, by each side voicing their opinion as is their right, I hope that there will be no ill feeling and that we and the people of the area will be able to live together in harmony.

I would like to thank those who gave us their support and also those who were interested in their community to the extent that they objected.

Wilmer Kiser
Secretary
Tecumseh Lodge 69 F&AM

Dear Editor:

Your readers should be made aware they are about to lose the services of the Michigan State Police, who will be relegated to the duties of highway patrol if changes now under construction in the Michigan Legislature become law.

Senate Bills 1517 and 1518 would prevent the State Police from functioning except as patrol officers on state freeways and trunk lines.

This effort is backed by metro area sheriff unions which are selling some legislators a bill of goods. It is estimated the plan will cost in the area of $10 million a year in state money allocated to pay local sheriff departments.

The Michigan State Police have an excellent record of law enforcement, a fact which I believe is appreciated by most Michigan citizens. I feel sure the voters would not support these proposals if they understood them.

The Michigan State Police deserves better treatment at the hands of our state government than these bills provide. The people of our state deserve the efficient police service which is available from the Michigan State Police.

I hope your newspaper will oppose these changes editorially and encourage your readers to write to their legislators.

Sincerely,
Ernest W. Nash
State Representative

New Water, Sewer Rates

In an effort to make the water department pay for itself, Tecumseh city council adopted new sewer and water charges in a 5 to 1 vote Monday night.

Council member Harold Easton cast the only "no" vote. Council member Jay Tressler was absent.

Average quarterly usage of 20,000 gallons under new rates will cost $22.20 or $7.40 per month, up from $17 per quarter.

Other increases include $15 during working hours and $25 on non-working hours for return service fees. Water deposits will be raised from $15 to $25 in city and $50 outside of city. Service fee for all non-emergency work, not city responsibility will be $10.

One reason for sharp increase is charges for operating wells and sewage treatment plant are rising. Estimated deficit for department in 1978-79 was $100,000.

Council's other alternative was increase millage, which would cause some taxpayers to pay disportionate amount in taxes compared to water usage.

Another method council rejected was transferring money from other departments, which would possibly reduce other services for a service that could pay for itself.

Strike Affects Area

General Telephone and striking members of the International Brothers of Electrical Workers Local 1106 are apparently at a standstill in negotiations.

Strike affects approximately 225 workers in the Adrian District, which includes the Tecumseh assignment and central equipment office on E. Chicago Blvd.

This is the first union sanctioned strike against GT, the second largest telephone company in Michigan. It began at 12:01 a.m. Monday, May 15. Pickets were active in Tecumseh this week.

Union notified the company it is ready to negotiate at any time, but neither the union or company position has changed.

Last meeting of bargaining committees was May 12 and 13 and did not result in new proposals.

Union is striking over forced overtime, a prime concern, improved hospitalization and paid dental, limited summer vacation schedule, job bidding procedure for in-company advancement.

Negotiations began March 27 with the three year contract scheduled to expire May 4. Contract was extended until May 13 so union could take a management proposal to membership for vote. Proposal was rejected.

Neither company nor union commented on how long strike might last. However, one union official stated that historically, telephone strikes are lengthy.

Business offices of General Telephone are closed, including the new Phone Mart in Adrian.

Dial service should continue normally, but services that require operator assistance such as directory assistance, credit card and collect calls will be somewhat impaired and repair and installation will be slowed, reported the company.

Lunch for 6 Schools

Starting with the next school year, lunch will be served in all six of Tecumseh's elementary schools.

The program is required by the state legislature and Tecumseh's school board approved the purchase of equipment to implement the program at Monday night's board meeting.

Asst. Supt. Gene Cooley said later that the state has approved a capital expenditure of $59,128 to purchase the equipment.

The state will reimburse the district for 100 percent of the costs required to implement the program.

Equipment required includes serving containers, utensils, pots and pans, ovens, refrigeration equipment and a truck for hauling food and supplies.

Three low bids for the equipment were accepted from ARA Services, Miesel Company and Brothers Bar and Restaurant Supply Center of Jackson.

A bid for the truck was accepted at an earlier board meeting.

At 6:30 p.m. there will be a dinner at Clintonian Inn for members of the Chamber of Commerce, Village Council, and anyone else who would like to meet the Beaverton officials. Reservations may be made with Rena Fitzpatrick.

Observe Heritage Day

CLINTON — Heritage Sunday, May 21 will be observed in Clinton United Methodist Church by the women's organizations during the morning worship at 11 a.m.

Several women will participate in a dialog during the worship and past presidents will be recognized.

Women participating by reading minutes from secretaries' minutes are Mildred Howdeman, Helen Dixon, Norma Zimmerman, Marjean Satterla, Ruth Ward, Virginia Proctor and Edith Swift. Sharon Scott will lead the dialog.

After the worship service, there will be a chicken pie potluck dinner, a tradition of the church.

First record of a women's organization in the Clinton Methodist Church was in 1868, when women organized to help the men officials of the church pay the pastor, redecorate church and parsonage and help meet the bills in general.

In 1873 a group called the "Sociable" was organized, met in member's homes and had church suppers, and socials such as oyster suppers, ice cream socials, chicken pie dinners, and meal and mush socials. All of this earned very small sums.

After the Civil War, the Women's Foreign and Home Missionary Societies were organized nationally and then officially recognized by the local church.

First records are of the Women's Home Missionary Society in 1906. They sent clothes and food to the frontier (northern Michigan) ministers and children's and old folks homes. The WFMS studied about the Far East and sent supplies and money to missionaries helped by the women.

In 1940 a new organization, the Woman's Society of Christian Service was formed, serving the same functions that all the previous organizations had.

When the United Evangelical Brethern and the Methodist Church merged in 1968, the name was changed to Women's Society of Christian Service.

In 1973 the WSCS and Wesley Service Guild, a professional women's organization in the church since 1921, joined forces and the women became known as the United Methodist Women.

You Are What You Eat

One of the first signs of warm weather is the reappearance of the barbecue grill. Here are some suggestions for your next cookout.

BARBECUE SAUCE

½ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup vegetable oil
2 (8 ounce) cans tomato sauce with cheese
¼ cup brown sugar
2 tbsp. vinegar
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper

Cook onions in oil until soft. Add rest of ingredients and simmer 10 minutes. Use as a barbecue sauce, marinade, or basting sauce either on barbecue grill or in oven. Good on poultry, beef or pork.

Potato salad is a great accompaniment to barbecued meat. For a change of taste, try hot potato salad.

HOT GERMAN POTATO SALAD

6 medium sized potatoes
5-6 slices bacon
one-third cup bacon fat
two-thirds cup onions
2 tbsp. flour
2 tbsp. sugar
1¼ tbsp. salt
½ tbsp. celery seed
pepper,
¾ cup water
⅓ cup vinegar

Boil potatoes in their jackets until tender. Cool. Peel and cube them. Fry bacon until crisp and set aside on paper towel to drain. Keep about one-third cup of bacon grease in frying pan and add the chopped onions and cook slow until onions are yellow.

Add flour, sugar, salt, celery seed, and pepper. Mix water and vinegar together and slowly stir in. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Pour over cubed potatoes. Crumble the bacon and toss lightly. Keep warm over hot water until ready to serve. Garnish with crumbled bacon, minced parsley or chives.

CUSTOMER INFORMATION FROM GENERAL MOTORS

HOW TO TELL WHEN YOUR CAR NEEDS A TUNE-UP

AND HOW TO BE SURE YOU DON'T PAY FOR MORE SERVICE THAN YOU NEED.

Remember the old Spring and Fall tune-ups? There was a time when GM cars needed tune-ups every year. But that was a long time ago. Since 1973, we've been building cars that don't need anywhere near as much routine maintenance as they used to.

Now, a lot of people are getting tune-ups they don't really need. Probably out of habit.

Break the habit, and you'll save yourself some money. The maintenance schedule and the owner's manual your GM dealer gives you with your new GM car will tell you exactly what scheduled maintenance is required and when. Some of the newer schedules may surprise you.

For example, spark plugs used to have to be changed every 12,000 miles. Now it's every 22,500 or 30,000, depending on which new GM car you bought. For most drivers that means changing plugs every two years instead of every year.

When you bought your first car, you probably changed oil every 1,000 miles. We upped it to 6,000 a few years ago; and now it's 7,500 on all new GM cars except diesels.

Or take distributor points and condensers. They never need replacing with GM's new high energy ignition system. It doesn't have any points or condensers.

If you do have trouble with your car, just fix what needs fixing. When you take your car in for service, tell the mechanic exactly what's happening. If it's hard to start "hot," but starts okay when it's "cold," say so. If it doesn't perform the way you expected, describe just how and where it doesn't live up to your expectations. Then it'll be easier for the mechanic to pinpoint what's wrong, and he won't have to make unnecessary repairs. That can save you time and money.

Some things have to be watched more carefully, depending on how and where you drive your car. For example, if you do a lot of driving on dry, dusty roads, you may need to change the air cleaner and oil filter more often than the maintenance schedule indicates. Remember, the maintenance schedule that comes with your car is based on average driving conditions.

If you have an older car that still needs an annual tune-up, what should it include? There are some basic things to be checked: spark plugs, points, condensers, idling speed, and drive belts.

It can't hurt to check the air cleaner and fuel filter, tire pressure, and brake fluid, either. And when you do take your car in for a tune-up, don't be shy. Find out exactly what you need and what you're getting for your money.

We're trying to make GM cars easier and more economical to service. We've been able to stretch out the maintenance intervals for new GM cars, which should reduce the cost of routine maintenance; and we're working on engineering improvements that should reduce the amount of required maintenance even further. We want to be sure our cars perform well for their entire lifetime, without costing you a lot of time and money in maintenance. That's better for you and better for us.

I wish to express my heartfelt thanks to my relatives, and good friends who remembered me with visits, gifts, flowers and cards during my long stay at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Especially, my daughters, Pat Coffey and Virginia Miller, and son-in-law, Bill and my six grandchildren and their husbands and wives for their sincere concern. Thanks also to Msgr. Memoriam

In loving memory of William McKenzie who departed this life May 16, 1977. We did not know the pain you had or hear your final sigh. We only know you passed away without a last goodbye. God gave us strength to face it and courage to bear the blow; But what it meant to lose you, no one will ever know.

Fund Increased

Asst. Supt. Gene Cooley informed the Board of Education Monday night that the district's Title I federal funds for remedial reading are being increased next year from $58,000 to $72,000.

The board then approved the replacement of one of the reading trailers which was originally purchased in 1966.

In addition, another teacher will be added to increase the remedial reading program staff to three.

In other action, the board approved the purchase of the American Book Company reading programs for students in kindergarten through third grade.

Curriculum coordinator, Wayne Kaiser, told the Board that a teacher committee reviewed instructional materials from several different companies, finally recommending the American Book Company program.

Kaiser went on to say that this program stresses phonetics in the lower grades, k-3, and comprehension in the high grades, 4-6.

The Board approved purchase of the materials for k-3 students only. If the program is successful, it will be approved and implemented for 4-6 grades next year.

Current text books in use are seven years old in k-3. Books are replaced every 5-7 years, Cooley said.

Teen Jobs Are Needed

Do you need some yard work done? Or perhaps some babysitting? The Barb Johnson Memorial Jobs for Teens Program will have young men and women between the ages of 13 and 19 available after June 10.

All you have to do is call 423-3708 between 9-4 Monday through Friday to hire a teen. Call one day in advance to assure a worker.

The Jobs for Teens Program was originated five years ago by the parents in the Tecumseh Drop-In Center. For the first three years, the program was run through the volunteer coordination of a few mothers.

In 1976, Barb Johnson and Gisela Gero came to the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary to ask them to take over. Since that time, the Auxiliary has run the program each summer.

After Mrs. Johnson died, the program was named in her honor for her hours of dedication.

Teresa Schmidt is chairman of the project and Laurie Foust has been working on publicity.

Applications for teenagers may be obtained at the high school and junior high school offices. Sign-up day will be held June 3 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Glass Room at the Community Center. Parents must accompany teen and sign a parental waiver form.

Some of the work the teens have experience in besides babysitting and yard work are window washing, light housekeeping, dish washing, car washing, garage cleaning, tutoring, pet and plant care while you are on vacation.

The Auxiliary hopes that the employer will pay a fair wage for the job offered, and does not mediate complaints.

The Tecumseh Answering Service will take calls for Jobs for Teens at 423-3708 after June 10. Entire project is funded by the Community Fund.

"Tecumseh residents can help us to provide Tecumseh teens with a profitable and busy summer," said Mrs. Foust, publicist.

MAYBE THE BEST — Coach Bill Croft may have the finest track team ever at Tecumseh High School, a fact best demonstrated Saturday at Milan when 10 Indians qualified for the state meet. Croft's team is undefeated in the league and has only one loss, an early season defeat to Adrian and one which would probably be reversed today. Coach Ed Oxley's girls haven't done as well record wise, but the overall team may be the school's best, and most of the girls will be back next year. Representing THS in the state will be Joni Tomecek, Bonnie Birchfield, Janel Mumme, and Lana Stein. Second row, Jim McKinney, Bert Wright, Robin Isom, Karen Wisner, Theresa Duhan, Anne Smoke. Third row, Jeff Anderson, Jeff Robideau, D.J. Biscupski, John Egbert, Greg Borton, Steve Medvecz and Bret Desermia. Not pictured is Kim Cantrell. (PHOTO BY KENT DOWNING)

5,100 Affected

Five thousand one hundred Tecumseh area customers were without telephone service last Thursday night and Friday.

A total of seven cables were cut in four different locations causing loss of service to 44,000 Lenawee County customers of General Telephone Company.

General Telephone Company offered a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the arrest of vandals who cut cables between Adrian and Blissfield Thursday night.

The cuts, along lines between Blissfield and Adrian, shut off long distance service for Clinton and Britton customers and restricted long distance service to Deerfield and Tecumseh.

Service was restored by 1:15 p.m. Friday after cables were repaired by management personnel.

It was one of 21 cases of vandalism against the strike-bound company facilities Thursday. There were 104 reports of vandalism since nearly 2,900 members of Local 1106, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers went on strike May 15.

Union leaders criticized the vandalism last Friday.

Award Night for HS Band

Nineteenth annual Tecumseh band awards banquet will be May 25, 6:30 p.m. at the high school cafeteria.

Seniors and other members of the band will be honored.

Band Booster officers will be elected.

Meal is potluck. Families are asked to bring a meat dish and dish to pass, table service. Coffee, tea and milk will be furnished.

MIKE ANDERSON RETIRING AS TRANSPORTATION SUPERVISOR

Mike Retiring After Supervising School Busses for 15 Years

Twenty-two years of service to the Tecumseh schools will end June 8th when Mike Anderson retires as transportation supervisor, a position held since 1963 when the schools built a bus garage and took over complete control of the busses.

Few people realize the task of the transportation supervisor. Today, it means managing 42 bus drivers and three mechanics and seeing that the busses roll five days a week, and on schedule.

It means being on the job at five o'clock in the morning and earlier, at times, in the winter months. Mike, along with Gene Cooley, assistant superintendent, had the responsibility of checking road conditions and determine if the classes were to be held or cancelled.

Mike started with the schools in 1957 as a bus driver. Six years later he was appointed transportation supervisor, a position created by the schools.

At that time there were 23 drivers and 16 busses. Today, the bus fleet is the largest in the county with 34 vehicles and 42 drivers.

After Mike retires and does some traveling, Duane Phillippi will become the schools' second transportation supervisor. Phillippi retired from the state police two years ago and is a former post Commander at Clinton.

Open Houses on Schedule

Tecumseh's celebration of Michigan Week May 20-27 continues with open houses as the highlights for the remainder of the week.

Wednesday, Livelihood Day was marked by open house at home of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Strong, 6995 Ridge Hwy. They showed their model train and rock collection until 5 p.m.

At 4 p.m. the Tecumseh Fire department demonstrated and answered questions at the S. Evans St. fire barn on smoke alarms and related home devices.

Tecumseh Public Schools are in the spotlight Thursday, Education Day with an open house at all area schools. Public is invited. Rick Montalm, assistant principal at the junior high school is chairman.

Elementary students will display their Michigan Week projects in merchants' windows. Meanwhile senior and junior students will visit Coldwater schools and Tecumseh city officials, led by Mayor Aden Mead, will tour Coldwater.

Industries will have an open house on Hospitality Day and Tecumseh's merchants are ready to welcome customers with bargains.

Tecumseh Products tours are at 9, 10 and 11 a.m. Fisher Body Division of General Motors Tecumseh plant will have an open house 12:30-3:30 p.m.

The Herald will also welcome tours from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon Friday. Most of the offset equipment, including the press, will be operating.

Tecumseh, Britton and Clinton CBers Club and Raisin Valley CBers will welcome all travelers at Tecumseh's entrances. Morgan Ford, chairman, was assisted by Bill Feight Jr. and Joe Hanna in planning the day.

Saturday, Suzann Gunder, chairwoman for Youth Day has planned a free safety film, courtesy of McDonald's and bicycle inspection at Adams Park, adjacent to city hall at 10 a.m.

Dave Froehlich of Tecumseh Sunoco bike shop will be on hand to help youngsters get their bicycles in shape for Monday's Memorial Day Parade.

McDonald's will give away a free five dollar certificate to one boy and one girl from those who attend Saturday's bike clinic.

Tecumseh's Town and Country Garden Club has volunteered to plant flowers downtown.

Tours Attract 2,500

Approximately 2,500 people toured Promenade the Past May 20 and 21. Even Saturday afternoon's rain did not prevent visitors from seeing the 10 historic buildings on the tour route. Almost 2,000 toured last year.

Visitors came from all over southeastern Michigan and northern Ohio as in previous two promenades. This year an increase in participation by Tecumseh area residents was noted.

"I never thought I'd be standing in line to see a house in Tecumseh," one anxious Tecumseh visitor was overheard.

Home tour guides were complimented for their preparedness and knowledge about the buildings. The concept of the tour was praised by first time visitors.

The Holloway Depot, 2501 Rogers Hwy., drew the most interest from visitors this year. Owned by John and Kathy Doerfler, it was the only building on tour not located in the downtown historic district.

One couple, who had toyed with the idea of purchasing one of the houses on tour, could not believe the restoration accomplished by "two kids."

Shawnee Squares and Rounds entertained on Shawnee St. both days.

Crafts were demonstrated by Elsie Helgren, Jennifer Reitke, both of Clinton and Ann Waterman of Tecumseh, rug hooking; Sue Prong of Tecumseh, quilling; Donna Service of Clinton, spinning and Henrietta Lindsley of Tecumseh, tatting.

The Promenade Barbershop Quartet entertained at the Stacy House, 710 W. Chicago Blvd., where lines were long. Members were Carlton and son Bill Cook, David Bauman and Kathi Johnstone, all of Tecumseh.

Promenade Trio of Vicki Wilson, Tecumseh sophomore flutist; Elizabeth Wilson, violinist and Bob Miller, cellist, all of Tecumseh, entertained at the James Vanzo home, 402 W. Chicago Blvd.

Winners in the Tecumseh theater fund raffle by Tecumseh players were Jonie Withrow, television; Marion Morse, hammock and R.B. King Jr., gift certificate, all of Tecumseh. Prizes were from Gambles in Tecumseh.

Leftover postcards from the tour will be on sale in downtown locations soon.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church served 180 people for its ham sandwich lunch last Saturday. Proceeds will benefit the church softball team.

GT Strike Continuing

Representatives of General Telephone Company management and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 1106 met May 23 with federal and state mediators.

Talks broke off May 13. Break in the 11 day stalemate came when federal and state mediators met with Richard L. Grandstaff, vice-president of personnel for GTE and David Ridgeway, president of local 1106 to discuss areas of possible agreement.

Mediators indicated another meeting would be held but did not say when.

Wednesday was the 10th day of the IBEW strike, the first union sanctioned strike in the company's history.

Talks broke off last week when disagreement surfaced over economic package offered by management and contract language.

$500 Theft Is Reported

Police investigated 11 complaints this week that ranged from dog bites to the theft of $500 in tools.

According to police reports, Martin R. Webster of 102 W. Potawatamie had locked his tools in his car Monday and left his car in his driveway. When Webster went to get his tools, they were gone.

May 18 — David J. Saxton of Tipton was arrested after police stopped him for having a brake light out at the Logan-Union intersection. The driver was charged with open intoxicants.

Candidates on Program

A group of Tecumseh parents have scheduled a meeting Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. at Tecumseh Acres School with school board candidates.

They plan to discuss problems the parents feel are associated with the average number of students in Tecumseh classrooms at each grade level.

Group feels that present class size of 30 students is too large. Parents want the Tecumseh school board to reduce class size to 26 children.

Parents want the board's commitment this year as classroom size is part of the teachers' three year contract, to be negotiated this year.

"We are not union affiliated. It is purely coincidence that parents' prime concern is class size," stated Mrs. Theodore Wilkins, one of the group coordinators.

Parents' group named itself Parents' Reform Offers Better Education. Initials spell PROBE, the purpose of the organization. Two earlier meetings were held in fall 1977.

Group feels that changes will result if more parents attend the meeting.

"I have been advised it is hard to convince people of Tecumseh to attend meetings, even in favor of their schools. I hope we can prove this statement is false," said Wilkins.

He is now retired and spends time during the summer at Gaylord. He enjoys collecting pictures of Michigan Elks and displaying his rock collection at many Michigan highway rest areas.

He and his wife travel almost 10,000 miles per year in their mini-home and promote Michigan and city of Tecumseh along the way.

How Can I Help a Child After Death of a loved One?

Reading books or phamphlets which describe how others have adjusted to death can often provide insights and understanding.

Studying these books help you to help the child and will suggest ways to communicate with the child effectively. Some of the basic books on this subject which we recommend are:

Learning to Say Goodbye by Eda LeShan

Telling a Child About Death by Edgar N. Jackson

Explaining Death to Children by Earl A. Grollman

Helping Your Child Understand Death by Anna W.M. Wolf

Death, Grief, Mourning, The Funeral and the child by William M. Lamers

Consult the local library for these. Discuss it with clergyman. Or call us. If you have any special concerns about children and death, please do call on us so we can share our professional understanding with you.

Exchange Students Need Homes

Each year more and more families are discovering a way to bring an international dimension to their lives. They are opening their homes to a teenager from another land.

Youth for Understanding's internation student exchange program is seeking families in Lenawee County who would like to host a student.

Host families provide food and housing, as well as love and understanding, while students provide their own spending money and medical insurance.

Your family can become one of many host families opening their homes and hearts to a student. Nancy Shumaker, area representative, is receiving student folders daily to match with prospective host families.

Two students not yet placed with a family are:

Luisa Elena Marin Lombelda is 18 from Ouito, Ecuador. She likes to swim, listen to music and read. She wants to be a secretary. Luisa is a middle child in a large family with five sisters and one brother. Her father is a lawyer and judge. Her mother works in a drugstore. Luisa says she likes to meet people with new and different customs.

Birgitte Marianne Lund will be 17 on Aug. 7. She is from Neorresundby, Denmark. Birgitte says she is a little bit shy and not talkative. She is fond of most people, animals and children. Her parents, brother and Birgitte enjoy traveling, theatre, cinemas and musicals.

Birgitte takes part in sports, scouts and plays the guitar. She knows English, German, Latin and French and is an A-student in her country. Birgitte would like an American family that has animals and likes music. She would also like brothers and sisters either younger or older.

If you would like more information about being a host family, contact Dave or Gloria Boozer at 265-5685, or Jacque Rolland at 456-7691.

Macon Montage

By Sharon Connors

MACON — Last Sunday afternoon by 2 p.m., the sun was shining on the Macon Cemetery for its annual Memorial Day program. Grounds were beautiful thanks to the work of a man known and loved by all; Clarence Hall.

Robert Osborne, new secretary of the Macon Cemetery Association, gave the opening remarks in which he invited all present to acknowledge Margaret Hall for her 50 years as secretary of the association.

All stood and applauded Margaret.

Osborne also acknowledged the assistance the Elwood Bush family has given the memorial program each year.

The Rev. Albert F. Raloff, pastor of the Macon Methodist Church, gave the invocation. Next the Macon Church Chancel Choir, directed by Nancy Fisher, sang two musical selections. They were accompanied by piano, brought in a pickup truck.

The Rev. B.O. Bashore gave an address entitled "What Makes the Difference."

In talking about Memorial Day tradition he acknowledged Clarence Hall, cemetery sexton for his more than three score years of caring for the graves. On Heritage Day of Michigan week, the Rev. Bashore's focused on the lives of forefathers. He told that those buried were responsible for the life enjoyed by others today.

He suggested people live as the forefathers, keeping America for those to come. He stressed the difference one simple life can make in shaping the future.

In closing he talked about the difference Christian religion can make and then read "El Envoy" by Rudyard Kipling. Dorothy Bush played taps.

Dean and Mary Lou Moore hosted a family dinner last Sunday at their Britton Rd. home. Guests included Richard and Joyce Moore and sons from Jackson, Ric and Meg Barker and their new daughter, Karrie Marie of Tecumseh, and Hamilton and Gwen Moore.

Hamilton and Gwen, formerly of Ridge Rd., have been in Harlingen, Texas since last October and are back for the summer. They returned to Michigan just one week after the birth of their first great-grandchild, Karrie Marie Barker.

Mamie Reid, mother of Mrs. Harold Ross, is a medical patient at Herrick Hospital. Guests in the Ross home over the weekend were Mrs. Ross' sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Parr of Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Don Davis is recuperating nicely at home following surgery at Herrick Hospital earlier this month. She was happy to get home in time for Mother's Day and her birthday which was celebrated May 13.

Members of the Macon Historical Society gave the Tecumseh "Promenade of the Past" a helping hand this past weekend. They furnished cookies and served as guides.

Macon youth group thanked everyone who cooperated with the paper drive. If anyone was missed contact the Swanton's at 423-3675, for pick up.

Youth group played ball for its regular meeting.

TAMA Elects New Officers

Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association has elected the Rev. David Fox, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, as association president.

Other officiers for the 1978-1979 year are: vice-president, the Rev. Raymond Warnick, Assembly of God; secretary-treasurer, the Rev. John Rathbun, Church of God.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church hosted the annual association banquet on May 19. This is a traditional treat for the wives night.

The Rev. Seal Janeway, departing pastor of the Missionary Baptist Church, was recognized for his years of service to the association.

Members honored him with expressions of affection and support, a booklet of Helen Steiner Rice's poems, and a pen and pencil set "so that every time you write something, you'll be reminded of us!"

T.A.M.A. has given considerable attention to community issues and concerns. An Ecumenical Vacation Bible School is scheduled for June 19-23, at St. Elizabeth's School, 9:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

At a recent meeting, a panel discussed the selection of books used in the schools and objections to some of them.

Due to the up-dated policy action of the school board and the school administration, the association took no action.

A long term study of pornographic displays, sales and public option for opposition brought to light these facts: Tecumseh has no anti-pornographic ordinance, except one covering indecent exposure and obscene language. There is no public display-minors ordinance.

The State of Michigan has a law "applicable and uniform throughout the state and all political subdivisions and municipalities in the state." This law deals with child abusive commercial material and activity.

Anyone with proof of the use of youths under 18 years old in commercial pornographic activity or material, may file a complaint with the local law enforcement agency for prosecution.

In an action of community interest, the association passed a resolution supporting reproductive health and family planning education in the public schools.

Following statement has been sent to Superintendent Robert S. Duhan, and to the Health Education Specialist of the Michigan Department of Education:

"We approve the plan and purpose of implementation of P.A. 226 of 1977.

"We commend the Michigan Department of Education for producing the implementing guidelines.

"We consider the guidelines to be realistic and acceptable.

The built-in criteria for instructors, instruction, and improvement thereof should alleviate many fears and provide desirable safeguards.

"We pledge our wilingness to cooperate and be involved in the Tecumseh School District implementing efforts, and to serve on the Advisory Board."

Elect Officers

Diana Henry was elected president of the Ridgeway Parent Teachers Organization at the May 15 meeting.

Other officers elected are: vice-president, Sylvia Korte; teacher vice-president, Linda Baaske; secretary, Sandee MacGeorge; treasurer, Linda Moody.

A floral bouquet was presented to outgoing president, Ardyth Schroeder for 18 years in the PTO.

A film and question and answer period conducted by Roger Hendricks was the program feature.

Kerby Speaks

Judge Yale Kerby spoke to a group of assembled Tecumseh High School students Monday morning on the importance of doing "your best at all times."

Judge Kerby proclaimed the "greatness of our state," possible only because "people people like you and me."

The speech was part of Tecumseh's Michigan Week activities. It was arranged by government day chairman Dick Erb.

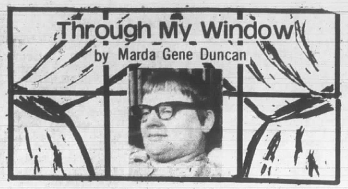
At the 10:30 a.m. service the following young adults will participate: Beth Butters, Sandy MacGeorge, Erik Mason, Lance, Julie and Jeff Sheldon, Andy Edson, Andrew Heglin, Kerry and Karl Hamilton, Tom Colson, John Getz and Susan Baaske. Public is invited.

Through My Window

by Marda Gene Duncan



We are all ready and waiting -- waiting -- waiting. The near-my-window feeders are piled high with what we hope are extra tasty tidbits. There are exciting birds in the neighborhood and, if the rosebreasted grosbeaks can visit Clif and Kate's feeders, there is no reason they can't move up the creek and visit ours.

Yes, imagine, rose-breasted grosbeaks! Males are outrageously gorgeous. Black head, back, wings and tail, white underparts and a large showy triangle of rosy red on the upper breast. Handsome and showy. Being grosbeaks the bill is large and broad and strong looking. It is a dull white color which shows in great contrast to the bird's black head.

In length the rose-breasted match their close cousins, the evening grosbeaks, and top the measure at about 8 inches. They do not travel in flocks at this time of year and are thus not as well known. The female rose-breasted must definitely take a back seat to her counterpart.

Whereas the lady evening grosbeaks are a far cry from the males, they are quite showy in comparison to the lady rose-breasteds. In fact,a female rose-breasted grosbeak looks like nothing more than a large over-grown sparrow. She is brown and buff striped — her large beak gives her away.

This time of year, of course, most of the birds are primarily concerned with selecting territories and choosing mates. The rose-breasted are no exceptions. According to the books the males are quite aggressive in their defense of the 'old home site'. Once the boundary lines are established the male settles down and is quite a co-operative parent.

With most of our songbirds, who show such a difference in coloring between the sexes, the brilliantly colored males have little to do with incubation. It is theorized that this is a matter of protection — being so brightly colored and thus easy to see, a male sitting on eggs would only draw attention to the next.

Male rose-breasteds discount this and actually fly in the face of convention. They not only put in their share of incubation time but are apt to sing while doing so.

Aside from his appearance, this grosbeak's song is one of its glories. All the bird books rave about it as do people who are familiar with it. Everyone agrees that it is similiar to a robin's song but much, much sweeter.

If ever the weather warms enough so that windows can be opened we shall have to listen to some bird records and perhaps even shoot a few outdoors. It would be fun to hear a rose-breasted and who knows, if the recording is good enough, perhaps we could get a neighborhood fight going.

Many years ago -- it might actually have been so long ago that it was our first encounter with a rose-breasted grosbeak -- there was one who spent several days in one of the creek-bank trees.

He apparently had run into a rough migratory flight north and needed some time to rest and recuperate. At least we like to think he recuperated.

For several days he stayed huddles on a branch near the trunk of a slender tree and what an exciting time for the bird watchers. He was in full view of both the kitchen and living room windows. More perfect looking could not have been wished for.

Finally one day he just left -- needless to say we wished him well and every spring since then have looked forward to seeing rose-breasted grosbeaks. Sometimes we do and sometimes we don't -- this spring we are thinking positive thoughts. Keeping an extra measure on the feeders, too.

Onsted Plans Family Day

Help Brenda Saturday

The Lenawee County Sheriff's Mounted Division will be among some 600 riders from across the state who will carry the mail on Saturday, June 10.

But unlike the $5 cost of sending a smaller Pony Express letter of the 1800's, the deputies will be delivering full ounce letters for only $1.

The Deputies are riding to aid a stricken girl, Brenda Gilbert of Hanover. With the deputies help, Brenda will be able to go on to college to study art.

Brenda is a senior at Hanover-Horton High, but she won't graduate this year. She has a progressive muscle disorder of her hips and legs.

Brenda has 11 brothers and sisters and her father has been on total disability for three years. Right now she can still climb stairs and take care of herself, but her illness makes it difficult to walk. Eventually, she won't walk at all.

Those wishing to send a letter by Pony Express, and in turn help Brenda, may contact any of the Lenawee mounted division's members. Local county riders will cover about 10 miles of route as 34 Michigan counties converge at Houghton Lake for a parade.

In the past, the ride has raised as much as $5,000. Until six years ago, the proceeds went to a charity. Then the deputies decided to select individual recipients who need help.

Patients Are Entertained

Five young adults with Susan Baaske gave the message of love in song and music to the patients of the Nursing Home last Sunday afternoon. Service was led by Dr. Laszlo Gero, pastor.

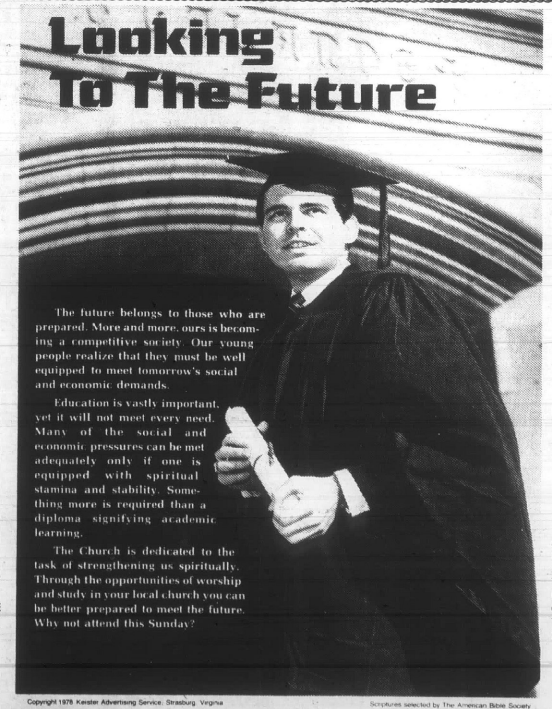
Looking To The Future



The future belongs to those who are prepared. More and more, ours is becoming a competitive society. Our young people realize that they must be well equipped to meet tomorrow's social and economic demands.

Education is vastly important, yet it will not meet every need. Many of the social and economic pressures can be met adequately only if one is equipped with spiritual stamina and stability. Something more is required than a diploma signifying academic learning.

The Church is dedicated to the task of strengthening us spiritually. Through the opportunities of worship and study in your local church you can be better prepared to meet the future. Why not attend this Sunday?

Memoriam

In loving memory of G. Allen Abner, who passed away 20 years ago, May 26, 1958. A heart of gold stopped beating, hard working hands at rest, God broke our hearts to prove to us, He only takes the best. Loved and missed by his family. 5-25p

In loving memory of Robert F. Stoutter, who passed away May 20, 1976. There is someone who misses you sadly, and finds the time long since you went. There is someone who thinks of you always, and tries to be brave and content. Gone is the face we loved so dear. Silent the voice we loved to hear; 'Tis sad, but true, we wonder why. The best are always the first to die. Sadly missed but not forgotten by his wife, daughters, sons-in-law, and grandchildren. 5-25p

Federal Dollars at Work Here

By Kathy Brown

One of the ways that the city of Tecumseh has spent five percent of its $90,000 of federal sharing money ($4,400) since 1974 has been to further the work of the Region II Community Action Agency, (CAA).

In return, the agency has made Tecumseh one of its priority areas in its multi-service work to an estimated 1,500 eligible persons in the greater Tecumseh area.

CAA opened a full-time office in Tecumseh in space provided by St. Peter's Episcopal Church. (Rotating staff opened the first local office in Oct. 1977.)

Tecumseh staffer Sandy Faler is busy getting out in the community to identify those in need and the kinds of needs and to mobilize services and inform the needy about services available to them.

Tecumseh has also benefited with 41 people employed to date in the Manpower On-the-Job Training program,a home winterization program and ongoing legal and medical services to eligible persons.

The Region II Community Action Agency is a multi-service agency that offers legal, medical, job replacement and job training services, outreach and referral to low income of Lenawee County.

According to the 1970 census, seven and one half percent of the families in Lenawee County have an income of less than $3,000. But the target group that CAA services includes more persons because eligibility is determined on basis of family income and number of persons in the family.

CAA was designated the official advocate for the poor of Lenawee County by the Lenawee County Commissioners. Chris Moran is Lenawee coordinator of CAA. Business office and medical clinic is located at 848 Hock Ave., Adrian. Moran was with the agency when it started in 1968 as a local agency.

A total of 24 full-time employees work with the agency. Seven are paid by local contributions. Other positions are granted by Lenawee County CETA office. Other sources of funding besides the city of Tecumseh, are the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, Sage Foundation and Lenawee United Way. A $6,000 state grant was given for services only, at the Tecumseh Office. Lion's share of the budget is the manpower training funds, special federal revenue sharing monies through the Department of Labor. Total 1978 CAA budget is $700,000.

Part of the CAA's job is to mobilize community resources to solve problems of poor. Agency's response to needs in the Tecumseh community are an encouraging example of how an agency like CAA can work to facilitate a solution to the needs of all segments of the population.

Employees and Tecumseh businesses have benefited in the agency's Manpower On-the-Job training program. It is designed to place trainees on work sites to be trained by the business' staff. Program reimburses 50 percent of the employee's training wage during training. Agency provides applicant and employers with screening and orientation before work begins, special counseling and supportive services during the first 30 days. Priority is given to unemployed heads of households.

"The advantage of the OJT program," explained Moran," is that it is not income maintenance, but an opportunity to get people self-sufficient. The poor do want to work. They do want to plan for the future. They want to be known as individuals," he stated.

In Tecumseh 41 persons have been employed in OJT to date. Employers are Meyers Industries, Jiffy Plastics, Erb Chevrolet and Britton Carry-Out. At Meyers Industries, 30 were employed to date, 10 were placed permanently and 19 are still in training. Placement rate is 99 percent in this case, stated Moran.

An average of $1,500 is available for training each person in the OJT program. Tecumseh has seen $61,500 of its federal tax dollar returned to the community for OJT.

Eligible Tecumseh area people are also benefiting from medical and legal services. Medical clinic located at 848 Hock Ave., Adrian has a pharmacy, lab and three examination rooms.

Dr. Gordon Guild, Dr. JuChul Rhee and Dr. Carlton Cook, Tecumseh physicians are three volunteer doctors who rotate at the clinic Mondays beginning at 6:30 p.m. until the last patient is seen. Average is 22 per night.

Pam Staup, L.P.N. of Tecumseh, is the program's health coordinator. She does health counseling, referrals and home visits.

Also important to the program are the volunteer nurses, interviewers, counselors and paraprofessionals.

Legal services involve the volunteerism of Tecumseh attorneys Bud Crudder, James Dailey, Ken Crause and Joseph Conklin.

Tecumseh was established as a priority for 20 home winterizations for those who qualify according to income eligibility. About eight people have already taken advantage of this assistance on a first come first service basis.

For more information on eligibility for any one of the CAA services, contact Sandy Faler at the Tecumseh office, 423-5129 or the Adrian office, 263-7861.

CRUSHED TO THE FLOOR — The Wednesday afternoon storm last week was worse than normal for Velma J. Royer of 902 N. Union. The wind toppled a huge tree on her car while parked unoccupied at the corner of Pottawatamie and Pearl. Wires were down and the fire department was called in case of fire. Consumers Power was contacted to disconnect the cables before the tree could be removed. (PICTURE BY KENT DOWNING)

Local Jaycettes Win Auxiliary Awards

Tecumseh's Jaycee Auxiliary and nearby Clinton auxiliary received several honors at the May 5-7 state convention held in Grand Rapids Pantlind Hotel and Civic Center.

Vickie Bush, 1977-78 president of the Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary, was named outstanding president in the state for size of chapter. This is the first time this state honor has come to Tecumseh.

Barbara Myers, current treasurer of the Tecumseh auxiliary and president-elect, was named one of five outstanding Jaycettes from across the state. This is one of the highest honors in the auxiliary. Claire Helms of Tecumseh was the last local auxiliary member to receive this honor.

The Tecumseh Auxiliary received the first place travel trophy for the group with the largest percentage of members attending the convention for the distance traveled.

Auxiliary received the second place award for auxiliary of the year for its size in the state.

For its joint "M. Night," membership project with the Tecumseh Jaycees, the auxiliary received third place for project of the year.

Sharon McGill of the Clinton Jaycee Auxiliary was elected external executive vice-president for the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary from the district.

Marjorie Ball of Tecumseh was elected state recording secretary. She served as appointed corresponding secretary. McGill and Ball were elected by majority vote and installed at the awards luncheon may 6.

Clinton received first place auxiliary of the year, for second year in a row.

Sharon McGill was recording secretary and received the presidential award from Sue Pogarch of Taylor, state president, for duties performed in state office.

She also received the "Miss Congeniality" award for Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary executive board. This award was won by Marjorie Ball last year.

There are 188 local auxiliary chapters and 3,500 members. Over 600 state auxiliary members attended the weekend.

18 Tracksters Qualify for State Meet

Boys Track

Tecumseh's tracksters went into Saturday's regional competition eyeing a very fast Dearborn Heights Robichaud squad and came out of the track competition with very big smiles.

They took first place, scoring 46 points and qualifying in 10 events. Robichaud came in second with 30 points. 18 teams competed.

Coach Bill Croft was understandably "very pleased" with the team's performance. They were outscored by Robichaud by only one point in the running events and came out of the field events with 19 points to the second place team's one.

D.J. Biscupski took first in the pole vault at 13'1"; Jim McKinney won the high jump at 6'3"; and Kim Cantrell captured first in the 440 with a time of :51.

Other qualifiers were:

Second place: Bret DesErmia in the long jump, 21'5½"; 440 relay team of Jeff Robideau, John Egbert, Tom Wright, Jeff Anderson, a rain soaked time of :45.9.

Third; Steve Medvecz in the 800, 1:58.2 and mile, 4:31, relay of Robideau, Egbert, Anderson, Kim Cantrell, 1:32.7; Jim McKinney, 14.9 in the high hurdles.

Britton Drops Pre-District

The Britton baseball squad dropped a pre-district game to Madison Wednesday, went on to lose another game and win one game this week.

Against Madison, Britton lost 4-1 in a game that proved to be a pitcher's dual if not for six Britton errors and two Madison errors. Madison scored all four of its runs in the third inning when Britton committed five of its errors.

Randy Smith was the losing pitcher, allowing seven hits.

Greg Fanslau and Troy Bailey each got one hit for Britton. Britton's lone run came on two errors and a stolen base.

In Friday's game against Whitmore Lake, the Tories' bats claimed 14 hits as they beat Whitmore Lake 8-1.

Greg Fanslau was the winning pitcher, allowing six hits in seven innings, while striking out five, walking one. He led the hitting attack with three. One of his hits was a two run double in the third inning.

The Tories added two runs in the fifth and three more in the sixth. Ken Stotler led the attack in the sixth with a two-run triple.

Troy Bailey, Stotler, Terry Benedict and Chris Kimerer each had two hits for Britton.

On Monday, errors plagued Britton in the fifth inning as three unearned Dundee runs crossed home plate. They were Britton's only errors, but more than enough to beat Britton with two earlier and later runs.

Denny Kimerer was the losing pitcher, giving up seven hits, striking out four and walking none.

The Tories collected five singles. Fanslau was responsible for the only Britton rbi.

Britton is now 3-9 for the season.

11-Day Layoff Aids Baseballers

Tecumseh's baseballers came off an 11 day layoff Thursday to play the best game of their current season. As a result, they will host Saline in pre-district play next week.

The Indians beat Willow Run 6-1 behind the one hit pitching of Dale Allen and bats of five different players.

Tecumseh jumped in front of Willow Run when Butch Harvey and Dave Perry, the Indian's leadoff batters, each hit home runs in the first. Indians picked up two more runs in the fourth and sixth innings.

Besides Harvey and Perry, Dorman Fredrick doubled, Dale Allen singled and Kevin Bater had a two rbi single.

While the defense was behind Allen in pre-district play, Scott Schafer probably pitched as good a game last Friday, but the Indians lost. Every Indian error cost a run.

The Indians lost that game to Monroe Catholic Central 5-4. Schafer allowed seven hits, walked five and struck out four. Schafer also had three of the Indian's nine hits. Randy Halvin and Dale Allen each had two hits.

Tecumseh committed six errors on their nine hits and CC had two errors.

On Monday of this week, the Indians committed as many errors, six, but ended up on top of New Boston Huron 8-1.

The Indians gave Huron the first run of the game in the first inning on three errors. The Indians then settled down defensively and offensively scored in the first and twice in the second inning.

After the second inning, it was a scoreless pitcher's dual.

Allen was the winning pitcher for the Indians with four strike outs, one walk. He gave up three hits. Tecumseh scored on five walks, two hits from Schafer, and one from Corley and Ron Smith.

The Indians are now 5-10, 3-6 in the league.

Win Two, Lose One

Britton's softball squad split a doubleheader with Whitmore Lake last Thursday and scored 17 times Monday to beat Madison.

In the Whitmore Lake game, Britton dropped the first game 14-6 and took the second 9-8 as the league's two powers battled it out.

The Tories out hit Whitmore Lake nine to five in the first game, but could not overcome the Trojan's nine run first inning. Janene Schultz led the Tories with three hits, including a triple.

Schultz again led the Tories in the second game, getting three hits, including a triple. Lisa Campbell was the winning pitcher.

Britton led all the way in the second game, but was out hit nine to five.

In Monday's game, Britton collected only four hits, but scored 17 times on Madison. Final Tally was 17-13.

Britton scored eight times in the third inning of the Madison game and refused to give up the lead. Jodi Smith was the winning pitcher for Britton, striking out two and walking five.

Britton's record now stands at 7-2 in the Tri-County league.

Out Hit . . . But!

Tecumseh's girls out hit, but just could not out score league-leading Monroe St. Mary on Friday. Final tally was 8-12.

Karen Bunch led in hitting, going three for four. Cindy Adams and Gloria Fosbender each had two hits in their four times at bat.

LuAnn Harvey was the losing pitcher. Working four innings, she struck out three, walked seven, allowed five hits and 10 runs. Sandy Humphries relieved for three innings. She walked one, struck out three, allowed two runs and two hits.

Tecumseh's squad committed four errors to St. Mary's one. The girls had 11 hits to St. Mary's seven.

Tecumseh's record dropped to 7-6 and 4-5 in the league.

Lose 3-1

Tecumseh's freshman squad dropped a close game to Northwest Thursday 3-1.

Jim Bartenslager drove in the only Indian run with a single, and increased his hitting streak to eight games.

Two throwing errors proved to cost the game for the Indians as Tecumseh's Derek Nahabedian pitched well, but was tagged with the loss.

LEADING OFF... at first was Scott Schafer and he was nearly picked off. Schafer went two for three in Tecumseh's game against New Boston Monday. Final tally was 2-1, in favor of the Indians.

Weaklys Close Harry's Cafe

Harry and Dolly Weekly, owners of Harry's Cafe, closed their restaurant Tuesday after operating the business for the past 10 years.

They purchased the restaurant from Pearl Meyers after Mr. Weakly left the Tecumseh Club, where he was manager for approximately 20 years.

2nd 'Quality' for Fisher

Tecumseh's Fisher Body Trim facility was the site for the presentation of its second Quarterly Quality Award by executives of Fisher Body Division-General Offices, Warren, on May 24.

The award represents the highest quality among the division's five interior trim operations for the third quarter of the 1978 model year. It is the second consecutive quarter that the local facility has earned the prestigious award.

Making the presentation for the division was George E. Hooten, general director of reliability and Edmund T. Henry, general factory manager. Accepting the banner, in a ceremony held in the plant and attended by the employees, were William J. Polk, plant manager, and W.J. "Jim" Gillespie, director of quality control.

The Tecumseh facility, in addition to accumulating the best average for the past two quarters, established a new all-time high mark for trim plants during the January audit and has attained eleven monthly quality achievement awards during the competition period of the 1977-78 model years.

Further recognition for plant excellence in quality performance was made by the division on May 1, 1978 with its being named a member of the "135" Club, for which a special quality achievement award certificate was bestowed the Tecumseh Plant.

The Tecumseh trim plant daily produces some 2,750 interior trim assemblies for GM's intermediate sized Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac car lines for delivery at assembly plants throughout the continental United States and in Canada.

Refreshments were served to employees to help celebrate the current receipt of the quarterly quality banner award following the in-plant ceremonies.

Delbert E. King, of 800 River Acres, was a member of the class of 530 Masons from 11 southeastern Michigan counties to receive Scottish Rite Freemasonry's 32nd degree at a two-day reunion, May 12 and 13, at the Detroit Masonic Temple.

You Told Us

By Kathy Brown

"You can tell a happy biker by the bugs on his/her teeth," so goes the latest bumper sticker extolling the virtues of this popular Michigan sport. My husband, Mike and I tested out the theory and the I-275 bicycle path between Carleton and Monroe Saturday afternoon. We found a lot of happy bikers, and mosquitoes at the end of the trail.

Janice Albright and Margaret Furry of Tecumseh participated in Operation Greentree at YMCA Storer Camp near Napoleon recently. Over 100 youth volunteered to transplant trees and shrubs, mulch around them and build a new bird blind in the girls' camp. They created a new wood-chip path in the boys' camp, planted myrtle ground cover and picked up trash on all surrounding roads.

Roger Proctor, chairman, thanked all who participated and planned Michigan Week, May 20-27. The Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce had charge of the plans again this year.

Tecumseh Township's Pearl Mesta, Pat Lamb and her husband, Gordon, hosted guests including Tecumseh and Coldwater officials after the Michigan Week banquet Tuesday night for an impromptu after dinner drink. Earlier in the day, Pat, the 1978 Tecumseh Promenade the Past Chairwoman, guided officials on a mini-tour of the historic district.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Covell entertained 40 friends and relatives at a picnic Sunday, for their son, Richard and family from Escanaba. They visited for the holiday weekend. Guests were from Tecumseh, Clinton, Saline, Jackson and Indiana and Colorado.

Persistence paid for Skip Johnstone when he became the lucky winner on a radio station give away. After countless attempts at dialing long distance, trying to be the designated caller, he finally beat the odds and got through at the right time. For his efforts he will see the group "America" at Pine Knob June 3.

In last week's story of Tecumseh winners in the Humane Society pet show, Jackie Johnstone was identified as Jackie Johnson. Her dog, Susie, won a blue ribbon for an unusual trick.

Susie's trick consisted of balancing a dog biscuit on top of her nose until she was told "Okay". She then flipped the biscuit into the air and caught it in her mouth.

Even more surprising than the trick itself is the fact that Susie is unabashed about performing for strangers. Perhaps it comes from living in a home of Tecumseh Players all her life.

Prom night can be hectic for the entire family as any mother can tell you. Ann Krauss, Faraday employee, had an especially busy night.

Three sons, John Barton, Philip Krauss II and Craig Krauss, seniors at Columbia Central, attended their school's prom last Saturday at the Sheraton, Jackson. Part of the fun was finding the eggs nested in three bouquets in the refrigerator and organizing the pick up and return of the tuxedos.

Ann and her husband Philip, chaperoned. But the piece d'resistance was the chauffeur driven limousine John hired. It was a shock to his date and her mother. The Krauss family resides in Brooklyn.

Prom night was also busy for Tecumseh senior Cindy Egli. She was seventh runner-up in the Michigan state finals of the National Teenage Pageant at Pease Auditorium, Ypsilanti. She was one of 19 semi-finalists from 124 Michigan candidates. After the finals at 10:30, Cindy and her escort Bruce Hughes, managed to attend their high school prom in Ann Arbor the same night.

Negotiations Scheduled by GT-Union

Bargaining committees for General Telephone and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers were scheduled to meet May 31 in Grand Rapids, for the first time since negotiations broke off May 13. IBEW struck the company May 15.

Break in the 11-day stalemate came May 23, after mediators invited Richard L. Grandstaff, vice-president of personnel for GTE and David Ridgway, business manager for Local 1106, to meet and discuss areas of possible agreement.

At the conclusion of the luncheon meeting, held in Grand Rapids, the mediators announced that a meeting of the full bargaining committees would be held.

When talks between General Telephone and the IBEW broke off, the basic disagreements concerned the economic package offered by management and certain contract language.

Is it wise to plan my own funeral?

It was the Earl of Warwick who said there is nothing more certain than death and nothing more uncertain than the time of dying. He would be prepared for death at all times, he states, and his preparedness would not make him die the sooner, but the better.

This individual insight is very enlightening and practical. We have pre-planned funerals with many members of our community who share some of these same sentiments. Many have expressed great relief in their foresightedness. They say it's a comfort to know everything will be well-handled, and will cost no less and no more than you want it to be.

Rather than permit a third party to arrange things or cause your loved ones the anguish and painful burden of funeral details, you may wish to plan your own funeral down to the smallest details.

There are no amateurs on our staff. We are professionals in funeral services. Our experience provides you with advance counsel in your own best interests. Our aim is your comfort. Call or stop by for details - we can provide you with a variety of plans to suit your cost and personal requirements.

You Are What You Eat

Here is another Michigan dessert, made from Michigan products. It is a delicious Rhubarb Cobbler from Mary Ann Camren. Honey makes it excellent.

RHUBARB COBBLER

3 cups rhubarb cut in 1 inch pieces
¾ cup honey
butter or margarine
Topping:
1½ cups sifted whole wheat, enriched flour
1 teaspoon baking powder dash of salt
½ cup butter
¾ cup honey
One-third cup milk
1 egg

Spread rhubarb and honey in buttered 11x7 inch baking dish. Dot with butter. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in butter until mixture resembles cornmeal. Stir in honey, milk and beaten egg. Spread over rhubarb. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

It is the time of year again for weddings, graduations, and reunions. Here is a pretty gelatin dessert for those special occasions.

RIBBON GELATIN

1 (3 ounce) red gelatin
1 (3 ounce) lime gelatin
1 (3 ounce) orange gelatin
1 (3 ounce) lemon gelatin
2 envelopes Knox gelatin
2 cups milk
1 cup sugar
1 pint sour cream
1 teaspoon vanilla

Prepared flavored gelatins separately, dissolving each in ¾ cup hot water and ¾ cup cold water. Mix the Knox gelatin in ½ cup cold water. Bring to a boil and add the 2 cups milk. Blend in sugar, sour cream and vanilla.

Grease a 9x13 inch pan. Layer flavored gelatin in pan and chill until set. Top with ¼ of the sour cream mixture. Continue to layer, alternating the flavored gelatin with the sour cream mixture.

Each layer should be set but not firm before proceeding with the next layer.

This dessert is not difficult, but it is a little bit time consuming, having to wait for the layers to thicken. This makes a very striking dessert. Cut into squares to serve.

MINUTEMAN — Duncan Oliphant of Tecumseh accepts a Michigan Week Governor's Award from Gov. William G. Milliken at colorful ceremonies May 25 at the capitol in Lansing. Twenty-five citizens received Michigan Minuteman citations for regularly taking a minute to speak up for their state.

Young Readers Summer Program

"Young readers, don't let this summer slip by without reading! Go Bananas over reading," advised Tecumseh librarians.

The Tecumseh Public Library summer reading program begins June 12. All you have to do is read 10 library books before the program ends Aug. 23. "But why stop with 10? Read on" said the librarians. For each 10 books you read, you get a certificate and a banana to give to our giant monkey.

Children who can't read get their certificate and banana by having 10 books read to them.

"This summer will be a good time to catch up on the lates books. Every week the library receives new fiction and nonfiction books for its readers. Amaze your friends with all the things you learn this summer," said children's librarian Mary Beth Reasoner.

Story hour for preschool and early elementary students will be on Wednesdays from July 5 to Aug. 23, 1:30-2:30 p.m.

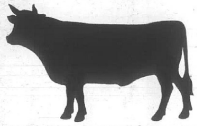
A&P meat is tender. Because A&P standards are tough.

You judge meat by the way it cooks and tastes when you get it home.

We never forget that simple fact at A&P.

Great eating is the single standard to all the meat we buy and sell. And, since we've been feeding Americans for more than 100 years, we've developed quite a bit of expertise in choosing just the right meat for our A&P stores.



Let's start with beef.

For beef to taste good, it has to come from a good animal.

That's why we've set up strict standards for choosing beef.

We begin by buying only Western beef. From grain-fed cattle. And that grain is mostly corn.

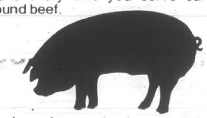
Only then does the meat have the bright red color, the firmness and the marbling that means juicy eating.

What about age?

Our buyers choose only yearling beef. Young beef is tender beef. And our beef has to cook up tender.

It's our buyers who are tough. Not our beef.

You taste the results every time you serve our steaks, roasts, and freshly ground beef.



Let's talk about Pork.

Our young porkers have been raised on grain. And that grain is mostly corn.

The meat should be bright pink. With a thin covering of firm white fat. Bones should be red and porous. And the whole finish should actually sparkle.

What about hams?

Ours are top quality No. 1 hams.

Sugar cured and fully cooked with real smokehouse flavor. And always well trimmed and cut.

You'll see everything from back ribs to whole hams in the "Country Farm Pork Store" section of your local A&P.

All about Chicken.

One of the secrets of tasty chicken is freshness.

At A&P, we buy birds from nearby suppliers. So they're as fresh as you can possibly buy.

And these chickens have been raised with tender eating in mind. Their diet is soybean meal and corn. And they're pampered and kept confined when they're growing.

We choose birds that weigh 2¼ lbs. and up because that gives you the best meat-to-bone ratio.

And our chickens are shipped chilled. But not frozen.

Look for the date on each chicken package in the meat case. It's one more assurance of our chickens' freshness.

Why our meat is inspected four times.

There are many supermarkets who stop with the government inspection for wholesomeness.

But we only start there.

All our meat and poultry is inspected at the packer, once more at the distribution centers, and once again when it reaches our store.

Four pairs of eyes are better than one.

And they'll turn down anything not quite up to standard.

That's four times more assurance of buying the kind of meat and poultry that lives up to your standard.

It's got to be good. Or it will never get into our meat case.

Care and handling. And why it's so important.

To stay fresh, meat must stay cold.

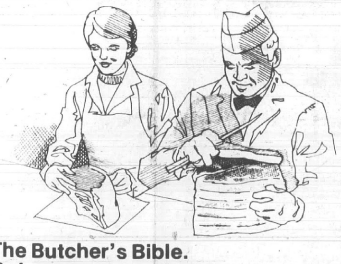
That's why we ship our meat to the stores in refrigerated trucks. With the temperature carefully controlled at 32° - 35°.

Any higher might mean a chance to spoil.

Any lower would freeze it. And that should be your option when you get the meat home.

And we follow through sanitation standards to assure cleanliness and purity in handling meat from the packers to our store meat case.

Clean is beautiful.



The Butcher's Bible. Or how we cut and trim.

Every butcher in every one of our stores follows our meat-cutter's guide.

It's a sixty-four page book, crammed with precise instructions on the best way to cut every cut.

Our butcher trims away excess bone, fat and waste. So when you pay for meat, you get meat.

But value is only part of the story.

There's a way to cut meat so that it cooks up at its best. Our butchers use this skill with every cut.

We call it cook-ability.

You'll call it delicious.

Ask the man who knows.

You're going to have some questions about meat. No matter how many years you've been shopping and cooking.

Your A&P Butcher Shop manager is a meat expert. He'll be happy to talk to you—about the right cut for your favorite recipe. Or how many pounds it takes to feed eight people. And he'll gladly cut something you don't see in the meat case.

It's even better than an old-fashioned butcher shop.

Because the meat is our meat.

And the standards are our standards.

After all this, a money-back guarantee.

If you've read this far, you have a pretty good idea of our high meat standards.

But we don't leave it at that.

The meat we sell you must meet your standards.

Or we'll give you your money back.

It's that simple.

Got a question about meat? Ask the man who knows.

Which cut is more tender . . . rib steak or chuck steak? Why is there a difference in price between top round and bottom round? Which is leaner . . . ground round or ground chuck? What is the best beef for fondue? What is the best roast for a slow-cook pot? How long can cooked beef be frozen? Is it wise to refreeze thawed, uncooked beef?

A&P's butchers answer these questions and many more every day of the week. They're glad to help you, because then they know you'll take your purchase home and cook it right. You'll be happy with your meat purchase . . . and so will we.

Clinch Spot

Clinton clinched a spot in the district softball tournament last Saturday when it stopped Ida 8-4. Clinton hosts the tournament this Saturday.

Janet Pellow and Gail Hathaway both had two hits for Clinton.

The game was not the easiest Clinton has played as they needed a six-run rally in the sixth inning to gain the victory.

Sue Richter was the winning pitcher for the Skins.

Clinton's girls split a double header with Blissfield last Wednesday.

Clinton was blanked in the first match against Blissfield, 11-0. Eunice Ball and Ronda Douglas got the only two hits for Clinton.

Marsha Camfield suffered the defeat and was relieved in the first inning by Kathy Gibson.

In the second match against Blissfield, Clinton put five runs across in the first inning and went on to win.

Gibson claimed two of Clinton's hits while Sue Richter was the winning pitcher.

The split eliminates both teams from the LCAA race as Manchester has an 8-4 record to both team's five losses.

In Clinton's 16-15 win over Britton, the Tories scored a 13-run third inning behind the bats of Patty Armstrong with a three run triple, and Judy Frayer with a two run, home run.

The Skins came back with five runs in the fourth and eight in the sixth before scoring a pair in the seventh that gave them the victory.

Chapel Toured at Cemetery

CLINTON — The Memorial Day parade in Clinton was marked by an unusually small turnout of spectators, although the American Legion Post and other local scout units were well represented in the line of march.

At Riverside Cemetery, the Rev. Thomas Kruchkow, speaker, posed the question, "Who are our heros today?"

He reminded his listeners that today's heros may lack the courage and selflessness of those fallen heros of the country, who gave their lives for their fellowmen, that their loved ones might live in peace.

After the ceremony the newly restored chapel in the cemetery was opened to visitors.

Built in 1910-13, through the subscription raised by the Clinton Culture Club, the stone building had fallen into disrepair and was used only for storage of equipment until Sexton Joe O'Donnell started a restoration project.

Through many donations of pulpit, lamps, candlesticks, chairs, altar railing, and paintings, the small snactuary has been carpeted and now resembles its original state.

Newest addition is a beautifully handcrafted oak altar made by Olen Swaney of Tecumseh.

A dedication of the chapel is planned later this summer.

Visitors Feted

CLINTON — Visitors from the village of Beaverton were hosted by the Clinton Area Chamber of Commerce at the Michigan Week Mayor Exchange dinner, May 22 at the Clintonian Inn, with 25 persons attending.

Beaverton guests included Mayor and Mrs. Bernard Allen, City Manager Wilbur Freer and Chief of Police, Guy Rushford.

Gifts and key to the village of Clinton were presented to the honored guests.

Fall Festival chairman Howard Oesterling gave an invitation to attend Clinton's Festival, Oct. 6, 7, 8.

State Police Trooper Howard Swabasch gave an informative talk on pending State legislation, which allegedly could reduce the role of the Michigan State Police to state highway patrol duty only, by authorizing increased funds and crime duties to county sheriff's departments.

3 Candidates, Two Seats

CLINTON — Three candidates are seeking the two four-year positions on the board of education of Clinton Community Schools at the June 12 election.

Their resumes and reasons for wanting to serve on the board are as follows:

VIRGINIA C. DAVIS

Virginia C. Davis and husband, John, have resided at a farm at 10337 Lima Center Rd., Bridgewater Township since 1966.

They have four children, three who have graduated from Clinton High School, and son, John, who is now in seventh grade.

Mrs. Davis is a graduate of Milan High School and is a rural carrier for the Manchester post office.

She is a member of the board of trustees of the United Church of Christ and served as superintendent of the church school there for many years.

She explained that she feels mothers often know more about what is going on in school than fathers do, and that a woman could offer a different viewpoint on the school board.

She said she is interested in a quality basic education program, however she would like to have all new programs cost evaluated, because of the high property tax valuations, which are forcing farmers and senior citizens out of their homes.

She'd like to see more of the positive things about the schools communicated to the public.

THOMAS STADLER

Thomas Stadler, 201 Bartlett St., has lived in Clinton all his life and is a graduate of Clinton High School. He attended Jackson Junior College and Cleary Business College.

He operates his own professional dry cleaning business at Saline.

He and wife, Jackie, have a son and daughter in Clinton Elementary and Middle Schools.

He serves on the board of the Clinton Community Athletic Development Program (CCADP).

He said he felt that when parents have children in school, they become more interested in the schools.

"It's a shame" when school board candidates are unopposed, he said. Voters should have a choice of candidates, Stadler said.

JOHN HOELZER

John Hoelzer resides at 203 Coman St. He is a graduate of Clinton High School and a graduate of Michigan State University with a BA in accounting. He operates Irish Hills Meat Co.

John's wife, Mary, operates a local nursery school and they have two sons, Clinton, 11 and Matt, 8, in Clinton Schools.

John is a member of United Church of Christ, Clinton Masonic Lodge and serves on the board of Clinton Little League.

He said he believes strongly in a good basic education, with emphasis on reading, writing and arithmetic.

500 Feted at Mel's

BRITTON — Eighth annual hog roast was featured at Mel's Britton Hotel Memorial Day with approximately 500 people.

Three hogs were roasted on a handmade barbecueing machine. Hogs were raised by local farmers for the special roast.

Along with plenty of good eating, two bands, one inside the building and one outside, provided music for dancing. Bands were Rene and the Good Times from Detroit plus Studenka Bros. from Metamora, Ohio. Several local musicians and Polka Hall of Fame members provided their musical talents.

People came from Canada, Swarty Creek, Detroit, Flint Pontiac, Ann Arbor, Russford and Cleveland, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

Mel Simecek, owner of the Britton Hotel since 1969, is one of the few ethnic gathering places of its type in the state. Czech, Polish and German people find Mel's a place which represents a bit of homeland.

Public is invited to several events at Mel's Hotel each year, such as the hog roast on Memorial Day; beef roast on July 4; and a chicken barbecue on Labor Day. All this with a big helping of Polka and Czek music for your dancing pleasure.

Eight Capture Firsts in ATII

Tecumseh fared very well Friday as eight tracksters finished on top of the ATII standings in Adrian. Four were double winners.

Kim Cantrell won the 440 dash with a time of :50.4, just .3 seconds in front of Everton Allen. Allen appeared to be the man to beat at the Telegram-sponsored event as he took home three first place medals and the outstanding athlete honor.

Cantrell also won a medal for his effort in the 880 relay with teammates Jeff Robideau and Anderson, John Egbert. Their time was 1:32.6.

Egbert, Robideau and Anderson then teamed with Bert Wright to win the 440 relay, :45.5.

Single winners for Tecumseh included D.J. Biscupski with a new ATII record of 13'7½" in the vault. Steve Medvecz took the 880 run at 2:01.4 and Jim McKinncy in the 120 high hurdles, :14.7.

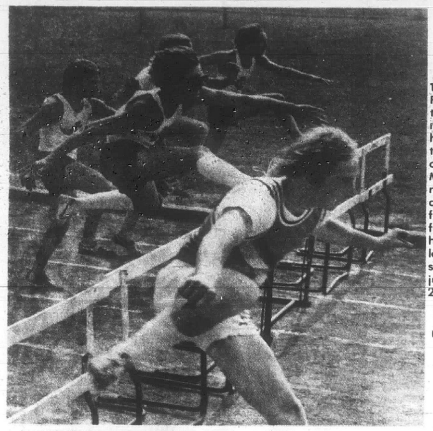
Jim McKinney again tied the school's high hurdle mark at :14.9 and also won the high and long jump at 5'8" and 20'5". He was the lone triple winner.

Other Tecumseh Firsts: SHOT PUT, John Parros, 39'8"; TWO MILE, Jesse Castorena, 10:34.8; LOW HURDLES, Tom Wright, :42.6; 880 RELAY, 1:40.2; 880 RUN, Steve Medvecz, 2:07.5; 100 DASH, Jeff Anderson, :10.4; 440 DASH, Randy Bok, :56.2; MILE, Jim Harris, 4:30.5; 440 RELAY, :47.5; MILE RELAY, 3:59.



TIES RECORD — For the second time, Jim McKinney ran a 14.9 high hurdle to tie the THS record, Thursday. McKinney's quickness can be seen as he clears the first hurdle in front of the other hurdlers on the left. McKinney also won the long jump with a 20'5" leap.

Mumme, Stein Place First in ATII Meet

Janel Mumme and Lana Stein were the lone first place runners for Tecumseh in the ATII's first annual event for county girls.

Mumme ran a 12:14.09 two mile and Stein won the hurdles with a time of :15.74.

Boys Split, Girls Lose

Britton suffered a non-league setback from Ida last Wednesday, losing 13-7 in softball.

Jodi Smith collected two of Britton's seven hits. Lisa Campbell took the loss and drove home two runs. Mary Wielfaert got the Tories' lone extra base hit, a double.

Campbell walked five, gave up nine hits, and struck out four.

Britton hosts the district softball tournament this Saturday, starting with a game against Madison at 10 a.m.

In Britton baseball action, the Tories suffered a 15-7 loss to Summerfield last Thursday when the victors slammed out 11 hits.

In Tuesday's match against Whiteford, the baseballers came out on top with a 6-0 victory. Greg Fanslau was the winning pitcher.

One Places

Jeff Ousterhout was the lone place winner for Britton when they traveled to Adrian Friday for the ATII meet.

Ousterhout placed second in the 100 yard dash with a time of 10.3 and second in the 220 dash with a time of 23 seconds.

Lose Pre-District

Tecumseh was eliminated Tuesday night from tournaments after a pre-district 5-1 loss off the bats of Saline.

Saline put across five runs in the third, fifth and sixth innings after Tecumseh first scored a run in the first inning.

Saline's pitching was exceptional as Dan Michael held Tecumseh to two hits and one walk. He struck out 14. Losing pitcher Scott Schafer allowed 10 hits, four walks and struck out five.

Schafer hit a double and Brian Banda a single for Tecumseh.

Against Airport last Wednesday, six Tecumseh players banged out hits as Schafer struck out six, walked two and allowed four hits, winning 5-4. Greg Corley, Butch Harvey, Schafer, Randy Halvin, Ron Smith, and Jeff Rendel each got a hit for Tecumseh. Halvin's was a triple, while Corley's was a two run rbi, and Harvey's was a one run rbi.

The Indians were not as fortunate against Carlson Friday as they dropped the match 5-4.

Reliefer Dorman Fredrick took a tough loss after replacing Dale Allen. Fredrick pitched well but could get no offensive support. Dave Perry and Banda each had two hits for Tecumseh while Harvey had a two rbi hit. Smith also had a hit.

Tecumseh's record now stands at 6-12 overall with one league game left June 2 at Grosse Ile.

Close Season at 8-10

Clinton split a pair of baseball games this week, beating Britton Wednesday, 7-4, and losing to Dundee Friday, 4-3.

Wednesday, Clinton pushed six runs across in the second inning and that proved to be enough to beat Britton.

Ken Stotler singled a run home in the first and then Clinton's Terry Carlton hit a two run double and Keith Kinard hit a bases clearing double in the second. Dave Porter had two hits, scoring runs in the second and third.

Kennis Kimerer, Greg Fanslau and Troy Bailey each had two hits for Britton.

Clinton's Dale Porterfield took the win while Barry Yocum relieved in the seventh. They struck out eight, walked three and allowed nine hits.

Flanslau started for the Tories and took the defeat. Kimmerer came on in the third. They walked four and struck out eight.

The Redskins fell short of a win Friday after a fifth and sixth inning rally.

Andy Hoag and Bill Zimmerman, hitting a double and single, scored two runners in the fifth. Dundee had already put four runs across. Terry Richardson and Roger Myers then hit singles in the sixth, producing another Redskin run.

Clinton banged out four hits. They gave up two costly walks and a wild pitch early in the game that led to an early 4-0 deficit with the help of three Dundee hits.

Clinton closes out the season at 8-10.

Softballers Win Three, Pre-District

Tecumseh's softballers had an excellent week, winning three games, including a pre-district match against Saline Friday. They now host the district games Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m.

In Friday's match, the Indians got a lot of help from pitcher Sandy Humphries as she tossed a one-hitter in their 10-1 victory. Humphries walked four and struck out five.

Tecumseh scored five times in the first inning and that was enough. Five of their eight hits came in that first inning.

Becky Hamilton and Cindy Adams each and two hits for the victors.

Last Wednesday, Tecumseh had batting practice in a game against Airport. The Indians came up with 14 hits and 17 runs while pitcher Humphries shutout Airport.

Tecumseh scored 10 runs in the third inning behind the bats of Kim Adams, Gloria Fosbender and Debbie Hamilton.

Adams belted four hits, Fosbender three, including a solo home run, and Hamilton had two hits.

Humphries allowed two singles and struck out 13. She walked three.

Tecumseh beat New Boston Huron 16-5 Thursday after taking a 7-0 lead after three innings.

Tecumseh scored three in the second, four in the third and then nine more in the fourth inning.

LuAnn Harvey was the winning pitcher for Tecumseh with two strike outs. She allowed seven hits. Tecumseh was helped by six walks and four Huron errors.

Becky Hamilton led Tecumseh's bats with three of their nine hits.

SLIDES SAFELY — Karen Bunch (left) slides into third safely, but painfully, against Airport last Wednesday. Bunch just bruised her knee in the play as Tecumseh went on to score 10 times in the inning.

AVOIDS TAG — Gloria Fosbender (right) avoids a tag at home to score for Tecumseh in their 17-0 win over the Jets. Fosbender had three hits in the game, including a home run.

More often than not the story is the same. You have spent years suffering with pain and discomfort. Other forms of therapies have tried every known method to cure your condition, but it was all in vain. The pills and medicines may have helped for awhile, but the pain would return and you had to keep popping pills to feel good. You may even have had an operation or two, in a futile attempt to "cut out" the pain.

Now they don't really know what to do for you. They keep experimenting with different drugs, hoping to find one that you haven't built up an immunity to. You're getting desperate. You have begun to accept pain and discomfort as "normal" conditions.

Then you receive a newspaper in the mail explaining the merits of chiropractic health care. Or, perhaps a friend suggests to try chiropractic. With a defeated attitude you ask, "What can chiropractic do for me? That's only for sore backs!" In like manner you toss the newspaper in the nearest trash can.

And so you continue to suffer, not able to enjoy life to its fullest. To you, another dawn means another day of misery. Your condition is hopeless — right?

Wrong!

If you had listened to your friend, or read the chiropractic literature with an open mind, you would have discovered what millions of people alreay know — in case after case, sickness after sickness, and disease after disease, CHIROPRACTIC PUTS AN END TO SUFFERING!

Contrary to the preconceived notions of many Americans, chiropractic is not only for sore backs. Chiropractic health care has proved invaluable to sufferers from allergies, anemia, acne, arthritis, asthma, bursitis, constipation, colds, deafness, epilepsy, diarrhea, rheumatism, gall bladder trouble, paralysis, indigestion, vertigo, liver problems, nervousness, neuralgia, sciatica, tonsilitis, high blood pressure, kidney disorders and many more ailments too numerous to mention. In fact, if you sit in a chiropractor's waiting room for any length of time you will hear testimonials from patients on how the doctor has cured everything from hiccups to heart disease. The truth is that any chiropractor who is "worth his salt" cannot and will not accept any credit for curing the patients' sicknesses. A disease is "cured" when the vital nerve impulses flow freely from the brain to all parts of the body, thereby allowing the body to heal itself.

Which brings us to the chiropractic principle.

Life exists in the human body and uses the brain as its headquarters and power plant. The brain generates powerful life-giving energy sending it down the spinal cord, which is housed by the spinal column or backbone, and out the spinal nerves to all parts of the body. These life-giving nerve impulses supply the energy required by the body to carry on its normal functional activities.

The body can function properly and will be healthy if its nerve channels are free and unobstructed. However, if the flow of this powerful, intelligent nerve force is altered, either in quantity or quality, by physical obstruction or negative mental qualitative interference, disharmony, imperfection and disease are the inevitable results.

Nerve interference is cause when one or more of the 24 movable vertebrae in the spine becomes thrown out of its normal alignment in relation to the vertebrae above and below, putting pressure on the nerves that exit through openings in the vertebrae, or directly on the spinal cord. This misalignment is known as a subluxation and is the main source of disease in the human body.

The causes of subluxations are many. Any sudden jar or jerk of the spine can cause nerve interferene. Even simple nervous tension can twist and contort the spine, causing interrupted flow of nerve energy. It is necessary for a chiropractor to locate and eliminate these subluxations of the spinal column to allow the life force to flow unobstructed to every part of the body. When this happens, the body will return to a state of good health.

A chiropractor corrects subluxations by exerting gentle pressure on the misaligned bones, causing them to return to their normal position. This exerting of pressure, by hand only, is a spinal adjustment.

While other forms of therapies strive to cover up and treat symptoms such as pain, chiropractic attacks the cause of sickness and disease. Pain is the body's way of letting us know that all is not well. It is a signal that there is a roadblock somewhere between the brain and the body — a restriction of the flow of the vital force that is required for all parts of the body to function normally.

So, if you are about to give up hope and accept pain as a normal condition, consult a chiropractor. He is an expert in his work. His profession has, from its very beginning, advocated spinal adjustments for the restoration of health. His methods are the most advanced of all the healing arts known to man. The choice is yours. Are you going to continue feeding your body drugs to treat symptoms rather than causes, or do you wish to improve your health with a drugless method that is well on its way of becoming the largest healing art in the world? You are the only one who will benefit or suffer with your decision. Please choose wisely.

Editor's Note:

These testimonials do not mean that chiropractic cures or guarantees a cure. They are to prove that, by removing nerve interference, the body heals itself.

Chiropractic ends Headaches

I have suffered with terrible headaches for nearly 30 years. I have been to many doctors in my life, only to be put on pain pills, tranquilizers and other medication, but my headaches haven't improved. I also experienced dizziness, blurred vision, vomiting and terrible pain with each attack, and I was having them two or three times a week.

When I first heard of chiropractic, I laughed. But the headaches continued, so I decided to give it a try.

Now it is a blessing to know that I don't have to put up with that terrible pain any more. Since I have been under my chiropractor's care, I haven't had any headaches. It's a miracle!

My children also receive regular chiropractic adjustments to stay healthy.

Our chiropractor is the only doctor who has ever helped me. I'll never forget all the years I suffered needlessly, not knowing the help I could have had long ago.

God bless our chiropractor and chiropractic!

Shoulder and Arm Helped With Chiropractic Adjustment

After suffering constantly with my elbows hurting and getting headaches. I heard of a Chiropractic Clinic and had went once or twice and then quit, not giving them a chance. Finally after my neck and head hurting all day long, I decided to give it a good chance so I went to Kosmyna Chiropractic Life Center, once a week for 5 visits and believe me, now I can lift without my arms hurting and go to bed without a headache.

I intend to go once a month. Don't you wait too long, the sooner, the better.

LEONARD RUSS

I had severe pains throughout the mid-section of my body along with middle and lower back pains. Sleeping was becoming a problem, also I slept on my side which helped ease some pain, but still slept only 2 or 3 hours every night. My motivation was slow and I couldn't do any manual labor at all. Lifting became a big problem and due to the sleepless nights, I was exhausted. After 3 weeks of Chiropractic adjustments with Dr. Kosmyna, my stomach area was less sensative and my back pains weren't as sever also, sleeping became easier. In as little as six weeks I had noticed considerable improvement. When I awoke I felt rested and had energy again to do the things I liked to do. My eating habits improved, and movement became easier for me.

Movement became easier

Chiropractors have done a world of good for me and I recommend them highly. I wish more people knew about Chiropractic and how much help they can bring us without surgery. I suffered for a year with my condition and after having Chiropractic treatments for six weeks I had improved considerably, and after eight weeks I felt like a new man with a new chance at health.

Chiropractic, the only way for a healthy life

Suffering Years End with Chiropractic Care

I began my Chiropractic adjustments in the early fall of 1976 with Dr Thomas Kosmyna, for nervous problems, high blood pressure, frequent colds, periods of depression and anxiety and pain in my left leg.

Dr. Kosmyna put me on a program of adjustments and I followed through on this plan. I can truthfully say now, as of March 1977 all of these problems I had are completely gone and I have had the best and healthiest winter ever.

Chiropractic is, to me, the only way for a healthy life, because it has been proven to me.

Migraine Headaches

Chiropractic clinical research reveals that the vast majority of migraine headaches are caused by neurovascular disturbances. Subluxated (misaligned) vertebrae and structural tension in the neck may trigger episodes of nerve and blood vessel congestion which result in a migraine headache attack. Scientific chiropractic correction of the underlying cause in the neck can bring about miraculous results in a great percentage of cases.

Premenstrual Tension

Nervousness, irritability, depression and headaches occurring periodically prior to menstruation is through to be due to increased hormone activity resulting in fluid retention and nerve tissue swelling. In these cases, however, certain spinal and nerve lesions may be a major factor in the development and severity of premenstrual tension. Nerve structures act as regulators to keep the body functioning normally during menses, but in many cases misalignments of spinal vertebrae disturb these regulators causing them to lose normal control. As a result, neurological, hormonal and chemical changes lead to a distressing premenstrual syndrome. Rather than temporarily relieving the symptoms with potentially dangerous hormone and nerve pills, you would be wise to consult a doctor of chiropractic for the correction of the cause of premenstrual tension.

'I feel better' with regular care

Chiropractic Relieves Lower Back Pain

My husband had been receiving chiropractic adjustments from our chiropractor for his bad back. He took me to a lecture and I decided to begin regular chiropractic care, also.

I would like to tell you that the pain I had before coming to you was almost unbearable, now after several treatments I still have a little backache but nothing compared to what I had before coming to you. Now I can raise myself from a lying or sitting position without pain.

Gladys Bihlmeyer, Clinton, MI

I had severe leg cramps, headaches and bad nerves. I was always tired and couldn't get enough sleep.

After two weeks under our chiropractor's care, I began to notice improvements in my health. My menstrual cycle became regular — it hadn't been regular in five years! I started feeling better all over.

I wish I had been receiving chiropractic adjustments 15 years ago. Chiropractic was the last resort for me and I wish it had been the first. Through regular chiropractic care, my entire family is now healthier and happier. I would suggest that anyone with health problems begin chiropractic adjustments immediately instead of waiting, as I did.

Headaches, Numbness, Black-outs End With Chiropractic Care

Helped me more in 5 months than doctors did in 3 years

In 1974 I was in a car accident. It left me with blackout spells, numbness in the whole left side of my body. I also would have spells of walking into walls, or my knees would give away, headaches also accompanied this condition, sometimes they were so bad I could have cut off my head.

I went to some of the best Medical Doctors in Ann Arbor, and they all said I imagined the whole thing. One doctor said that my jaw bone was causing the whole thing. This went on for years and I just kept getting worse. Finally my sister, Ara Kaufman, found a Chiropractor in Clinton, Dr. Kosmyna.

I started going to him on January 18, 1977. He took X-Rays, and told me I had a Whip Lash. I have been going to Dr. Kosmyna, for 5 months now. My blackouts have stopped and my condition is a lot better.

Dr. Kosmyna, has helped me more in the last 5 months than the other doctors have in three years.

Health Improves With Treatment

I was suffering from ulcers and poor blood circulation in my legs.

After a short while under my chiropractors care, I noticed changes in my health. My circulation has improved and I feel much better. I now have regular bowel movements, my ulcers are almost gone and I haven't had a cold all winter.

Migrain Headaches, Sons Tonsillites Leave

I am writing this so whoever reads this will know how much Chiropractic adjustments have helped me and my son.

I was having very bad headaches and had gone to three medical doctors and specialists and none of them could find the cause of the headaches. Soon after I started the Chiropractic Adjustments, the headaches started to be fewer and lighter and now I hardly have any at all.

My son was scheduled for a tonsillectomy in April of this year. About two months before they were to come out, he started his adjustments. Soon the tonsills went down and have not been bad since.

So I believe that through Chiropractic good health can be achieved.

Headaches Gone!

I was suffering with severe headaches for three years and taking 4 to 8 aspirins per day. A friend of mine recommended Dr. Kosmyna, a Chiropractor. I was hesitant to try but figured I had nothing to lose.

Within two weeks I couldn't believe it, no more headaches! No more aspirins! And no more suffering! I go to Dr. Kosmyna once a month now for a maintainence adjustment and recommend his care to everyone I see.

My whole family is now under Chiropractic care, it's simply great.

Light Vote Expected in Race for 2 Seats on School Board

Two Tecumseh Board of Education seats are up for grabs in the Monday, June 12 Tecumseh School District eleotion. Four candidates, two incumbents and two challengers, are seeking the two vacancies for four-year terms ending in 1982.

Reply to Questions

In an attempt to provide voters with an idea of the candidates thinking on various aspects of school policy, The Tecumseh Herald asked the candidates to reply to several questions. Here are their written answers to the questions: (Editor's note: Dr. Phelan's written statement concludes the survey.)

1.) Why do you want to be a member of the board of education?

Bone: Although Tecumseh Schools have an enviable record of achievement, I would like to see improvement in certain areas.

Johnstone: Want to work on the school board because of a determination to be involved with decisions that affect people of my community.

Macbeth: I have served on this Board of Education since 1969. I feel I can continue to make real contributions in the areas of finance, personnel, industrial relations, and general management and administration.

2.) How do you qualify as a candidate?

Johnstone: I consider my willingness and desire to work hard for no pay a major qualification for the job. But seriously, have to cite my years of experience working with people, in various capacities, as greatly beneficial.

Macbeth: I believe that my responsibilities in the management of a large industrial corporation well-qualifies me as a candidate.

Bone: I feel that 15 years of physical plant experience developed in the educational environment of the Detroit Public Schools and the University of Michigan would be an advantageous resource to the Board.

3.) How do you see your role as a board member? Do you plan to visit the schools?

Macbeth: As a board member, I want to continue to be active in fiscal policy, the administration of our programs and all of our efforts to have and maintain a superior school system. I have always visited our schools periodically.

Bone: I would like to be active in the Building and Grounds Committee whose responsibility is maintenance of and improvements to school facilities. I would definitely visit all facilities in order to gain first hand knowledge of existing conditions.

Johnstone: I definitely plan

2 Sites Sold But Buyers Not Known

Two pieces of commercial property on W. Chicago Blvd. reportedly have been sold, although identity of the purchasers remains unknown.

Properties involved include Rusty's Drive-In at the southwest corner of W. Chicago and Occidental, and approximately six acres between the August Co. and Tecumseh Plywood.

Rusty's was owned by Harold Rousselo and the six acres by Howard Truesdale.

Intended usage of the two commercial properties also is unknown, and sources here who know the buyers refuse to comment or even discuss either the sales or acquisitions.

Rusty's continues to do business. The six acres is vacant land.

TAIDA's Demands Met, Will Build Industrial Plant

Tecumseh City Council agreed Monday night to pay all real estate taxes and sewer and water leads on 2½ acres of industrial property it agreed to deed to Tecumseh Area Industrial Development Association.

TAIDA, a non-profit organization, plans to build a 20,000 ft. industrial shell building in the city's Occidental Rd. industrial park. Building would help Tecumseh attract new industry more quickly. TAIDA insisted, however, that city wave taxes.

City instead agreed to pay all real estate taxes until the sale of the land and building by TAIDA. City will also install water and sewer leads, approximate cost $1,500.

On sale of shell, city will be paid $11,000 for land, all sewer and water work and all real estate taxes, paid by city.

Although council has set price for industrial property at $5,000 per acre, it has agreed to sell property to TAIDA at $4,400 an acre. City's costs for acquiring and developing land will be covered.

TAIDA will get a $110,000 real estate mortgage loan at ½ percent over prime interest rate from United Savings Bank, Tecumseh.

TAIDA further agreed to submit its specifications to city before receiving bids on the building. It will also pay insurance premiums. City will approve purchaser of building

Raisin Treasurer Answers Critics, States Position

At its Monday meeting, Raisin Township Board voted 4 to 1 to adopt a resolution calling for specific township officers to staff the township office on specific days.

The resolution requires township treasurer, Marjorie Comfort, to work at least two days a week in the office.

Comfort objected that the electorate cannot force her to work certain hours in a certain place. Comfort said that she will be in the office on Wednesdays. She explained that most people approved of her habit to collect taxes two days a week at the bank.

Township Supervisor Richard Gallaway commented "At the April 1 Raisin Township annual meeting, the electors present voted to have all township jobs performed in a central location, the township office."

"If we have a central office for this, we are offering a better service to the people. The reason for the resolution was we wanted to make sure that people going into office would know what we are expecting. If we can't get this (cooperation) now, we'll wait until November."

Gallaway stated "Until this thing is ironed out... there will be someone in the office, 9-1."

Comfort made the following statement to the Tecumseh Herald Wednesday morning.:

I deeply regret the split that has developed on the Raisin Township Board. I believe it is an insult to the residents and taxpayers of the township.

In an effort to pull all the work of the township into one office, the supervisor and clerk are mostly trying to look busy and improve their "images." The result has been inefficiency, unecessary expense and a decrease in real service.

Other people are doing the work.

The Supervisor is paid $12,000 a year - plus insurance and pension. This is more by far than other supervisors in Lenawee County. Then he sits behind his desk while the township comes apart.

Under his lack of management, the Sanitary Landfill has fallen into what the state calls "deplorable" condition and may be closed.

The ordinances of the township are being ignored. The assessing is being done by the County Equalization Department, the township building inspector and paid outside consultants. Now he proposes to spend the township into debt.

Clerk Shirley Roback's records are disgraceful. She has changed the meeting minutes to reflect actions that did not take place. She has neglected her schedule of work, causing many meetings of the township to be held illegally.

Although she receives more than $100 a week, she is having a "clerical assistant" answer the telephone for her. She "doesn't want to be interrupted," she says.

Meanwhile, I have been quietly doing my work, making myself and my books available whenever anyone has a question to be answered.

I don't object to talking with taxpayers on Saturdays and in the evening.

I believe we should let the voters decide at the August primary election what kind of government they want.

Council Undecided

City Council decided Monday to "cogitate awhile" on whether or not to install city sewer and water for the east half of Mill Hwy. while it was requested to do so for planned duplex development on west side of Mill Hwy.

Installing the leads now would cost the city about $4,000 now, but save the city from tearing up pavement at a later date if request for annexation was made by the eight properties on the east side of Mill Hwy., located in Raisin Township.

City manager Cal Zorn said that an annexation request was "hinted at." He also pointed out that the last two major sewer studies by the government indicated that section would have to be included in Tecumseh's treatment facilities.

Subsidy Is Asked

Contrary to rumors, Bennett's Ambulance service will not be leaving Tecumseh, said manager William Norris, 507 N. Union St., "unless the county or the city of Tecumseh fails to come up with some type of subsidy," explained Norris.

He said that the company has over $75,000 in uncollectable bills, with the majority from service to Lenawee County. Bennetts operates in part of Wayne County and in Monroe and Lenawee Counties.

"We're no different from any other business. We can't continue to operate with those kind of uncollectable bills."

Human Services Committee was scheduled to meet with a task force Wednesday to discuss emergency medical services in Lenawee County. A subsidy plan will be present to the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners June 14.

Lenawee County Board of Commissioners decided in the interim, it would guarantee payment for uncollectables from Jan. to July 1, 1978, providing the ambulance services attempt to collect according to commissioners' guidelines. County would then attempt to collect from users.

First bills from Bennett's Ambulance are scheduled for the June 14 Commissioners' agenda.

Hardware Is Sold

Tecumseh Ace Hardware, Inc., a newly formed corporation, has purchased Baldwin's Ace Hardware from William Feight Sr., owner here for the past four years.

The sale, transacted last week, includes the building along with the assets of the business.

Roy Woodworth, Adrian and formerly with Graham's Ace Hardware there, will manage the store for the corporation.

The new manager has considerable experience. He was associated with the Adrian hardware store for 12 years and worked himself up from stock boy to vice president.

Mr. Woodworth and his wife, Sue, and four children-Shelly, Gwen, Heather and Kent - will move to Tecumseh in the near future.

Some exterior changes along with some minor interior changes are planned by officers of Tecumseh Ace Hardware.

Mr. Feight, who has other business interests, purchased the business and building from Earl Baldwin in 1974.

Show Interest in Property

Tecumseh Civic Center Study Committee is interested in purchasing approximately 6½ acres of property across from Tecumseh High School on the east side of N. Maumee for a civic center.

Dr. Carlton Cook, committee member, reported asking price for property was $50,000. If property were purchased, committee said it would build the civic center on approximately three acres. Since local Masons plan to build a new lodge on Bishop Reed Drive, new center would not have a dining facility.

Funding the purchase was discussed but no conclusions reached. Community Fund and Chamber of Commerce were two sources mentioned.

Invite Tecumseh

Tecumseh was invited by its Ontario, Canada namesake, Tecumseh Ontario, to its corn festival Aug. 25, 26, 27.

Len DeMoss was elected Tecumseh, Mich.'s liaison to organize a contingent to Ontario which plans a large parade and carnival that weekend.

GOP Candidate for Commissioner

Janis S. Baker announced that she will be a Republican candidate for nomination to the County Commission 6th district, at the Aug. 8 primary election.

Baker, 29, a four year member of the Tecumseh Planning Commission, is now serving her second term as secretary. She also has served as Commission representative to the Central Business Committee and the Tecumseh Recreation Department.

A former teen representative to the Tecumseh City Council and a member of the Sesquicentennial Committee of 1975, Baker is a life resident of Lenawee County, a 1966 Tecumseh graduate.

She is a graduate of University of Michigan school of dentistry with a degree in dental hygiene plus graduate work in preventive dentistry and perrodontal disease.

Formally employed by the State of Michigan, she traveled throughout the county with the summer fluoride program. The past 12 years, she has been employed by Drs. Murray, Wolf and Curtiss and lectures and teaches preventive dentistry to many organizations.

Baker has been active with the Community Action Center in Adrian and assisted the U of M in a dental study at Boyisville.

Baker is a Sunday School leader and member of the First United Presbyterian Church, past president and adviser of the Little Indian Cooperative Nursery. She is currently president of the Tecumseh Acres PTA.

She and her husband, Jeff, reside at 501 Blanchard St. They have three children.

Baker stated, "I feel it is extremely important for younger citizens to become involved in government. I care about the people and town of Tecumseh and I will work to be honest and trustworthy representative of all ages. I know the needs of the community and I plan to be the voice of these needs."

Reply to Policy Questions

Continued from Page 1) to visit schools, and encourage contact between parents and administrators. I see the role of board member as one of responsible concern with every aspect of the education system.

4.) If elected, is there a major policy or program that you would work to change? What is it and why would you change it?

Bone: I would like to see a system of "Quality Control" established that would insure an equal level of accomplishment from all students completing a given course. I want Tecumseh Schools to tell parents what the students are expected to accomplish rather than just what the teacher is teaching.

Johnstone: If elected, I have no illusions about magically solving any problems, but I would concentrate on finding a way to alleviate the crowded classroom situation, and also work to maintain the quality of the basic education.

Macbeth: No. If there were, I would have worked for such a change.

5.) What do you think could be done to improve communications between administration, teachers and parents?

Johnstone: Improving communication between home and school is a definite "must". But, first, parents must become more actively concerned about administrative policies. They must make a point of being involved and aware. Then, the schools must strive to cooperate with parents as far as providing information and handling any problems. No parent with a genuine concern should feel intimidated by the administration.

Macbeth: No communication system or network is perfect. Ours isn't and it needs improvement. This is one area in which I have been deeply involved during the past year. I sincerely hope that I will have the opportunity to complete some changes and improvements recently started.

Bone: I think the present avenues of communication are extremely good on a one-to-one basis. However, attendance at Board meetings is not encouraged simply because of the inadequate space provided for public and having to view the backs of several Board members. I have already conveyed this concern along with the suggestion of floating the meetings into the neighborhood schools and in particular those buildings which may have a special interest item on the agenda.

6). Do you think board meetings could be moved to another location to accommodate any and all interested parties? Could the meetings be held at one of the neighborhood schools, a different one each month, for example?

Macbeth: The public is and always should be encouraged to attend school board meetings. Participation in the past has been low and limited. If interested parties could appraise the Board of their subject matter and specific questions they wanted answered, we could be much more effective in servicing and satisfying their requests.

Bone: (Answered with previous answer.)

Johnstone: Yes, the public should be encouraged to attend meetings, if for no other reason than to observe and learn. Location of meetings should always be the same, however, as rotating would only make it more confusing to the public.

7.) What are your feelings on class size?

Bone: Too large to provide adequate individualized attention.

Johnstone: Too many pupils per class is a definite detriment to learning. Not only does it detract from the individual attention a child receives on a scholastic basis, but it places an added element of stress on teachers, as well as contributing to classroom discipline problems.

Macbeth: The administration of class size is a very complex problem. It is virtually impossible to satisfy 100 percent of the students, their parents and our teachers. With the exception of isolated cases each year, I believe our administration has done an outstanding job in using our facilities most efficiently. I am opposed to any fundamental change in our current policies or practices.

8) What are your feelings on current salaries paid to teachers and administrators in the Tecumseh system?

Johnstone: Currently, Tecumseh staff is among the highest paid in any district in Lenawee County. This is an important factor in attracting and retaining qualified personnel.

Macbeth: Our teachers and administrators are currently in the upper third in the Lenawee county pay scale. This has been true for a long time. We constantly strive to find the most qualified talent available in order to maintain the high standards we currently enjoy in our system.

Bone: No opinion at this time.

How would you improve school discipline? Do you feel it is a problem?

Macbeth: The School Board recognized that we had a discipline problem several years ago when we hired Mr. Lacny. Mr. Lacny and his staff have made positive progress in improving overall discipline. More work is to be done. Efforts will continue so that these improvements will be realized.

Bone: Administrative guide lines must be established which parents will accept and which school officials will support and enforce.

Johnstone: Concerning discipline, it is important to have effective communication between parents and school, in order to eliminate misunderstanding about the expected conduct of students and, likewise, what is expected of the teachers. More attention should be directed to major discipline problems, and not so much emphasis on minor infractions.

10.) What are your feelings on children retaining or repeating a grade?

Bone: Failure of scholastic achievement in any course is reason enough to repeat. However, in addition, strong emphasis must be placed on tutorial assistance for a failing student to aid in mastering the subject.

Johnstone: It is difficult to comment on holding back a child in terms of a general statement, because every situation is unique. But I do know problems have surfaced at a later time in students who were promoted without the necessary skills to function in a particular grade. Most often these are basics acquired in elementary school, which are overlooked, that cause difficulty later on.

Macbeth: I feel that the current policy of extending every effort to advance a student a grade is a good one. Exceptions may have to be made, depending upon the student or the circumstances.

Dr. Donald Phelan submitted the following statement:

Phelan: Being a concerned parent and tax payer in this District makes me want to be informed and knowledgeable of what is happening in our Schools.

The many problems facing the Schools today can be solved if there is mutual faith and trust between concerned parents, teachers and administrators.

The School Board acts as the representatives of the Community and as such, collects the information and makes decisions based on facts.

Two Motorcyclists OK

David S. and Kathy S. Bird are in good condition today after their motorcycle was hit Sunday in the intersection of Occidental and M-50.

David was taken to St. Joseph Hospital and is reportedly in very good condition while Kathy was taken to Herrick Hospital for observation.

According to police reports, the Bird motorcycle was westbound on M-50 when John D. Goodman, 29, of 414 N. Maiden Lane entered the intersection from northbound Occidental.

Witnesses reported that Goodman did not stop for the sign. Goodman told police he did. Police cited him for failing to yield.

June 2 - Douglas M. Birdham, 30, of Clayton apparently could not stop Friday when he hit the rear of an auto driven by Lewis O. Watson, 68 of 7090 Occidental. The stopped Watson auto was then pushed into a third stopped auto driven by Marvin L. Yoakum, 41, of 115 W. Logan. The Watson and Yoakum cars were stopped at the time for a fourth auto in the middle of Russell Rd.

June 3 - Connie L. Retan, 17, of 307 N. Maiden Lane was cited for failing to yield after she entered the Macon Rd. intersection from Murphy and collided with Irma Gonzalez, 31, of 5544 Macon Rd.

Also on Saturday, Leon E. Strahle, 55, of Grass Lake told police he backed into Avis J. Watson, 31, of Tipton while behind Gambles.

June 5 - On Monday, police cited Nancy G. Cadmus, 44, of Clinton for failing to yield after she made a left from W. Chicago onto S. Union. Cadmus hit an auto eastbound on Chicago, driven by James M. Marlon, 22, of 1325 Southwestern, apt. 14.

Gregg C. Calhoun, 28, of Sand Creek told police he was backing on Willow when he hit an auto westbound on the street Katherine J. McKenzie, 36, of 1106 Willow could not avoid the accident.

Accept Bid

Tecumseh City Council accepted Monday night the low bid of Erb Chevrolet Buick, Inc. for a 305 cu. inch engine Impala car at $5,032.

It rejected the bid of Underwood Chevrolet-Olds-Pontiac, Inc. for $5,347 for an Impala with the same engine.

The car will be an administrative car the first year and then be used by the police department.

and property, who must also conform with Tecumseh industrial park covenants and codes.

William Powell, president of TAIDA, said that the group will seek bids and construction will start as soon as possible.

Assistant City Manager Paul Preston reported to council, "The question that may be on your mind is will the building sell and will everyone get their money."

Preston said that the city of Coldwater sold five shell buildings. In no case did they lose money. "In this inflation is our ally. We could probably sell a one or two year old building cheaper than you could build new."

Tecumseh has closely monitored industrial park development in Coldwater for the last two years, a study which led to creation of Preston's job and his full-time efforts on industrial development to secure jobs for Tecumseh.

Tecumseh officials visited Coldwater again on May 25 during Michigan Week. Coldwater officials stressed a number of times the need for a shell building to encourage industrial growth.

"It not only gives you an edge over other parks to meet immediate needs of certain buyers, but also serves as a catalyst for development of other lots," Preston explained.

Plan Ordinance for Air Pollution

Tecumseh's city attorney Greg Forsthoefel is preparing an air pollution ordinance that would cover potential hazards from burning, like the situation Larry Eaton of Tecumseh Township brought to council's attention Monday night.

Eaton farms 4½ acres near Mar-Jay Plastics Corp., 414 S. Maumee St. He plants grain there and is concerned that burning debris from the nearby industry's habitual outdoor burning could ignite the ripened grain.

"The whole river flats from the city barn to Blood Rd. could go up in smoke," Eaton warned. But Mar-Jay Plastics has been indifferent, said Eaton.

Police chief Merlin Mowery and attorney Forsthoefel reported that the Environmental Protection Agency said it could not and would not investigate. Council asked the attorney to come up with an ordinance.

Investigate Breaking

Tecumseh police answered a sounding alarm at Eggleston's Jewelry Tuesday night to find a rear display window broken with a large piece of concrete.

Owners of the store at 107 E. Chicago reported two bracelets and one chain was taken, valued at $26.

April 3 — Bev Dauber of 321 N. Pearl reported her bicycle stolen while parked at the rear of her parents' home, 205 Rodgers.

Also on Saturday, Bill Bellmore of 4651 Macon Hwy. found his mailbox run down, apparently by a vehicle, when he returned to his home at 3 p.m.

April 5 — Police arrested Jody K. Swain, 19, of 811 Adrian St., on DUIL charges after Swain crossed the center line on W. Chicago and forced officers off the road.

Letter

To the Editor,

As a member of the PROBE interest group, (Parents' Reform Offering Better Education), I wish to encourage all Tecumseh parents to vote in the school board election on June 12.

Our group has formed for the sole purpose of lowering classroom sizes in Tecumseh, which presently run as high as 32 students in elementary classes.

The Tecumseh Teacher's Association is also striving to lower classroom sizes, because they truly want an opportunity to reach each child more effectively.

We hope that at the time of this election Tecumseh will let her voices be heard. We encourage change!

Mrs. Theo Wilkins

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 1106 were scheduled to take a proposed contract for its members for ratification vote June 6.

IBEW Local 1106 went out on strike against General Telephone Co. May 15 over economic package and contract language.

Richard L. Grandstaff, vice president-personnel for General Telephone, and David Ridgway, business manager for Local 1106, announced the tentative two-year agreement June 3 following four days of renewed bargaining at Grand Rapids.

Contract talks were mediated by federal mediator William Proctor and state mediator Karl Kujawski.

Details of the proposal will not be made available until a contract has been ratified.

Results of balloting are not expected until at least June 10.

No prospective return to work date was announced.

Talks between General Telephone and IBEW began again May 31, after an 18-day lapse. Talks had broken off May 13 and the IBEW began striking May 15.

Previous three-year contract, scheduled to expire May 4, had been extended until May 13 to accommodate a union vote on a previous management proposal. Rejection of that proposal was announced May 11 and two days of further bargaining did not result in new proposals.

"If you've been looking around for a Surety Bond, you've probably already discovered there's often a lot of 'legalese' and a mile of red tape to wade through.

"Not here. We issue Auto-Owners Surety Bonds. Their 'postcard application forms' are so unique, they're patented.

"And many bonds can be issued on the spot, during your office visit.

To take the uncertainty out of Surety Bonds, come see us."

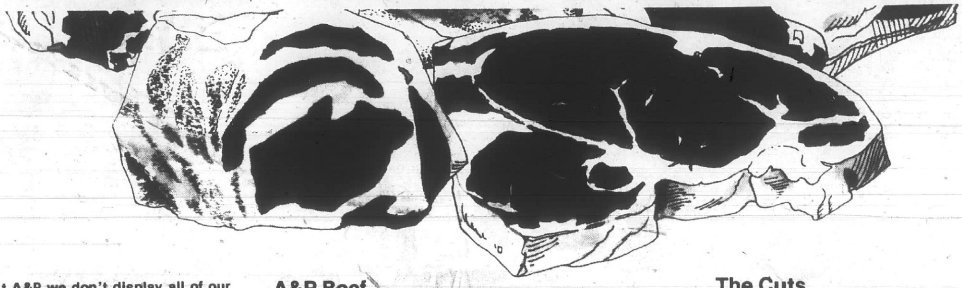
Got a question about Beef? Ask the man who knows.



At A&P we don't display all of our fine beef selections and then leave you alone to guess which cut is the right one for your best Stroganoff . . . or how many pounds you'll need to serve six.

We're so proud of our beef that we want to be sure you make the right buying decision.

That's why the A&P butcher Shop provides you with all the answers to your beef questions . . . when you ask our Butcher . . . the man who knows.

There are approximately 40 retail cuts of beef. At A&P we take pride in offering this wide variety of cuts, but we don't expect all of our shoppers to know all about every one of them.

Which cut is more tender . . . rib steak or chuck steak? Why is there a difference in price between top round and bottom round? Which is leaner . . . ground round or ground chuck? What is the best beef for fondue? What is the best roast for a slow-cook pot? How long can cooked beef be frozen? Is it wise to refreeze thawed, uncooked beef?

A&P's butchers answer these questions and many more every day of the week. They're glad to help you, because then they know you'll take your purchase home and cook it right. You'll be happy with your meat purchase . . . and so will we.

A&P Beef.

A&P beef is Westen corn-fed beef. We buy only yearling beef . . . older than the calf which has little or no marbling and should be tenderized, and younger than the full-grown steer which may be tough. Yearling beef is tender, with enough marbling to give you full flavor; and bright colored, fine textured lean to assure you of quality.

Inspected 4 Times!

A&P beef is first inspected by the Government. Then we inspect to our standards at the meat packer. Then it goes through a third inspection process at the wholesaler. Then your A&P butcher inspects the meat to make sure it will cook up every bit as tender and flavorful as we say it will. We fully guarantee our meats at A&P. Remember, all A&P beef carries our promise of good eating—or you'll get your money back!

What About Trim?

The proper trim on our beef is important at A&P's Butcher Shop because we don't want you to pay, or even think you're paying one penny extra for unnecessary bone and fat. It's a precise business. We have to trim the beef so the extra bone and fat is taken off before the retail cut is weighed, packaged and priced by weight. Yet we have to leave on just enough fat cover for full flavor. At A&P we trim off all fat in excess of ½ inch.

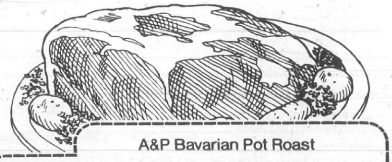
Precise trim—look for it next time you visit the Butcher Shop.

The Cuts.

The many retail cuts you see at A&P come from 9 primal cuts: Chuck, Rib, Loin, Tip, Flank, Brisket and Shank. Sound familiar? Many of our retail cuts get their names from their corresponding primal cuts. These primal sections have as many as 8 retail cuts. Take Round for example. Round Steak, top or bottom Round Steak, Bottom Round Roast, Eye of Round, Heel of Round, Boneless Rolled Rump Roast, Cubed Steak and Ground Round. What a great variety—and Round cuts are not high priced!

No surprises at A&P. We always pack our meats best side down.

Round cuts are best when braised (cooked in liquid). That's why so many Round Steak or Roast recipes ask for tomato juice, bouillon, gravy or sauce. Clip the recipe below and try A&P's idea of how to get the best flavor from one of our most popular cuts. And when you want to know more about what cut of beef to use for your recipes, ask the man who knows . . . At A&P . . . The Butcher Shop—with supermarket prices.



A&P Bavarian Pot Roast

4-6 lb. bottom round roast	1 tsp. ginger
2 Tbsp. shortening	1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. salt	1 Tbsp. vinegar
1/4 tsp. pepper	1 bay leaf
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce	1/4 cup flour
1 cup chopped onion	1/2 cup cold water

In Dutch oven brown meat in fat. Season with salt and pepper and remove meat from pan. Pour off fat drippings. To pan, add remaining ingredients except flour and mix well. Return meat to pan. Cover tightly and simmer 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 hours. (May be cooked in 325° oven for same time or in slow-cook pot for 7 to 8 hours using high setting.) Turn meat once to cook evenly. When done, remove meat and bay leaf.

GRAVY: Pour liquid from pan. Allow fat to come to top and remove all but a thin layer. Measure 1 1/2 cup liquid, adding water if there is not enough liquid. Return liquid to pan. Mix flour with 1/2 cup cold water. Add to liquid and boil for 3 minutes, stirring constantly. Serve gravy with meat. Makes 12 to 16 servings.

Two Millage Votes on Ballot

CLINTON — Clinton Community School District voters are asked to consider two millage proposals on the ballot at the June 12 election.

One proposal is a request for renewal of four mills for operating.

The other is for an additional one mill for operating.

School officials urged all eligible voters go to the polls to give a representative tally of the public view on this matter.

Last year a one-half mill additional operating millage request was voted down. However only 345 persons voted out of a possible 2,000. Most of those who voted were not parents of school children.

Without the $25,000 that one-half mill would have generated last year, the present school budget is operating in the red by $25,000. Only by using the balance of $31,558 from a previous year, were the schools able to continue the present program without cuts.

No such contingency fund will be available if millage vote fails again.

Although property values have gone up sharply this does not give the school more money per child.

Total dollars per child that a district receives is fixed by law by the number of mills the district levies.

With a levy of 25.22 mills, the school receives $1,280 per child from combined property tax and state aid.

If voters approve the one additional mill, and there is a levy of 26.22 mills, the schools will receive $1,320 per child.

Although most of the Clinton students compare favorably with state and national averages in recent tests, there are still high percentages who are below state and national averages.

Reports show 16.7 percent of local students scored too low in reading and mathematics on the state assessment test in the 1975-76 school year.

Since then a complete reading development program was begun for all grade levels. This has been helpful for those students in the special reading classes, but it has not been possible to serve all those who need help.

School's goal for next year is to single out every student who is not doing satisfactory work in reading and math and place them in special classes, small in number with special teacher help.

Ultimate goal is that each student must be able to read and do mathematics at a basic adult functional level before graduation from Clinton High School.

Also on the ballot will be the election of two members to the school board. Candidates are John Hoelzer, Thomas Stadler and Virginia C. Davis.

Marathon Set

Clinton's second annual cross country marathon is scheduled to start Friday, 5 p.m. and run for 24 hours.

The marathon was started last year in an effort to raise funds for cross country camp.

Nine teams are presently entered and more are welcome. Contact Mike Risner or Ozzie Hashley at the Clinton school for more information.

Entry fee for the event to be held at Clinton is $25. Trophies will be given for first and second place.

Chamber Meets for Discussion

The Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce met Thursday morning to discuss everything from Sidewalk Sale to Heritage Days to an Hawaiian trip drawing.

Harvey Schmidt first took the floor to explain that an Antique Fair is being planned for June 30 and July 1 during Tecumseh's Heritage day celebration. Plans are already well underway for a Thursday, state-wide band competition and Sunday Dawn Patrol.

The group then discussed the drawing John Damelio is setting up to help raise monies for the chamber and service groups. The chamber, aided by local organizations, plans to sell tickets sometime in the near future for a trip to Hawaii, microwave oven and canoe.

Sidewalk Sale was also brought up and the chamber set July 21st as the annual big sale event. Organizations wishing to participate with ice cream socials, barbecues or anything original should contact Harvey Schmidt, Nadine Seitz or Kent Downing.

There is a 25 dollar participation charge for Sidewalk Sale unless the organization is non-profit oriented.

Finally, the chamber recognized Joyce Gould for her service the past few years as secretary.

WHAT FORM! — Robert Frank, fifth grader at Ridgeway, slides through the running long jump event in Tecumseh's annual elementary school track meet. All the athlete forms were not the best, but the enthusiasm was certainly there as children from all of Tecumseh's elementary schools gathered at the athletic field for friendly competition.

Fresh As A Daisy...

. . . the words instantly evoke a picture of crisp whiteness, of sunny yellow—a kind of jaunty joy. There's nothing depressing about daisies—pick a bunch and you automatically get a lift.

You start remembering old-sayings like "Daisies don't tell." I wonder who invented that one. And that old game, "She loves me, she loves me not." Daisies have been flower fortune-tellers for longer than any of us can remember.

Yet daisies, too, have their season. Like everything else in nature, including man, they have a life span. And in their crisp, lilting way they make the most of it.

Do we? Someone once suggested that we should live each day as if it were our last. It seems a sobering thought at first. Yet, what a world it would be if we followed this advice!

Somewhere in the course of that tremendously important day, our steps would surely lead us to church.

Why wait?

THS Tracksters Top Huron Meet

Jim McKinney is probably the best hurdler Tecumseh has ever had, Jeff Anderson the quickest sprinter, Kim Cantrell the smoothest runner and D.J. Biscupski the smoothest vaulter.

In fact, coach Bill Croft isn't ashamed to say that this year's track team is "definately the best overall team he's ever coached."

Croft is careful to explain that McKinney, Anderson, Cantrell, and Biscupski are far from the team's only excelling performers. The team is made up of many athletes and the key is "best overall team."

Teams always played their best when overall team effort is at a peak, and that can be very difficult in a sport of individual events. But Tecumseh has overcome the usual problem of individuals going their own way in track.

The key is simple - senior leadership and constant routing for teammates.

And perhaps the best proof of it all lies in Tecumseh's fourth straight Huron League title, captured officially last Wednesday in the league meet.

With the title, Croft was named coach of the year. Croft's able assistant coach is Roger Young.

Tecumseh ran away with 10 first places in 16 events. They won the meet with 86 points. Airport, their closest competitor, had 51.

McKinney won three events, setting a record in the low hurdles with a time of :39.1. The 880 relay team recorded a new record at 1:32.7. Biscupski won the vault with a record 13'9".

Tecumseh Scoring Ran —
DISCUS-3. Tom Kamas, 120'11"; LONG JUMP-3. Bret DesErmia, 20'1" and 5. McKinney, 19'10¼"; HIGH JUMP-1. McKinney, 6'2"; POLE VAULT-1. Biscupski; TWO MILE-2. Jesse Castorena, 10:10.5; LOW HURDLES-1. Tecumseh's toughest job lies ahead in 1979 when the track team will be without the services of 12 seniors. Medvecz, Biscupski, and Bert Wright are the only state qualifiers that will be back. They should get some help from hurdler Borton and a few other tracksters.

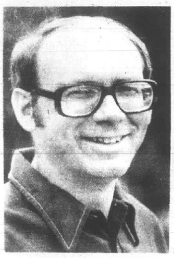
But the rest of the state qualifiers will be gone. They include Anderson, Cantrell, DesErmia, Egbert, McKinney and Robideau. Others graduating include Bohannon, Harris, Hughes, Lewis, Marvan, and Stormes.



COACH BILL CROFT

Girls Are Young

Coach Ed Oxley's track team hasn't captured four titles in a row, or even the title this year, but they do probably have the best overall team in Tecumseh's history.

And it takes a lot to beat the girl's track team of two years ago. Then, Tecumseh had a few tracksters excelling, and now they have better players all around. This is especially true in the distance events and more field event participants.

And Oxley has proof of a good year. The girls broke five school records in 1978 in 14 events. There's a new mile, two mile, high jump, discus, and low hurdle mark to beat.

Most important, the team is very young. The team loses only five seniors, but many are key tracksters.

Tecumseh's losing Debbie Steadley, Janel Mumme, Diana Wilson, Robin Isom and Karen Wisner to graduation. Wisner will probably be the biggest loss for THS, made obvious by her record-breaking 5'7" leap at Wednesday's league meet.

Tecumseh finished third behind St. Mary's and Airport in the meet. The team could probably have tightened up the scoring, but went without the services of Theresa Duhan.

Wisner took the only first place for Tecumseh, but she did it in grand style as she shattered the old mark in the high jump by six inches. The mark was previously set by teammate Isom in 1976.

Tecumseh Scoring Ran—

Marty Wallich got the win for Tecumseh in relief for Dorman Frederick. Brian Banda had three hits for the Indians.

The Clinton Redskins nipped Erie Mason Saturday 7-6 after scoring four times in the seventh to become the Class C district champions.

In the seventh, Cathy Gibson and Gigi Roberts singled for Clinton while three walks and an error tied the game at 6-6. Marsha Camfield then hit the ball to third base and the Erie throw could not get Roberts out at the plate.

Gibson, Kris Pratt and Camfield each had two hits. Sue Richter relieved Gibson in the third and took the win for Clinton. Redskin pitching gave up four hits, four walks and struck out two.

In earlier semi-final action, Clinton smashed Whitmore Lake 10-4 on a six-run sixth inning.

Charter Township Issue On Ballot in November

Raisin Township voters will decide next November whether they want to have the benefits of being a Charter Township.

In a special meeting Tuesday, the township board voted unanimously to put the matter to a vote at the general election Nov. 7.

The board members had been discussing coming under the Charter Township provisions for more than a year. The quick decision to seek a vote came from information gathered by Marjorie Comfort, township treasurer, at a meeting in Lansing Monday. The meeting, sponsored by the Michigan Townships Association (MTA) was attended by township officers from throughout southern Michigan, primarily those from urban areas. The major topic of discussion was townships' inability to keep neighboring cities from annexing portions of the townships.

Mrs. Comfort learned that a bill expected to be signed this week by Governor Milliken will protect Charter Townships from most annexation attempts. In order to be protected under this bill, Raisin Township has to start the Charter Township action before the bill is signed. Tuesday's action gives this protection, according to MTA attorneys at the session in Lansing.

"If the people living in a township area want to annex to a city, and if the city wants them, the annexation will still be possible," Mrs. Comfort noted. "Or if the city and township both agree that vacant land whose owner wishes to annex to the city should be separated from the township, that still is possible.

"What this bill is designed to prevent is the growing practice of cities grabbing land because of its industrial or commercial value. They usually design the parcel so it includes fewer than 100 people. This means people living there have no right to vote, under the current law.

"Our board believes people should have their voting rights," she concluded.

The board will gather all information possible about the differences between general law townships and chartered townships, and hold public meetings on the changes before the election, she added.

Raisin Township Split Simmers after Charges

"Our record is (one) of reputation and we will stand on the record we have. We don't want to battle in the newspapers," said Raisin Township Supervisor Richard Gallaway.

He made the comment to the Herald Tuesday after Raisin Township Treasurer Marjorie Comfort stated in last week's Tecumseh Herald that supervisor Gallaway and Clerk Shirley Roback are operating an inefficient government.

Clerk Roback told the Herald she agreed with Gallaway's comment.

Comfort's statement came after the June 5 Raisin Township meeting at which the board adopted a resolution, 4 to 1 margin, establishing office hours for township officials at the township hall.

Comfort argued that township officials could not legally be forced to work certain hours in a certain place.

Conflicting legal opinions from the Michigan Township Association were presented on the resolution at the June 5 meeting.

Comfort received a verbal opinion from an MTA lawyer that the resolution was illegal. Township board had a written opinion from MTA that the resolution was legal.

Before election as supervisor in 1976, Gallaway served as township trustee for 12 years. He was appointed acting supervisor in 1975 before James Mitchell retired in 1976.

Comfort was elected township treasurer for three, two-year terms.

Roback was elected clerk in 1972 and served three two-year terms.

They are Republicans.

Meanwhile the August primary in Raisin Township will be a contest among Republicans for four township board positions: supervisor, clerk, treasurer and trustee. All but the treasurer's office will be decided at the primary.

Incumbent Richard Gallaway-R and Robert D. Moore-R have filed for supervisor.

Incumbent Shirley Roback and incumbent treasurer Marjorie Comfort have filed for clerk.

Two Republicans, Claude N. Lane and Gretchen Lovett, have filed for treasurer. The Republican that wins the primary will oppose Democrat Lynette K. Saylor in the November election.

Incumbent Robert Murray and Bert Gagler and James R. Bone, all Republicans, have filed for trustee.

Incumbent Harry Withrow-R is unopposed for constable.

Next township meeting is June 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the township hall.

Township is also scheduled for a regular meeting July 3, 7:30 p.m., at the township hall, 5525 Occidental Hwy., corner of Gady Rd. and Occidental Hwy.

Office hours are 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Office phone is 423-3162.

Only 6% Vote in Re-electing 2 Incumbents

Voters may well have set a record here Monday when they re-elected Dr. Donald Phelan and William Macbeth to the School Board.

Approximately 6% of the eligible voters went to the polls. There are about 7,500 eligible voters in the school district and just 469 voted. In the past at non-millage election little controversy involved, some 10% or more at least exercised their voting rights.

Cost to the schools ran between $800 and $900, or just under $2 a vote.

Officials results are:

Dr. Donald Phelan	302
William Macbeth	276
Gerald Johnstone	236
James Bone	97

Phelan and Macbeth won four-year terms each.

Less Than Half Vote in Rejecting Ratification

In a light vote Saturday morning at Tecumseh High School, United Products Workers Union rejected ratification of a contract with the Tecumseh Products Co.

Of approximately 1,900 eligible voters, only 870 voted with 63% or 551 voting against ratification. There were 319 voting for ratification.

Over 1,000 members of the Union did not vote. The Company and Union have been without a contract since February.

What official information about me might I ever need?

When accurate information is needed to fill out forms and announcements, it is often hard to located or remember. You need all sorts of information when you marry, buy insurance, apply for credit or a job, and, yes, even when death occurs.

It is wise to prepare such a total record now and keep it in a safe place . . . not in a safety deposit box because they are usually locked until after the funeral but rather in a locked drawer of your desk. Do, however, inform your spouse of where this information may be found.

Information most often needed includes: 1) full name, address, Social Security number, armed forces serial number, 2) birthdate and place, 3) blood type, 4) employer records, 5) name of father's and mother's birthplace and date, 6) names of organizations and publications to be notified, 7) location of important documents, 8) any special funeral preferences or prearrangements, 9) prearranged donation of eyes or body organs, 10) names and addresses of all persons to be notified of your death.

GTE Strike Continues

Local 1106 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers did not ratify the General Telephone Company's latest contract offer, extending the 29-day strike against the utility toward its second month.

Results were 1,252 "no" and 971 "yes".

According to the utility president, the two-year proposal would have been worth an average of over $2,300 per employee in wages and fringe benefits.

Tentative agreement on the two-year proposal was reached June 3 after the two bargaining committees met with federal and state mediators for four days of intensive bargaining.

Negotiations began in March with the previous three-year contract scheduled to expire May 4.

Contract was extended until May 13 so union could vote on management's first proposal. That one was rejected, subsequent negotiations broke off, the contract expired and the IBEW began its strike May 15.

Company said it may bring in management help from other General Telephone companies to assist 900 management employees that have been trying to maintian normal service.

Operator assisted services and installation work has backed up.

A LOOK INSIDE Herrick Hospital

BY KATHY BAILEY, R.N. RICHARD SIES, BUSINESS MANAGER

In response to standards established by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals, the Safety Committee at Herrick Hospital announced a new policy controlling the use of personal electrical devices by patients and employees in the hospital building.

To minimize the risk of electrical shocks and fires, all electrical equipment used in the hospital must be routinely tested for "leakage current and polarity" by the maintenance department.

Since we cannot be sure of the electrical safety of radios, curling irons, shavers and hair dryers owned and brought to the hospital by patients, the Safety Committee has found it necessary to prohibit all personal electrical devices that operate on 120 volt line power.

Battery operated devices do not pose a danger. There will be no restriction on these. Policy applies only to appliances that plug into wall outlets.

This new policy is being enforced by the hospital staff. If line powered devices are found in patient rooms, the patient will be asked to send them home, or we will remove them and hold them for patients until discharge.

A number of signs will be posted throughout the hospital to remind patients and visitors of this restriction and to help assure the safety of our patients while in the hospital.

SAFETY CHECK — Ed Shrider checks all electrical patient care equipment for leakage current and polarity at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Disarmament Discussed

A group of concerned citizens of Lenawee County will meet June 19, 7:30 p.m. at Vo-Tech to plan strategy to work for nuclear disarmament.

Group feels that the nation and world security is severely threatened by the nuclear arms race. The United States possesses more than 11,000 strategic nuclear warheads, a stockpile which could destroy the entire population of the world 12 times over.

Yet the United States continues to produce materials for nuclear bombs at the rate of three each day, cited the residents.

The group feels that citizens must say "no" to this massive arms build-up. All interested people are invited to attend.

TECUMSEH SHAWNEE MARCHERS

Shawnee Marchers Seek Standard of Excellence

The Shawnee Marchers are one year old. And much wiser, according to director Jimmie Rice.

One year ago a group of 45 stalwart Tecumseh High School musicians began working to establish a new tradition. Their aim was to form a highly disciplined and competitive corps-style marching band.

June 29 local residents will be treated to "corps-style en masse" as five other bands converge here for the first Tecumseh competition held in conjunction with Heritage Day. These groups will be featured informally in an afternoon parade followed by the actual competition in the evening at the stadium.

The Shawnee Marchers, in their second year, seek to establish a standard of excellence of character and performance with which to represent the city of Tecumseh.

In the early summer of 1977 the Shawnee Marchers participated in band competitions in the Michigan communities of Vassar and Bad Axe and also in Essex, Ontario.

Standardizing format and judging for these events are provided by the Michigan Competing Band Directors' Association. This group is the Michigan branch operating under the sanction of Marching Bands America, the national organization sponsoring corps-style marching band competition.

The Shawnee Marchers did not win these first competitions. Their show was entertaining but did not score highly in the rigid competition categories.

Competing bands are judged on effective visual presentation of music through the use and execution of marching manuevers. The Marchers did gain valuable experience for the future.

Their debut to the local community came during the All-County Marching Band Festival held in Tecumseh. The Shawnee Marchers had already improved. The show was better prepared, the style was impressive and the overall effect was a crowd pleaser.

The Marchers for 1978 are experienced and already hard at work. "The 52 kids we have this year are committed," commented Rice.

Music is memorized before they set foot on the marching field. With the aid of Don Dobrosky, local musician, and Dick Reamsnyder, Tecumseh Schools Staff, Rice thinks he has designed a show more capable of entertaining and scoring.

Before their first competition, the students will have logged about 36 hours of group rehearsal for their eight minute performance.

NOW Meets at Vo-Tec

The Lenawee County chapter of the National Organization for Women will meet June 15, 7-9 p.m. at Vo-Tech, Adrian. Goals will be set.

For more information, call president Sharon Lane, 263-7349 or 263-6761.

Got a question about Pork? Ask the man who knows.

At A&P you're going to find as fine a selection of pork as you would ever care to see. Unless you are familiar with each cut, and the best way to prepare it, you may never find out just how good all of our Country Farm Pork really is.

There is no need for concern, that's why we're here. You'll get the answers you're looking for. Like, what pork cut is best for a particular occasion? How much to buy? Or maybe a hint on its preparation.

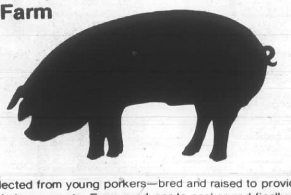
When it comes to Country Farm Pork just ask our butcher. He's the man who knows.

Pork, like beef has approximately 50 different retail cuts. And you'll find almost every single one of them available at A&P. Naturally, we don't expect you to be familiar with each of them. But, if you want to try something that's different from pork roast or pork chops, just ask our butcher.

Pork as a rule is tender, regardless of the cut. But, that doesn't mean that you should be any less concerned about what you serve your family. With the variety of cuts that are available you'll probably want to know what the difference is between a pork loin roast and a shoulder roast? What is best for barbecuing, spare ribs or back ribs? How do I cook smoked pork chops? The questions are endless. But, so is our eagerness to see to it that every cut of Country Farm Pork meets your total satisfaction.

On top of this, our butchers will be glad to answer any questions you might have.

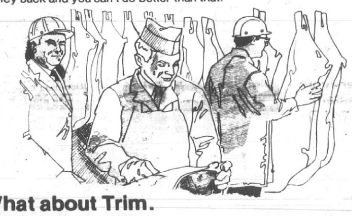
A&P Country Farm Pork.



A&P pork is selected from young porkers—bred and raised to provide the leanest most wholesome cuts. From producer to packer and finally to our butcher shop, every care is taken to see to it that you get only the very best.

Inspected 4 times.

All A&P Pork undergoes U.S. Government inspection. Then we inspect for our standards. From there it undergoes another inspection at the wholesaler. Then it is inspected again when it gets to our butcher shop. We want to make sure that what we guarantee will be the best—or you'll get your money back and you can't do better than that.



What about Trim.

Proper trim is important. At A&P our butchers trim away excess fat and bone to assure you of more good eating per pound. No one likes too much fat on pork. This is particularly true today, so A&P's butchers make certain that each and every cut meets the high trim standards that have been established.

Country Farm Pork Cuts.

The 50 retail Country Farm Pork Cuts actually come from 7 primal cuts. These are the Boston Shoulder, plate, loin, leg, jowl, picnic shoulder and rib. Like beef, many of the retail cuts take their names from the primal cut. The most significant primal cut, and by far the most versatile, is the pork loin. This primal cut produces over 14 different retail cuts. Each one just as tasty as the other, and just as nutritious. Some cuts are more tender.

For example, a single whole pork loin can be cut into loin end roast, center cut chops, rib end roast, semi boneless chops, chop suey meat, rib chops, boneless pork tenderloin, country style ribs, back ribs, boneless pork loin roast, butterfly chops, boneless pork chops, pork tenderloin chops, pork cutlets, and center cut pork loin roast. With such a variety, there are bound to be questions, and who knows best? Your A&P Butcher, he is the man who knows.

Let's not forget the other cuts either, or for that matter, the many delicious and nutritious smoked meats that can be prepared and processed from pork—Sausages, hams, smoked picnics, bacon. The selection is almost endless. In fact, it's surprising that we haven't found a way to process the "oink."

Cooking Country Farm Pork.

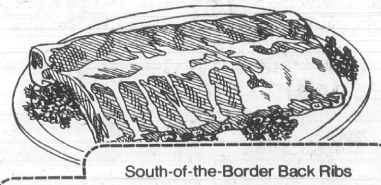
Cooking pork can be just as diverse as the number of cuts. It can be roasted, broiled, pan broiled, pan fried, braised, barbecued or cooked in liquid—whatever your taste—whatever the recipe.

Talking about recipes—why not try A&P's Country Farm Pork back ribs.

These meaty morsels come from the pork loin. They are pre-cut from the back side of the loin and provide a far greater meat to bone ratio than do spare ribs or country style ribs. Finer textured and practically devoid of fat other than some marbling. Country Farm back ribs are the best when it comes to barbecuing.

A&P is confident that once you try Country Farm Pork back ribs you won't want any other.

Clip this recipe for barbecued back ribs, just to get an idea of how good Country Farm Pork from A&P really is. And remember, when you want to know more about Country Farm Pork—ask the man who knows at A&P, the Butcher Shop with supermarket prices.



South-of-the-Border Back Ribs

4-6 lbs. back ribs (cut into serving size pieces)
2 to 3 Tbsp. taco seasoning mix (half of 1 1/4-1 1/2 oz. package)
1 can (15 oz.) tomato sauce

Place ribs on broiler pan, rib ends down, five inches or as far away as possible from heat. Broil 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 hours, turning to brown evenly. Stir seasoning mix into tomato sauce. During last 15 minutes of cooking, brush with sauce and turn occasionally. Heat remaining sauce and serve with ribs. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Got a question about meat? Ask the man who knows.

You're going to have some questions about meat. No matter how many years you've been shopping and cooking.

Your A&P Butcher Shop manager is a meat expert. He'll be happy to talk to you - about the right cut for your favorite recipe. Or how many pounds it takes to feed eight people. And he'll gladly cut something you don't see in the meat case.

It's even better than an old-fashioned butcher shop.

Because the meat is our meat.

And the standards are our standards.

Letter

To the Editor:

Village of Britton Residents:

Congratulations on becoming a city. Employees are fired without warning or explanation. At the last council meeting a new village superintendent, at a starting salary of $2,000 per year more than the previous position was paid. The men were told before that this was a small community and they could not be paid as much.

You also must have a relative on the council to be hired for a village position as two men were hired and both had relatives sitting on the council.

Just thought residents would be interested in our new status as a city and when the new city manager is hired it won't come as a surprise.

'100% Chance of Rain' Cantata Big Success

CLINTON — Midst the sound of thunder and lightning, the rains came, and so did parents, grandparents and friends—a church full, to hear the presentation of "100 percent chance of Rain" by the 17-member Choristers Choir in the United Church of Christ, Sunday evening.

The jazz cantata by Walter S. Horsley, was directed by Janet Day assisted by Peg Rockwell. It was an upbeat rendition of the story of Noah's Ark.

Story teller Clayton Strolle read the story from Genesis to set the theme. Charles Steffens portrayed Noah.

In a cleverly contrived act, the "Ark" was built on stage from a huge "ark kit" of 'gopherwood', while the choristers sang such numbers as "Man Messed Things Up," "Admirable Admiral," "Building the Ark," "O, How It Rained," and "At the Sign of the Rainbow."

Reception after the program, served by the Mary Martha Class, featured a rainbow of pastel colors in decorations of cakes, orange sherbet punch, candles and streamers.

Musical accompaniment for the program was provided by Carolyn Dicks, piano; Debbie Armbruster, flute; and Mike Harris, drum.

Britton Ousted 5-4 in Regionals

Genene Bruce pitched a strong 13 strike out, three hit game against Webberville Saturday in regional competition, but lost the match 5-4.

Within the first four innings of play, Bruce had stacked up 12 of those strike outs and did not allow a hit. Then, according to coach Diane Matusak, the pressure just got to her senior pitcher and she got nervous.

In the third inning, Bruce committed two errors and walked three batters. Britton then trailed 2-0.

Then in the fourth, Bruce led off with a home run to right field that put Britton back into the game 2-1. Pam Dusseau followed with a single after two outs, but was stranded.

Bruce lost control of one game again when the first batter she faced in the fifth bunted, went to second on a balk, and then scored on a single. Bruce next faced two on and two outs when she walked the next three batters and gave Webberville their final runs.

Jodi Smith then went to the pitcher's mound and struck out the last batter. She held Webberville hitless in the last two innings.

The Tories came back with another run in the fifth as Janelle Schultz singled in the score. Pam Dusseau scored in the sixth for Britton on a passed ball. Missy Newlin then scored the final run on a wild pitch in the seventh.

Of Britton's seven hits, Newlin was the lone Tory to collect two.

LOSE 5-4 — Britton's girls lost a tough match to Webberville Saturday in regional competition. Britton actually outplayed their opponents but gave up runs on walks and errors with scattered hits. At left, Pam Dusseau could not quite beat out her infield grounder as she was called out.

Handley Tops United Savings 11-9

Tuesday League

The first game of the 1978 Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League saw two well-rounded teams, Handley & United Savings Bank up against one another. The final outcome saw Handley on top by a score of 11-9.

United Savings Bank made an attempt to come back in the 7th inning, however, they were two runs short. Leaders for the victors were: Salisbury with three hits and Sanborn with a homerun and four rbi's.

In the second game, Local 429 Bingo squeezed by Pizza Pete 7-6. Davis and Davidson got Local 429 off to an early lead, each hitting round-trippers in the first inning.

Local 429 held off a late rally by Pizza Pete to claim the victory. Lindsay paced the hitting attack of Pizza Pete with two homeruns.

A strong defensive battle developed in the nightcap. At the end of five innings, Tractor Village and Clinton Merchants were deadlocked at one run each. The Merchants picked up a run in the sixth but were unable to stop the bats of Tractor Village in the bottom of that inning.

Five straight singles in the sixth and solid defense in the seventh gave Tractor Village a 3-2 victory. Borton and Caron paced the victors with two hits apiece.

Wednesday League

In the opener of the season, a strong VFW team was pitted against Big Boy.

At the end of six innings, VFW lead 8-6. In the seventh inning, VFW pounded out seven hits and scored six runs as they soundly defeated Big Boy 14-8.

Bill Smith and Randall Dotson were key figures for VFW. Smith had a single, double, triple, and a home run. Dotson had a single and smacked three home runs. Weirich had two doubles for Big Boy.

In the second game, The Loggers let the air out of Hadden Tire as they chopped them down 30-3. The Loggers scored 10 times in the first inning and rolled on to victory.

Carleton and Kime went four for four. Roberts and Hunt went five for five as they lead the Loggers to victory.

Lenawee Contractors soundly defeated State Police 22-10 in the nightcap. Thirty-two hits were collected in the contest.

Cattell and Johnson paced the Contractors with the four hits each. Anderson and Northrup each hit home runs for the State Police.

Thursday League

Embers Bar battled Tecumseh Plywood in the opener of the Thursday night league.

Both teams played solid defense in the first three innings. In the fourth and fifth innings, Embers collected six runs and went on to a 9-6 victory.

Gurtzweiler, Horton, and Schlegel had 2 hits each to pace Embers Bar.

In the second game, a fine defensive struggle ended with a bang! At the end of three innings, Dundee Products and Luper Plumbing were scoreless. At the end of six innings, Luper had a 4-2 lead.

In the top of the seventh, Dundee pulled the plug and scored eight times. Luper Plumbing could only manage to get one run in the seventh and went down the drain 10-5.

Tom Grounds and Mike Kane led the hitting attack on Dundee.

Wrong Way's Pub pounded Mean Machine 10-2 in the night cap. Wrong Way held Mean Machine scoreless until the fourth inning.

McFadden and Anschuetz paced Wrong Way's hitting attack. McFadden had three hits and Anschuetz had two hits, including a home run. Bowman, Cattell, and Studnicka all had two hits for Mean Machine.

FIVE NEW RECORDS — The THS girls' track team boasts five school record performances this year. Team members include: first row, (l-r) Donna Bohannon, Barb Marcott, Monica Mumme, Pam Meeks, Jackie Lynch. Second, Robin Choquette, Mary Smoke, Janice Bishop, Joni Tomecek, Bonnie Birchfield, Shelly Kruger, Pam Ely. Third, Julie Burkhardt, Leslie Oliver, Angie Spagnoli, Janel Mumme, Linda Sprague, Julie Ford, Beth Baron, Lana Stein, Tracy Isom. Standing: Coach Ed Oxley, Karen Wisner, Debbie Steadley, Theresa Duhan, Ann Smoke, Robin Isom, Beth Comfort, Khris McDonald, Deedee Wilson, Karen Egli, Kerry Hamilton.

Frannie Barass of Adrian scored the first ace of the season at the Tecumseh Country Club last Wednesday. Playing with Ray Sack, Jim Davis and Ted Roberts, Barass dropped his five-wood tee shot on the par three, 175-yard 13th hole. The hole-in-one helped him to a 44 for the round.

Britton Holds Sports Awards

Britton held its Spring Sports Awards night last Monday evening following a dessert buffet.

Randy Smith received the MVP award in baseball and Genene Bruce captured the MVP and best offensive player award in softball.

Other baseball awards went to Troy Bailey and Jeff Rohrback, coaches awards. Other softball awards went to Pam Dusseau, coaches award, and Janelle Schultz, best defensive player.

+-+

Earlier last week, outfielder Greg Fanslau of Britton received an unanimous selection to the Tri-County first baseball team.

Others selected included Dennis Kimerer and second team, Randy Smith and Troy Bailey. Terry Benedict and Chris Kimerer received honorable mention.

Clinton Falls to DeWitt

DeWitt's Panthers out scored Clinton, 3-0, Saturday in their regional battle for Class C schools.

Sue Richter limited DeWitt to just three singles and four walks, but the Panthers scored three times on unearned runs.

Meanwhile DeWitt's Cindy White held the Redskins to two hits and a seventh inning walk. Thirteen Clinton batters struck out.

The Clinton's downfall proved to be a dropped fly that ignited a three-run fourth inning for DeWitt. Two walks followed with no one out. Three runs scored on a single, fielder's choice and wild pitch.

Richter faced another bases loaded situation in the sixth, but held the Panthers scoreless. Two force plays at the plate and a line shot catch to Richter closed the inning.

Clinton tried everything, including the bunt. DeWitt, however, pulled in their first and third basemen and gunned down the Redskin runners.

Playgrounds Set To Begin

The 1978 Tecumseh Parks and Recreation Department's playground program begins Monday, June 20 at four loaations: Tecumseh Acres, Scout Cabin, Patterson, and Herrick Park. Playgrounds will be open from 10 a.m.-noon and from 1-3 p.m.

Planned for this year's programs are many special events - a hot dog roast, weekly arts and crafts, field day, carnival, tours of local businesses and many more.

All children between the ages of 5 and 15 are welcome to partake in the happenings. Registration will be done on the playgrounds the first week. For further information, contact the department at 423-5602.

Spring Banquet

Clinton honored its spring sports participants Thursday evening at a CHS assembly. Girls and boys from track, baseball and softball were honored.

BASEBALL

Bill Zimmerman received the MVP honor after leading Clinton's averages with a .463. He was also chosen to the all-county team and voted honorable mention in the LCAA.

Others voted LCAA honorable mention included Andy Hoag and Lee Russ. Terry Carlton was elected to the first team.

Hoag was also voted most improved player. Terry Carlton was elected to the all-county team along with Zimmerman after a .441 year with 24 rbi's.

Other top batting honors went to Dave Porter with a .457 average and Russ with a .432. Russ also had the best pitching record at 5-1 and a 2.93 era.

SOFTBALL

Karen Busch took top honors in softball after receiving the Golden Glove award at catcher. She was elected MVP for her leadership and overall play. She also received the first team catching position in all-league.

Cathy Gibson was voted honorable mention for her infield performance and Ronda Douglas and Karen Busch got the lone base hits for Clinton. Douglas's was a second inning single and Busch got her hit in the fourth.

DeWitt's pitcher, White, pushed her tally to 19 wins against only one defeat. She earned all-state honors last spring.

Clinton closes the season at 11-8.

Rhonda Douglas was recognized for receiving honors in her three years of softball career. Junior Dawn Stinedurf was also voted all-league.

BOYS' TRACK

Thilo Casey, earning his third track letter, received the MVP award this year in Clinton track.

Walley Pike was honored as the most valuable senior while Dave D'Agostino was voted the most improved runner.

A total of 21 letters were handed out, nine to seniors, seven to juniors and four to sophomores. Brad Marsh was the lone freshman letter winner.

GIRLS' TRACK

Lisa Cark and Tracy Fuller took top honors in girls' track this year. Cark won the honor for her field event performances while Fuller was honored for her running.

Cindy Wolf was voted most improved and the coaches awards went to Karen Marion and Judy Zimmerman.

The girls closed their season at 4-2 and 6-5 overall with a fourth place finish in the league meet.

GIRLS' SPORTS

Clinton's girls must be especially proud as they won the All-Sports Trophy this year in the LCAA league. Fifty girls, or one in four at one school, helped obtain the award for Clinton this year.

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:

Now that final results of the school election are in, it seems appropriate that I, who had so much to say during my campaign for school board, should also have some post-election words.

Therefore, I would first like to thank the 235 persons who expressed their confidence in me by so voting. (The other vote was, of course, an expression of confidence in myself).

Thank you to those who supported me verbally, as well, as to those who helped distribute the printed literature on my behalf.

In all honesty, I must admit to being disappointed at not winning a seat on the school board. It's obvious that I sincerely wanted to be elected, otherwise I would not have expended so much energy in the effort.

But, to quote Abraham Lincoln, who was himself defeated for public office eight times prior to being elected president of the United States, "I am too familiar with disappointment to be very much chagrined."

Still, there is a disappointment even greater than not succeeding in the election. This is the sorry fact that, despite the many feelings of dissatisfaction and the concerns recently expressed about the present conditions, less than 6 percent of eligible voters were concerned enough to vote! In all of Lenawee County, among the 11 school districts holding elections, Tecumseh had the very lowest percentage of voter turn-out.

Now that, more than anything else, leaves me very much chagrined indeed. What does it take to arouse the consciousness and sense of responsibility in an apathetic public? Voting is not only a privilege, it is a duty, whatever the election.

Sincerely,
Gerry Johnstone

THE STARS AND THE STRIPES

Fifty bright stars suggest a nation conscious of and dedicated to a divinely-inspired destiny. It is no poetic accident that one of the stanzas of "America" is addressed:

Our fathers' God, to Thee,
Author of liberty.

The churches in the United States and Canada, and in all liberty-loving lands, believe that freedom has spiritual roots.

And THE STRIPES. They remind us of furrows stretching across the plains. Man toiling season after season . . . carving a nation out of wilderness . . . with faith in the providence of God.

And the future will always require faith and hard work . . . the partnership of God and man!

Celebrate freedom with us Sunday!

Mormons Send Missionaries

You have probably seen these two young men walking around town in the past week. They are Elder Lynn Jex and Elder Kim Zenger, missionaries for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, more commonly known as the Mormons.

They have been assigned to the Michigan Lansing Missions to serve for two years, telling people in Michigan about the Mormons.

ELDERS LYNN JEX and KIM ZENGER

Members of the Mormons faith in Tecumseh now travel to Adrian to attend services, but there is talk of starting a branch in Tecumseh in the near future.

Elder Jex was born and raised in Hawthorne, Calif., so the Michigan weather is something to which he has had to adjust. Elder Zenger, a native Utahan, said he finds his work most enjoyable.

They have been assigned to Tecumseh and Clinton area for an indefinite period of time. Much of their time will be spent finding those who are interested in learning more about the Mormons.

"A lot of people feel that we have come to twist their arm to get them to join," said Elder Jex, "but our purpose is to let people know about us in an organized manner, and if it is something they come to know is true, the natural result is conversion."

Elder Jex and Elder Zenger also share a family idea that is non-denominational.

"The church feels that the family is the basic unit of society and that is the reason why missionaries throughout the world are sharing this family idea with 'people' so they can strengthen their family ties, and learn to communicate more effectively," said Jex.

Elder Zenger also stated, "Of course the most important thing this program does is bring families together so that they can feel one another's love."

This program, known as Family Home Evening, has been used for the past 40 years and has proved to be successful.

23 Perform in Recital

Twenty-three students of Mrs. Fred Oberlin presented a piano recital Monday evening at the Presbyterian Church.

Those in the recital were Kevin Haughn, Dan Meikle, Brian Griffin, Annette Griffin, Meg Phelan, Bruce Greene, Phillip Wolf and Phillip Gordon.

Sarah Bush, Debbie Walters, Kim Haughn, Karen Garvin, Donald Wolf, Steve Bearinger, Diane Milbauer, Carrie Chase, Becky Bearinger, Ronnie Henkel, Randy MacGeorge, Ward Bush, Darlene Williams, Jim Lincoln and Darlene Elwartowski.

LAURIE MURPHY

To Attend Jamboree

Laurie Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Murphy, 214 N. Maumee, will leave June 28 for the Girl Scouts National Jamboree in Nashville, Tenn.

A cadet in scouting, Laurie is one of 14 girls from the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council and the only girl from Tecumseh to be invited to attend.

She will be the official photographer for the unit. She received a campership or camp scholarship.

The parade of flags, representing the 1,200 girls who will participate, will be part of the pageantry during the five-day encampment at Camp Sycamore, near Nashville.

Other activities include primitive camping, which the scouts have been practicing at the local Camp O' the Hills training sessions. A tour of Opryland is also on the agenda.

Heritage Days June 29-July 1

Cooperating with the Tecumseh Area Chamber of Commerce in its plans for Heritage Days, June 29-July 2, Tecumseh City Council approved Monday night a parade permit for June 29 and no parking along East and West Chicago Blvd. June 30 July 1.

No parking will give pedestrians more room to view the antique dealers display. Chamber's idea was to create a crowd drawing activity downtown that would bring more people into downtown businesses.

You Are What You Eat

by Shirley Weekley

Strawberries and rhubarb have long been a popular combination in making flavorful desserts. Here are two you may wish to try.

Barb Croft's rhubarb crisp combines fresh rhubarb with strawberry gelatin. It is delicious.

RHUBARB CRISP

6 cups fresh rhubarb, diced
6 ounce package strawberry gelatin
Topping:
1½ cup flour
1 cup quick oats
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¾ cup melted butter or margarine

Place rhubarb in 9x13 inch baking pan. Sprinkle gelatin evenly over rhubarb. combine ingredients for topping in separate bowl. Mix well, then crumble topping mixture over rhubarb. Bake at 375 degrees for 40-45 minutes. Raspberry flavored gelatin can also be used with the rhubarb.

The lattice crust on this pie makes it both delicious as well as decorative.

LATTICED STRAWBERRY RHUBARB PIE

Pastry for 2-crust pie
1¼ cups sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
One-third cup flour
2 cups fresh strawberries
2 cups (1 inch pieces) fresh rhubarb
2 tablespoon margarine
1 tablespoon sugar

Combine 1¼ cups sugar, salt and flour. Arrange half of strawberries and rhubarb in pastry lined 9 inch pie pan. Sprinkle with half of sugar mixture. Repeat with remaining fruit and sugar mixture; dot with butter.

Cut remaining rolled out pastry dough into strips to form latticed top crust. Brush top with water and sprinkle lightly with sugar. Bake in hot oven 425 degrees for 40-50 minutes until rhubarb is tender and crust is brown.

Can be served warm topped with sour cream or whip cream.

2 Injured in Traffic Accidents

One pedestrian and a motorcyclist were taken to Herrick Hospital this week after being involved in different traffic accidents.

Last Wednesday, Chad M. Higgins, 900 Conklin, was taken to Herrick Hospital, treated and released after doctors looked at his arm and hip. The four-year-old apparently ran out into the street without looking when Gary L. Klingensmith, 32, of 9103 N. Union hit the youth on eastbound Conklin.

Thursday, Jeffrey E. Shirk, 19, of 1000 River Acres was taken to Herrick for a possible fractured ankle and abrasions and was transferred to University Hospital. Shirk told police he was rounding the curve on his motorcycle on Red Mill Dr. when he hit the curb. Shirk came to rest 71 feet from the point where he contacted the curb.

A resume of other accidents includes:

June 14 - Frederick W. Morley, 43, of Clinton was cited for failing to stop in an assured distance after he hit Charlotte J. Francisco, 34, of 406 N. Union in the rear. Morley was northbound on S. Division while Francisco was stopped at the Chicago intersection.

John E. Cole, 68, of Sand Creek was cited for failing to yield after he stopped at the Russell-Evans intersection and then pulled into the path of William Bahleda, 19, of Adrian.

June 17 - Eugene K. Hill, 70, of Britton told police he was crossing W. Chicago from Kentucky Fried Chicken to Kroger when he misjudged the Kroger entrance and drove into the ditch.

June 19 - According to reports, Alex E. McKinnon, 28, of Deerfield, was stopped for traffic while turning into McDonalds on W. Chicago. Gordon G. Dotson, 17, of Willis, failed to see him stopped and hit McKinnon's auto in the rear.

Resigns Position

James Freckelton, former councilman, submitted his resignation from the Board of Review to Council Monday night.

The Freckeltons are moving and leaving Tecumseh after living here for many years.

A letter of appreciation from the city was authorized by Council.

Whelan Company Planning Large, New Building

By early fall, the Hoyt Whelan Implement Company will have a new home just off W. Chicago Blvd. on N. Occidental.

Dick Whelan, owner, says a 25,000-square-foot building will be constructed to meet the growing demands of the business, which has been located on W. Logan St. for over 50 years.

The new building, a section of which will be two-story for the parts department, will provide about four times the space now available for service. The T-shaped metal building will allow over 3,000 square feet for display purposes alone.

The company owns seven acres on W. Chicago and N. Occidental, a site that presently includes a service building and sheds for equipment. Plans for the service building and sheds after the new building is completed are tentative and not finalized.

Hoyt Whelan Implement is one of the oldest businesses in Tecumseh and John Deere dealerships in the state.

Board OK's 4 Teaching Assignments

Tecumseh School Board made four teaching appointments Monday night and accepted one resignation.

The school board first approved to keep Harry Sabourin as audio visual technician. Sabourin will spend two hours each day working with Pat Connors at the high school. He will work the rest of his day in the elementary and junior high schools.

Sabourin's position will be technician, including the coordination and maintenance operations of the audio visual equipment. Connor's will remain more of a professional position.

The board accepted the resignation of Harry Travis and hired Ernest Palmer to fill the geography position permanently. Palmer had been hired last year to fill Travis' temporary leave.

David Haines was hired to fill the junior high industrial arts position left vacant by Harold Glanz. Haines is a native Michigan man with one year's experience from Georgia.

Joanne Armentrout was appointed to fill the position of retiring Mrs. Rose Crawford. Mrs. Crawford's position included English and French teaching. Armentrout comes to Tecumseh with six years experience in Adrian and Britton schools.

In other business, the board took no action on a proposal to hire a high school English teacher for two hours a day. The motion was postponed until the policy committee could meet with superintendant Robert Duhan to discuss possible contract problems.

PLAN DOWNTOWN PARADE

Six Bands Competing

By Dorothy Grigg

"Tecumseh Band Boosters hope to stage a huge "Thank You" to merchants and supporters by hosting the Michigan Competition Band Directors event here next Thursday, June 29.

"Our patrons will be able to see what their generous support of the past two years has accomplished in helping the Shawnee Marchers to represent the city," one Booster remarked Tuesday.

Six bands participating are from Bad Axe, Vassar, Mich., and Windsor, Amherstberg, Kingsville-Essex, Ontario and Tecumseh's Shawnee Marchers.

A parade of the bands will be at 4 p.m. in the downtown section enhanced by units from McDonalds, Big Boy, Sally Covell Dancers, who will present Cookie Monster and Big Bird, and also a float by the Senior Citizens, perhaps others.

Competition is extremely keen in the corps style marching with each group trying to maintain its initial 100 points by precise execution of marching manuevers. Thus far, no band has kept the original 100.

Rules and judging are provided by MCBDA with eight judges from Great Lakes Judging Association from Drum Corps International coming for the event.

Competition will be held next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Indian Stadium.

Coming from Michigan, Canada

VASSAR

The Vasser High School Band had a successful first season last year taking first place at the Bad Axe Pow Wow, second at the Chesaning Showboat, and MCBDA Champions second place flight III.

This year's program consists of; "Russian Sailors Dance," "Havah Nagila," "Black Saddle," "Drunken Sailor" and "Danny Boy."

The Band is led on the field by Drum Major Ted Shunn and Color Guard Commander Tonya Zittel.

Robert Pepera and Kathy Girard are directors.

KINGSVILLE-ESSEX

The Kingsville and Essex Associated Band is in its 41st year as a community band. This is the second year as a member of MCBDA.

In 1977, the band placed first at Amherstburg in Flight I and second overall for the entire short circuit. Also in 1977 the band was awarded best percussion for the short circuit.

This year the band is under the field direction of Jim Barnett and Dorothy Baldwin. Barnett has been involved with the band for the past 27 years.

WINDSOR

The Scarlet Brigade of Windsor, Ontario, is the brightest new star in the galaxie of big youth bands. Only six months old, this city wide, county wide band of young people have accomplished nothing short of a miracle. The membership has grown from an initial 65 people to the present 120.

The band is completely independent of any service club or other sponsoring organization, and the tremendous cost of operating, maintaining, and supplying the band is funded entirely through the money raising efforts of its members.

Under the direction of Terry Murphy, internationally known band director, the Scarlet Brigade has developed an outstanding sound and vast repertoire, performing not only as a marching band, but as a concert band playing everything from Mozart to Broadway, and as a big jazz band playing Kenton-Levi style music.

The age range of the young people appearing with this band varies from 11 to 23 years. They have already appeared in 17 parades and concerts and are currently booked for 18 further engagements in the next few months throughout southern Ontario and the midwest U.S.

BAD AXE

The Marching Hatchets of Bad Axe High are entering their second year of competition.

9 Complaints Investigated

Tecumseh police investigated nine complaint reports this week, arresting five on alcohol related charges. A resume follows:

June 14 - Douglas M. Jackowski, 22, of 1633 E. Munger was arrested on DUIL charges (driving under the influence). Jackowski was approached by police on eastbound Chicago after traveling left of center. Police gave chase to the fleeing auto and found open intoxicants.

June 15 - Police arrested Mark D. Keller, 20, of 119 W. Brown, on DUIL charges after they spotted him traveling at a high rate of speed on Chicago. Local Taxes To Be Late Summer tax statements for Tecumseh tax payers will be mailed late, according to Vera Gardner, city clerk.

Reason for the delay is the programming for the county's new computer, which is handling Tecumseh taxes for the first time.

Statements normally go out the first of July. The delay is expected to be perhaps one or two weeks.

Deadline for payment will remain on Aug. 31.

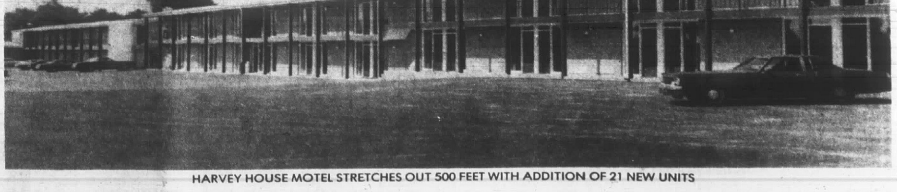
Discontinue Weaver Bags End of Year?

City officials already are warning residents that Weaver sacks for garbage and trash pickup may not be honored after the first of the year.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says the pickup service will be rebid later this year. Also, he indicated that a price increase is likely since the price per bag has not changed in the past three years. Bags now cost 48 cents each.

Regardless of which party wins the pickup contract, the present Weaver sacks probably will not be honored for the service. Residents are urged not to over buy when they run out of the 50-sack, yearly allotment from the city.

Sacks may be purchased at the Clothes Line Laundromat on W. Chicago Blvd.



HARVEY HOUSE MOTEL STRETCHES OUT 500 FEET WITH ADDITION OF 21 NEW UNITS

Carpenters Now Boast 61 Motel Units

What Tecumseh business expands every few years and has done so for the past 13 years?

Obvious answer is the complex developed by Harvey and Doris Carpenter.

Last week, the Carpenters completed another 21 units for their motel, the Harvey House, and completion was just in time for the big MIS race, Sunday. Besides fans, 16 drivers in the race called Harvey House home for the weekend.

Latest construction marks the third addition to the motel, which was started in 1965 with 21 units. In 1967, 10 more units were added and in 1973, another 10 units.

Harvey and Doris now have 61 units, all attractively decorated, including two units designed especially for handicapped. There's also a room with a sitting room.

Expansion in recent years has not been limited to the motel. In 1975, they completely remodeled and enlarged the restaurant, and in 1972, they built the Mai Kai, Hawaiian styled cocktail lounge.

The lounge-motel development now stretches some 500 feet north off W. Chicago Blvd.

What Is the "Sudden-Infant-Death" Syndrome?

This is the occasion when a child, well-cared for and robust, usually between the ages of three weeks and twelve months, is put to bed; a short time later the mother returns to the bedroom to find the child dead. There is no sign of struggle although the child may have changed position.

This type of death is often called "crib death". It is a particularly devastating experience for parents of the child. They suffer feelings of guilt which they shouldn't. If they have used normal care and precaution, there's absolutely no reason for them to blame themselves. In situations such as this, it is recommended that the parents consult their minister, doctor or psychiatrist.

Ongoing medical research has not yet been able to find any reason for this type of death: nor can they predict or prevent it. "Old wives tales" and much misinformation surrounds the sudden death of an infant under these otherwise normal circumstances.

Should this happen to someone you know, try to understand their own helplessness and the lack of knowledge now available.

Crafts Needed

The state-wide band competition and Dawn Patrol plans may be going full tilt for Tecumseh's Heritage Days, but the Antique Fair is moving slowly.

Chairman Harvey Schmidt explains that he has sent out nearly 800 invitations to antique dealers in Michigan, northern Ohio and Indiana. So far the response has been minimal.

Personal phone contact has proved to be more productive the past few days for dealers in the Irish Hills and Tecumseh area, but still far from 100 percent.

Schmidt then has opened the fair to include arts and crafts from any area group which wishes to participate. Any group or person with crafts or unique booths and ideas should contact Schmidt as soon as possible. Phone him at Schmidt's Pharmacy, 423-2421.

Schmidt also reminds area groups and organizations that Friday, July 21 is Sidewalk Sale. Groups wishing to participate with ice cream socials, barbecues or anything original should contact him, Nadine Seitz at Ken-Ray or Kent Downing at The Tecumseh Herald.

Chaffee Guest at Dawn Patrol

Don Chaffee will be special guest at the 1978 Al Meyers Airport Dawn Patrol, sunrise to sunset, July 2.

Father of Michigan astronaut, the late Roger Chaffee, he will show NASA films at the Al Meyers Airport at 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Chaffee, a Greenville native, studies engineering at Michigan State University. For years he was employed on quality control and as an inspector in various aeronautical plants, private and governmental.

Back in the early 30's, he owned and flew an OX-5 Waco 10 in Greenville. In those depression years, he flew people for as little as 50 cents apiece. Sometimes he flew three in the front seat. A 10 minute ride cost a buck and a half. Gas was only $11.50 a barrell in those days and he burned about eight gallons an hour.

DON CHAFFEE

Chaffee was a barnstorming pilot, performing at county fairs and elsewhere.

His son, Roger, an Apollo astronaut, was one of the victims of the tragic fire in the test Apollo spacecraft at Cape Canavral, Fla.

Don Chaffee's second published novel is "Indiana's Big Top." He is the author of "More Than Bread" and co-author of his son's biography "On Course To The Stars" published in January 1968.

Prayer Power

Far too long, prayer has been overlooked as a subject for a definite film study...but, now ECRF Films presents its newest release "The Power of Prayer" at First Baptist Church, June 25 at 9:45 a.m.

The opening moments of the film are spent in Israel, examining thousands of years of Jewish history and how they pertain to prayer.

"The Power of Prayer" features some of the most well-respected, Christian spokesmen in America; such as, Dr. W.A. Criswell, Dr. John F. Walvoord, Josh and Dottie McDowell, Chaplain Ray and Dr. and Mrs. Howard Hendricks.

These men and women will be sharing what the Bible says as to the how and why of prayer. They'll also share their own personal experiences of the times of victory, frustration and confusion.

Everyone is welcome to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harper of Adrian will be honored June 24, 2-5 p.m. at an open house at the Rome Grange, Forrester Rd., Adrian, for their 50th wedding anniversary. Hosts are their daughters, Mrs. James (Barbara Records of Tecumseh and Mrs. Harry (Joan) Bacon of Clayton. Mary Evelyn Adams and Earl Harper were married June 30, 1928 in Wauseon, Ohio. Couple asks that gifts be omitted.

He is among 92 veterinary students who received the degree during MSU's commencement exercises on campus June 10.

During the hooding ceremony at the Peoples Church in East Lansing, each graduate was presented a hood, signifying doctoral status.

David Scott Wilson, 1010 Red Mill Dr., was among approximately 210 students graduating in the 133rd commencement exercises June 10 at Knox College, Galesburg, Ill. David earned a bachelor of arts in chemistry. His parents attended the graduation ceremonies held on the lawn of Knox's historical main, the only remaining site of the 1858 Lincoln-Douglas debates.

A LOOK INSIDE Herrick Hospital

BY KATHY BAILEY, R.N. RICHARD SIES, BUSINESS MANAGER

Herrick Hospital was the scene of a "mock disaster" April 28. Sixteen "victims" of of a tornado were brought to the hospital from the Community Center via Bennett's ambulance.

Joint Commission for Accreditation of Hospitals requires two disaster drills a year to alert all hospital personnel to disaster preparedness. During an actual disaster situation, all hospital departments have special duties to handle the influx of victims. Drill was planned by Ogland Lay, chief of the disaster plan and Kathy Bailey, hospital inservice coordinator.

Thanks to the cooperation of Herrick Auxiliary, the drill was a complete surprise to hospital personnel. Physicians, nurses, maintanence men and personnel from medical records, business office, X-ray, physical therapy and housekeeping responded by assuming pre-assigned posts and duties.

Most important aspect of the disaster plan is that of "triage" or sorting of victims according to injury, and then transportation to the appropriate area for treatment.

Within 30 minutes, all victims had been tagged (name, address, and injuries), seen by a physician, and then transported out of the triage area for further treatment.

Officials thank the people who helped with the drill. A special thanks to Ward Eardley for the use of a room at the Community Center to prepare the "victims" and to Bill Norris of Bennett's ambulance, who furnished an ambulance and attendants to transport the victims to the hospital. Attendants William Meni and Rick Baran gained experience in mock treatment of the victims at the scene.

Biggest thanks goes to the Hospital Auxiliary. Betty Thompson, president of the auxiliary, was most cooperative in recruiting victims for the drill, and the 16 individuals who participated did an outstanding job of "acting out their injuries".

They include Barb Burkhard, Pat Brown, Betty Fortunato, Bonnie McElroy, Margaret Bowman, Ruth Jobes, Sandy Kurth, Mary Mamosen, Lillian Mining, Eunice Bowen, Margo Brazee, Joyce Butters, JoAnn Kuhman and her son, Jonathon and his friend, Kris Beechler, and especially Sharon Connors, who played a victim looking for her lost child.

Although the drill was taken quite seriously by all the participants, the hospital personnel enjoyed the learning experience, and all benefited from it in many ways.

Perhaps the greatest benefit can only be realized by the community, if the actual need should ever arise for the disaster plan to be put into effect. Employees at Herrick Hospital are prepared.

Robert Kuchenmeister provide musical entertainment during and after the meal as many stayed into the evening enjoyable dancing amd singing along to many old familiar tunes.

Brother Alex was happy to have two of his sisters and one brother with him on this happy occasion. Rose, Mary, and Joe Buckley of Carbondale, Pa. were among the many guests who assembled to congratulate him.

During his 50 years as a Holy Cross brother, Brother Alex worked at St. Edwards University in Austin, Texas and spent a year at the Father Gibault School for boys.

In 1948 he came to Macon and started Boysville along with three other brothers. Among his many duties on the Boysville campus he was the first athletic director, taught school, substituted for others in all capacities.

Along with the huge task of setting up the school he was commissioner for some time and was always active in public relations. Those who know Brother Alex say he has a way of bringing the best out in people and back in the early years of Boysville he was called "somebody special" by all the boys and this has never changed. Brother Gregoire Bleu said of Brother Alex's relationship to his religious community," he is a constant help to all the brothers in meeting their needs and bringing joy and humor to the community."

Brother Charles Krupp, Provincial of the Holy Cross Brothers Midwest Province summed up the thoughts and prayers of all present in his remarks following dinner when he wished this remarkable man many, many more happy years of service.

June is the season for the fresh Michigan strawberry. There are many ways to prepare but few can compare with a fresh strawberry pie. This version is from Ruby Trettin and is delicious.

STRAWBERRY PIE

1 baked pie shell
1 qt. strawberries
1 cup sugar
2 tbsp. cornstarch

Quarter or mash ½ of the fresh strawberries and place in saucepan. Blend in sugar and cornstarch and mix well. Cook over medium heat until thick and clear. Remove from heat. Place the remaining whole berries into the baked pie shell. Pour cooked berry mixture over the whole berries while warm (not hot). Chill until set. Serve topped with whipped cream. Excellent.

Ice cream and strawberries go together well anytime. For a new treat try this strawberry and ice cream pie. Great.

ICE CREAM AND STRAWBERRY PIE

1 pint (2 cups) vanilla ice cream
2 cups sliced strawberries
1 prepared graham cracker crust

Soften ice cream slightly and gently stir sliced berries into it. When mixed well, pour into graham cracker crust. If desired, top with whole or halved strawberries. Cover securely and freeze. Remove from freezer a few minutes before serving (for easier slicing) and enjoy.

Residents of the Village of Britton and the Concerned Citizens:

After reading last week's paper, I feel I have to respond to the unsigned letter to the residents of Britton.

If our concerned citizens are as concerned as they say, why don't they get all the facts, or are they just trying to cause trouble?

The total payroll with the new employees will be less than last years payroll if you care to check. And as far as relatives voting for the new employees, both abstained and the other four council members voted unanimously.

While our concerned citizen did not care to sign their name, mine is at the bottom of this letter and I'm also concerned.

Orioles	13	Orioles	17
Tigers	3	Royals	1

The Braves remained in first place with a 10-3 pounding of the Athletics. Stacy Vallad and Jeff Russell had two hits apiece for the Braves. Vallad and Anschuetz shared the pitching duties for the Braves.

SLIDES AND SCORES — Val Rafael, playing for LaVoy, slides safely under the tag of Gaston's Mike Keller at third base last Wednesday. Rafael went on to score LaVoy's first run in the second inning on an error. Teams were tied in that game until the last inning when one Gaston's runner walked, two bunted on, and then LaVoy's pitcher hit the next batter with the bases loaded. LaVoy lost 9-10.

Memoriam

In loving memory of George Henry Jr. who died seven years ago June 24, 1971.
They say time heals all sorrows and helps us to forget. But time so far has only proved how much we miss you yet. God gave us strength to take it and courage to face the blow. Though what it meant to lose you, No one will ever know.
Sadly missed by his family. 6-22p

Society Outgrows Meeting Place

CLINTON — Because the Historical Society of Clinton has grown to a membership nearing 100 in four years the group has decided to change to a larger meeting place in the fall.

Beginning Sept. 21, the Society will meet in St. John's Lyster Hall, instead of the Community Center. Meetings will be on the third Thursday at 8 p.m.

At the June 6 meeting, 30 members visited Shamrock Junction for ice cream treats. The owner, Mrs. Richard Broniman gave a brief history of the building, formerly a chicken and egg business owned 10 years ago by the Max Steffens family.

Elsie Helgren presided at the business meeting.

Shirley Fraley will arrange an exhibit about Clinton history to be shown at the dedication of the Walker Tavern at Cambridge Junction June 25.

The Historical Society has participated in many activities since it was formed four years ago with Lawrence Bailey as the first president.

Site of the old Clinton Inn has been designated with a state historical marker purchased with donations by loval residents. The Inn was moved to Greenfield Village many years ago and renovated for use.

In the spring of 1976, 142 persons journeyed from Clinton to attend a dinner there arranged by the Historical Society.

The Society has gathered historical documents, clippings and photos, soon to be available in a file in the meeting room at the Clinton Township Library.

Pictures of many early Clinton homes have been assembled by Shirley Fraley into a slide presentation.

Mrs. Fraley has also prepared a special program for fourth graders at the elementary school. She recently took the youngsters to the cemetery, where they had an opportunity to take rubbings of interesting old markers.

Mrs. Fraley said the youngsters seemed really interested in the project, which she hopes will encourage more respect for the cemetery property by Clinton's youth.

Clinton residents who have historical information are being interviewed by members. Conversations are being kept on a tape file.

Through efforts by Lily Neblo, the marker of the first burial in Clinton's Oakmont Cemetery was found, and repaired and recently restored to the original site, by cooperation of the Society and Clinton Township.

Jennifer Retke is working on plans to have state historical markers placed at Clinton Woolen Mill building and at the former Gilman house now owned by DST, Inc. on Tecumseh Rd.

Fetzer Injured in Accident

CLINTON — Gary Fetzer received two fractured vertebrae and other back injuries, Friday, in an accident at Budd Co.

A railroad car door was being closed when it fell out landing on top of Fetzer, a Budd Co. employee.

Clinton rescue squad gave assistance and transported Fetzer to Herrick Memorial Hospital, where he is reportedly recovering some feeling in his extremities.

Fetzer and wife, Teresa, nee Welch, and two children reside at 211 Bartlett.

Monument Discovered

CLINTON — One more bit of Clinton's early history has been brought to light.

Previously it had been supposed that the earliest burial in Clinton was in 1832 or 1833, but, when Lily Neblo saw the plaque in the Riverside Cemetery Chapel by a Mr. Benton, a first settler, telling about an 1830 burial, she began searching for such a tombstone.

Carrie McDermott, one of Clinton's oldest residents at present, offered to show Mrs. Neblo where there was such a tombstone—in Oakmont Cemetery, near the water tower.

The marker is of Sara H. Lazell, two years, 11 months, 16 days, who died Aug. 26, 1830, the daughter of Thomas and Emoret Lazell.

The broken marker was brought to the attention of the Historical Society, which, along with Clinton Township provided funds for its restoration.

The marker has now been reset in the Lazell family plot on the south side of the Oakmont cemetery.

Seniors Meet

CLINTON — Senior Citizen will meet at 10 a.m., Thursday, June 29 for cards, crafts, and games.

There will be grocery bingo at 1 p.m.

Women Discuss Ideas

CLINTON — Clinton Woman's Club members were given some ideas for public service projects to be considered for the coming year by program chairman Harlin Fraumann, at their June 14 meeting.

Mrs. Fraumann suggested that friends of the library be organized, and that a study project on local road safety be undertaken.

The group met for a cooperative luncheon at the Community Center, with the officers and board members in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. James Chellman presided and annual reports were given.

Mrs. Roy Bower, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported on the successful club yard sale held June 9 and 10 at her home.

Mrs. William Neblo and Mrs. Genevieve Reilly will be in charge of arrangements for the rededicaton of the Riverside Cemetery Chapel, Aug. 13, at a 3 p.m. program.

Mrs. Frank Allen was named an honorary member.

Next regular meeting will be Oct. 11 at the center.

Students Are Enthusiastic About Horticulture Class

MACON — The horticulture class, initiated last Jan. 3 at Boysville, is "growing and blooming" in Macon.

Plans call for planting an acre vegetable garden which will supply the dining hall with fresh fruits and vegetables this growing season.

Within the next week, some 15,000 seedlings will be planted to start a 14 acre nursery.

It will be some three years before any of these seedlings will be marketable. So some saleable stock has been obtained from Ohio to teach the young men how to care for burlaped shrubs.

Saleable flower and vegetable plants have also been brought in this year to teach recognition and care of annuals. Many of the plants going into their own garden were started from seed by the students in a greenhouse which the program has rapidly outgrown.

Tom Stempky, a vocational horticulturist, directs the class. He explained that the credit course emphasizes vocational-technical training.

Some other purposes of the course are to teach the young men to start a project and see it through, to learn about a business and to develop work responsibility and responsibility for the beauty of the campus.

Every boy at Boysville will be in the horticulture program as the groups will rotate doing the work. Boys are encouraged to work on the project, whether or not they like the work. Honesty about these feelings is also encouraged, said Stempky, but the young men must do the work.

Stempky likes the work.

Tom and his wife, Vicki, live in Saline with their four, soon to be five children. He is selling his flower shop near Ypsilanti, so he can devote full time to the Boysville program. Tom said, "I have always had a desire to work with young people and also I will be able to spend a lot more time with my wife and children."

Getting a program like the Boysville horticulture class started is no easy task. An assistant, Bill Bassett, has already been hired to start in mid-June. Tom and Bill will split up their time in the classroom and in the field.

Since there will be many products from a class like this, plants, shrubs and trees will be available to the public on a donation basis. All donations will go back into the program for building a new greenhouse and purchasing nursery stock.

When the Herald reporter visited, the Sorin group was the class working, but all the groups are busy planning landscaping for their areas. The Boysville staff and students are enthusiastic about their brand new program.

Boysville student cares for plants in his section of campus greenhouse. It has rapidly outgrown the new horticulture program.

Trickey's Expand Clothing Store

Trickey's Inc., downtown Tecumseh clothing store, is expanding into the adjacent building formerly occupied by Harry's Cafe.

The expansion of nearly 2,000 square feet provides just under 10,000 square feet for display and sales departments, Betty Trickey, president announces.

At the present, remodeling is underway and hopefully in time for an opening about mid-July.

The rear section of the expansion area will be used mainly for storage with the front two rooms for children's and infants' clothing and related items. These two departments will be moved from the present store and will allow Trickey's also to expand present clothing lines.

Charles and Betty Trickey opened their store here in 1969, buying the business from Chet and Goldie Merritt of Clinton. With next month's expansion, Trickey's will be one of the largest, independent retailers in the area, and second only to Gambles in downtown Tecumseh.

Union Approves 3-Year Contract

United Products Workers ratified a three-year contract with the Tecumseh Products Friday in an election at the high school.

About 71 percent of nearly 1,200 voting favored the contract.

Guy Cox, Union president, reportedly is unhappy with the vote and the contract accepted by the workers. Union board met with day-shift stewards last Thursday and recommended that the contract be rejected.

The Union has been without a contract since Feb. 26 and had been negotiating with the Company since.

Friday's vote was a turnabout from the June 10 election. At this election only 870 voted - less than 50% of the 1,900 eligible voters - but 551 voted against the contract and it was turned down.

Showing Tecumseh Movies of 1927-1930 Period on Friday

Tecumseh Public Library will sponsor "Tecumseh on Film 1927-30" June 30, as a Heritage Days event.

From 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m., James Beardsley, local attorney, will show old films of Tecumseh in the H&R Block office, 116 E. Chicago.

The public is invited to this free showing.

Leon Rosacrans, a Tecumseh businessman whose drygoods store was located in the present H&R Block office, took the films. One shows downtown Tecumseh in the late 1920's. Buildings, cars, fashions and citizens are shown on election day in 1927.

In another segment, people move equipment from the Lilley State Bank, recently the site of Kohler Real Estate, to Tecumseh State Savings Bank, where the United Savings Bank is now located.

Mr. Beardsley, who offers commentary with the films, believes the move may relate to the merger of the two earlier banks.

Among the people who appear are Magdalena Saling, the late Bob Moore, J.N. Satterthwaite and Colonel Cummings, whom Mr. Beardsley describes as the youngest West Point graduate on record, and his wife, who was a daughter of Lucius Lilley, the nineteenth century banker.

Tecumseh's Bidwell Building is also shown.

Another film featuring an aerial view of the Irish Hills in the late 1920's and a Ridgeway celebration, complete with ball game.

"Seeing these films is a treat," said librarian Patricia Eby. "Amateur 'home movies' from this era are quite rare, and Tecumseh is very fortunate to have a record of this kind."

She added that the films are in poor condition and that the library plans to have them copied.

Plans 38-Acre Rec Park

Plans are now underway in Raisin Township for a 38-acre recreational park at the corner of Green and Gady Rds.

The land was purchased in 1976 for recreational purposes and future development. A majority of the $40,000 price tag came from Federal Revenue Sharing.

The park has been dedicated in honor of the late James A. Mitchell, the township's former supervisor, and a memorial fund has been set up in his name for projects at the park.

The United Savings Bank will accept gifts at any branch.

Supervisor Dick Galloway explains that now he is looking for a volunteer to head a citizen's committee to work over a complete plan for specific coentruction.

A master plan has already been worked up and includes ball diamonds, tennis courts, a playground area for children and shelters.

The township presently has $5,000 in its budget for roughing out two temporary ball diamonds. Some landscaping is planned also this year.

Officials have also applied to the State for $10,000 in 1979. At that time, more permanent plans would begin with landscaping, fencing, courts, and fields.

Early Copy, Please

Next Tuesday, on July 4th, The Herald will be closed like most other Tecumseh businesses.

Since the newspaper will be printed as usual on Wednesday afternoon, early advertising and news copy must be received Monday. Very little news will be handled on Wednesday morning.

What is A "Widow's Walk"?

Old and historic homes built along the seacoasts often have a fence-like railing on the roof which is called a "widow's walk".

This "widow's walk" provided a lookout point for those awaiting the return of loved ones from the sea. In early America, many families were dependent on the shipping business for their livelihood. Many lives were lost at sea. Many ships were to depart, never to return again. "Watching from the widow's walk" became a common experience for countless wives and sweethearts in the early history of our country.

The expression, "widow's walk", has been used to entitle a booklet by Jane Woods Shoemaker. A widow can receive comfort and constructive ideas to help her adjust to her new way of life by reading this warm and moving experience of another widow.

Your problems are our concern. Please feel free to call on us about them.

Completes 25 Years

by Kathy Brown

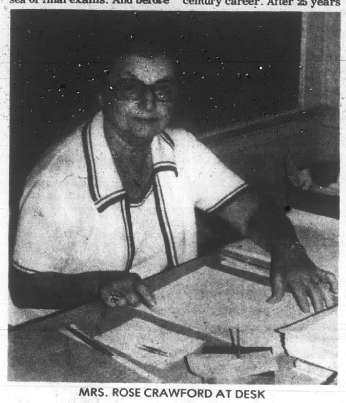
June 9 was the last day for her almost 200 students.

The din of children rustling in their seats and settling into their classwork would not be heard again in the rooms until next September.

The only sounds that Thursday were the sounds of pencils correcting the endless sea of final exams. And before too long, all would be quiet in the school.

That Thursday was the last day of school for Rose Crawford, too. But before she completed her 25 years of teaching, she expected to burn the midnight oil one last time.

That last batch of exam papers was no less important than all the others she corrected in her quarter century career. After 25 years she still likes to read each one personally. "I like to see what they write," she said.



MRS. ROSE CRAWFORD AT DESK

Crawford taught 24 years in Tecumseh Public Schools 20 years at the junior high school. She taught English and French to seventh and eighth graders. This past year, she taught and recorded the progress of two-thirds of the 500 junior high school students.

She said frankly that she will not miss her classes. She is looking forward to traveling with her husband, Eldred, retired from the construction business in Maybee.

She would like to watch her youngest grandchildren grow up in California. The Crawfords plan to tour the west later this year.

At the present time, they have no definite plans to move. "That's a decision you can't make without a lot of thought," said Crawford. Her family roots in Michigan and the Tecumseh area go back 28 years.

Mrs. Crawford's mother, Jean Connair, lives in Tecumseh, two of the Crawfords' children live in Michigan. A daughter, Julie, and her husband, Harold Rhora and family live in Macon and another lives in Paw Paw.

Crawford laughed when asked about humorous teaching experiences. "Oh, heavens. I'm sure there had to be a lot of them."

She was serious again when she said, "They (the students) are not here long enough to really get to know them." Students' schedules rotate every nine weeks.

Still she said she enjoys talking with those who come over from the high school to say hello.

"They'll see you out in the parking lot and say 'Hey, Guess what I got in English?' Oh, I like it. It makes you feel good that they want to share good news with you. You like to think you make an impression on some of them."

School Board Establishes Account for Maintenance

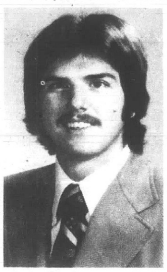
Last Monday night, the Tecumseh School Board established a half mill fund and transferred the money to that account for maintenance and repair of school facilities.

The fund was okayed by the voters last June for advanced planning, but until this time, there was no separate account from the general fund.

The half mill, or $46,526, and $26,383 from the state raises the fund to nearly $73,000. The state portion is based on projected school attendance at $7.24 per pupil.

Some of the money has already been committed in seal coating and needed furniture, but the board explained that now the buildings and grounds committee must suggest how best to use the funds.

Carolyn Catalano graduated from Central Michigan University, with a bachelor of arts degree May 13. She was a 1974 grdute of Tecumseh High School. She is employed in Osco Drug management training program, Chicago area. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Catalano.



Lee Catalano received his masters degree in geology at Oklahoma State University, June 17. He will be employed with Sun Oil, Midland, Texas. He is a 1976 graduate of Adrian College. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Catalano.

Extend Subsidy

Lenawee County Board of Commissioners approved June 14 a resolution extending until Dec. 31 a payment subsidy to ambulance companies serving the county.

Resolution was introduced by Human Services Committee Chairwoman Nancy Nichols, D-Tecumseh.

Madison and Morenci, which provide their own ambulance service at no charge, will be eligible for a 15 percent subsidy. This amendment was introduced by Stacy Zilke,R-Deerfield. Otherwise, the two communities would be subsidizing other communities with no benefit to themselves.

Under current procedure, the county takes responsibility for unpaid ambulance runs if ambulanee service follows county board's criterion.

Only Bennett's Ambulance service of Tecumseh and Adrian have submitted bills for reimbursement since subsidy plan went into effect in March.

Ambulance service did not provide necessary insurance information and has not been paid the $2,315 requested.

The unbudgeted funds will come from the county contingency fund.

After the subsidies end in December the board will have to decide whether to continue the program on full or partial basis, to leave the responsibility to individual communities, to work with volunteer system or to implement a combination of systems.

THE WAY IT WAS — When the sound of horses clip-clopping was familiar on Tecumseh-Clinton Road, in Clinton, this is the way it looked from about Tyrell St. looking north, with the Clintonian Hotel in the background beyond the team, according to a notation on the back of the undated photo found among Art Gamboe's collection. Note the tall trees that line the roadway. Just south of this spot the road is being widened two more lanes to speed the traffic even more.

Gibson Enters Medical School

CLINTON — The fickle finger of fate moved slowly—but just in time for Lloyd Gibson, who was accepted last week for admission to University of Michigan Medical school.

A pre-med graduate at Michigan State University three years ago, the near-four-point student and former Clinton High School salutatorian was unable to get accepted to any of the Michigan Medical Schools in three years of trying.

The U-M bid came just as Gibson had been accepted to medical school in Perguia, Italy, and paid his $1,500 deposit there. He and wife, Minola, promptly headed home.

Meanwhile, the same day the U-M bid came, unaware of it, Jack's mother was showing his mobile home in Saline to prospective buyers.

Gibson had moved from a place far down on the med-school "hold" list for cancellations—to top spot, when he received notice of the opening available to him.

Gibson has been employed at St. Joseph Hospital as a surgical technician.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gibson, 206 Franklin St.

Jack and Minola are home now and he'll enter U-M med-school in August, a realization of a slightly delayed dream.

Youth Seriously Injured

By Maxine Calhoun

CLINTON — High drama unfolded shortly after 2 p.m. Saturday as Chris Marsh became involved in a farm accident.

A self-styled 'farmer' eleven-year-old Chris has been visiting the Calhoun Farm to watch the beef-hog operation almost daily since he could toddle from his home across Clinton-Macon Rd.

Saturday, wearing his John Deere cap and 'mud' boots, he slipped and his leg became wrapped around the moving power take-off shaft on the manure pumper wagon as it was filling in the barnyard.

Alone on the farm, and hearing his cry, Terry Calhoun, shut off the power shaft, leapt from the tractor and ran to the house to telephone for aid. Then, as he ran back through the barn he gathered up some twine. Terry untangled the boy from the shaft, and, using a wrench he carried at his belt, he was able to get a tourniquet tied on the boy's leg by the time Clinton State Police arrived, moments later.

Clinton Fire Dept. Rescue team George Lancaster, Tom Parr and Court Nighswander applied a support splint and Chris was rushed to Herrick Hospital.

D.J. Martin, a family friend, was called from his work at Gambles to Herrick Hospital. Martin rode with the boy's mother, Alice Marsh, and he held the IV container all the way to Ann Arbor, as the boy was moved there after first aid treatment.

Jeff Adams, a recent college graduate, gave a skilled performance as a first time driver for Bennett Ambulance Service as he manuevered his way through rush hour traffic on the 25-mile trip.

The boy's dad, Bob Marsh, rushed from work at Saline Ford plant, reaching Tecumseh just after the ambulance had left for Ann Arbor.

Then the long wait began—while the action went on—backstage.

After two hours in surgery orthopedic surgeon Dr. Louis Meeks, a former Clinton man, emerged smiling out of the rear door of the emergency wing, saying they had saved the boy's leg. He was met by an appreciative audience of more than a dozen family and friends who had been anxiously waiting.

Three broken leg bones had been set, the foot restored and deep cuts mended. He's in an elevated cast and it is expected he will recover use of his leg, since the main artery was not severed.

Next day, Sunday, when the nurse asked Chris if he could wiggle his toes, he did and exclaimed, "Isn't that a beautiful sight?"

Such scenes may be commonplace at the hospital—but to that assemblage of Chris' well-wishers—that was the only show in town Saturday.

His address is Chris Marsh, Room 6112 St. Joseph Hospital 995 E. Huron Dr., Ann Arbor 48106.

Chris' brother Brad won't forget his 16th birthday—thought the family never did get around to having his party, Saturday night. His mother was cranking the ice cream freezer when the accident to Chris happened.

Brad was away on his bike, and when he arrived home about 4 p.m. and learned of his brother's misfortune from a neighbor—he slammed his fist into a wall in distress—and later—after the doctors got Chris squared away—Brad learned he had broken the large knuckle in his right hand—so he ended up with a cast to his elbow, also courtesy of Dr. Meeks.

And the summer is just beginning!

A Look Inside Herrick Hospital

Medicare Benefits

By Cynthia Proctor, Medicare billing clerk and Mrs. Scott of Social Security Adm., Adrian

This article will deal with the subject of Medicare, an important and valuable service provided to certain people by the Social Security Administration.

First of all, who is eligible for Medicare? There are three eligibility groups.

1. persons who have reached age 65 and have 40 quarters of covered work during which they have paid Social Security tax,
2. persons who have received Social Security Disability payments for 24 months, and
3. persons with renal disease.

The application process is simple. If you are age 65, you can continue working and receive Medicare benefits. To apply you can call the Social Security office in Adrian at 263-8911 by telephone or apply there in person at 770 Riverside Ave.

You can actually apply for Social Security and Medicare with one trip. It is a good idea to plan your retirement by applying well ahead of the time you will turn 65.

There are two parts to Medicare. These are known as PART A and PART B. Let's look first at PART A. This is a paid benefit that covers care in the hospital and in a skilled nursing facility. This has a deductible of $144.00 per 60 day spell of illness.

PART B is separate from PART A. PART B is MEDICAL INSURANCE that must be paid for at a rate of $8.20 per month. This insurance covers professional service fees including your doctor, out-patient tests, physical therapy, and home health care under a doctor's orders. It does not cover oral medications, dental care, and cosmetic surgery.

PART B of Medicare has a deductible of $60 per year. Many people do not take advantage of this insurance because it must be paid for out of your pocket and because they think that most of the bills for a spell of illness come from the time they are in the hospital bed. The benefits of PART B pays the doctor, the surgeon, and the care you may receive at home.

No hospital or medical insurance pays for everything. For this reason some people buy additional hospital insurance from Blue Cross or a commercial insurance agent. In most cases this is money thrown away.

For example: most Blue Cross policies cover the same care covered by Medicare. If you make a claim, Medicare which you have already paid for, will pay most of the bill. The same things not covered by Medicare are also NOT covered by Blue Cross.

There is nothing wrong with buying supplemental insurance. The best deal in town is still Part B of Medicare. If you think you need more, then you should look for a policy designed to act as a supplement to Medicare by paying the deductible and the bills that Medicare does not cover.

Back Plan for Taxes

At its regular meeting, Lenawee Intermediate School District Board of Education endorsed a plan that would enable local school districts to receive 100 percent of their tax levy.

Previously, the school districts have had to wait for delinquent tax monies. The new plan proposed by the Lenawee County Board of Commissioners is known as a delinquent tax revolving fund, and would allow 100 percent payment to districts. Sixty counties in the state have such a fund.

LISD board of education established a full-time position for building and grounds-transportation supervisor. Board left open the possibility of hiring two people on a half-time basis.

Board authorized sale of equipment from Vo-Tech. No date of sale has been set.

Next meeting was rescheduled from July 3 to June 26, 8 p.m. at LISD Board of Education offices on M-52 near west Valley Rd.

Five Attend Girls' State

Five from Tecumseh attended the American Legion Auxiliary Girls' State on the Olivet College campus June 10-18.

Tamela Fisher, Laura Galloway, Stacy Behnke, Maria Kortier and Angela Spagnoli were each selected on the basis of their leadership ability.

All the girls agreed that the people who they met at the event were "nice outgoing, and tops." Many were presidents of their classes or student counsels.

Tamela was elected to the Roethel City Council and Laura, city treasurer of Clarahan during the simulated government program.

Maria Kortier, Tamela and Stacy all passed the bar exam and became attorneys which only about 20 percent of the 500 girls were able to do. Stacy Behnke was elected vice chairman of the Nationalist Party and district judge of Lory City and social director of Barnes County.

Maria and Tamela were jurors in a mock trial of a kidnapper.

The girls said they not only learned much about city, county and state governments but actually felt they were a part of it.

Speakers from state levels interested the Tecumseh "politicians" including Elly Peterson, ERA proponent.

Police Investigate Twenty-Two Complaints

Also on Sunday, vandals drove over two trees at the Tecumseh Park.

Jimmy Martinez, 20, of Adrian was arrested on possession of suspected marijuana after the auto he was in was stopped. Police were called to the Second Wind to stop a disturbance there when they started chasing a speeding car leaving the scene. Martinez reportedly threw the substance out the window.

Police also made a warrant arrest on Martinez after they ran a file and found he was wanted on two other charges.

June 26 — Vernon P. Hill of 316 S. Ottawa was arrested on DUIL charges after police stopped him on S. Evans. Hill was driving without taillights or brakelights and hit the curb before he was stopped.

For the record, The Herald incorrectly reported last week that Michael E. Bishop of Onsted was arrested on charges of littering and DUIL. In fact, he was arrested only for littering when he threw a partially full can of beer from an auto.

4-H Dance Is Planned

A 4-H Square dance will be held July 8 at 8 p.m. at the Elton Helle Farm, 9250 Smith Rd.

July 17 is the deadline for 4-H Fair entry (Youth Division).

Open Bids for Paving

Bids were open Tuesday afternoon at City hall for bituminous paving in the Westhaven subdivision, Industrial Park and a downtown city parking lot.

Cunningham-Gooding was low bidder at $29,762.33. Two other bids from Jackson firms ranged up to $43,161.30.

Cunningham-Gooding also was low bidder for curb and gutter in the subdivision and park with a bid of $6,612.72.

Bids will be presented to Council Monday night for action.

Dog Demonstration

Mark Trowbridge of Lenawee Sheriff's Department brought a tracking dog and gave a demonstration for members of Onsted Sweet Clovers at their meeting June 12.

Connie Phenicie and Teresa Smead with Pam Baker presented their skit prepared for the Share The Fun contest. They also gave it for Exploration Days June 24.

The Club will sponsor an entry for the Queens Contest for the Onsted Festival in July.

Mrs. Roberta Wright, Mrs. Lorraine Morgan, Mrs. Pat Cherry and Mrs. Marlene Blumhardt are the new community leaders.

Retiring Mrs. June Smead was presented a locket and red roses for her community leader assistance.

Next meeting is July 10 at 7:30 p.m.

Taxes

County's computer is catching up and programing for Tecumseh's summer taxes will only be about one week late, according to Vera Gardner, city clerk.

She expects statements to be in the mail on July 7.

Chamber Set

Dr. David Blanden announced the Chamber of Commerce meeting will be held Tuesday, July 6, at 7:30 p.m. at Don's Beef Buffet.

Reader Writes

To the Editor:

Last weekend, my husband and I chaperoned the Tecumseh Shawnee Marching Band to the competition held in Bad Axe and Vassar. We wanted to share with all the people of Tecumseh our pride in this group of young people.

Their behavior was very good on the bus and they were mannerly, orderly and the best behaved group during our overnight stay in Bad Axe.

We would encourage everyone to attend the competition to be held on June 29th in Tecumseh and see these marching bands in action.

They are really good and deserve to have their hours of effort and practice honored by good attendance.

Mrs. L. J. Vavrinek

Poley Reunion at Manchester

Descendants of Frank and Jennie Poley held the 13th annual reunion June 25 in the Public Park in Manchester with 131 attending from Sturgis, Monroe, Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor, Adrian and Dundee and parts of Ohio.

Those from Tecumseh among the relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Poley, Cynthia and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Poley, daughter and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Poley and Debbie, Mrs. Blanch Feiter, Mrs. Russell Comfort and Dermont Poley Sr. and daughter.

Open House for Bishop

Nancy Bishop was feted Saturday when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lonal Bishop, held an open house for her 18th birthday, her graduation from THS and a farewell, since she will enter army intelligence service July 18.

Nearly 100 friends and relatives were served a buffet dinner, highlighted by a decorated cake with pink roses and burgundy, initialing, "Congratulations Nancy, Class of 1978," gift of Almina Hunt.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Bishop, son and grandchildren from Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bishop, son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bishop and Bruce Bishop of St. John's; Mr. and Mrs. John Millspaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Gregg, Ken Millspaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Talbot of Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turk of Tipton, godparents of Nancy, were also among the guests.

Theater Production Is Big Success

BY Cindy Egli

Here's a recipe for good entertainment.

Take one talented director, add one hard-working assistant, blend together the talents of many enthusiastic kids, beat them into practices and whip slightly until they have their lines, songs and dance steps memorized.

Stir in clever costumes and make-up, sprinkle with colorful scenery, top with one patient, devoted, and extremely talented pianist and heat and serve in the Glass Room.

What have you got? The Tecumseh Players' Children's Theatre version of "Snow White." The performance yielded enjoyment to over 400 local theatre-goers.

The production of "Snow White" took place at the Tecumseh Community Center on the evenings of June 16, 17, and 18.

This three act dramatization by Theodosia Paynter contained a number of original tunes and characters. Most everyone is familiar with Snow White and the dwarfs, but this version introduced Nutty and Nibbles, well played by Lynn Boyd and Jeannie McLeod respectively.

Also introduced were Frosty Fate, played by Jackie Johnstone, a chorus of Sunbeams, and Goddess Aurora, performed by Jeannie Johnstone. These and a few other characters made the play much more interesting.

In Act I we met the infant Snow White's close friends; Nutty, Nibbles, and the forest folk. The audience enjoyed the voice of Queen Wisteria as portrayed by Alison Bailey, but unfortunately it was only for a brief time as she sang farewell to her gallant King, played by Ed Schmidt, shortly after the opening scene.

The end of Act I brought out a pair of show stoppers as we met the evil Tiger Lily, played by Laura Mead, and the Magic Mirror, Chryl Peck. Tiger Lily's screeching laughter and evil expressions made her the perfect villain for this play.

The Magic Mirror was a wonderful example of creativity in both the costume and make-up departments. The shimmering silver costume enhanced the fine delivery of the graceful Mirror as she stunned the audience with each entrance.

Special mention should also be made of the "Terrible, Terrible Woodsman." Tom Thompson really put his heart and soul into this likeable character.

Act II contained its own light show as the Sunbeams and Goddess Aurora did an effective song and dance number with flashlights.

The dwarfs then made their entrance and charmed the audience right away. From the Boss, Steve McLeod, to the tiniest dwarf, Traci Perry, the dwarfs proved there were no small parts, only good small actors.

Snow White, portrayed by Carol Clark, and Prince Charming, portrayed by Susan Bless handed in two fine performances. Susan saved the play by stepping into the role of Prince Charming during the last week of rehearsal, but carried the part like a seasoned performer. Carol Clark portrayed a very sweet, sincere Snow White.

Despite the heat and heavy costumes, the actors put on a polished performance. Let's hope this type of entertainment becomes a habit in the Tecumseh community.

Gordon and Patricia Lamb have taken on a real project in restoring the old Irving Boltz residence on Milwaukee Rd. where they have been living the past years. Just replacing the stone wall in the basement that someone had partly torn away to install newer heating was a gigantic effort and "No one will ever even see it," Pat remarked Monday.

The Lambs could use some "remembrys", if anyone can come up with just what the s...t porch of the Boltz home looked like. They also want more knowledge about the house, outbuildings, gardens, "anything" that would help them to put it back the way it once was.

Son Merv Boltz can't come up with much. Irene remembers but not far enough back, after all she didn't live there as a little kid. Some of us remember Daisy and Irv with warm memories, but not much about their home. If you do, call Pat 423-5757.
